Arizonan Edges Out Moderate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater defeated Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York today in the California presidential primary and took a commanding lead in the GOP presidential race.

The see-saw triumph gave the Arizona senator 86 more delegates to next month's Republican National Convention and put him in a strong position to win the GOP presidential nomination here next month. Before yesterday's primary, 347 of the 653 delegates needed for the nomination were in Goldwater's column. He now has 433.

The silver-haired senator, hero of GOP conservatives, seized the lead in the early count last night and claimed victory on the basis of a television network computer analysis that named him the winner before all the polls closed.

But at midnight Rockefeller pulled even and in the early morning hours took the lead on the basis of his Northern California strength.

VOTE SURGE
But a surge of votes from Goldwater's Los Angeles stronghold sent him into the lead at 7 a.m. The senator was expected to win by about 100,000 votes out of 2 million cast if the present trend continued.

The UPI tabulation at 7:30 a.m. gave Goldwater 1,013,419 votes and Rockefeller 965,798 with 31,196 precincts counted of the 32,861 in the state. The count gave Goldwater 51 per cent of the vote and Rockefeller 49 per cent.

Goldwater was leading or had won 16 counties and Rockefeller 43. But the Arizona senator's strength was centered in populous Southern California. He led in counties representing 1.7 million of the state's 2.9 million registered Republicans, including Los Angeles County with 40 per cent of the GOP vote.

Goldwater's victory represented a strong comeback over the past several weeks of the bitter campaign between his conservative supporters and Rockefeller's moderates.

GAP NARROWED
Before Rockefeller began campaigning, most political analysts predicted Goldwater would win by 500,000 votes. But the New York governor warned against "extremist" forces selecting a presidential nominee and, with his upset victory in the Oregon primary May 15, narrowed the gap.

Most pollsters reported Rockefeller was leading in the last days before the election. (See PRIMARY, Page 2)

2 Per Cent Margin Of Defeat

Newport Beach's $2.5 million elementary school bond measure failed Tuesday for the second time this year. The bond proposal won heavy support, but failed to pick up the two-thirds majority required for passage of school bond measures in California. The margin of defeat was 2.3 percentage points. The measure was identical to the bond proposal which failed by less than 4 percentage points last February.

The bond money would have financed two new schools officials said will be needed within the next two years and a site for another school.

CRAMMED

Enrollment projections indicate Newport's seventh elementary school will be crammed to capacity before the end of the 1964-65 school year.

Chief issues in pre-election campaigning revolved around Pease's insistence that Mariners School should be expanded, suggestions that the Irvine Company donate the land for schools and an anticipated 15-cent hike in school taxes if the bonds passed.

OPPOSITION

Heaviest opposition to the bonds came from the Balboa Peninsula, Lido Isle, Central Newport, Corona del Mar, Newport Heights and Camarillo Shores.

The bonds carried, principally, in the West Bluff area served by Mariners School, Bayshore, Balboa Island, Bayshore Village, Beacon Bay, Irvine Terrace, Harbor View Hills, Cameo Highlands and West Newport.

School Superintendent Roy O. Anderson attributed the loss to a division of thought among school board members. School Trustee Harvey D. Pease, a Balboa Island realtor, openly opposed the measure both times around. Traditionally, school bond (See BONDS, Page 2)

No Beard, Glasses, or No One

Newport Beach police Tuesday afternoon received a report of a young man leaning against a fence in the 900 block of Ocean Front.

He wore a beard and a pair of horn-rimmed glasses. Nothing else.

Two young girls told officers he smiled at them as they scurried past and politely observed:

"Warm day, isn't it?"

When police reached the scene they found nobody with beard and glasses, fully-clothed or otherwise.

Will Bay Club Be Goldwater Center?

By THOMAS MURPHINE

With Senator Barry Goldwater's drive for the GOP presidential nomination picking up steam in the wake of his California Primary victory, will the Balboa Bay Club in Newport Beach become a "little convention" headquarters?

Could be. The Arizona senator is scheduled to check in to the "presidential suite" at the Bay Club sometime this month. No doubt the Goldwater partisans hope the suite will be a good omen.

The Republican National Convention opens at the Cow Palace in San Francisco July 13.

That means the politicking could get pretty hot and heavy along the waters of Newport Bay down at 1220 W. Coast Highway in the interim weeks.

Senator Goldwater's daughter, Margaret Anne will marry Arlen Holt of Newport Beach in Phoenix, Ariz. on June 27. That probably means the GOP presidential hopeful will be drafting his last-minute drive for the Republican nomination at the BBC during the time after the family wedding and just before things get cracking at the Cow Palace.

So far, Bay Club officials are adopting a "wait and see" attitude — just like a lot of the politicians across the nation.

"We know he'll be here in June," explained Bill White, BBC manager, "but we haven't started specific planning for the senator's stay as yet. We've been kicking around a lot of ideas, however."

No special telephone lines have been piped in to the BBC's presidential suite at this time. "Now that Senator Goldwater has won the California Primary, we expect his summer plans will become more firm," White noted.

He added, "We're ready and willing when he is."

Conservative GOP To Control County

By LES WAGNER

The conservative wing of the Republican Party has captured Orange County lock, stock and barrel.

It provided what appeared to be the margin Sen. Barry Goldwater needed to capture California's 86 delegates to the Republican National Convention from Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

It gave solid majorities to such stand-patters as Robert A. Geier for Congress, to John G. Schmitt for state senator, to Robert Badham for Assembly.

And it dipped far down into a judicial race where politics seldom rears its head to return J. Parley Smith to the municipal judgeship in Laguna Beach-San Clemente Judicial District.

To cap their efforts, the conservatives captured the Republican County Central Committee.

Of the county's 382,342 voters, 255,936 went to the polls for a fat 67 per cent turnout.

As CdMHS Goes, So Does State

As goes Corona del Mar High School, so goes California.

Darned near, anyway. A mock "Presidential Preference Primary" conducted at the school gave Sen. Barry Goldwater the nod over Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. As in the California Primary, they were the only two candidates on the GOP ballot.

Goldwater received 273 votes for a percentage of 57.1, while the New York Governor tallied 205 ballots. But it wasn't all good news for supporters of the Arizona conservative. A Democratic mock primary was also conducted. And President Johnson, the only candidate, piled up 418 votes.

This led astute student observers of the political scene to speculate:

Newport Schools Tax Increase Due

By CHARLES H. LOOS

Staff Education Writer

A $2,730,000 tentative budget for fiscal 1964-65 was adopted Tuesday by trustees of the Newport Beach Elementary School District.

The $2.7 million figure is up about $250,000 from this year's final figure. School officials said a 6-to 9-cent tax increase will be needed to finance the new budget, more than half of which would go for teacher's salaries.

Currently, the total district tax rate stands at $1.41 per $100 assessed valuation.

Included in the tentative figure are pay increases for 11 district administrators, seven school principals and four district-wide officials.

The tentative budget is subject to revision before adoption.

TV Prediction Takes Away the Fun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — TV projections of the tallies named Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona the winner over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York in the big California presidential primary early Tuesday evening.

Columbia Broadcasting System was first. Using a vote profile analysis, it went on the air at 7:22 p.m. with a statement that Goldwater would come through, prob-ly by 53 per cent of the vote. Later it revised the figure downward to 51 per cent.

In making its quick announcement, CBS explained it was based on returns from 42 model precincts from around the state, carefully selected to give a perfect picture of California's Republican party.

American Broadcasting Company, basing its prediction on 22 per cent of the vote, said at 8:12 p.m. that Goldwater would win.

National Broadcasting Company, also collecting and analyzing returns with extreme speed, held back from making any early projection of the outcome. At 9:42 p.m. it said, on the basis of its electronic vote analysis, that Goldwater apparently had won, with about 51 per cent.

The big TV-radio networks are estimated to have spent at least $1.5 million covering the primary. Thousands of workers, including school teachers and civic club members, were enlisted as reporters and tabulators.

The returns were phoned to central collection offices, then fed into computers. Besides tallying them, the machines were programmed to spot representative, or model, areas; compare the current vote with that of past years; analyze how the Chinese, Negro, Italian and other ethnic votes were swinging, and so on.

One reason for TV speed was that the networks concentrated on "counting the top of the ticket" — that is the big name races.

NBC and CBS tied in a race in collecting vote totals. Early in the night, NBC was ahead. But later CBS forged into the lead. For example:

At 8:56 p.m. CBS said its count, representing 64 per cent of the vote, gave Goldwater 687,140 and Rockefeller 617,407.

NBC announced at 9:06 p.m. that its figures, with 61 per cent of the vote in were: Goldwater 647,618, Rockefeller 604,187.

The TV networks stopped counting before midnight. These tallies were announced:

By NBC—61 per cent of the vote gave Goldwater 672,978, Rockefeller 640,745—a Goldwater margin of 32,233.

By CBS—60 per cent of the vote gave Goldwater 664,963, Rockefeller 706,761—a Goldwater lead of 68,212.

Neither network gave the number of precincts counted, and in some cases they may not have tabulated the same precincts.

Murphy Promises 'History'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Former actor-dancer George Murphy scored the first victory in his political career last night by winning the GOP nomination for U.S. senator from California.

The 59-year-veteran of many Hollywood musicals eliminated two opponents, Leland M. Kaiser and Fred Hall, in today's primaries, to go on the November ballot against the probable Democratic candidate, Pierre Salinger.

As his jubilant supporters cheered his initial political venture, Murphy announced: "First off, I want to express sincere thanks to the thousands of volunteer workers throughout California who have worked with enthusiasm and dedication in my campaign since I announced my intention to run for the United States Senate last December.

"They have worked hard and I appreciate it.

"Second, I want to thank the hundreds of thousands of Republican voters in California who today expressed their approval and support of my positions and proposals.

"I consider my substantial majority in this race not only a vote of confidence for my positions but a vote of approval for the kind of campaign I conducted.

"Unlike my Democratic opponents I campaigned on the issues, not personalities.

