

'I'm Not Panicky,' School Chief Declares

By CHARLES H. LOOS
Education Editor

Harbor Area school chief Leland B. Newcomer said today the financial crisis facing the Newport-Mesa Unified School District "is not all black."

Newcomer painted a grim picture of the district's financial problems Monday, pointing to current budget estimates indicating the district will be $1.2 million short of the cash it needs for fiscal 1966-67, its first year of operation.

But, he said today, "I don't get panicky about money problems."

"What this dilemma means," explained the school superintendent, "is that we will have to take innovative action, which, in my view, the district needs anyway. We'll just have to take it sooner than I'd like, that's all."

Best available estimates at this time, Newcomer noted, are that the district will have about $673 to spend in educating each of its 25,000 students next year. The figure, he explained, is an average of current costs per child in the three districts being merged into the unified setup.

"We can run a good school district with that amount," he said, "but we aren't going to be able to do things in the traditional way. The dilemma forces us to start looking for new and different ways of doing things. I expect we'll profit from this experience.

"Sometimes you need a crisis before you start looking for good solutions."

The $1.2 million budget deficit, Newcomer explained, would result if the new district adopted the highest teacher salary schedule along with the lowest student-teacher ratio now in effect in three separate Harbor Area school systems.

The school chief said he believes the district will have to equalize teachers salaries, but will be forced to figure out new ways to cope with the student-teacher ratio problem. He said he already has his staff at work on the problem.

"What we will have to do," he explained, "is determine what things can be done in larger groups — say of 50 —

May Be CdM Medic's Body

Mexican police today were attempting to determine if a body washed up on Rosarito Beach Tuesday is that of a Corona del Mar physician missing for more than two weeks.

Robert C. Lewis, 46, of 2723 Shell St. has been presumed drowned since his disappearance March 6. His attorney, Mark Hurwitz, was notified of the discovery of the body Tuesday.

Hurwitz, 1922 Belgrave Drive, Costa Mesa, said he received a call from the owner of the Rosarito Hotel at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Hurwitz said he was told that the body of an American had been found by some children about one mile north of the beach from hotel.

The attorney planned to leave for Mexico today to identify the body.

The physician was last seen at 5 a.m. March 6 by his companion, scuba diving instructor Delmar Bailey. Bailey, 160 W. Wilson St., Costa Mesa said Dr. Lewis disappeared after announcing he was going for an early morning swim.

Hurwitz said it was the doctor's custom to swim Newport Harbor every other day. Both Hurwitz and Bailey described Dr. Lewis as an excellent swimmer.

The attorney also said that Dr. Lewis had been in excellent spirits prior to his disappearance despite charges brought against him Feb. 10 by Newport Beach police alleging he had illegally procured narcotics. Hurwitz said Dr. Lewis expected to be vindicated.

McDonnell Seeks Access To Airport

SANTA ANA — Access to the Orange County Airport from an adjacent parcel of industrially zoned land has been requested in a letter to the Board of Supervisors from McDonnell Aircraft Corp.

McDonnell is negotiating with the Irvine Company for purchase of a shade under 230 acres of land in the Irvine Industrial complex by the airport.

The land in question is now being eyed by the cities of Newport Beach, Santa Ana and Costa Mesa for annexation.

McDonnell is seeking from the county the access route to the runway, a loop road around the airport and relocation of a proposed flood control channel.

Before the access issue is resolved, it must be determined what type of aircraft can use the runway and what taxies and gates are needed, a county spokesman said.

Beach Visitor Gets Back Lost Trousers

A $2,000 diamond ring is back in the hands of a Paramount man today because an honest Costa Mesaan turned over a pair of trousers with the ring in a pocket to Newport Beach police.

Charles H. Dean, a retired Los Angeles police sergeant and state parole agent who lives in the Mesa del Mar tract, found the pants.

Besides the ring they contained a $300 gold watch, a $20 gold piece and a wallet that identified the owner as Garrett Van Diest of Paramount.

Dean found the pants about the same time Van Diest was filling out a lost property report at the police station — 4:30 p.m. Monday. Police figured they must have been lying beside Coast Highway in West Newport for about an hour.

Dean said at first he figured the ring was a fake, but upon closer inspection realized "there is no fake glass."

Laguna Candidates Debate

Homosexual Issue Flares at Forum

By DIAL TORGERSON
of the Daily Pilot Staff

Is Laguna Beach suffering from homosexual plight?

Is the city scarring hills, scaring business, or breeding slums? Does it need new ways to spend the bed tax — or new marina?

Seven out of nine candidates for three seats on the Laguna Beach City Council probed these and other questions Tuesday night, and firmly agreed: no marina.

But on other issues the candidates views clashed. Some views also clashed with those of citizens invited to Laguna's first "Meet Your Candidate" session prior to the April 12 city election. Twice the moderator broke up hot exchanges and switched swiftly to new issues.

SRO CROWD

It was literally a turn-away crowd. The Citizens Town Planning Association called it as a planning symposium at its headquarters at 608 Broadway.

Parsons Favors 5th Ave. Route

By THOMAS FORTUNE
of the Daily Pilot Staff

Newport Beach City Councilman Lindsey Parsons today injected a new element in the debate over alignment of Pacific Coast Freeway through Corona del Mar.

He said he would be in favor of the adopted Fifth Avenue Route if a more northerly alignment was still unacceptable to the state by the time the Corona del Mar Freeway is completed along MacArthur Boulevard.

Parsons, a Corona del Mar resident, said he personally favored a northerly alignment through Irvine Company property, but added that he preferred a Fifth Avenue route to having a major free-way dead-end in the middle of the Corona del Mar freeway along Fifth Avenue.

Parsons concluded that in that case he would be in favor of an extension of the Corona del Mar Freeway along Fifth Avenue.

A picture of Robert L. Jaffe, new city traffic engineer, was tacked on the bulletin board at Newport Beach police station today.

Officers have been asked to familiarize themselves with the man they will encounter standing in the middle of streets, and they are to disregard this unusual practice.

"The center line is the best vantage point for looking down the street," Jaffe explained.

Doctor Has Bag Stolen

A doctor's medical bag containing medical equipment was taken Tuesday morning from his car in the South Coast Hospital parking lot in South Laguna, sheriff's deputies reported.

Dr. Paul Smith, 47, of 1607 S. Olia Vista, San Clemente, told officers he had parked his car and locked it at 8:20 a.m. The bag was sitting on the floor in the back seat, the doctor said.

When he returned at 9:50 a.m., the bag was missing. Among items in the bag were a stethoscope, blood pressure cup, ophthalmoscopic set and various types of syringes.

A jury trial for a 26-year-old West Newport man accused of assaulting a Newport Beach police officer is set for April 5 in Newport Beach-Costa Mesa Municipal Court.

HB Law Faces Test*ACLU Ready to Defend PreacherBy GEORGE BEECROFT
of the Daily Pilot Staff

Attorneys for the American Civil Liberties Union today were as agitated as was the self-styled minister Mark Forsyth over Huntington Beach's new ordinance banning preaching in public places without a permit.

ACLU spokesman indicated they would defend the 61-year-old preacher, one of the targets of the emergency measure, if he wants to test the law, and if he asks them for legal counsel.

Forsyth told the DAILY PILOT today that he would test the ordinance, perhaps this weekend, and he would seek help from the ACLU to keep him out of jail.

NOT LEGAL
He insisted that the law, passed Monday by the City Council at the request of Police Chief John Seltzer, is unconstitutional.

ACLU attorneys today backed him up, emphatically.

"It's clearly unconstitutional," said ACLU attorney David R. Cadwell, Santa Ana.

"It's unquestionably unconstitutional and a bad law," said ACLU associate counsel Fred Okrand, Los Angeles.

"What's wrong with those people down there? Doesn't anyone have any legal training?" asked ACLU secretary Mrs. James Peck, Los Angeles.

EFFECTIVE

Effective immediately, the measure was adopted by councilmen after Chief Seltzer complained that Forsyth, known as "The Preacher," had triggered a near-riot on the beach Saturday by attempting to sermonize teenagers. And it has happened before, the chief added.

The law, which Seltzer said keeps them from leading a ~~bad~~ life, is modeled after an untested ordinance adopted by Newport Beach in 1949.

It's unclear if the ordinance, which requires council approval of outdoor preaching, following a recommendation by the police department, is unconstitutional.

REQUIREMENT

It requires applicants for permits to limit their activities to places, times and dates designated by the council.

Otherwise, in the words of the measure, "No person shall speak, ballyhoo, make speeches, preach or orate in a public place or on the public streets within this city . . ."

"Let the City Council listen to one of my sermons," said Forsyth, "before they condemn me."

The evangelist, who lives at 217 Chicago St. Huntington Beach, asked: "Do I commit a mortal sin when I go to the beach to counsel children and keep them from leading a ~~bad~~ life? What say adopted this?"

He was told Huntington Beach.

"Oh, my God. You must be kidding," the attorney chuckled.

"The Preacher," Forsyth, noted that he does his beach sermonizing when the mood hits him and he couldn't waste his time by getting permission to speak.

"Why," he declared, "I could be painting my house and feel the Lord pulling me toward the beach. The tug would be so great that I'd put down my paint brush and go."

Paramount in "The Preacher's" plans to do battle against the new law is prayer.

"The Lord has given me aid in lesser causes," he said. "It's a pity that I have to fight fire with fire."

He did not elaborate.

ACLU attorney Okrand said the law is "bad" for several reasons. Among them:

"It violates the right to speak and more importantly the right to listen."

"It gives absolute discretion to the council and the police."

"It creates an absolute prohibition on public speaking until consideration at a regular council meeting."

"And it is vague. At first I thought the council would follow up by saying people could speak on certain days and certain times. But the way it is, it's even worse."

Okrand then asked the DAILY PILOT: "What city did ent alarm at police headquarters and squad cars were dispatched to the scene, too late to apprehend the burglars.

For Cont'd. of 3208 Minnesota Ave., it was an old and frustrating story.

Last July 13, burglars smashed a plate glass window at the rear of the store and stole upwards of 500 suits — about 80 per cent of the store's inventory. The loss was estimated at $42,000.

Then on Feb. 8, the store was victimized on a much smaller scale. Someone tied two clothes hangers together, shoved them through the store's mail slot and pulled a clothes rack within reach, escaping with a suit coat and a sport coat.

The late burglary was accomplished swiftly with the suits probably taken in one trip by two or three thieves. They must have cased the place well in advance," Conti suggested. "We had just gotten our spring line in a few days before."

Police, Sheriffs Raid Tavern at Seal Beach

Five scantily clad waitresses and a beer bar owner were arrested by Seal Beach police and Orange County District Attorney's investigators Tuesday night at the Goldfinger a Go-Go Bar, 800 Pacific Coast Highway.

Jailed on suspicion of outraging public decency were Evelyn Ann Fraser, 21, and Carolyn Sue Powers, 28, both of Long Beach; Carolyn C. Travis, 22, of Hawaiian Gardens; Jacqueline Ireland, 23, of Lakewood; Joan R. McPortland, 25, of 1207 Ocean Ave., Seal Beach, and the owner, Larry R. Smith, 26, of 13041 Evans Circle, Westminster.

Police said the burglars, probably professionals, smashed a plate glass rear door with a shopping cart, then sped to the front of the store where they gathered several armfuls of suits, all in the size 37 to 42 bracket.

The break-in tripped a silent alarm at police headquarters and squad cars were dispatched to the scene, too late to apprehend the burglars.

Russia and China would ever agree in the future on any joint action against the United States in the Vietnam

The split opened in 1956, precipitated by the Soviet Union, when then Premier Nikita Khrushchev denounced Josef Stalin, still a hero to Mao Tze-tung.

The friendship between the two parties deteriorated steadily after that with Peking first denouncing Khrushchev as a revisionist and then taking in the Soviet leadership which followed him. As the years passed the Peking statements described by Moscow as "slander" became worse.

WAS RICH

Father Roman Maykowski, pastor of St. Francis by the Sea American Catholic Church, 430 Park Avenue, Laguna Beach, told police today that the poorbox was stolen from the wall of the church between Sunday and Tuesday.

He said it contained between $100 and $200. The thief entered through an unlocked door. Nothing else was taken or disturbed. Father Maykowski told officers.

The candidates didn't get to question one another, and frequently agreed warmly with one another's opinions. There was disagreement, however, on what issues they considered most important, and dispute over some points.

Wood, in addition to being on the Playhouse board, is president of the Citizens' Town Planning Association which sponsored the meeting.

His campaign was pretty well the Association's stand for master planning to encourage "planned development" for a more restrictive sign ordinance: for a "green hills" ordinance to protect slopes from cut-and-fill scars; for a plaza at the Festival of Arts grounds; and for avoiding "carving up the downtown area with one-way streets."

Dorn Enlarges Race For GOP Nomination

PASADENA (UPI) — Warren M. Dorn, a Los Angeles County supervisor for the past 10 years, today announced he was seeking the Republican nomination for governor of California.

Dorn will be opposed in the GOP primary June 7 by actor Ronald Reagan, former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher and cosmetics manufacturer William Penn Patrick.

In announcing his candidacy at a news conference in this Los Angeles suburb that he served as mayor for seven years, Dorn stressed the fact that the county of Los Angeles was "the largest single local unit of government in the world."

"It is larger than 40 of the states in the union and because of the virility of its people and their accomplishments, the scope of my experience during the past 20 years has involved many important problems."

Dorn said hundreds of his friends from both parties had urged him to run "so they may have a candidate of their choice — one who represents the progressive and responsible concepts they have of what should be accomplished by government at all levels."

Nikita Started Peking-Moscow Feud

United Press International
The dispute between Soviet Russia and Red China — the two biggest and most powerful Communist nations — first came out into the open in 1959.

The spark was touched off three years earlier when former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev denounced the late Josef Stalin and began his de-Stalinization campaign during the 20th Soviet party congress in Moscow.

The quarrel at first was mainly in the ideological sphere. Peking thought Khrushchev was deviating from the path of true marxism, and even heading toward a sort of capitalism within the Soviet Union. He was denounced as a "revisionist," meaning not enough of a doctrinaire Communist in adhering to the principles of communism's founding fathers, Marx and Lenin. The Red Chinese also took violent exception to Khrushchev's policy of peaceful co-existence with the West. But from dialectics, the Peking-Moscow feud moved into wider and more serious spheres. These included the military and political areas, complicated by vying for world Communist leadership and arguments over their borders.

Premier Alexei Kosygin and Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev, who succeeded Khrushchev after his fall from power in October, 1964, tried to moderate the conflict with Peking but failed. It took only a few months for the Red Chinese to brand the new Soviet leaders as "more wily and more diabolical," and hence more dangerous to them, than Khrushchev.

Just how far the two Communist giants have drifted was underscored by their divergence over the Vietnam war — an issue many in the West thought would bring them together again if any-

Vietnam Crisis

Buddhist Students Paralyze 2 Cities

DA NANG, South Vietnam (UPI) — Thousands of angry Buddhist students shouting anti-government and anti-American slogans today paralyzed the two largest cities in central Vietnam.

Schools, shops and government offices were closed down in Da Nang and Hue, the ancient imperial capital 60 miles to the north. Taxi drivers refused to take passengers and even the post exchanges at the military bases were forced to close because Vietnamese employees would not come to work.

Student leaders of the sweeping general strike said they planned to keep Hue shut down for seven days and continue to strike in Da Nang for at least two days.

The Buddhist students are angry over the ouster last week of 1st corps commander

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, a Buddhist. The Buddhist leaders also have demanded that the Saigon government's ruling generals stop arguing among themselves and return to a civilian form of government.

The students ignored a government warning a gainst strikes and demonstrations.

Student unrest in Hue and Da Nang, 350 miles north of Saigon, on at least three previous occasions has triggered Buddhist uprisings that toppled governments, including the regime of the late dictatorial President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

Students in Hue, with permission of military leaders in the area, took over the radio station briefly Tuesday night to broadcast anti-government propaganda.

But Door Left Open For Later

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has firmly rejected suggestions for an immediate tax increase as a hedge against inflation.

But he left the door open for a possible tax boost later if his administration feels it is needed.

"We don't want to act prematurely," Johnson told a news conference Tuesday. "We don't want to put the brakes on too fast."

Johnson cited signs of a slowdown in the economy — including a 47 per cent drop in housing starts during February — and said the administration wants to assess the effects of the recently signed tax measure before taking any new anti-inflationary steps.

REIMPOSED

This measure, designed to raise about $6 billion over the next 15 months, reimposed excise taxes which were reduced last Jan. 1, and will speed collections of corporate and personal income taxes.

In the impromptu news conference in his office, Johnson also:

—Named Robert W. Komer, formerly deputy special assistant to the president, as a special assistant on nonmilitary matters in Vietnam. He will direct policies in such fields as education, medical care and social and economic reform.

—Said the United States is anxious for more contacts and exchanges with Red China but this won't occur until China's attitude changes.

—Remarked that the AFL-CIO has always been independent and should be. He was asked about the recent statements of George Meany, the AFL-CIO president, that the labor organization would ally itself in the future with neither major party.

AMUSING

—Called amusing claims of Republican leaders that the GOP will make big gains in the November congressional election. The President said he would give his advice in the election campaign if it were solicited but he has no fixed dates for any campaigning.

—Said he had no new information on the military situation in Vietnam but that American forces are doing a good job there and morale is high.

Navy Hopes To Recover Bomb Today

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI) — The U.S. Navy hoped today to move a 20-megaton H-bomb lying in 2,500 feet of water to an underwater plateau from which it can be raised more easily.

The bomb, missing for nine weeks, was found last Wednesday by the 22-foot two-man submersible "Alvin."

Efforts to raise it have since been hindered by high winds, heavy seas and electrical trouble in the submersible.

The operation was further complicated when the bomb and a parachute attached to it slid 20 feet down a steep underwater slope. It was feared that the weapon might fall into an ocean bottom crevice which would make recovery extremely difficult, in fact almost impossible.

The weather cleared Tuesday and the operation went into high gear. U.S. officials became more optimistic that the bomb would be recovered possibly sometime today or by Thursday.

U.S. officials said they knew nothing of any plan to dynamite the crevice in the event that the bomb slid into it. Reports said the Navy might try to enlarge the crevice if the bomb slid into it to enable a submersible to operate in the confined area.

It was reported that Jacques Costeau, the famed underwater explorer, had arrived on the scene to offer technical assistance to the U.S. Navy.

South Africa Okays Visit By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, (D-N.Y.), is welcome to visit the Republic of South Africa — provided he doesn't plan to go in May.

South Africa surprised U.S. officials Tuesday by informing Kennedy his application for a visa had been "considered affirmatively," but that a visit in May would "not be convenient."

Kennedy had applied for a visa about three weeks ago after receiving an invitation from a multi-racial South African student group to speak at ceremonies marking the annual "Day of Affirmation" in late May.

FBI Presses Check On 'Smear' Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI today pressed efforts to determine if a federal crime was committed in what Senate investigators call a General Motors Corp. "smear campaign" against one of its harshest critics — author Ralph Nader.

Justice Department sources said the first phase of the FBI inquiry was complete, and its findings were being evaluated before a decision is made on whether further action was needed.

Intimidation of a congressional witness is a federal crime. Conviction can mean heavy fines and jail sentences.

GM President James M. Roche apologized Tuesday for a GM inquiry into Nader's background and acknowledged it had strayed into personal portions of his life that had little bearing on his views of the auto industry. His apology came in an appearance before the subcommittee.

identification numbers, you may know how it feels this week.

The contest's in its last week. So hurry. Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner.

Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your number, call him up and say "I'm a winner."

— the symbols plus the rest of the numbers

— $2,332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past six weeks. Every week

72 winners were posted on the showroom wall.

You may have missed your number before.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number.

Contest Rules: Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, if they prefer, send in a postcard to Buick, Box 200, Buick, Inc., Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes is limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Hurry. Buick's $1,000,000 Sweepstakes is in its last week.

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

A-plant
Boon to Any Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Selection as one of six possible sites for a proposed $375-million atom smasher should be a Chamber of Commerce dream come true.

And it is for all but one of the finalists, South Barrington, Ill., near Chicago, where the people wish the federal facility would go somewhere else.

Arthur Hogfelt, the village president, said: "We moved out for privacy and fresh air and that's about it. We don't want to move. You might say they're purely selfish reasons—but what else is there?"

The other finalists, including Weston, Ill., an alternate to South Barrington, are actively seeking the atom smasher. "It's the scientific plum of the century," said Arthur Theriault, president of Weston Village, which is 15 miles away from South Barrington.

A site selection committee of the National Academy of Sciences recommended six spots in six states Tuesday as possible locations for the 200-billion-electron-volt (BEV)-accelerator designed to probe nature's innermost secrets.

In alphabetical order, they are: Ann Arbor, Mich.; Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, Long Island, N.Y.; Denver, Colo.; Madison, Wis.; the Sierra foothills 20 miles east of Sacramento, Calif.; and South Barrington or Weston, Ill.

Congress has not approved construction of the atom smasher, but if and when it does, it will be the world's largest and it will be the costliest single scientific installation ever built.

A hundred communities had sought the facility, which would cost $60 million a year to run and would bring in 2,400 resident scientists. The lobbying for selection was almost unprecedented.

The final selection will be up to the Atomic Energy Commission.

thing could.

There are other areas of conflict. Moscow and Peking have been vying for influence and trade with the emerging nations of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Another cause of bitterness is Peking's claim that Moscow reneged on a promise to help China develop nuclear know-how. Even in the balmy days, Russia never turned over any atomic secrets to its Red Chinese ally. The Sino-Soviet mutual defense treaty is conceded to be a dead letter.

China also has raised the color issue against Russia, and used the Soviet's alleged racial prejudices in its propaganda in Africa and Asia. But its attempts to keep Russia out of the Afro-Asian community failed when Moscow was invited to attend the abortive second Bandung conference.

Peking also suffered other setbacks. The ouster of Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella last year was rated a major blow to Chinese aspirations in North Africa. It suffered another rebuff in Latin America, when Cuban Premier Fidel Castro switched his loyalty from Peking to Moscow. And it lost face in Asia as a result of Moscow's successful efforts to end the India-Pakistan war over Kashmir and even more recently by the ouster of pro-Peking leaders from the Indonesian government.

Although in modern terms, the Russian-Chinese disputes dated back to Khrushchev's secret renunciation of Stalin, historians long had believed the two powers would sooner or later come into conflict.

Intensive Study of Bomb Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The missing American hydrogen bomb will be dissected like a fish if the United States ever reels it up from the bottom of the sea off Spain.

Officials said today that once the bomb is recovered it will be dismantled and subjected to months — and some parts for years — of study.

This is to find out in all detail possible how the thermonuclear device was affected by an inflight collision and months in the salt water of the Mediterranean.

The bomb was loosed when a U.S. B52 jet and its refueling tanker collided six miles above the coast of Spain Jan. 17. It drifted by parachute into the sea.

Minature submarines have been trying to maneuver the bomb into a favorable position for recovery the past several days. Officials say it might be days or weeks before the bomb is surfaced.