"Beginning tomorrow morning when I meet with my campaign steering committee, I pledge the most intensive and hard-hitting senatorial campaign in the history of California elections. I promise to make more speeches, travel more miles, shake more hands than any candidate in California political history."

A Yale graduate, the Connecticut-born Murphy has been active in the GOP for many years and has served as delegate to that party's national convention on four occasions. He was appointed chairman of the California Republican Central Committee in October, 1953.

Murphy and his wife, the former Juliette Johnson, toured the United States and Europe as a song-and-dance team in the 1920s. The dancer next played juvenile leads in the stage productions "Good News," "Hold Everything," "Shoot the Works," "Of Thee I Sing" and "Roberta."

Murphy made his Hollywood movie debut in the 1934 Eddie Cantor picture, "Kid Millions."

Rocky Gets Most NY Delegates

The primary voting at a glance.

New York — Rockefeller won 77 of the state's 92 GOP convention delegate posts. One of the delegates is committed to Goldwater, 4 will go to the convention unaffiliated and 10 more will be selected by the state committee next week. The 10 likely will be for Rockefeller. Bronx political boss Rep. Charles A. Buckley, D-N.Y., was upset in his bid for nomination for a 15th term by Jonathan B. Bingham. Bingham was backed by New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a long-time Buckley foe.

Alabama — Six incumbent congressmen won renomination in Democratic primary but veteran Rep. Carl Elliott defeated by State Sen. John T. Tyson. State Sen. George Hawkins won nomination to seat being vacated by retiring Rep. Albert Rains.

Mississippi — Sen. John C. Stennis and five incumbent congressmen won renomination in primary featuring largest number of Negro candidates for major office since reconstruction days after Civil War.

Montana — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield easily won renomination; Dr. Roland Renne, former president of Montana State College who resigned as assistant agriculture secretary, won Democratic nomination for governor to face Republican Gov. Tim Babcock, who was unopposed for nomination.

South Dakota — An uncommitted slate of 14 GOP convention delegates defeated slate pledged to Goldwater but Gov. Archie Gubbrub would not rule out slate going for Arizona senator at convention.

Cranston Concedes, To Support Pierre

LOS ANGELES (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston, told that Pierre Salinger was maintaining a strong lead for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, commented today:

"Well, that's fairly conclusive. I'll have a statement later."

Cranston was contacted when Salinger, the former White House News secretary, was leading by approximately 115,000 votes with less than 3,000 of the state's 32,861 precincts yet to be heard from.

Cranston has said he will support Salinger — and continue suing him in the bargain — should Salinger prevail in the primary.

Cranston, who brought a libel suit against Salinger during the primary campaign, was trailing by a substantial margin when a reporter awakened him this morning and asked whether he was ready to concede.

"It looks like Salinger is winning," he said, "but the last I heard the vote was no more than about 80 per cent in and, like Rockefeller, I think I'll wait a while longer."

"I gather a lot of votes from the north are still out and I have considerable support there."

Win or lose, Cranston said, he will not drop the $2-million libel action he brought last month against Salinger and three others.

"How do you square that with your statement you will support Salinger if he gets the nomination?" Cranston was asked.

"I can support him in the campaign while suing him for actions taken earlier," Cranston said.

Cranston told several hundred of his campaign workers Tuesday night that Salinger "has waged a very effective campaign, and the results prove the pulling power of President Kennedy."

Cranston said the Republican

GOP Officials Predict Goldwater Nomination

Brown to Support Salinger

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said last night that he will support Pierre Salinger in the November election if the former presidential press secretary wins the Democratic senatorial nomination from Controller Alan Cranston.

Brown said: "The latest returns indicate that Pierre Salinger will be victorious unless there is a change in the trend. Assuming the trend continues, the next step for California's Democrats will be to join forces behind Salinger and I will lead that movement."

"Mr. Salinger called me early this evening and asked for my support. I assured him he will have it."

"I have heard much discussion on television about a 'power struggle' within the Democratic Party. It's true that we have had a good hard battle, but its only aim was to produce the strongest candidate to represent our party in November and our state in Washington. The choice was between two men who represent the responsible liberal wing of the Democratic Party and who are in almost complete agreement on every major issue including employment, civil rights, peace and defense."

"The people now appear to have told us that they prefer Pierre Salinger as their candidate."

"There are of course elements of support for our late President in that decision; appreciation of Mr. Salinger's long service in the nation's capital and recognition of his ability to work effectively for California."

"Alan Cranston is a respected public servant who will continue to do an outstanding job as state controller. He also has assured me he will support Mr. Salinger as the man to succeed Clair Engle if Mr. Salinger is victorious."

Job Still Open If Bid Fails

CHICAGO (UPI) — Earl Eisenhower was forced to quit his job as public relations director for a suburban newspaper chain when he declined to run for state representative in November's large election.

Liberals Disturbed At Result

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman William E. Miller believes that Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory in the crucial California primary moves him "very close" to the number of convention votes he needs for the GOP presidential nomination.

Miller's statement was issued by Republican National Committee headquarters last night after the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) declared Goldwater the winner over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on the basis of a computerized vote analysis.

Goldwater had 327 convention delegate pledges going into yesterday's primary — more than half of the 655 needed for nomination. California has 95 convention votes, which would push the Arizona senator's margin over the 400-vote mark.

Sen. Carl C. Curtis, R-Neb., a Goldwater supporter, said the California outcome virtually assured the Arizona conservative of the GOP presidential nomination on an early ballot.

"I don't think we should let up for a minute now," Curtis said. "But I'm sure he will win the nomination on an early ballot." He termed the California results "a great Republican as well as a moral victory."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a Rockefeller supporter and a liberal seeking re-election this year, said he thought Goldwater "is apparently entitled to be congratulated on a personal triumph but I don't think it is the best thing for the Republican party or the nation for this convention to be sewed up in advance for any candidate."

Keating said the primary system "leaves much to be desired and the delegates to the convention cannot abandon their responsibilities for making a free choice of candidates to the voters of only a few states in the union."

"The forces of progressive moderation, I am confident, will unite behind a candidate and a platform which fully supports our party and tradition," Keating said.

Those backing Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. for the nomination issued a statement calling Goldwater's showing "a temporary setback" for moderate, forward-looking republicanism. The statement said that few convention delegates would be able to ignore "the popularity, backed by integrity, experience and character, of a man like Lodge." Lodge forces had urged their California supporters to vote for Rockefeller in a stop-Goldwater move. Lodge's name was not on the California ballot.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., who managed Goldwater's campaign in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary in March, said the California results demonstrated Goldwater's vote-getting ability. He said Goldwater had "emerged more and more as the one candidate who is a positive force and headed in a positive direction."

Cotton said he wouldn't go so far as to say that the California result made it certain Goldwater would capture the nomination, but he added that Goldwater seems to have "a tremendous edge" in the race.

SENATE LOSERS — Shown as they cast their ballots early on Tuesday are the two losers in the California senate race, Alan Cranston, who was defeated for Democratic nomination by Pierre Salinger, and Leland Kaiser, San Francisco industrialist, lost to former movie star George Murphy for the Republican senatorial nomination. Salinger and Murphy will face each other in November.

Court Rules Against Hughes Tool

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld a $35 million default judgment against the Hughes Tool Company (Toolco) in favor of Trans World Airlines (TWA).

The court also affirmed dismissal of $360 million in counterclaims by Hughes' company against TWA and others.

Charles C. Davis, an attorney for Hughes, issued a statement last night indicating that Toolco would appeal the ruling.

"The decision," the statement said, "if not reversed, upholds the jurisdiction of the district court to conduct further proceedings in the litigation between TWA and the Hughes Tool Company."

The ruling also criticized Hughes personally for disobeying court orders to appear in person in pre-trial depositions.

Hughes, a major stockholder in TWA, has been battling for control of the airline for several years.

In May 1963, a federal judge entered the default judgment in favor of TWA against Toolco, but TWA's claim of $35 million in damages was referred to a special master.

Federal Judge Charles M. Metzner declared Hughes in default for failure to appear in person in pre-trial depositions in February, 1963 in a Los Angeles federal court.

Yesterday court action upheld the earlier federal court rulings.

Students Ask Coed Inquiry

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Undergraduates at Oxford's Christ Church College requested yesterday that the college study the possibility of admitting girls.

Mario Cerutti, 19, president of the undergraduates said "It was felt that the situation in the university was unsatisfactory. It would be a more adult approach to at least inquire into the possibilities of going co-educational."

Oxford has several girls' colleges but they are separate from the all-male colleges.

Mixed Group

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — South Africa's Dutch Reformed Churches, for the first time in their history, will include colored (mixed blood) and African clergymen in their delegates to the general assembly of World Alliance of Reformed Churches.

Biggest Boost Yet

New Job Training Idea Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering a proposal which proponents say would give American job training its biggest boost since the GI Bill.

The idea, proposed by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship, is to treat job skills like capital investments and give employers tax credits for training new workers and upgrading the abilities of present employees.

"Cost to the employer is the greatest single bar to an adequate apprenticeship and training program in America," the committee said in

Coast Guard Talk

LBJ Says U.S. Is 'Strongest'

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI) — President Johnson said today the United States is stronger than the combined might of all the nations in the history of the world. He said this improves prospects for peace.

In a speech to the Coast Guard Academy commencement here, Johnson predicted that American strength would continue to grow more rapidly than the might of all other nations.

He said United States superiority extended over the ability to deter atomic destruction, the ability to fight less than all out war, strength in the struggle against subversion, development of new weapons for deterrence and defense, and the ability of the American fighting man.

"Those who would answer every problem with nuclear weapons display not bravery but bravado, not wisdom but a wanton disregard for the survival of the world and the future of the race," Johnson said.

"This country's military might allows it to take more tangible steps toward peace

Martial Law Imposed

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Anti-government student mobs rioted today in the streets of four Korean cities. President Park Chung Hee proclaimed martial law in Seoul.

The worst of the daylong rioting took place in the capital city where 10,000 students stormed through the streets and clashed with police and troops. One group stoned a U.S. Army bus, but no Americans were injured.