Once in hand, the gray, tubular device will be taken to an unspecified base of the Defense Atomic Support Agency (DASA), officials said. DASA builds the nation's nuclear hardware.

"You can rest assured it will get a thorough going-over," one spokesman said. "We bring nuclear bombs back to the shop if they're so much as scratched."

Communists Losing

Indonesia Purges
Red Secret Police

JAKARTA (UPI) — Indonesia's new military regime is dismantling ousted Foreign Minister Subandrio's secret intelligence network that reportedly played a key role in the abortive Communist coup last October, well-informed sources said today.

The pro-Peking Subandrio was arrested by the army last week and troops Tuesday raided the suburban Jakarta headquarters of his Central Intelligence Bureau (CBI), seizing more than 100 weapons and large quantities of ammunition and hand grenades.

The reports came as the new government of army chief Lt. Gen. Suharto showed signs of relaxing its control of the Indonesian capital. The regime also delivered a rebuff to Western diplomats and partial withdrawals.

Major manufacturers announced last week they were increasing the price of most brands by 40 cents per thousand cigarettes. This resulted in a penny-a-pack increase to the smoker.

Then the government stepped in and asked that the increase be rescinded. R. J. Reynolds Co., one of the biggest manufacturers, complied with President Johnson's request and withdrew its increase.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Confusion reigned today over the price of cigarettes in the wake of a series of wholesale price increases, withdrawals and partial withdrawals.

Then the government stepped in and asked that the increase be rescinded. R. J. Reynolds Co., one of the biggest manufacturers, complied with President Johnson's request and withdrew its increase.

'VP's Teepee' Given
Approval by House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A "foolhardy" at a time when housing for servicemen was short.

On a precarious 197-184 vote Tuesday, Democratic leaders pushed through the House a bill authorizing a $750,000 "Junior White House" to be built on a 10-acre naval observatory site near the capital's embassy row.

The bill conflicted with one passed by the Senate last year to set up a commission and supply it with $1 million to build or buy a mansion. The differences must be reconciled.

In a wide ranging debate that took off twice into poetry, Republican leaders attacked the bill as a symbol of unnecessary spending in time of war.

House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., said it would

Max Rafferty Given 'Thank You' From Both Sides

By THOMAS KEEVIL

of the Daily Pilot Staff

A "Thank You, Max" dinner

honoring Supt. of Public

Instruction Max Rafferty

Tuesday night drew 'em from all sides.

Orange County's Pat Hitt, former national GOP committeewoman, was dinner chairman, but lest that tag it as a Republican affair, another at the head table was Edwin W. Pauley, who's about as prominent in Democratic circles as they get.

Buddy Ebsen, a Newport Beach resident topped the entertainment list for the $50-a-plate dinner at the Statler Hilton, and Art Linkletter was master of ceremonies. James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Archbishop of Los Angeles, delivered the invocation.

Among the 500 persons who planned to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. "Sam" Barnes of Newport Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cairns of Seal Beach.

WATER ISSUE — Thomas W. Markham, chairman of a non-partisan citizens' committee promoting passage of Orange County's $850 million water bond issue this June, today announced appointment of three area chairmen:

Mrs. Dora Hill of Newport Beach, Henry Segerstrom of Santa Ana and C. E. White of Fullerton.

"Proposition W," as the proposed will be submitted, is designed to finance facilities for Orange County and other Southern California areas in order to distribute northern California water to be made available in the 1970s through the State Water Project.

"The bonds will have no appreciable impact on the tax rate," Markham said, "but failure to pass the bonds would be catastrophic to Orange County."

LYNN PARTY — Orange County's Democratic League will sponsor a non-host cocktail party honoring Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch Monday from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the Crest Hotel, Anaheim.

LSD CONTROL — Spencer Williams, Republican candidate for attorney general, used a Costa Mesa Kiwanis Club luncheon to kick off a campaign to regulate the use of LSD, a hallucinatory drug under widespread discussion in the state.

Williams sent a telegram from the meeting to Gov. Brown urging that a bill classifying LSD as a dangerous drug be included as an item on the current special session of the Legislature.

WINDS BLOW — When it comes to colorful flaying of the status quo, this week's award-winner is L. M. "Les" Andrew, who's aiming to unseat Fourth District Supervisor William Hirstein.

Says Andrew: "We need to let a fresh strong breeze into our county government to clear the murky air around the Board of Supervisors ... for the people are sick and tired of soaring costs and wasteful 'blue ribbon' commissions conducted by firms outside the county."

He also says the supervisors should "stop looking at their $250 TV long enough to see how the people of Orange County feel about the excessive tax rates."

C.L.E.A.N. UP — Democrat William E. Dannemeyer, 69th District Assemblyman campaigning for the new 35th state Senate District, is teamed up with arch-conservative Republican E. Richard Barnes of San Diego in an anti-obscenity initiative, California League Enlisting Action Now (CLEAN).

A similar initiative failed to get out of committee at the Legislature's last session.

McCARTHY HELPERS —

Justin McCarthy, candidate for the Republican nomination

in the 70th Assembly District, has named Russell Par-

ris, Westminster Insurance

Broker, his campaign chairman, and savings and loan executive James Clark his finance chairman.

POT BOILS — Stewart

Case, who's seeking the GOP nomination in the 68th Assembly District, says things are boiling all over the stove up in Sacramento.

He reports that he had conversations with high state officials who are voicing deep concern that "state government officials are dictated by selfish desires for empire

building, political patronage and power."

Case formerly was administrative assistant to retired

state senator John A. Murdy

Jr.

BRADEN'S BID — Tom

Braden's bid for the spot right under Gov. Brown, the publicized trip to India.

Lieutenant governorship, hasn't gathered much steam yet, but word is from Oceanside says he's got a plan that might turn the trick.

Mrs. Braden accompanied

Ballot Counters*Group Wants Vote on Coleman Ban

SANTA ANA — The president of a citizens group appeared before the Board of Supervisors Tuesday in a move to place on the ballot an initiative measure that would ban the Coleman vote counting system in Orange County.

The Voters Information Bureau, represented by Mrs. Cleo Haley of Garden Grove, asked that the county clerk be ordered to process their petitions and place the matter on the ballot.

"Our right to propose this ordinance has been denied by an unprecedented ruling from County Counsel Adrian Kuyper."

Mrs. Haley said, "who stated that only the Board of Supervisors and not the people has the power to decide how the ballots will be tabulated."

The board referred the matter to various departments, including the county counsel who had advised that the machine method had been approved in state law, a fact which makes the petition invalid.

"The right to enact an ordinance by initiative method certainly does exist," Kuyper said Tuesday afternoon.

Pellman said, with repeated use.

The system involves a centralized count of votes, and the bureau, according to Mrs. Haley, is staunchly against this. Instead, they favor counting on the precinct level to avoid the handling of all ballots by a small number of people.

In closing, Mrs. Haley said she wished to give the Board of Supervisors the opportunity to initiate the ordinance themselves.

"If you fail to act within a reasonable amount of time, we will take steps to effectuate our end," Mrs. Haley said. She declined to outline just what steps were indicated.

An across-the-board 5.5 per cent raise was granted in 1964. Raises last year amounted to an average of 3.1 per cent for most employees.

OCEA Urges
Readjusting
Of Salaries

SANTA ANA — The Orange County Employees Association Tuesday asked the Board of Supervisors for a "fair and reasonable adjustment" of county pay scale by July 1.

Supervisors filed the association's letter for further consideration in April, the time set for pay scales to be reviewed.

The letter claims a "large number of employees salaries rank most unfavorably with salaries paid in other leading counties." It then seeks pay boosts for various jobs to bring them in line with those counties.

Representing Orange County will be Rev. Stockton, Newport Beach association president; Mrs. Nancy May, Costa Mesa, past president; Mrs. Beth Marshall of Santa Ana and Mrs. Margaret Pollack of Fullerton, board members; and Robert Green, San Juan Capistrano, executive director.

The conference is sponsored by the California Association for Mental Health.

Popular Spot*Hand Enters Race For No. 2 Position

By The Associated Press

Part of the unusual twist to California politics this year is that there have seldom been so many candidates trying so hard to be No. 2.

Four years ago, nobody except the candidates seemed to care much about who won nominations for lieutenant governor. This year, a host of people in highly placed jobs care very much, focusing a rare spotlight on the second place spot on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Tuesday's entrance of Lloyd N. Hand as a Democratic hopeful for lieutenant governor came the same day his resignation as chief of U.S. protocol became effective.

FRIEND OF LBJ

Hand, a Californian since 1961, goes up against Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson and Thomas Braden, president of the State Board of Education.

The handsome, 37-year-old ex-Texan is a close friend of President Johnson's.

Sources close to Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, seeking a third term, were bitter about Hand's decision, but said he ran against Johnson's wishes.

Brown's forces said Hand's entrance into the race would stir up more intra-party strife, making it harder for the Democrats to win. But the governor said:

"Of course, I'm for Lt. Gov. Anderson, but I'm glad to see Hand in the race."

Brown's rival for the Democratic governorship nomination, Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, said Hand was "a very fine and able young man."

Hand carefully avoided taking sides in the Yorty-Brown fight, saying "I have no preference. I am prepared to serve with either." Republicans indicated they plan to charge that Brown has agreed to accept a federal appointment if he wins, thus permitting Hand to be governor. Brown replied he'll serve all four years if re-elected.

SPECULATION

But one reason so many persons are interested in the No. 2 race is speculation that Brown might get a federal appointment sometime in his third term, if he wins it.

That would clear the way for the lieutenant governor to become No. 1 and in 1968 control the Democratic delegation to the party's presidential nominating convention.

While Democrats debated the many ramifications of the hot competition for lieutenant governor, the only announced Republican prospect got company.

Riverside County Supervisor Norman Davis filed his papers, paid his fee and said he regards his only foe as "Nixon's man." The reference was to Los Angeles attorney Robert Finch, one-time assistant to former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

Indicating the various attempts to tie candidates to someone else's coattails, Davis said Hand is "President Johnson's man." Braden is "Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's man," and he backed New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in the 1964 GOP presidential primary in California.

Meanwhile, Mayor Samuel Yorty of Los Angeles kept things busy in the Democratic gubernatorial race. Yorty told students in Berkeley that if the governor beats him and San Francisco newspaper publisher Dr. Carlton Goodlett for the nomination, Brown will "better work like the dickens."

Brown's forces said Hand's entrance into the race would stir up more intra-party strife, making it harder for the Democrats to win. But the governor said:

"Of course, I'm for Lt. Gov. Anderson, but I'm glad to see Hand in the race."

Brown's rival for the Democratic governorship nomination, Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, said Hand was "a very fine and able young man."

Hand carefully avoided taking sides in the Yorty-Brown fight, saying "I have no preference. I am prepared to serve with either." Republicans indicated they plan to charge that Brown has agreed to accept a federal appointment if he wins, thus permitting Hand to be governor. Brown replied he'll serve all four years if re-elected.

SPECULATION

But one reason so many persons are interested in the No. 2 race is speculation that Brown might get a federal appointment sometime in his third term, if he wins it.

That would clear the way for the lieutenant governor to become No. 1 and in 1968 control the Democratic dele-

Viet Critics*Goldberg UC Visit Faces Opposition

BERKELEY (UPI)—United Nations Ambassador Arthur Goldberg is coming to the University of California campus here Friday, and his visit already has touched off a flurry of activity by critics of U.S. Vietnam policy.

A dozen students and one faculty member, John Leggett, were cited for campus political rule violations Tuesday in connection with the Peace-Rights Organizing Committee (PROC).

PROC has been protesting the appearance of Goldberg, who will receive an honorary degree and speak at Charter Day ceremonies. The committee contends his appearance implies the university's endorsement of U.S. policy in Vietnam. PROC students say they will hold a rally on charter day and picket the Greek theater when Goldberg speaks there.

But the university has refused to recognize PROC as a legitimate student organization because two of its officers are non-students.

Non-recognition means the group is not allowed to set up any tables to collect money and distribute literature on the Sprout Hall plaza. The students and Leggett, an as-

FORT ORD, Calif. (UPI)—Pvt. Kenneth E. Zawacky, a 19-year-old basic trainee from Phoenix, Ariz., is "responding well" to treatment for meningitis at Fort Ord, according to the Army.

A spokesman said Tuesday that Zawacky was the first basic trainee to contract the disease since the severe outbreak in 1964.

EDUCATION Q AND A

By Dr. LYLE HANNA

(Editor's Note: "Education Q and A" is a weekly feature of the DAILY PILOT. Its author, Dr. Lyle Hanna, is associate dean of the School of Education, California State College, Los Angeles. Readers may submit questions by writing to Education Q and A, Box 1564, Costa Mesa. For a personal reply, enclose stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Dear Dr. Hanna:

A group of teachers in our school are proposing a plan for using a team teaching approach so we can take advantage of using small groups for discussion purposes. We understand that there might be some problems develop when using this technique. Do you have any suggestions which might help us in this venture?

Interested Teachers

Dear Teachers:

You really should have given me more details about your team teaching plan as there are many versions of this program. Very briefly, the most common mistake teachers make whenever they work with small groups is to treat them as if they are still a class of 35 or 40 students. The teacher spends too much time giving directions and answering questions, with no discussions on the part of the students. In a small group situation, all students should participate, learning to express ideas convincingly, listening to others intelligently, and try to understand and criticize thinking that is different from their own.

Dr. Dr. Hanna

My little girl will start school this September and I am really concerned that they do not use phonics to teach the children to read in this school. Is there anyway that I could influence them to change their system?

I have heard so much, that about half of the people that graduate from high school, do not really know how to read, because of the sight system they use in learning how to read.

A parent

Dear Parent:

I suggest that you visit the school and have them explain their reading program in detail and I believe you will find out that phonics has its place in their approach to reading. A good reading program uses many approaches in teaching reading and the successful reader uses many skills besides phonics in becoming a good reader. If the school ignores phonics entirely in its reading program I would be concerned as a parent but I would be equally concerned if this were the only word attack skill developed.

The 50 per cent figure you are using to describe the high school graduate is way too high. The majority of our high school students are better readers than most adults. If our high school students of today were using a 100 per cent phonetic approach in reading they would be such slow readers that it would be impossible for them to read the material required for graduation.

If you really want to help your child, set a good example for her by reading a great deal yourself. Subscribe to several magazines that are suitable for her age, secure a library card and see that she uses it. Above all when she asks you to pronounce a word do not make her go through the laborious steps of trying to sound out the word. Tell her how to pronounce the word and let her go on and enjoy the content of the story. If you try to make her sound out each word she will cease to enjoy the story as it takes too much time to secure a satisfying answer.

Try Puerto Rico's Favorite . . . Asopao

PUERTO RICAN FAVORITE . . . ASOPAO

Asopao is hearty enough to keep the family happy, unusual enough to serve as a conversation piece at your next dinner party. It's a meal in a dish, too, so all you need on the accompanying menu is a crisp green salad and hot bread or rolls.

ASOPAO (Chicken with Rice and Vegetables)

To prepare chicken: 2 3-pound chickens, cut in serving pieces
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
4 cups water
1 medium onion, sliced
3 celery tops
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Put chicken in kettle; add Ac'cent and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil; cover tightly. Reduce heat and simmer 1 hour, or until tender. Refrigerate chicken and broth at once. When chicken is cool, remove meat from bones; cut in pieces. Reserve broth.

Asopao: 1/4 pound salt pork, chopped

1 green pepper, chopped
2 onions, chopped
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 bay leaf
1/4 cup olive oil
2 quarts broth
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
1/4 cup capers
2 cups uncooked rice
1 can (1 pound) asparagus
1 can (1 pound) small peas
1/4 cup sliced stuffed olives
2 pimientos, sliced

Place pork, green pepper and onion in saucepan and cook over low heat 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Add tomato sauce and bay leaf; cook 15 minutes longer. Heat oil in large skillet or heat-proof casserole. Add chicken pieces and saute until lightly browned. Add pork mixture, broth, Ac'cent and pepper. Cover and cook until broth comes to a boil. Add rice. Reduce heat and cover. Cook over low heat 30 minutes, stirring frequently.

Asopao is quite soupy, add additional broth if rice becomes dry. Heat asparagus and peas separately. Arrange rice mixture in deep soup plates, place asparagus and peas on each portion; garnish with remaining ingredients. Serves 6 to 8.

Upsy-daisy

This fruit upside-down cake is made with a mix. Arrange 8 to 12 drained, canned peach halves on bottom of well-greased 9 by 13-inch pan. Spoon 1 (14 ounce) jar of cranberry-orange relish between peaches and sprinkle with 2/3 cup of firmly packed brown sugar.

Prepare 1 package of yellow cake mix as label directs. Pour batter over fruit and bake as label directs. Cool cake on rack for 10 minutes, then loosen edges and turn out on platter. Serve warm with sweetened whipped cream.

Souffle Has French Flair

PARIS (AP) — For a luncheon or a light supper dish here is a French cheese souffle that never fails. This means that this souffle always comes out of the oven well puffed above the baking dish with a handsome brown top and an airy texture.

You have to work fast in making this souffle, and you must not do the preparation in advance.

You also have to serve it the moment it comes out of the oven. While the souffle is baking, just tell your guests the old French maxim, "You have to wait for it. It won't wait for you."

FRENCH CHEESE SOUFFLE

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
Pinch of salt
Pinch of pepper
Pinch of nutmeg
4 large eggs
1/4 lb. natural Gruyere cheese, grated
Preheat oven to hot (425 degrees).

Grease a 1 1/2-quart souffle dish or earthenware casserole that is about 7 1/2 inches across the top and several inches deep.

In a 2 1/2-quart saucepan, gently melt 3 tablespoons of the butter; whisk in the flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and whisk until thickened. Remove from heat; whisk in the remaining tablespoon of butter and the nutmeg, then the cheese. Separate the eggs and reserve the whites. Whisk the egg yolks, one by one, into the cheese sauce.

Whip the egg whites until stiff; fold into the cheese mixture using light, smooth and upward motions. Pour into the greased souffle dish or casserole. Reduce oven temperature to moderate (375 degrees) and bake

Half Million Children Poisoned Each Year

By DOROTHY WENCK
Orange County Home Advisor

Aspirin, insecticides, bleach, detergents and cleaning agents, furniture polish, kerosene, vitamin and iron pills, disinfectants, oven cleaners, lighter fluid, nail polish, after shave lotion, laxatives.

How many of these products do you have in your home?

They are just a few of the 250,000 potential poisons that you can buy. They are particularly poisonous to children because a child's small body can't absorb as much as that of an adult.

Each year nearly a million persons are poisoned at home — 500,000 of these are children, with toddlers under 5 the most frequent victims. Age 2 is the most hazardous ages of all.

Roughly 50 percent of all accidental poisonings are from medicine, and about half of these are from aspirin. Some 100,000 children in the U.S. are poisoned by aspirin each year, and over 144 die as a result.

WATCH ASPIRIN

Aspirin is often found in family medicine cabinets by exploring toddlers who usually sample everything mouth-size. But curious toddlers also find aspirin in other places — mother's purse, the glove compartment of the car, on grandmother's night stand, even on the kitchen counter. Other medicines are found by toddlers in these same places.

Accidental poisoning can happen any time of the day, in any room of the house.

Statistics show that 40 percent of childhood poisonings takes place in the kitchen, 15 percent in the bathroom, 27 percent in the living room, and the remainder in other rooms such as bedrooms and the garage.

Studies also show that childhood poisonings are most likely to occur between the hours of 10 a.m.

noon, and 4 to 6 p.m. — before mealtime when mother is busy in the kitchen and children are extra hungry. Another common time is early in the morning when the toddler might be exploring before other family members are up.

Most cases are the result of two factors: lack of supervision, and a readily available poisonous product.

PREPARE POISONING

What better time than now — Poison Prevention Week — to poison-proof your home?

Read labels: A label must tell what the hazards are, how to avoid them, and what to do if accidental injury occurs.

Read labels: Use products as directed, taking all precautions suggested. Never take medicine in the dark.

Store safely: Keep all hazardous substances out of the reach of small children. Store poisons and medicines in locked cabinets. Store in original containers so labels and directions are not lost, and product not mistaken for something else.

Safely dispose of unused medicines and empty containers of hazardous substances. Flush medicines down the drain or toilet and rinse out container. Never dispose of medicine in waste baskets or trash barrels.

Watch your toddlers. Teach your older children to handle hazardous substances safely. And, practice what you preach.

1. A NEW MASTERPLAN to replace the unused one that is nine years old!

2. My solution to our congested traffic . . . Open 19th St. to Canyon Drive, open Canyon Drive from Victoria to 19th St. Open Placentia to Adams St. Widen and straighten Victoria for East-West artery.

3. Better safety around our schools, parks, and playgrounds. The use of police patrol on scooters or on foot.

4. The unification of all factions to improve Costa Mesa as a major city and quit fighting each other and city government.

5. The city of Costa Mesa is a general law city! THIS MAY BE GOOD OR BAD! I feel that when I am elected we should immediately form a citizens committee to investigate the possibilities of changing the form of government, merit, and the vote of the electorate.

Savory Casserole

Appropriately named is this recipe which combines almost "a little bit of everything." Blending flavors of the varying ingredients add up to a savory main dish.

CALIFORNIA CASSEROLE

1 can mushroom soup, undiluted 1 cup celery (cut fine, cooked and drained)
1 small carton sour cream 1 cup cashew nuts (halved)
1/4 ounce can button mushrooms 1 large can chow mein noodles
1 can water chestnuts (halved)

Combine soup and sour cream. Mix well all ingredients except noodles. Pour into buttered casserole. Sprinkle with a few noodles and dots of butter. Bake at 375 degrees until bubbly. Serve remaining noodles with mixture on top. Serves 4 to 6. Golda Rudd's recipe.

Layered Casserole Teams Proteins

Rousing good meals without meat put a feather in any cook's cap. With cheese, mainstay of such meatless menus, it's an accomplishment within the reach of all. In this Scalloped Cheese 'n Tuna, American cheese teams with eggs, tuna, and, for the smooth creamy sauce, nonfat dry milk. Complement with a vegetable, green salad and flaky butter crescents.

SCALLOPED CHEESE 'N TUNA

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped green pepper

1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup flour
2/3 cup nonfat dry milk
1/4 cup water

2 cups (1/4 of 2 pound loaf) processed American cheese, shredded
3 (7-oz.) cans flaked tuna
6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

In a medium-size saucepan, over medium heat, melt butter. Add green pepper, onion and salt; saute until tender. Blend in flour. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water; stir to blend. Gradually stir milk into vegetable - flour mixture. Stir constantly and cook until thickened and smooth. Add cheese; stir until melted.

In a 12 x 7 1/2 x 2-inch baking dish, make a layer of tuna fish, hard-cooked egg slices and cheese sauce; repeat to make second layer. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven for 20 minutes, or until light golden brown. If desired, one or two egg yolks may be reserved and used to sieve over top of finished casserole as a garnish. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Tyrol Salad

Delectable

An interesting salad combination that is hearty and flavorful enough to accompany fish.

Read labels: A label must tell what the hazards are, how to avoid them, and what to do if accidental injury occurs.

Read labels: Use products as directed, taking all precautions suggested. Never take medicine in the dark.