Immediately after the martial law proclamation this evening, the government issued two decrees which banned all assemblies and further demonstrations, imposed strict press censorship and closed all schools in Seoul.

The decrees also forbade officials from leaving their posts without permission. A 9 p.m. to 4 a.m. curfew was imposed.

The martial law commander, Gen. Min Ki Shik, army chief of staff, said all violators would be arrested and jailed without court warrants.

The rioting, seeking the ouster of Park and his regime, spread to the cities of Suwon, Taejeon and Chongju in the worst day of violence to hit this country since early spring.

At one point, the rioters stoned a U.S. Army bus in downtown Seoul, breaking every window in the vehicle but not injuring any of the American soldiers inside.

An estimated 350 policemen and three student rioters were reported injured before the government sent troops into the streets and clamped on martial law to control the violence. Four police sub-stations were damaged and at least 150 students were arrested during the melees in which police used tear gas and the rioters responded with rocks.

The troops managed temporarily to seal off the area around gutted national capitol building and the adjacent presidential palace, but the rioting continued into the evening.

Prayer Rule Talks End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The last of a seven-week parade of preachers, professors and politicians went before the House Judiciary Committee today in the windup of hearings on prayer and Bible-reading in public schools.

The committee began listening to testimony April 22 on nearly 150 proposals to override Supreme Court decisions outlawing classroom worship as a required part of public school programs.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., beset from both sides by persons who demanded time to testify and by charges that he had deliberately delayed the hearings, held fast to his closing date. However, he has not committed himself to a date for closed sessions to start committee work on the proposed constitutional amendments.

Today, the committee heard testimony from both supporters and opponents of the prayer amendments.

Carrier Hit By Freighter During Fog

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The aircraft carrier USS Lake Champlain was struck by a 592-foot Norwegian motor vessel Skaumann today in fog-bound Chesapeake Bay waters, the Navy reported.

There were no reports of injuries, but both ships were damaged, a Navy spokesman said here.

The same carrier was involved in a collision with the destroyer USS Decatur on May 6.

The Navy said several fires broke out on the carrier when the ships collided at 3:30 a.m. But they were reported under control 45 minutes later.

The Lake Champlain was proceeding at 5 knots from Norfolk to Annapolis, Md., in dense fog when the collision occurred about 38 miles south of Annapolis near Patuxent River, Md.

The Lake Champlain reported fires in hangar bays 1 and 2, the Navy said, but they were out at 4:15 a.m.

Both ships reported structural damage. The Lake Champlain radioed it had no underwater damage.

The Skaumann notified the carrier that, although it suffered damage, she required no assistance.

The carrier was at anchor, awaiting a Coast Guard investigation.

License to Quit Sought by Reno

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — The Reno City Council is considering an ordinance which would require a businessman to get a special license, ranging in cost from $25 to $100, to quit his business.

A representative of the Better Business Bureau told the council Monday night the law would head off "fake going-out-of-business" sales where a firm moves additional merchandise "through the back door" for sales lasting many months.

Britons Watch Calif. Primary

LONDON (UPI) — Britons showed an exceptional interest today in the California primary battle between New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Both of London's afternoon newspapers in banner headlines said the race was "neck and neck." The British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) led its main news programs with reports on the race.

NY Police Patrol Streets

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 1,000 policemen soon will be patrolling New York City's streets and subways on an overtime basis in a campaign to halt attacks by Negro hoodlums on whites.

The additional patrols were ordered Tuesday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who said: "I am determined we are going to have law and order in this city of ours."

The order came two days after the Memorial Day weekend hooliganism on four subway trains and a Staten Island ferry. Bands of Negro teenagers terrorized, robbed and beat whites.

Wagner also ordered all 20,000 patrolmen to wear their uniforms to and from work. Most travel by subway.

He ordered a speed-up in the installation of an experimental two-way radio network in subway trains. One Manhattan subway line is expected to get such a system in four to six months.

Wagner expressed concern over the anti-white rampages of Negro gangs, but he added: "There are other gangs in the city besides Negro and Puerto Rican; there are white gangs."

Civil rights leaders have deplored the attacks, but say frustration of Negroes in their search for adequate education, employment and housing is responsible.

Each patrolman on the force will be required to work an extra eight-hour tour from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. every 20 days.

Runoff for DA Slated in LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A ballot loaded with issues, personalities and feuds faced Southern Californians in the primary election, but they made decisions and waded right in.

Congress Holders Winning

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five of California's eight incumbent Congressmen facing primary opposition romped to easy renomination Tuesday and the other three were in no apparent trouble.

Early returns quickly brought renomination for Democrats Harlan Hagen, James C. Corman and Charles H. Wilson in the 18th, 22nd and 31st districts respectively.

Republican Alphonzo Bell won in the 28th and GOP incumbent Patrick M. Martin romped in the 38th.

Apparently headed toward renomination were Republican John F. Baldwin, 14, and Democrats Richard T. Hanna, 34, and Lionel Van Deerling, 37.

Sonoma State college administrator George McCabe handily won the Democratic nomination in the moderately Democratic northwest 1st District and the right to face GOP Rep. Don Clausen, a first-term who won a special election in 1963 after Democratic Rep. Clem Miller was killed in a plane crash.

Thirty-six of the state's present Congressmen sought renomination—28 of them unopposed. Only two districts will definitely send new men to Washington next year.

Only a few of the 33 contested races produced much suspense. Salinas attorney Sanford Bolz led Pacific Grove teacher Richard C. Miller by only 10 votes out of more than 21,000 in the 12th district Democratic fight then pulled to a 1,400 lead out of 40,000 ballots.

Charles J. Farrington, at 1,471, was only a single vote ahead of Stanley W. Stevenson on the Republican side in the 29th district of Los Angeles County.

Democrats Phillip Burton of San Francisco's 5th District and John J. McFall of Manteca in the 15th won outright re-election as no one ran for Republican nominations.

Despite big fields, nominations were quickly decided in San Bernardino County's 33rd District, one of only two with no incumbent entered.

Ken W. Dyal whipped five Democratic foes and Jerry L. Pettis routed three Republicans.

A smattering of votes put Democratic Assemblyman Tom Bane of North Hollywood comfortably ahead in the 27th, the other no-incumbent district. On the Republican side, Ed Reinecke, a Tujunga businessman, led William P. Gale of Lancaster, onetime gubernatorial candidate of the right-wing Constitution Party.

Lynwood attorney Richard English led six foes in the 23rd District, a Democratic stronghold where Republican Del Clawson won a special election last year against a split field.

Orinda physician John A. Richardson, avowed member of the John Birch Society, was plowed under by incumbent Republican John Baldwin in the 14th. But Chester C. Merriam, who claims he was booted out of the militant conservative society, easily won the Republican nod in the 2nd.

LA Holds Vote Up As Usual

LOS ANGELES (AP) — While most vote-counters toiled up their precincts in California's heavy primary election balloting and tottered wearily home to bed, Los Angeles County again delayed final statewide tabulations.

Los Angeles County, containing about 40 per cent of the state's 32,861 precincts as well as about 40 per cent of its voters has the biggest vote-tallying job of any voting office in the nation, said James Allison, assistant registrar of voters.

The county contains 2,741,000 voters and 12,156 precincts, six times as many as the next largest voting office, San Diego County.

From the closing of the polls at 7 p.m. until shortly before midnight, precincts telephone snap tallies to the office of the registrar of voters.

The county contains 2,741,000 voters and 12,156 precincts, six times as many as the next largest voting office, San Diego County.

From the closing of the polls at 7 p.m. until shortly before midnight, precincts telephone snap tallies to the office of the registrar of voters.

These telephone tallies provide the state, and the nation, with a quick but unofficial picture of how voting went in a county that sometimes has taken days to reach a final count.

While Los Angeles County's registrar is taking 12,156 phone calls with preliminary figures, the state's other counties are wrapping it up for the night.

At 11:25 p.m. Tuesday the snap tally was stopped, reports were telephoned in on about 800,000 ballots and election officials counted doggedly on into the wee hours toward the two-million mark.

Meanwhile, candidates in the closer races, as well as the state's electorate and the rest of the nation, drummed their fingers and waited impatiently for the counting to end.

Los Angeles County election officials were impatient for it to end, too.

Truck Smashes House

A runaway 12-ton cement truck stands amid debris in West Los Angeles house into which it crashed when the brakes failed. No one was in the house which was almost demolished by the crash. The driver, Michael Jacks, 22, guided his truck into the home to avoid hitting a school bus.

Ex-beauty Queen's Infant in Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former beauty queen Leona Gage, who reigned for one day in 1957 as Miss U.S.A., promised police she'd return today to get her infant daughter out of juvenile hall.

Miss Gage, who telephoned police Tuesday to say she was in Scottsdale, Ariz., seeking work, was being sought after her daughter, Cynthia, 1, was turned over to police by a babysitter.

The sitter, Mrs. Beatrice Sloan, 48, complained that telephone and electric service had been shut off at Miss Gage's apartment, and that Miss Gage, despite numerous promises to return, stayed away.

The sitter said that previous commitments to take another job, the lack of utilities and the fact that Miss Gage had not paid her salary made it impossible for her to care for Cynthia any longer.

Officers said no charges were filed against the model, who lost her Miss U.S.A. title when judges found out she was married.

Cynthia was born to Miss

Gage while she was married to her fourth husband, writer Gunther Collatz, 25. They were divorced last February. She has three sons by previous marriages.

Veteran SF Man Loses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A young Negro attorney upset veteran Assemblyman Edward M. Gaffney, D-San Francisco, to highlight a primary election Tuesday that saw few incumbents seriously challenged.

Willie L. Brown, making his second try against the 78-year-old Gaffney, won in the 18th District. Gaffney is rounding out 24 years of service in the Assembly.

Freshman Assemblyman William F. Stanton, D-San Jose, who had expected a serious challenge, appeared headed toward nomination for a second term.

Fire Hits Missile Hangar

NORTON AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — Air Force officials assessed damages today from a fire that swept over the freshly tarred roof of a missile repair hangar.

The blaze erupted Tuesday night in a maintenance building next to the hangar in which about 50 unfueled, unarmored intermediate range ballistic missiles were being repaired, an Air Force official said. None of the missiles was damaged, the spokesman said.

Flames shot through the roof of the maintenance building and jumped the gap in the 85-foot high hangar roof.

Firemen from San Bernardino County fought the fire for 90 minutes. No injuries were reported.

Huntington Beach-Marina High School students Randy Insley, senior class representative, and Harold Kester, student body president, stop to read the John F. ### Queens May Rule, Princes Are Boss

LONDON (AP) — Queens you don't want him to have rule nations, but princes rule it?

At least that's the way it is reported to have with a pair of the world's best known princes — Bernhard of the Netherlands and Philip of Britain.

Eleven years ago, Bernhard gave the following advice to his friend Philip: "To succeed as both husband and subject, I believe you need a tightrope walker's sense of balance and an understanding wife. In the nation it is my wife who rules. In my home it is I."

Prince Bernhard, the husband of Queen Juliana, gave the advice to the husband of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953, shortly before her coronation. The prince of the Netherlands volunteered it in an interview with a former Dutch court reporter, Donald Canter.

There is nothing to suggest that Prince Philip doesn't follow the advice. There is, however, a slight suspicion that Prince Philip doesn't have his way all the time.

Lord Kinross has said that Queen Elizabeth once asked a woman friend: "What do you do when your husband wants something badly and Gordonstoun."

Waiting for Parking

Parking has developed into such a problem at California State College at Los Angeles that students often have to wait as long as 20 minutes for a spot. Diane Burroughs, left, and Melinda Scotty have found a way to pass the time; they have a running Monopoly game going on the back of Diane's sports car.

Retires Loan

NEW YORK (UPI) — Real estate tycoon William Zeckendorf says he has sold a large block of his stock in Universal American Corp. in order to retire a $1.3 million personal bank loan.

However, Zeckendorf denied a published report that he had sold a substantial amount of his shares in Webb & Knapp Inc., the big real estate firm of which he is chairman and which defaulted yesterday on $351,000 in interest and redemptions of its debentures.

He said the sale of Universal American stock was strictly a personal transaction and had nothing to do with Webb & Knapp's problems.

He said Webb & Knapp still formulating a plan to pay the debenture interest but defer the redemptions and the plan would be submitted to the debenture holders very shortly.

He declined to comment on reports that the Universal American stock was sold to financier Albert W. Lust, chairman of Glen Alden Corp., with a rescheduling agreement.

'Maverick'

Mayor Puts CM On Meeting Map

By TOM TITUS

"I guess those fellows know where Costa Mesa is by now."

Mayor Robert Wilson grinned as he discussed the annual U.S. Conference of Mayors in New York City, which he, along with Councilman
A. L. Pinkley, attended last week.

Wilson and Pinkley showed up at the conference in their "greeters' jackets." The orange blazers presented to them earlier this year by the Chamber of Commerce. "We stuck out like a pair of sore thumbs," laughed Pinkley.

The mayor, who was the first to arrive and one of the last to leave, was on his feet three times dissenting with some of the opinions offered at the convention. He was also interviewed on network radio and a portion of his talk was broadcast in this area.

'MAVERICK'
"I seemed to be the West Coast maverick," Wilson said.
He reported asking Dr. R.

C. Weaver of the housing and home financing administration, "Do you believe a city can take care of itself without federal aid, and if so how?"

Weaver, according to Wilson, answered "absolutely no," and went into a lengthy speech. "When he was finished," the mayor said, "I told the conference president
I felt there was another side to the urban renewal program other than Dr. Weaver's and federal government intervention."

"The president thanked me for my comments — period.
But I had no sooner sat down than an ABC news reporter asked me for an interview."

INTERVIEWED
Wilson and Pinkley both were interviewed by ABC for 30 minutes, one minute of which was aired at 10 o'clock that night.

"The next day I was on my feet again," Wilson reported,
"and I proposed an amendment to the urban renewal program to the effect that all federal money given to a city be refunded within a reasonable period of time. I was voted down, of course, but by a surprisingly narrow margin."

His third and last time up, Wilson helped table a national housing code enforcement resolution. "This is a subject I know fairly well for a mayor," he said, "and I could speak as an authority having dealt with building officials and building codes."

Wilson reported that after his stand on urban renewal, 52 conference delegates approached him with congratulations. "They knew who I was because of my orange coat," he smiled.

Other speakers at the mayors' conference included
Attorney General Robert F.
Kennedy, Secretary of Labor
Willard W. Wirtz, Sen. H. A.
Williams of New Jersey, astronaut Scott Carpenter and David Yanich, president of Macy's Department Store.

Dog-Catch Her!

THE HAGUE, Netherlands
(UPI)—A woman caught in the act of shop-lifting in a local department store bashed the house detective on the head yesterday and escaped.
But she left behind the dog
she was carrying in her arms.
Police freed the dog and followed it straight to the woman's home, where she was arrested.

about the grim task of clearing Newport Freeway in Orange of debris from one-car crash Tuesday that

ORANGE — Two mothers, was thrown in front of a six children in a station wa-

other children were in the hospital as the result of the worst automobile accident in Orange County in 10 years.

Bridgett Marie McAuliffe, 37, of 215 S. Malena St., Orange, began to fishtail on Newport
Freeway just south of Chapman Avenue in Orange, and she applied the brakes too fast.

center divider, flipped over it and came to rest in the north-

Ireland where McAuliffe had been employed by Interna-

They had just moved into a big house in Meredith Village, a new tract about a half mile from where the fatal crash occurred.

McAuliffe told police that to his knowledge, it was the

Wagner Man Whips Veteran NY Solon

NEW YORK (UPI) — The power and prestige of New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner in national Democratic political circles soared today on the strength of the election defeat of two old line machine politicians he vigorously opposed.

Wagner, a possible Democratic vice presidential nominee, did not appear on the ballot in yesterday's primary but the voter snub of former Tammany Hall boss Carmine De Sapio and long-entrenched Rep. Charles A. Buckley was considered a resounding victory for the three-term mayor of the nation's largest city.

Buckley, 73, chairman of the House Public Works Committee, was defeated for re-nomination in the 23rd congressional district in the Bronx although he had the endorsement of President Johnson, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy. The victor in the hotly contested race was Jonathan B. Bingham, 50, a Yale-educated patrician who resigned as a delegate to the United Nations economic and social council to oppose Buckley, gruff Democratic boss in the Bronx who was first elected to Congress in 1934. The vote was Bingham 26,473, Buckley 22,488.

De Sapio, the once all-powerful boss of the New York Democratic machine, failed a second time to regain the Democratic district leadership in Greenwich Village in a court-ordered revote that sheared the former Tammany Tiger of still more of his political prestige.

De Sapio lost 5,904 to 5,740 to Edward I. Koch in a sequel to their first contest for the district leadership last September which "reform" Democrat Koch won by 51 votes. De Sapio contested the result on the grounds of irregularities and a state appellate voting machines because of "tremendous number of irregularities all through the day." Farbstein defeated William F. Haddad 19,851 to 16,700 in another bitter contest. Haddad was a former official of the peace corps.

Detracting slightly from Wagner's overall success were primary results in Brooklyn where the mayor was attempting to wrest control of the Democratic organization from Assemblyman Stanley Steingut.

Rep. Edna F. Kelly won re-nomination despite Wagner's opposition and two Steingut faction candidates won county civil court nominations. Steingut was not involved in an election battle.

Rep. Abraham J. Mauter also won re-nomination in Brooklyn but his race was not a part of the Wagner-Steingut warring.

On the Republican side, state Sen. Macneil Mitchell easily defeated Eric M. Javits, nephew of New York Sen. Jacob Javits, for the nomination in Manhattan's 20th senatorial district.

States of delegates pledged to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller won over delegates favoring Sen. Barry Goldwater in contests for voting representation at the Republican National Convention.

Democratic delegates specifically pledged to President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Kennedy for vice president also were defeated.

court ordered the rematch. De Sapio first lost the district leadership and consequently his Manhattan Democratic committee chairmanship to another reformer in 1961. He remains a Democratic national committeeman and, in conceding defeat last night, said he would remain in politics.

Wagner expressed general satisfaction with the election returns.

"The results speak for themselves. In general, I'm extremely pleased," the mayor said.

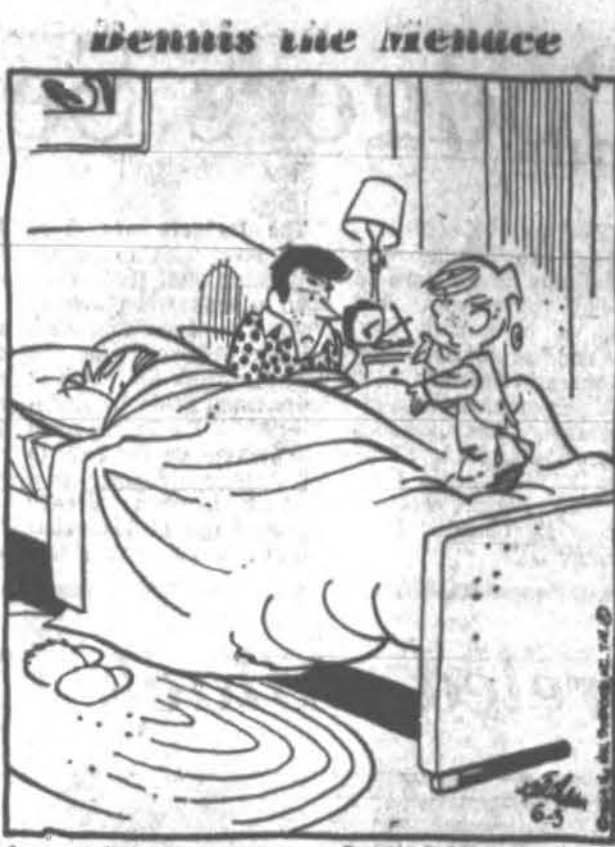

Adding to Wagner's pleasure was the defeat of Rep. James C. Healey, a chief Buckley aide, in his bid for re-nomination in the 21st congressional district in the Bronx and the victory of Rep. Leonard Farbstein in the 19th congressional district in Manhattan. Wagner endorsed Farbstein but opposed Healey.