Store safely: Keep all hazardous substances out of the reach of small children. Store poisons and medicines in locked cabinets. Store in original containers so labels and directions are not lost, and product not mistaken for something else.

Safely dispose of unused medicines and empty containers of hazardous substances. Flush medicines down the drain or toilet and rinse out container. Never dispose of medicine in waste baskets or trash barrels.

Costa Mesa police officer John A. Moquin today is the department's newest sergeant.

Moquin, 29, a Huntington Beach resident, was elevated as a result of his score on the departmental promotional exam held last month.

Moquin, who becomes field sergeant of the morning watch, has been on the Costa Mesa force for 2½ years. Prior to that he served 3½ years with the Laguna Beach Police Department.

Born in San Francisco, he has lived in the Orange Coast area since 1950. He is a graduate of Orange Coast College and a former Marine.

Moquin and his wife, Patricia, are the parents of three children.

Symposium
Scheduled
At Douglas

Leading scientists from throughout the world will participate in a symposium on "Recent Advances in Cosmic Ray Research" at the Douglas Space Systems Center in Huntington Beach, April 4 through 6.

The Douglas-sponsored conference will bring together more than 50 of the most internationally renowned experts in the highly specialized field of investigation of solar and galactic radiation in space.

Dr. Lewis Larmore, vice president and director of Douglas' Advanced Research Laboratories, said the three-day meeting will provide the scientists with the opportunity to present detailed reports on their findings during the recent period of minimum solar activity.

Already accepting invitations to attend are Professor Tatsuo Obayashi of the University of Kyoto, Japan, and Professor Harry Elliott of Imperial College, London, England.

Dedication of the new $2 million Advanced Research Laboratory will be held April 5 in conjunction with the symposium.

Phantoms
To Fly Out

MCAS. EL TORO — Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 122 will fly to the Naval Air Station at Fallon, Nev. this week for two weeks of training.

While at Fallon, the squadron's F4B Phantoms will make bombing runs with MK76 and MK81 bombs. The Phantoms also will fire Zuni's (air-to-air ground missiles) and 2.75 rockets.

The squadron will train at Fallon from Saturday, March 26, to Friday, April 8.

Bullard Quits as OCC Track Coach

SPORTS ON PARADE

Once Around The Circuit

By BILL DONER

Once Around The Circuit:

Lots of publicity have been given to Jack Holley, the Imperial Valley basketball coach who was fired after guiding the tiny desert jaycee to a 28-1 record, but the real facts of the case haven't come out as yet and it's doubtful if they ever will. Holley, no matter what you've heard, wasn't ousted just because he was overweight.

After watching Texas Western dispose of mighty Kentucky in the NCAA basketball finals Saturday night, it's easy to understand why the Miners had to go into overtime to win so many games this year. Texas Western time and again would relax and let the Wildcats catch up. But when the going got tough, so did the Miners. Even on a hot night, Adolph Rupp's bunch would have been hard pressed to whip those Panhandle hotshots.

Isn't it about time somebody recognized Angel second baseman Bobby Knoop as the most improved player in the game. Knoop, without equal in the field, has suddenly become a terror at the plate and following Tuesday's romp over Cleveland, he's hitting over .500. He'll be on display with the rest of "our" Cherubs to-day and Thursday at Blair Field in Long Beach.

Carroll Shelby, Dan Gurney's partner in the ambitious All American Racers operation, has been named to the board of directors of the National Hot Rod Association. Shel, known as a "genius in bib overalls," is one of the most colorful guys in the racing business.

And speaking of the Gurney operation, hot rumble is that Jerry Grant may be behind the wheel of an All-American Racer's Lola-Ford at the April 23-24 Las Vegas road races.

Big Day for Spike Fans

Orange County track and field fans will be in for a treat on April 2 when the powerful Striders tackle Pasadena Athletic Club, San Diego Track and Field Club along with host Santa Ana College, on the Dons' Ward Field. Action gets under way at 1 p.m. with 17-foot pole vaulter Bob Seagren leading the action.

Who says Mt. San Antonio College's Geoff Vanderstock isn't one of the greatest track athletes in the world today? Not only did Vanderstock score four victories against Orange Coast last Friday, but he returned the following day to run the 400-meter hurdles in 50.0, fastest reading of the year. Believe me, the guy is phenomenal.

Mike Lange, the ex-Costa Mesa High School and Orange Coast College athletic star, settled an old score when he defeated Ed Caruthers in the high jump over the weekend. Lange, now at Arizona State, cleared 6 feet 9 1/4 as did Caruthers of Arizona, but the lanky local resident had fewer misses than his long time nemesis from Santa Ana. Prior to Saturday, Lange had never topped Caruthers as a collegian. Incidentally, Caruthers, an Olympian in 1964, has gained weight and is reportedly ready to junk track in favor of a career in football. "You can't eat medals," he explains.

Sukla's Stock Rises

How about Ed Sukla's performance against the San Francisco Giants Sunday? The Angel righthander from Huntington Beach figures to see plenty of action in Anaheim Stadium this year and could develop into the Cherub's number two bullpen hurler behind big Bob Lee.

When Gabe Loya won medalist honors for Orange Coast College in a golf match with Riverside and Chaffey Monday, he credited Pirate publicist Don Jacobs for the sudden improvement. It seems Jacobs took a picture of Loya hitting a drive recently and it showed both of his feet off the ground. Monday, he corrected the law and recorded his finest round of the year.

UCI swim coach Al Irwin was going over the records of the past season recently when he discovered the Anteaters outscored 18 foes by the remarkable count of 1,242 to 467. Irwin won 17 of 18 meets this year, losing only to unbeaten USC, so it's no small wonder Irwin is predicting big things for the future. All of his splashes, you see, will be back in '67.

Walt Hazzard, who'll start for the White team next Wednesday night when the Lakers play an exhibition game at UCI, admits playing on the Olympic team pushed his progress back considerably, but if he had it all to do over again — he'd still represent Uncle Sam. "Nothing comes close to the thrill I received when accepting a gold medal in 1964 in Tokyo," says the former Bruin star.

North Post to Hangartner

John Hangartner of Kennedy High School has been selected to coach the North squad in the seventh annual Orange County High School All-Star football game, it was revealed to part in the county classic.

This means such county stars as Pete Sanchez, CIF Co-player and Orange County Player of the Year who led Mater Dei to the CIF title, Dallas Stahr of Santa Ana Valley, Rick Aldridge of Westminster, Ron Brown of Mater Dei, Larry Stone of Anaheim and the sponsor of the game — the Brea Lions Club — has ruled to allow players selected for the Shrine All-Star game in the Los Angeles Coliseum to also take part in the county classic.

Hangartner, who prepped at Glendale Hoover, led his team to the CIF finals in 1964, losing to Paul Lowe and Centennial in the title tilt. A quarterback, he completed 143 of 259 passes during the season and was named All-CIF and Southern California Player of the Year.

Hangartner played his college ball at Arizona State where he was selected

Ernie Bullard

Aide McIlwain in Line for Head Post

By BILL DONER
Sports Editor

Ernie Bullard, track and cross country coach at Orange Coast College for the past three years, has resigned from the Costa Mesa institution, the DAILY PILOT learned.

Bullard, 28, one-time USC spike star who guided the Pirates to new heights during his brief tenure, will move to the new Mesa Junior College in Arizona at the conclusion of the current school year.

Jim McIlwain, currently serving as Bullard's aide, seems certain to be named to the OCC head post.

Both Bullard and Coast athletic director Wendell Pickens have recommended the appointment of McIlwain, formerly track coach at El Rancho High School in Whittier.

"I've enjoyed my stay at Orange Coast," Bullard explained, "but the Mesa opportunity is simply too great to pass up."

Mesa JC, located near

Phoenix in Maricopa County, figures to lure the top prep athletes in the state next year when it fields its first ever track team.

A rubberized asphalt oval, similar to the one used so successfully at Foothill JC in northern California, is presently being installed.

McIlwain, meanwhile, is optimistic about OCC's future in the sport of running, jumping and throwing.

The 28-year-old ex-Fullerton JC and UC Santa Barbara spike ace feels "track and field at OCC is on the upswing and should continue to get better each year."

McIlwain, married and the father of a seven-month old son, John, carries impressive credentials as a coach.

While at El Rancho he piloted the Dons to their only track championship in history. He also recorded a second place finish in the tough San Gabriel Valley League during his three-year stint.

LONG BEACH HOSTS ANGELS

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The California Angels move to within commuting distance of their new home today for a two-day stand as guests of the Chicago Cubs.

Hannum was fired after rebuilding the team this past season into a colorful squad that just missed gaining the Western Division playoffs.

Owner Franklin Mieuli said he was forced to let Hannum go because Alex could not devote 12 months of the year to the job. Mieuli said he expected Sharman, a star for 10 years with the Boston Celtics, to locate in the San Francisco Bay area and be available to work with the team year-long.

Sharman, who said he was signed to three-year coaching contract, made it clear that accepting the job did not mean he would drop all outside interests. He owns a one-third share of the Palm Desert Country Club.

Missing from the two-game set here was Jackie Warner, who paced Monday and Tuesday wins over Cleveland.

Center Mark Nelson, termned by coach Dan Rogers

"the player who gave the most to the team throughout the season," was named UCI's most valuable basketball player at Tuesday night's award banquet at the Balboa Bay Club.

Nelson, husky 6 foot 6 pivot

from Glendale College, received a standing ovation

from the capacity crowd of over 500 as he was presented with the first MVP trophy

in the brief history of the

Tom Bryan was honored as

Fountain Valley Grid Coach Named

By GLENN WHITE
Prep Sports Editor

Bruce Pickford, 36, highly successful football coach in Sioux City, Iowa, was named head grid tutor for the new Fountain Valley High School by the Huntington Beach High School District Board of Trustees at Tuesday night's board meeting.

Reached by telephone at Sioux City's Central High School, Pickford told the DAILY PILOT, "I'm looking forward to the move to California. I know it won't be easy with a new school to work with.

"But it's a great challenge. Going into Fountain Valley as the first coach I can build my own program

... establish principles and build our own traditions.

"The climate is attractive, too," he added. "Right now it's snowing here."

Pickford's most prominent plans of the moment are to complete his staff and find a home. "I imagine most of my assistants will be from the Huntington Beach area," he confided.

Pickford likes a diversified offense, one which controls the ball but which still reserves the forward pass as a potent weapon.

"Our offense is similar to the attacks used by USC and UCLA. We use flankers and wing backs and split end," he said.

Pickford has a glowing record as a football coach in Iowa. His teams have posted a combined mark of 83 wins, 17 losses and three ties. Nine of his players have made all-state in the last seven years.

After one season of rebuilding, Central enjoyed two straight undefeated campaigns and his 84 eleven was ranked second in the state. His 1965 outfit was rated as the third best in Iowa.

Pickford prepped at Chicago's Lindblom High and was a halfback on the team which fell to Fenger in the finals of the Windy City playoffs back in 1945.

He went on to Morning-side College at Sioux City and he continued with football under coach George Allen, now head tutor for the Los Angeles Rams.

Unhappy News

Area Nines Dumped In League Openers

It was a triple dose of bad news for the Orange Coast area's entrants in the Freeway League as all three dropped their circuit lid-lifters Tuesday afternoon.

Costa Mesa came the closest to victory as coach Bob Parsons' Mustangs took a 4-3 loss from Garden Grove on the Argonaut diamond.

Newport Harbor absorbed a 9-2 bombing at Fullerton and Huntington Beach was spanked by host Bolas Grande, 7-0.

Mesa had closed the deficit against Garden Grove to a single run by tallying twice in the top of the sixth inning. The first marker came via a wild pitch and Ed Hafferkamp brought in the second with a single.