Wagner-endorsed James H. Scheuer defeated Healey 22,725 to 20,135 in a primary battle so bitter that Scheuer asked police to impound the

Congolese Ask U.N. To Aid Rebel Fight

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The Congolese government urgently pressed for United Nations help today against Communist-led rebels who have turned Kivu province into chaos.

Reliable sources said the situation in Kivu was deteriorating, and whites were being removed from the city of Bukavu for fear of a rebel attack on the city.

Premier Cyrille Adoula anxiously awaited a reply from U.N. headquarters in New York on his request to send Nigerian U.N. troops to Bukavu.

(A U.N. spokesman in New York said Secretary General Thant was studying Adoula's request carefully and was in contact with his representa-

Sentence 99 Years, 3 Days

ANGLETON, Tex. (UPI) — Harry Washburn leaped to his feet in district court yesterday, shouting that a witness lied. He was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail for contempt.

He didn't seem to mind though, he has already been convicted twice for the bomb slaying of his mother-in-law and sentenced to 99 years in prison.

Judge G. P. Hardy said he could begin serving the three days whenever he is released.

Washburn was in court seeking a reversal of his last conviction on charges that he murdered Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver in San Angelo, Tex. in 1955.

Mrs. Weaver was killed when a bomb wired to her car's ignition exploded when she started the auto.

Washburn was convicted at his first trial in Waco, Tex. But the conviction was overturned later by the Texas court of criminal appeals. In his second trial, held in Dallas, he was again convicted and sentenced.

Defense lawyer Clyde Woody of Houston is attempting to have the conviction overturned and a new trial ordered on the ground that evidence was suppressed during the two trials.

German Murders Of Jews Told

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — The Nazis sent 400,000 Hungarian Jews to their death to the tunes of German march music, a former woman prisoner at the Auschwitz extermination camp testified today.

Dr. Ellen Lingens-Reiner testified in the war crimes trial of Adolf Eichmann's aides, Otto Hunsche and Hermann Krumei, that death was "inevitable for the Hungarian Jews shipped to Auschwitz."

"It was in the spring of 1944 — we didn't know the date because we had no calendars — when the rumor first spread through the camp a half million Hungarians were arriving," the woman doctor testified.

"We were stunned—we knew there were no barracks, no clothes, no food and no water for these prisoners—there was only one possible fate: death," said Dr. Lingens-Reiner, who earlier testified in the Auschwitz trial about her experiences in the death camp.

"The Hungarian Jews dead would have died even without the gas chambers," she said. "But when the first shipments arrived, a prison band was playing march music."

"It was almost a beautiful picture — the band playing happy tunes on the lawn as the freight trains rolled in. The prisoners did not realize they were rolling to their deaths."

"Then the death mills began to work at top capacity. Black, greasy smoke emerged from the huge crematory chimneys for six to eight weeks until the grisly job was finished," she said.

"Newcomers probably mistook the crematoriums for factories. They did not resist when they were herded into the gas chambers."

"I recall only a single instance when death candidates revolted against their masters," she said. "That was when two Italian women who realized they were to be killed grabbed the wrist of an SS guard and shot him."

Dancing to Triple Crown

Golf Notes

Huntington Beach

Oscar Cowart walked off with top honors in President's Cup Tournament last weekend with a low net of 199 on the 54-hole tourney.

Cowart shot rounds of 73-75-73 with an eight handicap to edge A. C. Marion who finished with a score of 201. Lee Casey and Bud Harris tied for third with identical scores of 202.

Fifth place went to Bill Perkins at 203, followed closely by Don Miller who shot a 204.

Julia Schryer of Huntington Beach recorded the club's latest hole in one, acing the 119-yard par 3 ninth hole. It was her first perfect. According to club pros, her shot was only the third hole in one for a woman on the course.

Looking at the future calendar, the Huntington Beach Country Club will host a nine-hole shotgun tournament at 5 p.m. June 24.

Mesa Verde

Two major tournaments are coming up at Mesa Verde Country club this month, the Ladies' Membership Guest June 8-9 and the Men's Member-Guest June 27-28.

Both tourneys, 36-hole affairs, will probably see excellent scores recorded, according to club pros who indicate the course in top condition.

Irvine Coast

Defending champions Joe Ordway and Bill Gothard are all set for qualifying June 11-19 in the annual Better Ball of Partners Tournament.

Finals of the tourney are scheduled for June 21 and 28, according to officials. The country club's pros are getting ready to record a hole in one.

It seems, they report, that it's been more than three months since the last ace.

Meadowlark

A new tournament is on tap at Meadowlark Country Club this month — the Two Best Ball of Fivesome slated to go June 13-14.

Full handicap rules are incorporated into the tourney. Presently, golfers on the course are trying to "beat" Jack Nicklaus' 67 recorded earlier this week. The pro played a round and now golfers around the country can pay one dollar and try to best his score.

Handicaps are allowed and the "winners" receive medals says "I beat Nicklaus."

Santa Ana

Santa Ana Country Club's Exclusive's Tournament for golfers with handicaps of 17 or higher is undergoing qualifying until June 20 when a match play will begin.

Members are quite excited about the tourney, which gives the higher players a chance at a championship.

Crespi's Caminiti On Sale

Big Challenge Looms Ahead

Southland News Service ENCINO — The new Crespi Comet Doll may hit the retail sales market any day.

You find a local high school track, gather together several other competitors, make sure the distances are measured properly and then wind it up.

What does it do? "It — Steve Caminiti — sets two national records and six school records, if you give it one year's time."

Caminiti, described by his coach — Bill Leeds — as a "shy young man," literally flew to 18.1 and 13.7 clockings in the 180-yard low hurdles and 120 highs in the same day.

His school records include: 100 — 9.6; 440 — 49.7; high jump — 6-1 and 22-5 1/2 in the long jump, plus the two national records.

Because of spike injuries in the area of his heels, Caminiti was sidelined most of last year. Despite the painful injury he won the Bee low hurdles and finished third in the highs in the CIF, Southern Section, although he could only jog two days a week.

This year, the Crespi Comet was nearly the hottest thing in spikes. Until suffering a pulled groin muscle, that is.

"He's improved his basic speed more than anything else," coach Leeds said before his injury.

Caminiti, showing definite signs of his latest injury, managed a second in the lows (18.5) and third in the highs (13.9) in last Friday's Southern Section finals.

Both races were won by Long Beach Poly flash Earl McCullough. In fact, McCullough sped to an 18.1 clocking in the lows. Second place in the highs went to arch-rival Roger Moody of Corona.

Now the big question arises again this weekend: Can Caminiti make a successful showing?

Caminiti, McCullough and Moody will all run in different races in Friday's qualification trials of the State Championships at the Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles.

CRESPI COMET — Shy young Steve Caminiti will try for a comeback this weekend in the CIF State Track and Field Finals at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Caminiti, a crack hurdler until injured late in the season, is one of the top stick aces in Southern California.

State Meet Next

Prep Tracksters Save Best Efforts for Finale

Southland News Service LOS ANGELES — Someone once said "the best is yet to come."

And that it is. Top-notch high school track and field competitors converge on the Memorial Coliseum here Friday and Saturday for the CIF State Championships as more than 15,000 fans are expected.

One of the many highlights of the two-day meet will see Southern California's Big Three hurdle aces — Earl McCullough, Steve Caminiti and Roger Moody — probably meeting in the finals.

The trio, in what was billed as the race of the year, met last Friday in the CIF Southern Section finals. McCullough won both races and set a national record of 18.1 in the 180 lows.

Qualifications are scheduled to begin at 3:15 p.m. in the high jump, long jump, shot put and pole vault. The top 12 in each event will move on to the finals Saturday.

Three heats will be run in each race to cut the field down to nine finalists. Only the discus competitors among the field will be exempt from qualifying, according to Ken Fagans, Southern Section commissioner.

Jefferson, which won the Los Angeles City title last weekend, is favored in the meet. Jeff has qualified four individuals and a relay team.

Leading Northern California qualifiers include Mike Ryan of Wilcox High in Santa Clara who has a 4:12.4 clocking in the mile and Johnny Figueroa of Sunnyvale who has been timed in 9.5 and 21.3 in the 100 and 220.

A host of Southern entries in the 100 have clockings under 10 flat and five have been timed in 21.3 or better in the 220. The 220 in the State Meet is run around a curve.

Tough competition also looms in the long jump.

Johnny Johnson, a sophomore sensation from Pacific Grove High, figures to give Fremont's Willie Crawford a run for his money in the long jump. Johnson has a best leap of 25-3/4, while Crawford has jumped 25-1.

Although Southern Section athletes do not compete in the discus as a regular event, Kirk Wassell of Western High

Spring Grid Drills Drawing to Close

By CHRIS YOUNG

Spring football practice draws to a rapid close for Orange Coast area high schools this week with intra-squad games, clinics or flag drills against former players scheduled.

Kicking off team activities is Huntington Beach which conducted a split-squad game this afternoon, according to coach Ken Most.

Thursday night, Mater Dei will unveil the 1964 edition of for the coming season.

PLAYERS COACH

Ex-Mater Dei players Toby Page, Mike Walsh, Larry Tocher and Mark De Antonio, who have been assisting this the Monarchs in a 7:30 p.m. contest between the Reds and Whites at Santa Ana Municipal Bowl.

Coach Dick Coury announced today that seniors Bob Heffernan and Warren Michaelis have been elected captains spring, will handle the coaching chores for Coury.

Halftime activities at the touch game will be provided by pro footballers Jim Martin (Baltimore Colts), Jim Stefan (Washington Redskins) and Frank Varrichrone (Los Angeles Rams).

Friday afternoon coach Wayne Hughes at Newport Harbor will observe as Andy Smith's Smashers and Ed

Wynkop's Winners tangle in the Sailor Institute's annual flag game.

Hughes indicates he may have the finest running backs in the history of the school in action. They are Mike Ober and Jim Finnan. Slated for duty at quarterback is junior Ron Peca.

16 VETERANS

The 3 p.m. contest will see Newport's 16 returning lettermen in action, according to Hughes. Five quarters are scheduled to be played with all participants going in the first two periods.

Coach Bill Borwell at Westminster will send next year's hopefuls against former Lion gliders Friday.

Reportedly lacking in size, Borwell has geared his attack for next season around returning quarterback Shawn McKinney and halfback Jack Haynes.

"We're small," the coach says, "But I'm sure we'll run around and throw over some opponents."

Costa Mesa High coach Dan Kimball is working on two innovations:

FORMAT SHIFT

1—A three platoon system for next year.

2—A clinic for parents (especially mothers) of players. The clinic will be conducted starting at 10 a.m. Saturday at the school.

The three platoon system depends on a big "if" according to Kimball. "If all the boys stay healthy, it'll work. If not, we'll probably be going to players who can go both ways (offensively and defensively)," he said.

CEN DONE

At Corona del Mar, coach Howard Johnson completed his spring format last week, dividing his 75 Sea King hopefuls into two squads for an intrasquad game.

Progress went well in conditioning, according to Johnson. But the coach also indicated there was one basic drawback in the spring session: lack of numbers.

Newport Outriggers Triumph

Newport Beach's entries in Sunday's outrigger canoe races at the Del Mar Club in Santa Monica swept to three place finishes and tied for first in a fourth race.

The novice men's entry with Wayne Smith stroke and Ben Kamalani steersman completed a half-mile course in 6:04 to take the victory. Other members of the canoe were John Jarvis, Chris Patterson, Rick Bradford and Herman Aki.

In men's open competition, stroke Tom Kalama pushed the Newport canoe to a 24:00 clocking in the two-mile race. The crew consisted of John Kamalani, Mike Kline, Bill and Robert Iida and Ilma Kalama.

The women's novice canoe with Lolala Kamalani at stroke won their one-half mile event with a timing of 7:06. Leimalea Kalama, Connie Smith, Chris Hughes and Gimmy Menza made up the all-girl crew.

Stroke Jeff Jarvis guided the freshman squad to a dead-heat over a one-mile course. Members of the canoe were Robert Iida, Charles Wolfe, Mike Obach, Mike Lewis and Ilma Kalama.

Next races for the Newport canoers are scheduled at Marina del Rey June 6.

The Hole Story

By CLARE THOMPSON
Golf Professional
Costa Mesa Golf Range
The Eight-Iron

On a clear shot to the green from a distance which seems to require a nine-iron, it is often a much better bet for the middle-or high-handicap golfer to reach for his eight-iron instead. He's more apt to hit the ball cleanly and won't be pressing for distance.

I mention this because the eight-iron is becoming one of the least used clubs these days, people frequently thinking that the nine-iron (by not being the wedge) can get them farther than it can.

When using the eight-iron, take it back on a rather upright arc to cultivate greater club control and reduce the margin for error, but don't let this lead you into making too short a backswing. This is bound to produce an uneven, lumpy stroke.

NHYC Members

Two Named
To Olympics

Two well-known Southern California yachtsmen — both affiliated with Newport Harbor Yacht Club — have been named to key positions on the United States Olympic Yachting Committee.

Robert M. Allan Jr., staff commodore of NHYC, has been appointed one of two temporary members of the North American Yacht Racing Union Olympic Committee, and Charles M. (Chuck) Kober, a director of NHYC and staff commodore of Alamos Bay Yacht Club, has been appointed as the team boatman for the 1964 Olympics.

The appointments were announced by Julian K. Roosevelt, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Yachting Committee. The other temporary member to serve with Allan on the committee is W. R. Christiansen of New York. Both men will represent Dr. Britton Chance and Emil Mosbacher Jr. who will be entering the Olympic trials as active contestants.

Kober's appointment as boatman is tantamount to assistant manager of the Olympic yachting team at Tokyo. Roosevelt said it is hoped that the assignment will lead to team manager in the 1968 Olympics at Aca-pulco.

Both Allan and Kober termed their appointments as "great recognition for Southern California Yachting."

Southern California has been doubly honored with the distinction of running two of the elimination trials for the Olympics. Alamos Bay has been selected as the site of the trials for both the Finn and Dragon classes.

Quarter-final eliminations in the Finn Class will be held this weekend with Voyagers Yacht Club of Newport Beach running the show. VYC will also conduct the semi-finals in July, and Alamos Bay Yacht Club will supervise the finals in August.

Eliminations in the Dragon Class will start in July with ABYC supervising.

OLYMPIC CLASSES
Eliminations in the other three Olympic classes, Stars and 5.5-Meters, and Flying Dutchman, will be conducted on the East Coast.

The U.S. Olympic Yachting Committee is elected by the U.S. Olympic Committee and consists of nine members — six from NAYRU, one from the armed forces, one from the NCAA and one from the AAU. This committee is the link between the U.S. Olympic Committee and the NAYRU and is the sole organization responsible for selecting the U.S. representatives in the Pan American Games and Olympics.

The NAYRU Olympic Committee consists entirely of NAYRU members and overlaps the USOYC. It maintains a technical subcommittee, and is a subcommittee of the NAYRU.

Both committees rely on the United States International Sailing Assn. for their entire support, have the same chairman and secretary, and in effect, act as one committee.

The new division is across the street from the long established power boat sales office and showroom.

In conjunction with this announcement, Kasler reported that California Chris Craft has been named as exclusive franchised dealer for Columbia racing and cruising sailboats produced by Glass Marine Industries of Costa Mesa. GMI produces fiberglass boats from 24 to 40 feet.

"With the addition of the Columbia line, augmenting Chris Craft's own 35-foot sail yacht and new sloop-rigged Capri-30, our firm is now in position to offer Southern California boating fans practically everything in power or sail from 15 to 65 feet," Kasler said.

Chris Craft Opens New
NB Division

California Chris Craft Sales in Newport Beach has opened a sail boat division with showrooms located at 2510 W. Coast Highway, according to Morley Kasler.

The new division is across the street from the long established power boat sales office and showroom.

In conjunction with this announcement, Kasler reported that California Chris Craft has been named as exclusive franchised dealer for Columbia racing and cruising sailboats produced by Glass Marine Industries of Costa Mesa. GMI produces fiberglass boats from 24 to 40 feet.

"With the addition of the Columbia line, augmenting Chris Craft's own 35-foot sail yacht and new sloop-rigged Capri-30, our firm is now in position to offer Southern California boating fans practically everything in power or sail from 15 to 65 feet," Kasler said.

TRAINING VESSELS — These fiberglass versions of the Olympic class 5.5-Meters have been serving as excellent vehicles for training Southern California hopefuls in the upcoming trials. The Columbia 5.5s, pictured in a recent pre-Olympic regatta at San Diego, are built by Glass Marine Industries of Costa Mesa. In addition to their use as Olympic trainers, they are growing in popularity as a one-design racing class in local regattas.

Costa Mesa High School's swimming team, which broke the world's 100-mile relay minutes and 17 seconds on swimming record two weeks ago, was commended Monday night by the City Council.

The 10-man team covered the distance in 40 hours, 49 minutes and 17 seconds on May 22, 23 and 24, swimming 7,040 laps in the school's 25-yard pool.

Pope Paul Marks Death of Pope John

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI today marked the first anniversary of the death of John XXIII with prayer at the tomb of the late pontiff and a mass in St. Peter's Basilica.

Early this morning, Pope Paul left his private apartments in the Vatican Palace to go down into the grottoes under St. Peter's. He prayed for several moments in front of the white marble tomb of Pope John and then celebrated mass before the tomb.

Later, the pontiff—dressed in the red mantle of papal mourning—went to St. Peter's to hear a commemorative mass said by Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, patriarch of Venice—the second man the late Pope John made a prince of the church.

The first man he made a cardinal was Giovanni Battista Montini, who 18 days after John's death was elected Pope.

Attending the mass were diplomats accredited to the Vatican and a number of high church officials, including 24 cardinals.

Similar masses were being said in Catholic churches throughout the world. Plaques were being unveiled and commemorative medals presented.

The memory of "Good Pope John," the sharecropper's son who became head of the world's 500 million Catholics, was very much alive a year after his agonizing death in the Vatican at the age of 81. The reverence accorded him was based not only on his deeds but on his deep humility, smiling manner and simple faith.

Civil Rights Supporters Filibuster

WASHINGTON — Supporters of the civil rights bill took over Senate oratory today in what opponents described as a "counter filibuster" on the measure.

Democratic whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., the bill's floor manager, planned to discuss the package of amendments fashioned by Senate leaders of both parties. Speeches by other supporters also were on tap.

The bill's backers found themselves cast in speaking roles when southerners, confronted with a vote next Tuesday on curbing debate, professed themselves ready to start voting on amendments. This made it a matter of talk or vote for the bill's partisans.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., made it clear that supporters planned to talk on the substitute devised with the help of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. It was Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the South's top strategist, who dubbed it a "counter filibuster."

Warren Unit Delays On Oswald Role

WASHINGTON — Some feeling exists among members of the Warren Commission that no final conclusion should be reached at this time that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

A spokesman for the seven-man commission had told United Press International previously that the group's final report would dispel all speculation that the assassination might have been part of a political conspiracy.

But sources now say there is some feeling by commission members that it would be premature to reach such a conclusion until the investigation ordered by President Johnson is completed.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, plans to hear a number of additional witnesses and is not expected to wind up the inquiry before late June.

The spokesman had said previously that although some investigation remained, the panel had built up massive evidence virtually eliminating any theory except the one that Oswald was acting on individual impulse when he killed Kennedy and wounded Texas Gov. John Connally.

However, sources said, there still is some feeling that this has not been proven beyond all doubt, raising a possibility that the final report might not be unanimous. The sources also said that about 50 Federal Bureau of Investigation agents continue to search for any shred of evidence that might have been overlooked.