Newport threw a scare to title favorite Fullerton by jumping off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Craig Ritter's first of two singles. However, the Tribe came back with five runs in the fourth to sew things up.

Huntington Beach fell behind 5-0 in the first frame and the Oiler offense was stilled with only two hits.

Fink Zips To Pair Of Records

Incredible Greg Fink continued his assault on Corona del Mar High School swimming records as he came up with new standards in the individual medley and 400 freestyle in Tuesday afternoon's meet with visiting Long Beach Wilson.

Fink eased to a snappy 2:08.3 for the indo then came back for a blazing 3:52.0 in the freestyle to claim the two records.

Eric Carson was impressive for the Sea Kings, winning the 100 freestyle in 51.2.

Coach Ed Newland's hosts swept all three divisions from the Bruins, copping the victory by a 54-32 margin.

Bucs Break String, Down Chaffey, 8-5

By JERRY MYRE
of the DAILY PILOT Staff

Five big runs in the first inning and a brilliant defensive maneuver by Joe DeGeer in the top of the ninth inning led the Pirates of Orange Coast College to their first Eastern Conference baseball victory of the year, 8-5, over the Chaffey Panthers on the OCC diamond Tuesday afternoon.

With the Pirates holding a three run margin going into the ninth frame (which has been a perilous round for the Bucs all season), reliever Craig Davis grew wobbly on the hill.

Al Ashby opened with a walk and was followed by Jerry LaPorte's single as lumps welled in OCC throats. Then Ron Walker sent a cannon shot down to third base. After making the tag of third, DeGeer rifled the ball to second to complete a double play. Rick Mancebo's relay to first was a half-stride away from a game-ending triple-play. A ground out by the next batter got Davis off the hook.

Five Bucs rambled across home plate in the bottom of the first inning for the Pirates through a combination of timely hitting and wild pitching.

Rick Donaldson, who had walked and moved to second on Rick Mancebo's sacrifice, scored as Rick Martz singled. A base-on-balls to DeGeer put men on the front two sacks before John Weber singled Martz home. Both moved up on a passed ball and scored on Howard Perry's single.

Norm Bailey drew a walk and both scored as the Chaffey moundsman unloosed two wild pitches.

Bailey clobbered a 360-foot left field homer with Perry aboard in the third for two more runs in a three-run frame that saw back-to-back singles by Woody Cary and Dan Mortensen follow Bailey's big blow.

The National Basketball Association playoffs begin tonight with Boston hosting Cincinnati and continue Thursday when St. Louis travels to Baltimore.

"We're ready," St. Louis player-coach Richie Guerin said Tuesday night after his team closed out its regular season by dropping a 128-125 decision to the New York Knickerbockers.

"We've been playing our best ball all season recently," Guerin said. Baltimore has been our toughest team all year but we're playing very good now."

The Chicago Hawks, a team loaded with seasoned pros and young prospects, take on the Los Angeles Thunderbirds as Roller Games action continues at the Orange County Fairgrounds in Costa Mesa.

Game time Thursday night is 8:30 p.m.

Chicago has beefed up its offensive by adding veteran Ronnie Kolsoozian to the starting lineup. The Hawks are coached by Don Rixman, one of banked track speed skating's all time greats.

With eight former All-Americans on the squad, the Long Beach Flying Wheels will tangle with the Seattle Flying Wheels tonight in the California State College, Long Beach, gymnasium.

Game time is billed for 7:30.

The game will serve as a warmup for both clubs in preparation for the upcoming national wheelchair basketball tournament, scheduled for later this month in St. Louis. The Southern California club will be out to regale the championship it lost to Indianapolis in 1965.

Tickets, on sale at the door tonight, are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children. There will be a special half-time show.

'Ticketed' for YMCA

When 16-year-old Bob Mathison of Orange Coast YMCA was pulled over by Newport Motor Officer John Simon the other day, it wasn't for a traffic ticket. Officer Simon presented Mathison with a check as a contribution of Newport Beach Police Department employees to the current YMCA fund raising campaign.

Association Stresses
 Poisoning Prevention

Most parents take every effort to guard their children against disease but many of those same parents are careless where poisons are concerned, the Woman's Auxiliary to the Orange County Pharmaceutical Association has warned.

Every day, doctors in communities throughout the United States hear the pitiful words, "I didn't know he was playing with poison," the Auxiliary announcement said.

The problem of accidental poisoning of children in the home is a growing one. As new products and medications reach the market, the incidence of poisonings increase. Children are inquisitive and what they see, they take in their hands and what they have in their hands goes into their mouths. The results can be deadly.

In noting this week as Poison Prevention Week, the Auxiliary pointed out that par-

THEY'RE HOOKED! — On helping the handicapped children of Orange County, that is. And hoping to reel in the jackpot for this philanthropy are (from left) Mrs. Louise Hood, chairman of the annual

Anglers Bait A Style Show

When Newport Harbor Lady Anglers and guests go down to the sea shore Thursday, March 31, they'll be angling for the real big one . . . proceeds for their annual philanthropy.

While fishing gear has been stored during the past month, members have been busy baiting a benefit . . . their annual Prelude to Fishing Luncheon which is presented to reel in funds for Orange County handicapped children.

To entice the public's support, anglers have asked Lido Fashions to unveil its array of spring costumes which will follow the 11:30 a.m. luncheon in Balboa Bay Club.

Mrs. Louise Hood, chairman is being assisted by the Mmes. Edward Baldwin, Marion Crosher, Frank Keeler, Jack King, Bastian Kooman and Jim Williams.

Heading the hostess committee is Mrs. Betty Dehne, and serving with her are the Mmes. Al Dehne, Keeler, Reginald Merrill, Fred Lansdowne, Mary Burns, Crosher, Ray V. Marshall, Robert Jayred, Margaret Seely, Lloyd Blaniped and James Evans.

Tickets are available from all members, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Lois Chambers at 673-0126.

Revelin' With Evelyn

Arrivals, Departures

By EVELYN SHERWOOD
of the Daily Pilot Staff

OFF TO NEWPORT, R.I. to join her husband of two months is Mrs. Peter Stoddard, daughter-in-law of former Newport Beach mahar and Mrs. Jay Stoddard. Peter is attending Oficers Candidate School.

The young bride, who has been visiting her husband's parents, was the honored guest at a buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. David Young in their eighth floor Towers apartment which overlooks the bay.

Among guests who met the new Mrs. Stoddard were the Youngs' daughters, Mrs. Zeeze Papanikolas of Palo Alto and Mrs. Patrick Cogan and her husband of Laguna Beach, and the Youngs' 3-year-old grandchildren, Demitrius Papanikolas and Amy Cogan.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ullman, all of Newport Beach; William Reed, Mrs. Laurence Reynolds and Mrs. Katherine Thompson, of Laguna.

"SINCE IT'S the prerogative of a woman to change her mind," reads the card.

sent by the Richard F. Dwyers of Corona del Mar. "I, 'Gringa, am taking advantage of this fact to change my name. Henceforth I would prefer to be known as 'Sea Quest,' this being more in keeping with my present station in life."

The Dwyers' North Seas trawler has been converted into a floating laboratory for science expeditions in Mexican waters.

RETURNING from an exciting adventure in Honduras are Mrs. S. Robert Nord Jr. and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clinton Brostedi, both of Newport Beach.

Jetting to the capital, Tegucigalpa, they landed in a blinding rain storm. The inclement weather continued, but the brave twosome boarded a smaller plane anyway to fly to the sea coast where they took a dory to an island off the coast.

Gaily exclaiming hello and farewell to the honored guest and hostess were the Mmes. James Carroll, Frank Bret, George Bissel, Bert Coffey, Richard Howell and Haviland Smith.

EXTRA SPARKLE was added by Costa Mesa Women's Club when members celebrated the national federation's diamond jubilee.

The glittering moment arrived when real diamond rings were presented to Mrs. Donald J. Dodge, longest continuing member; Mrs. A. H. Small, a 22-year member and Mrs. Maurice Smith, president of the Juniors.

There, the weatherman finally cooperated and they were simply ecstatic over the scenes of primitive and undeveloped areas which they admired. Fortunately they had good weather conditions on their entire trip home.

The glittering moment arrived when real diamond rings were presented to Mrs. Donald J. Dodge, longest continuing member; Mrs. A. H. Small, a 22-year member and Mrs. Maurice Smith, president of the Juniors.

Costa Mesa Women's Smorgasbord: Tempting Fare

Tables will be laden with tempting dishes made from members' favorite recipes when Costa Mesa Women's Club offers its annual smorgasbord. The public is invited to this fund-raiser benefit which will be given during the lunch hours of 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and again at dinner time, 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday, March 31, in the clubhouse. Intrigued by preparations of Mrs. Lloyd D. Robinson and Mrs. Edward E. Gaudio, who are serving on Mrs. Dominic Raciti's committee, is Carol Macaro (from left). Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents, children, and proceeds will aid the club's scholarship fund and other projects.

He Who's His Own Lawyer Has Fool for His Client

DEAR ANN: Is there a law library in town — somewhere a person can get books and read up on his rights?

I sued a neighbor a few months ago and I'm sure I would have won the case if my lawyer had known his business. He appeared very dumb. When the judge asked him some questions he said a few words in Latin and sounded like he was stuck.

If I ever get into a legal fight again I want to be able to defend myself. Why pay out good money to a lawyer who learns from the same books I could learn from if I knew where to get them?

—OUNCE OF PREVENTION

DEAR OUNCE: Would you consider getting books on medicine and reading up on surgery so you could operate on yourself?

Law is more than books. It is a demanding profession which requires years of training, scholarship and experience. There are no short cuts. There are no do-it-yourself kits. So — if for Rosemary (now 12 years of age) is a 19-year-old college boy who lives in their apartment building.

I worry because Rosemary is large for her age and a Lolita if I ever saw one. But I hesitate to say anything because my husband and I agreed to leave each other alone and mind our own business. Should I break our "mind-your-own-business pact" and speak up? — OUT OF THE PICTURE

DEAR PICTURE: I can't imagine anything more your business than what happens to your daughter. Tell your husband to engage a woman to sit with Lolita (I mean Rosemary). And don't waste any time.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Before my boyfriend left for the army we became engaged. He asked his best pal (who is 4-F) to take care of me. Well, his pal is trying to take care of himself, if you know what I mean. He has made several passes at me and I am disgusted with the big ape.

We have had some fierce arguments and he says if I am not nice to him he will write my fiance and tell him I am running around. My fiance is the jealous type and I'm afraid he might believe it. How can I defend myself? — DOT

DEAR DOT: Why let the ape put you on the defensive? Tell him to get lost or you will write your boyfriend about him. If your boyfriend would take this blackmailer's word over yours, why in the world would you want him?

Confidential to MAY BE MY LAST CHANCE: This is a poor reason to accept a proposal for marriage. Sometimes when a woman says "No" they BOTH live happily ever after.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health or destroying someone you love, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help for the Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in cash and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send a self-addressed envelope.

you should need a lawyer in the future, play it smart and hire one despite your feelings of dis-appointment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I were divorced two years ago. I agreed to take our son and let my husband take our daughter. We discussed it with the children and discovered, happily, that this is what they wanted, too.

Six months ago my husband married a flea-brain who doesn't know enough to come in out of the rain. The problem is this: They go out at least four evenings a week. The sitter they have hired

First Family Distaffers Show No Fashion Savvy

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — A couple of fashion publications have taken a detailed look at the style images of the nation's First Family.

Conclusion: President Lyndon B. Johnson is leaving his special brand of sartorial taste in the men's fashion world. But Mrs. Johnson and the girls get a lukewarm reaction from those who pass judgment on their fashion savvy.