There is some reluctance within the commission to rule out the possibility that subsequent investigation might turn up something linking Oswald to another person or other persons, the sources said.

In addition, there is some feeling that conjecture now on what the final report might conclude could create a climate of public acceptance that might nullify differing opinions on the commission.

The commission announced yesterday a list of witnesses to be called tomorrow through June 16. Among them is Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Oswald's Russian-born widow, Marina, who already has testified once.

Cigar Factory Seeks Oldsters

Top Spellers In Country Open Contest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top spellers from across the country today open the 37th annual National Spelling Bee, brain-wracking contest that has multisyllable challenges such as "antimacassar," "punctillous" and "cholesterol."

Forty-four girls and 26 boys ranging from 10 to 14 years old will participate in the two-day long competition sponsored by Scripps-Howard newspapers in 16 cities and 53 other U.S. daily and Sunday papers.

Candidates for the first prize of $1,000 and a weekend trip to New York City and the World's Fair were chosen from among six million youngsters in local bees. None of the contestants has completed the eighth grade.

If last year's contest is a guide, more than 750 words will be pronounced and spelled before the national spelling champion is crowned. Past winners since the contest began in 1925 include 24 girls and 15 boys. There were co-champions in three bees.

Hunting Salt Water

Production Crew Goes Right Down Lido Drain

INSPECT CAMERA — Bud Ruth (right) shows television camera to Ken Wager, maintenance lead man for Newport Beach pump stations. Camera was used to spot salt water intrusion.

By JEROME F. COLLINS

A television crew recently wrapped up a short-run series on Lido Isle — with the entire production going right down the drain.

But that's just the way the city of Newport Beach wanted it. The project involved unearthing for salt water intrusion.

Public Works Director Joseph Devlin said the camera work is part of a $3,000 city pilot program. And it led to sewer line repairs that might otherwise have cost literally hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Also, the project was conducted without any fuss or muss. Lido Isle householders were confronted with no great yawning pits and street blockades. Not a hole was dug, even though 15 salt water leaks were plugged.

The closed-circuit TV probe and subsequent sealing of leaks were conducted over the past week by Tele-Hydro-Seal, an El Cajon firm. The work was confined to Plaza Genoa, near the heart of Lido Isle.

According to Bud Ruth, Tele-Hydro's job superintendent, he's how the system works:

A specially-designed, lightweight cylindrical camera is lowered down a manhole along with a sealing unit containing a gelatinous plastic.

The camera, preceded by the sealer, is then dragged along the sewer line by means of a cable operated from another manhole upstream.

The camera relays a picture of pipe conditions to a TV monitor located inside a panel truck. The sealing unit is then positioned at the defective area, usually a joint, where there is leakage. Plastic compounds are then extruded from the unit, plugging the leak — without turning a spadeful of dirt.

Ruth said the camera checked more than 400 joints in Lido's line. The alternative to using TV for this work, he noted, is to dig. And that, he estimated, would have cost the city about $1,000 a joint.

Canada Physicians Rich by Medicare

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — Item: Two years ago Saskatchewan doctors fought introduction of North America's first sweeping government medicare plan with a bitter 23-day strike. Today the doctors are making more money under medicare than they did in private practice.

Item: Premiums paid by residents of this Canadian province to help finance medicare have been cut in half.

Item: The Socialist government that fathered the controversial health insurance scheme lost a recent provincial election. But medicare was not a campaign issue. Liberal Premier Ross Thatcher, who took office last week, is not expected to make major changes in the medical plan he once opposed.

CAN WORK

On the surface, Saskatchewan appears to have proved that a compulsory, state-run medicare program covering all residents of all ages can win the support of doctors, the public and politicians.

But it would be misleading to call Saskatchewan's medicare plan an unqualified success.

The old arguments still rage here over medicare's effect on the quality of medical service, the cost, government interference in the practice of medicine and red tape.

Dr. E. W. Barootes, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, conceded that doctors are making more money. The college is Saskatchewan's professional medical association.

BEGINNING

"If all doctors wanted was more cash," Barootes said, "we would have been on the bandwagon from the beginning."

He called it a matter of simple arithmetic. Medicare, Barootes said, has encouraged more people to visit doctors more often at no extra personal cost. The government pays the larger bill to roughly the same number of doctors formerly engaged in private practice. Fewer bills go unpaid. By some accounts doctors are making an average of $2,000 a year more.

But the doctors are concerned about the quality of medical service involved, Barootes said.

Under medicare, he said, they are increasingly forced to steal time from patients who need them to examine others with minor or imagined complaints. "Doctors who used to see 20 patients a day now must see as many as 70," he said.

The Rolling Stones Descending on U.S.

LONDON (UPI) — "But would you let your daughter marry one?"

The question headlined a recent London newspaper story about "The Rolling Stones", five young men who have been outselling "The Beatles" on the hit parade and now are about to descend, as did the Beatles, on the United States.

Their noise is almost indistinguishable to the uninitiated from the sounds the Beatles make, and their haircuts make Ringo, George Harrison and Company look well barbered. They happily admit "we're a scruffy lot."

The Rolling Stones will go to California where they are to tape a performance for the Hollywood Palace television show. At the other end of the musical spectrum—and of the American continent—they are due to perform at New York's Carnegie Hall June 20.

Between those shows, according to their agent, the "Stones" are scheduled to visit San Bernardino, Calif., Portland, Ore., Vancouver, B.C., Omaha, Neb., Flint, Mich., Chicago, Indianapolis, Louisville, Ky., Philadelphia, New Haven, Conn., and Harrisburg, Pa.

The boys range in age from 19 to 22 and deny they are throwbacks to the Neanderthal man. "People are always asking me," their agent has confessed, "if they are morons." He says no.

Experts who have put the Rolling Stones under analysis seem agreed they owe their popularity to the fact the Beatles "became respectable" and accepted by the older generation. The kids needed new idols—and picked the most unlikely ones.

"Mother and daughter," the Evening Standard commented in discussing the phenomenon, "cannot worship at the same shrine. The moment that mothers and fathers and the politicians and employers and foreigners and Ella Fitzgerald grew to love the Beatles, the floating fan went over to the Stones."

A number called "Not Fade Away" sent the Stones rampaging into the hit parade and they went on to crowd the top ten with a long-playing disc.

The group's singer is Mick Jagger, a former student at the London School of Economics whose vocals have been described in print as "more like baying at the moon." He also leads and plays maracas.

Charlie Watts, who claims he would look like Steve McQueen if McQueen let his hair grow, is on the drums. Brian Jones, Bill Wyman and Keith Richard play guitars and wiggle.

Percy Just Doesn't Fit In

HAMILTON, Ont. (UPI) — Bearded Percy Leggett, Hamilton's oldest beatnik, has a problem. He has been told unless he conforms in his dress he will have to resign from an old peoples' club he has been attending for the past four years.

And at 72 Percy feels he is too old to conform.

Winter and summer, Percy walks around wearing billowing khaki shorts, a yellow undershirt, and big black rubber boots. He rises daily at 5 a.m., swims, lifts weights and keeps his body in 40-year-old condition.

Percy said: "I go to the center every day. I play the piano, sing and dance and I've never had any complaints."

But Tuesday when he arrived at the club he was told to put on his pants.

Percy has no pants. He has just the shorts he has worn for the past eight years.

"When I got my pension I resigned from the human race. I began to live the way I wanted. I let the air get at me, massage me, no socks, my body breathes."

Mrs. Fred Agate, director of the midtown center, said the trouble is that Percy's body breathes a bit too freely. "We have lots of old ladies at the center and well Percy's costume is — perhaps you could say revealing."

Woman Track Star To Attend Meeting

Doreen Porter, the beautiful New Zealand track star, will attend Thursday night's meeting of the McFadden Homeowners Association and she has agreed to appear on the organization's float in the Huntington Beach Fourth of July Parade.

The nature of the McFadden float is still secret but committee chairman Leo Udy said it will follow the theme of the parade, commemorating the 60th anniversary of the annual event.

Aiding Udy are George Wood, George Randall, Henry Flgge and Mrs. John Balaton.

Venerable Paper Still Goes

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
RENO (AP) — This want ad is tucked away on the inside of the venerable Eureka Sentinel.

"For sale — 93-year-old Eureka Sentinel building and equipment in Eureka, Nevada. Equipment includes all original equipment except type faces."

That isn't the death knell of one of Nevada's oldest newspapers. The Eureka Sentel has been published in Tonopah, about 180 miles to the southwest, for four years.

But it might quicken the pulse of Nevada historians and veteran newspapermen who would preserve the historic building and its dusty contents — representing nearly a century of central Nevada history.

Other pioneer newspapers came and went, or changed hands during the ups and downs of the mining camps.
But the Sentinel persisted, largely under the ownership of one family.

An attempt, in 1961, to make the two-story red brick building a state monument failed. But the owners still have hope some group or foundation will buy the structure, with its moderate dose of Victorian gingerbread decoration, and turn it into a museum.

The building is owned by Mrs. Rose Moyle, now of Reno, whose late husband published the Sentinel for about 16 years. When E. J.
Moyle died, the paper itself was sold to Ira Jacobson of Central Nevada Newspapers.

Student Officers Chosen

Here are newly elected officers will lead the Costa Mesa High School student body during the 1964-65 year. Clockwise from bottom are Pam Walters, treasurer; Ted Banduruk, president; Tom Read, student court judge; King Fitch, vice president; and Pam Bodman, secretary.

tion of the Sentinel from his Tonopah plant, which produces three other newspapers.

The Sentinel, founded in 1870, is considered the second oldest continuously published paper in the state. The oldest is the Reese River Reveille which has been rolling off the presses since 1863.

There have been some inquiries about the Sentinel building, but all from prospective publishers who wanted the property for running a newspaper. They quickly lost interest when told the Sentinel still is published, even though not in the Sentel building.

Eureka's population dwindled from about 10,000 during the mining boom days of the 1870s and 1880s to an official census of 470 in 1960.