"Lyndon B. Johnson is a man who cares — and cares a great deal — about how he dresses," says Gentleman's Quarterly, the men's fashion magazine.

The public usually sees the president as a neat, conservatively dressed man, business-like and proper, except for the western garb worn at the LBJ Ranch.

He's always had a "far beyond a routine interest in what he wears," it continues. "He has definite and informed tastes." And unlike the late President Kennedy who usually carried a hat, rarely wore it and thereby got the men's hat-makers all shook up, Johnson is a hat man.

Sometimes it's a western style felt for Texas, a soft feel for Washington. He's also a slacks and jacket man on occasion.

As for Jacqueline, the public reaction is mixed. Gentleman's Quarterly says: "If the Johnson girls have any fashion image at all I'm not aware of it. I have no feeling they've done anything to help fashion. When you think of what Jacqueline Kennedy did for young women in this country!"

Some sample comments in the publication: of Luci and Lynda, "Why do they always look like bridesmaids?"

"Hair too long . . . heels too high . . . why don't they have some fun with fashion . . . Get their hair cut, wear their skirts shorter, wear some of the knacky looks in furs and boots?"

"Of course," WWD adds, "there's nothing in the Constitution that says a President's daughters have to help fashion." Some of the critics are undoubtedly jealous they don't get the White House business.

Of Mrs. Johnson's styles, Seymour Fox, a leading New York ready-to-wear manufacturer is quoted in WWD: "Mrs. Johnson has a marvelous lady-like quality, although it is not a fashion image."

Of the Johnson distaff side, Ilie Wacs, designer for Originals, added, "I don't think they are fashion conscious. Their sophistication is not fashion sophistication and their look is not contemporary."

July Nuptial Plans Revealed by Couple

APPLE PIE
FOR BREAKFAST

CRAZY!!!

When the Butler arrived at our front door in his Silver Rolls to make the very first delivery anywhere of his recommendation for the most delightfully different frozen apple pie, I couldn't wait to get home and bake it. What a delight to behold when you open the package! A big fat, bulgy pie, rounded way up high, all drooled over the top with cinnamon and sugar. You put it in the oven on a cool sheet and bake at 375 for 1½ hours. The smell . . . swoonville . . . apples and cinnamon, a bit of lemon, a flip of nutmeg . . . a little juice even bubbles out, just like it's bound to with apples that are fresh as fresh. The taste . . . My husband practically cut his teeth on freshly baked apple pie. His father owned a restaurant which was famous for its home-made pies which naturally his mother baked. "Haven't tasted an apple pie as good as this since mom last made one." This morning there sat the pie, beckoning . . . so apple pie for breakfast. Really it tastes even goodness after it has set overnight and at room temperature.

A PIE
ON THE
DRIVING BOARD

The Butler Recommends from apple pie did not just happen, it is not someone's favorite recipe, it was not made famous anywhere . . . it was designed last year mechanically and methodically to be the most truly gourmet ready-to-bake frozen apple pie anybody has ever tasted anywhere. The two men who dreamed up this apple love brainchild have degrees in electronic design engineering at USC and electrical engineering at the University of Illinois. Their backgrounds consist of missile testing, designing drone controls, and microminiaturization of components for airplane computers. Wow!

What ancestry for an apple pie! Here's where Oopie enters the pie picture. She's Bob Butler's wife who is the owner of "The Butler Recommends." Oopie was a professional home economist before 4 small children from 7 on down. She baked up a pie storm of 60 test pies, 4 at a time in her own oven up Orange way, and finally last New Year's Eve, came up with the Blue Ribbon winner for a truly gourmet apple pie.

Don Davison who designed the equipment to make the apple pie says it merely assists what grandma did. Don, Bob, and Oopie . . . the threesome who make the toothsome apple pie. They're Orange County's own people. Their factory is in Costa Mesa. They're your neighbors and mine. Doing business with the folks at home is fun. Give their scientifically delicious different gourmet apple pie a try.

FROM PIES
TO PICTURE FRAMES

Finally, at last, in answer to many requests . . . Picture frames in the Gift Shop. Carr Craft have been making portrait picture frames for 100 years. You name the size, or the decor, Carr Craft has a frame to fit. Little tiny wallet-sizes, up to 11x14 . . . Ovals, horizontals . . . Shadow box frames, wood frames, gold and white, bronze . . . Lacy old fashioned frames, sleek little tailored silver frames. Each frame from the tiniest to the largest, is fixed up on the back so that it will stand either up and down or crosswise. Or you can hang it on the wall in either direction. Elegance frames, metal frames, decorator frames . . . some with mats, some without . . . cute little miniature rectangles or ovals . . . hinged multiple frames in two or three and special frames for wedding announcements and other important goings on. Even special hinges, so you can put 3 or 4 or 5 or up to a dozen Carr Craft frames together to make one big one . . . Everybody's got a series of baby pictures they have always wanted to do this with. One little picture by itself is sometimes hard to find the right place for . . . but things can really be done decorator-wise with one large one.

Here at Richard's where we're almost not a teenager any more . . . going on 19 years now.

Now's the Season for High School Musicals

By TOM TITUS

of the Daily Pilot Staff

Judy Farrell is a girl of many theatrical talents.

There's the petite, blonde actress who has been applauded by Laguna Playhouse audiences in four productions over the past two years, including the recent "Mary, Mary" in which she has the title role.

There's also the drama instructor at Laguna Beach High School who is currently putting the finishing touches on the annual junior-senior play, "Guys and Dolls," which will be staged under her direction Friday and Saturday at the Laguna High auditorium.

Principal roles in the Broadway-based musical will be taken by David Weth as Sky Masterson, Dawn Hefty as Sarah, Gae McElhany as Adelaide and Graham Paul as Nathan Detroit. Curtain time is 8 p.m. both nights with tickets going for $1.50 and $1.

This seems to be the weekend for high school musicals — no less than four are coming up in as many schools along the Orange Coast.

Besides "Guys and Dolls," there's "Carousel" at Newport Harbor High School, "South Pacific" at Huntington Beach Marina and a relative newcomer, "Mr. Crane," at Costa Mesa's new Estancia High.

In all cases, the shows are playing Friday and Saturday evenings, with Marina's "South Pacific" running an extra day, Thursday. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for all but Harbor's offering, which gets under way at 8:15.

At Marina, Charlene Baker and Temre Jaco are sharing the lead role of Nellie Forbush with Doug Dean playing Emile. Lt. Cable also has a split personality with Bruce Willett and Paul Fink shar-

The Arthur Kopit comic drama stars Ruth Wagner as Madam Rosepette and Bruce Davis as her son, Johnathan. Supporting roles are taken by Sally Brown and John Dudich.

Bids Sought For Freeway

Bids for construction of the 2.4-mile segment of the San Diego Freeway from Harbor Boulevard to Bristol Street in Costa Mesa have been called by the State Division of Highways.

Estimated cost of the Harbor-Bristol segment of the eight-lane freeway is $5,461,100. Bids will be opened May 12 in Los Angeles.

Already out to bid is the section from Bristol to Jambooree Road, which will be started ahead of the Harbor-Bristol link. The projects are planned for simultaneous completion late in 1967.

Mesa Store Scheduled By Goodwill

Costa Mesa's new Goodwill store has scheduled a day-long celebration to mark its grand opening Thursday.

The new building at 590 W. 19th St. replaces the old Goodwill outlet at 117 E. 18th St., according to executive director Gaylord Hicks.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony will be at 9 a.m. Refreshments will be served to store visitors from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Good Willy, in his wheelchair, representing the handicapped employees of Goodwill Industries, will distribute comic books to children throughout the day. Pee Wee the clown will pass out balloons.

The new store has 5,000 square feet of floor space and will open with a $7,000 stock of merchandise and seven handicapped employees as a staff.

Editor Monsen

The Costa Mesa High School newspaper "Hitching Post" has been given All American rating by the National Scholastic Press Association, for excellence in all phases of production including coverage, writing and make-up. Senior John Monsen is editor; Mrs. Geal Lanigan is the faculty advisor.

Zero Mostel

CBS Fails to Show Potentials of Comic

By RICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "New approaches are the forte of Zero Mostel," said the press release heralding Tuesday night's CBS-TV special which featured the Broadway performer and Lucille Ball in an hour presided over by Carol Burnett.

Each of these performers — Miss Channing, Steele and Mostel — has a bit more to offer than lines in a sketch, or a routine musical variety number. Each, as with all unusual and individual talents, must be showcased specifically according to the uniqueness that presumably caused television to spend so much money on them in the first place.

But, with the rare exception of a Streisand or a Sinatra, video is strictly a deadening sketch-monologue and — variety-number medium when it comes to song - dance - and comedy shows. You have to know it to escape its pitfalls. That is why Miss Burnett was so brilliantly funny in her slapstick at times on Tuesday night. That is why Miss Ball scored her usual points. Television is their medium.

Mostel is not a simple sketch type. He is a complicated genius who is a great actor and needs more than punch lines. Still, his lines were occasionally scintillating — because of his natural delivery — in a funny, if overlong, sketch with Miss Burnett about a couple who believe their marriage of 10 years is illegal.

Summing up, this was Miss Burnett's show, for she is a proven quantity in ratings territory. Mostel is not, and he was just a guest, and CBS-TV made this abundantly, decisively clear in further establishing the direction it has chosen to take.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Wallace Greene Jr., will evaluate the ground war in Vietnam on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers" April 3 . . . Wilt Chamberlain, chosen this season as the most valuable player in the National Basketball Association, is the celebrity contestant on CBS-TV's "I've Got a Secret" Monday . . . Liza Minnelli will sing on ABC-TV's academy award broadcast April 18.

EMBARRASSED

Carol Channing's hour seemed embarrassingly aimed at convincing the provincials that she really was just as acceptable as "The Beverly Hillbillies" once you got to know her. Tommy Steele, the bright young British star of "Half a Sixpence," could have been just another up-and-coming hooper the way he was presented on the 18.

Gene Kelly hour. And Tuesday night it was Mostel's turn, with much of the audience probably wondering what it was he was so touted for anyway.

Each of these performers — Miss Channing, Steele and Mostel — has a bit more to offer than lines in a sketch, or a routine musical variety number. Each, as with all unusual and individual talents, must be showcased specifically according to the uniqueness that presumably caused television to spend so much money on them in the first place.

The Rites of Spring

Early spring has been most pleasant along the Orange Coast. Permanent residents have been able to bask in sun, walk on beaches and in downtown areas and even drive around a bit.

All that is scheduled to change abruptly in about 11 days.

Spring vacation for high schools and colleges will begin.

Students from Everywhere, USA, will migrate by the thousands to our beach communities to celebrate the annual and traditional rites of spring.

Newport Beach and Laguna Beach, as usual, can be expected to face the brunt of the invasion.

If past Easter Weeks serve as any criterion, it can be expected that:

—More students than ever before will be vacationing in our beach cities.

—Local residents will probably face as much, if not more, crowding and congestion than in past years.

—Most of the thousands of vacationing students will stay out of trouble. But the minority faction, which comes here simply to see how much vandalism and crime it can perpetrate, will make it appear to our permanent residents that all young people are rowdies, or worse.

—There will be the usual number of cases where a few landlords or those persons in charge of Easter Week rentals will allow units to become overcrowded. Like the Laguna party house closed down by the health department last year because, as one official put it, "There were too many young ladies per cubic foot of air space."

So, if past experience runs true to form during Easter Week, 1966, all these things, and more, can be expected.

As long as beach cities like Laguna and Newport continue to lure spring vacationing youngsters, Easter Week will be a problem. Traffic congestion and over-crowding would be difficulties enough even if each and every student behaved himself.

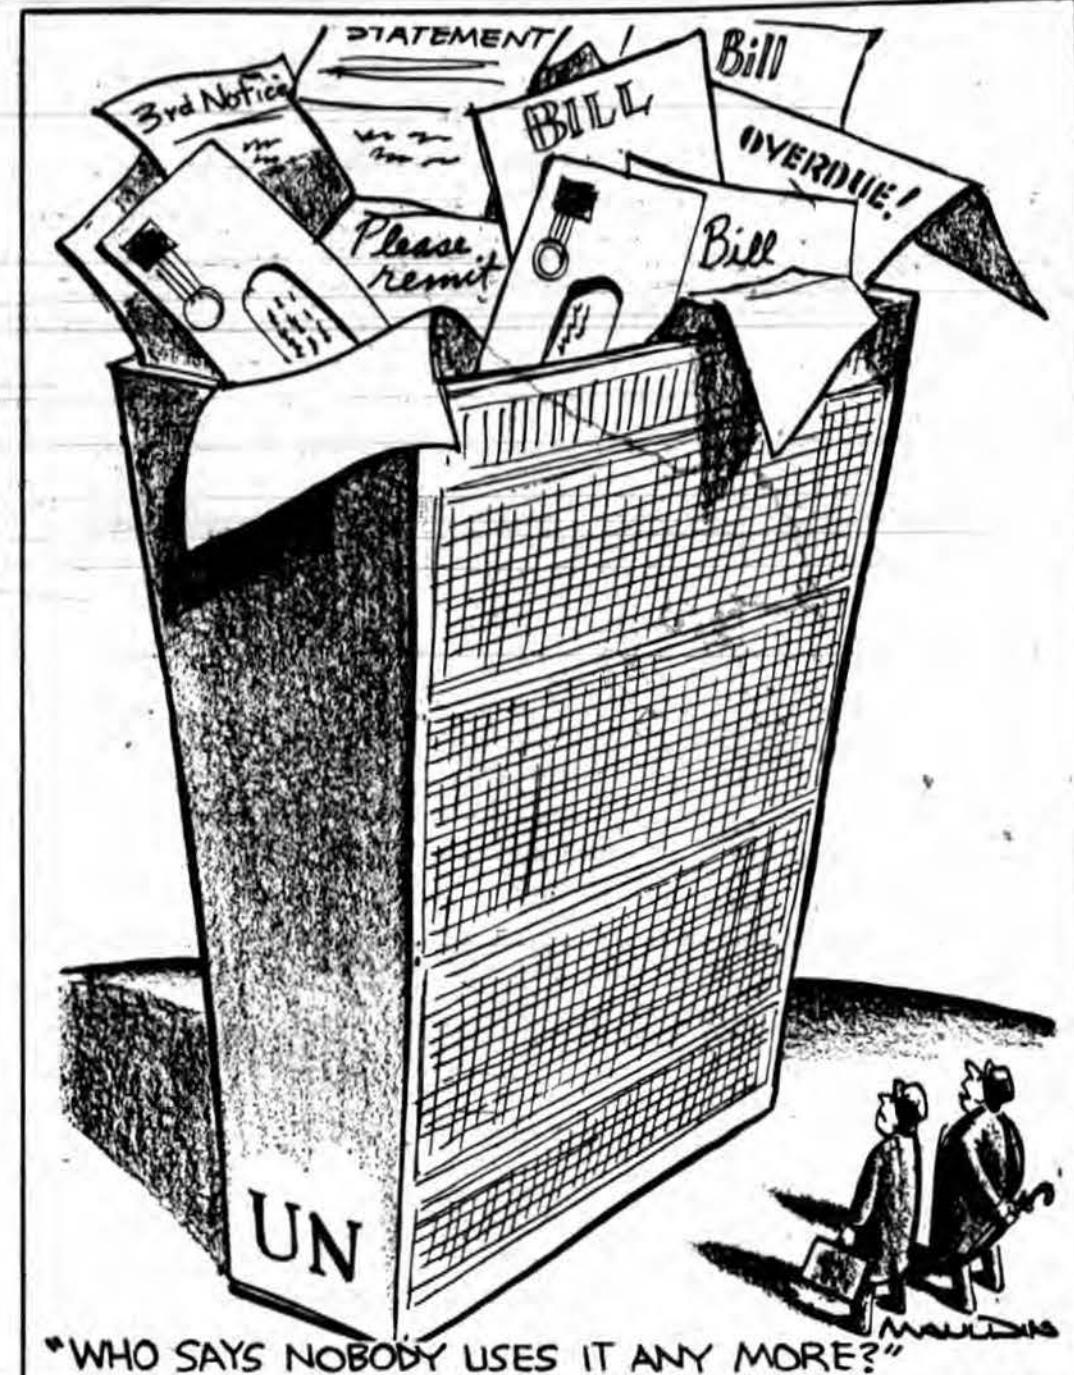

Some coastal people, long frustrated by facing the brunt of the rites of spring, have suggested that the only solution is for the schools to abandon spring vacations.

It is doubtful, however, that such a policy will ever gain universal support and acceptance.

Likely the best course of action is the policy generally being pursued by law enforcement and civic authorities in Newport and Laguna. It is an effort to draw a distinction between the young people visiting here to enjoy a wholesome good time, and those looking for trouble.

It is an effort to let the students who behave themselves have a good time, while subjecting the miscreants to the full brunt of law enforcement.

This accomplished, we still face the byproducts of Easter Week, the traffic and congestion. On those counts, we suspect we'll just have to grin and bear it until the day after April 10.

Stronger Controls

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT
Hall Syndicate, Inc.

A new sweeping Vietnam war move is in the making.

President Johnson's lieutenants are drafting an executive order establishing a system of priorities and allocations for all strategic materials involved in defense production.

This latest war measure, due to be put on the President's desk this week, was decided on by Defense and Commerce Department authorities after military contractors complained about long delays in obtaining materials to produce supplies for the armed forces.

WHEN APPROVED by the President, the contemplated control system will replace the "set aside" method now in use to allot selected materials for military requirements.

The existing allocation procedure is applied chiefly to copper and brass items used by a small number of manufacturers making shells and rockets. The quotas are administered by the Commerce Department under the Defense Production Act.

This law, enacted during the Korean war, expires June 30. It must be renewed if the new expanded system of priorities and allotments is to become effective.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., and Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairmen of the Senate and House Banking Committees, have introduced identical bills extending the President's powers to June 1970.

AT WHITE HOUSE request the legislators are delaying hearings on their measure until the President determines what to do about the proposed executive order setting up new and tougher controls over priorities and allotments.

In the backstage deliberations, the lawmakers are being told the President is weighing reports that Moscow and Peking are increasing their aid to Hanoi in preparation for a series of large-scale offensives by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese this spring.

If this grim information is accurate, U.S. forces in South Vietnam will inevitably be increased to 300,

000. That, in turn, the President's advisers hold, will make greater economic controls mandatory to ensure an adequate flow of arms and supplies to the fighting front.

A LIST OF strategic materials on which shortages could develop if Red China becomes involved in the Vietnam conflict is being prepared by Defense and Commerce experts, and will be submitted to the White House with the control directive.

In addition, a survey of private holdings of 50 vital materials, including steel for truck axles, guns, bridges and dock equipment, is planned by administration officials.

A review of the country's petroleum requirements already is under way. On White House orders earlier this month, Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall began studying the amount of oil the domestic industry can produce in the event of war with Red China.

CHINESE THREAT — Defense Secy. McNamara's statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the growing menace of Communist China contained one glaring omission.

While he warned of the danger of Peking's intervention to prevent the collapse of the Hanoi regime, McNamara failed to tell the senators that China already has powerfully intervened in Vietnam.

Defense Intelligence Agency reports, that are known to McNamara, estimate there are now approximately 20,000 Chinese railway troops repairing bombed bridges and tracks from Hanoi to Nanning in Kwangsi Province in Southern China. This is a principal Communist supply line.

Problem of Sex Education

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS
Publisher, Newspaper Syndicate

The question that is vexing many communities these days — whether sex education should be taught in the schools, and how, and when — has really little to do with sex or morality. It has to do, instead, with the best way to educate children to cope with their feelings.

It would be a mistake to think that what is important in sex education is the factual and biological aspect. Children neither want nor need to know as much about that as some people think. It is the relationship of sex to the personal and social order that puzzles and disturbs them.

AND THIS RELATIONSHIP cannot be satisfactorily expressed in the schools, for sex is not a subject like zoology or geometry. It is, on one level, a normal and physical activity; but this activity is so loaded with emotional and ethical and cultural implications that any class on the subject would generate much more heat than light.

It is clear to me, therefore, that if sex is to be effectively communicated to children, it must be done so privately at home, and not publicly at school. In this, I agree with the majority of Catholic educators, who recognize that sexual activity goes to the core of the person, and is not simply a physiological mechanism like eating.

THE REAL PROBLEM with sex education, however, is that while the schools are not equipped to teach it, most parents aren't, either. And this, of course, is where the argument of the church tends to fall down. Theoretically, parents are the best people to inform their children about such matters — but in most CONGRESS would wipe out the teen-age problem by making it illegal for anyone to be between 12 and 20 years old.

A television network developed a program that no other network could copy. Wives liked home cooking more.

The people who say they simply don't understand what we are doing in Vietnam would go there and find out.

OH, YES, it would help jolt us all out of our monotonous rut if —

A bus driver would say, "Everybody move to the back of the bus," and then get up and lead the way.

Some fashion magazine put a picture of a fat model on its cover — just once.

Some genius invented a non-caloric food that had a real flavor.

Employers made after-lunch naps mandatory for their employees.

They Seek Oblivion

I never expected a solemn district court case to recall a speakeasy and a barn.

During one of the early years of the experiment of Prohibition, a young reporter was at the bar of a speakeasy late one evening in Nashville, Tenn.

It was a dimly lit, musty smelling place. A sour ghostlike smell also floated about the long room. At one end of the bar was a glass-covered clutch of ham sandwiches. The bread slices always were dried out.

This made the corners of each slice of bread curl upward, revealing the thin slice of mottled ham beneath. The clutch of sandwiches and a grease-encrusted two-burner oil stove

for cooking hamburgers

were the total food resources of the cafe. Its main business was white corn

whisky, sold by the drink or the pint.

ON THIS particular evening an amiable bum came in. He already had a mild heat going. His face was a familiar one in police court.

His arrests for "D and D" or "DOS" (drunk and disorderly and drunk on the street) made an impressive

total ...

"Give me a pint, Mr.

Charley," he said.

Mr. Charley said nothing.

"Oh, I got the money.

Mr. Charley," said the bum.

He put two dollar bills on the bar. Mr. Charley reached beneath the bar, slid back a panel, and put a pint of whisky on the bar. The bum took out the stopper, turned it up and, without once taking it from his mouth, drank it down. He looked at the empty bottle, set it down, smiled, and said, "Good night, Mr.

Charley."

WE WATCHED him walk

out the door.

"You see that," said

Charley. "Wonder it didn't stop his heart. Once I saw it at a party, but the fellow nearly died of his heart.

This bum walks out cool as you please."

An hour later the bum

was picked up asleep in a doorway near a second speakeasy. He drew a fine

he couldn't pay and was sent to the city workhouse for 10 days for being "DOS."

The incident in Charley's speakeasy came back on reading a court decision in the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. (The district covered includes Virginia,

Maryland, West Virginia,

and North and South Carolina.) The Fourth Court reversed a state court decision in which a man who had been convicted more than 200 times for being drunk on the street had again been sent to prison.

The court said, in reversing the case,

"THE ALCOHOLIC'S

presence in public is not his as, for he did not will