STAND BACK, SIR (OR MADAM)
... after inserting a DAILY PILOT want ad. The results are smashing. Call 675-3311.

tion of the latest revision of

"Jack" Cleveland told city
councilmen he had approved

Johnson Builds 'Society'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is making a determined effort to identify his administration with a quest for what he terms "the great society."

Johnson gave new evidence of his attachment to this label during a four-day holiday weekend trip to New York and Texas. The President, who flew back to Washington Sunday night, delivered four speeches during the trip and, in three of them, he talked about "the great society."

This repetitive emphasis points up Johnson's hope that the public eventually will link his name with the term — much as Franklin D. Roosevelt was associated with the New Deal, Harry S. Truman with the Fair Deal and John F. Kennedy with the New Frontier.

Some Johnson aides say privately the concept of "the great society," as the President has expressed it, is more typical of his view of the role of government than anything he has done as chief executive.

However, they emphasize the concrete aspects of the concept — rebuilt cities, flourishing schools, conservation programs and the elimination of poverty — rather than the abstractions which have embellished Johnson's speeches on the subject.

They argue that, throughout his political life, Johnson has been intrigued by the notion of revitalizing the economy of entire regions through rural electrification, power projects, reforestation, job retraining and the like.

Johnson first talked in detail about "the great society" in his May 22 commencement address at the University of Michigan. In that speech, he urged his youthful audience to join in helping to rebuild cities, preserve the countryside and promote education. He cited these as central challenges facing the nation.

At the same time, he talked about a society in which men are concerned more about the quality of their goals than the quantity of their goods, about an unspoiled land where man can commune with nature.

For a time, Johnson toyed with the phrase "better deal" — words he first used off-the-cuff in a television interview. This phrase was dropped after a brief trial run, however — perhaps because it was too reminiscent of the Roosevelt and Truman labels.

"The great society" presumably fits better with Johnson's desire to be viewed as a "president of all the people" — a sort of non-partisan leader who espouses causes aimed at unifying the nation.

Johnson bore down hard on the unity theme in his commencement address Saturday at the University of Texas.

Proclaiming a turning point in the national history, he envisioned a choice between two roads — one leading to "The Great Society" and the other "to a legacy of despair and degradation."

In a sense, the key items in the Johnson program are an outgrowth of his past. The poverty program is an example.

This package was no more than a packet of study papers when Johnson took office.

New Horizon

Hats will be off to the new board members of Coast Homemakers when they take office during the group's final meeting of the year at 9:45 a.m. Friday, June 5, in the home of Mrs. Jack Hirtler, 314 Robin Hood Lane, Costa Mesa.

Mrs. Hirtler will serve as installing officer when Mrs. Harry Paxton of Balboa Island assumes the presidency and Mrs. Lee Wadsworth of Costa Mesa becomes vice president. "Hats Off to Our Officers" is the theme of the session.

Others on the 1964-65 slate are the Mmes. M. Wild, Laguna Beach, secretary; Homer Alexander, Balboa Island, treasurer; Bradley Schwarz, Newport Beach, advisory chairman; Sanborn Chrysler, R. Schablen and Russell Roberts, Costa Mesa, publicity.

Also the Mmes. Michael Carl, Costa Mesa, membership; Albert Eichler, Costa Mesa, hospitality; N. Russell, Costa Mesa, luncheon chairman, and Howard Richards, Newport Beach, nursery chairman.

Also planned as part of the festive finale to the Homemakers' current year is a plant exchange and a potluck luncheon featuring a variety of salads. Members may swim in the Hirtler pool during the afternoon, and arrange for child care by calling Mrs. Wayne Hunter, Liberty 8-9771 or Mrs. Richards, Midway 6-4032.

CM Juniors' Gavel Changes Hands

Mrs. Stanley K. Bell (second from right) relinquishes the gavel and president's duties of Costa Mesa Junior Women's Club during impressive installation ceremonies conducted by Mrs. William Ker-mode during a luncheon meeting in Berkshires. Accepting leadership of the club for the coming year is Mrs. Gib Fernandez (right), who will be assisted by Mrs. Maurice Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Beauchamp, third vice president, and Mrs. William Yelich, second vice president (from left). Others on the executive board are Mrs. Larry Radell, secretary and Mrs. S. A. Martinez, treasurer. Vacation from meetings in July and August is planned but Juniors will continue philanthropic work at the Well-Baby Clinic, Fairview State Hospital and the Thrift Shop, according to an announcement by Mrs. Fernandez.

Service League Closes Year

A Time for Celebration

A time for celebration has been designated by Newport Harbor Service League for its end-of-the-year meeting tomorrow in Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

Blending educational features with a wine tasting party, representatives of Almaden Vineyards will lecture about the history and uses of California wines, according to an announcement by Mrs. Robert Fox, education chairman.

League members have good reason to celebrate and glasses will be raised in toasts to a job well done. Mrs. Thomas R. Young, president, announced the group has given almost 22,000 hours in community service and that each member averaged 245 hours.

Most of their time was served on community boards such as Volunteer Bureau, Fairview State Hospital volunteer board, Camp Fire Girls, March of Dimes, Girl Scouts, United Fund, PTA, PTO, Orange County Philharmonic Society, YMCA Indian Maidens, Master Calendar, Girls' Club of the Harbor Area, Children's Hospital Guild, Children's Home Society, American Field Service and California Dental Auxiliary board.

In addition each member was required to help at the Danish Coffee Garden, the league's permanent ways and means project. Funds from this source helped make possible the Rico Lebrun exhibition, co-sponsored by the league and Fine Arts Patrons.

Other funds have been dispersed to the Girls' Club, Volunteer Bureau, Community Youth Center and the Boys' Club. For the coming year, the league has pledged $2,000 to American Field Service and $4,000 to the Girls' Club.

In cooperation with Orange County Philharmonic Society, the league netted almost $7,000 from the I. Magnin fashion benefit for the free Symphonies for Youth programs. "All funds raised in the community are returned to the community," Mrs. Young emphasized. "Operational expenses are met by members' dues. Primarily a volunteer service organization, the league allocates funds for services on the basis of member interest as exhibited by volunteer work."

They enjoyed a visit with former Westcliff residents, Anita and Jim Goodman who came from their home in Jackson, Miss. to New Orleans to show them the French Quarter and all the excitement of the "old town."

Before returning home the Flanagins plan to sight see in Washington, D.C. and New York.

About Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

New Breed of Pool

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I work in an office where at least once a week someone approaches me about joining an office pool. If it isn't the Rose Bowl, a professional football game or the Kentucky Derby, it's the All-Star game or the World Series.

Gambling is against my principles but I have never criticized those who do it. I just say "no" and let it go. Something new has come up, however, and I wonder if I should say something.

Five of my co-workers have formed a pool in which each of them has listed the names of 100 famous people who may die during 1964. When one of these people dies, the ones who had his name add points to their scores by deducting the age of the deceased from 100.

Recently a well known American died. Mr. X came bounding into the office all smiles and announced triumphantly, "He was on my list."

Under the rules it says, "If the player himself dies, 100 points should be added to his score. If at the end of the year he is the winner, the proceeds of the pool should be spent for flowers for his grave, unless the surviving should vote to have a party."

What do you think of this?

DEAR D.F.: What you described is a re-heated version of the old ghoulish pool. Anyone who would make a game out of death is a tasteless cload.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is an emergency. I need help right away. I am 23, my fiancé is 24. The wedding has been planned for September. I learned today that I am pregnant.

I'm ashamed to tell you how ignorant I am about these things. It will break my mother's heart if we don't have the big wedding as planned. That's all Mom

Tea to Fete Volunteers Of Red Cross

Santa Ana Elks Club will be the setting for a recognition tea to be given at 2 p.m. Thursday, June 18, for volunteers of Southern Orange County Red Cross Chapter.

More than 1100 invitations have been mailed for the affair which will feature a talk by Mrs. Thomas Murphy, chairman of the board of San Juan Capistrano-Del Norte Point-San Clemente Branch.

Mrs. Murphy will discuss the International Red Cross and her visit to its headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland in 1958.

Serving on the hostess committee will be Mrs. Chester Skalmowski of Costa Mesa, recruitment chairman.

has talked about for months.

The doctor said the baby is due in six months. Do you think if I wear a tight girdle and stand up straight I can get away with it? Hurry your answer — and put it in the paper, please. I can't have your reply coming to the house.

—FINGERS CROSSED

DEAR CROSSED: Sorry, I can't be of much help. I don't know if you are slim or heavy, whether you will gain 10 pounds or 40 pounds. Some girls look pregnant in the third month and others look as if they are going to a dance when they are really going to the hospital to deliver.

People can and do count, so don't plan on putting anything over — even with the help of a tight girdle. Your best bet is to level with your mother and ask her what she thinks should be done.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister and I plan to give a party in honor of our parents' 35th wedding anniversary. Since my home is the largest, I have offered to have the party here.

The trouble is my folks know everybody in town and the guest list will run to about 300 people. My home can't accommodate that crowd, but I don't see how we can trim the list.

My husband suggested we remove all the chairs from the house to discourage people from sitting down. We plan to have sandwiches and a sweet table, but folks like to sit when they are having a snack — especially the men — so I vetoed the no-chair idea.

I know you are not running a social column, but this comes under the heading of a problem. Please suggest something.

—HATTIE

DEAR HATTIE: Stagger the guests. Invite 50 for 3 p.m., another 50 for 4 p.m. and so on.

Of course some people can be depended on to arrive with the first wave and to hang around till the last drop is poured, but nobody has ever figured out what to do about them, so don't try.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

HAWAIIAN HONEYMOON
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jacobs

Vows Exchanged

Bruce Jacobs of Newport Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobs of Cincinnati, Ohio, claimed Valerie Rasmussen of Garden Grove as his bride during a single-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Charles Dierenfield in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

For her wedding, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Thornton of Australia, wore a powder blue peau de soie sheath with matching jacket and pinned on a white carnation corsage.

Kay and Edwin Armstrong, their only attendants, were hosts at a reception for 30 guests in their Newport Beach home.

The bridal couple will live in Newport Beach when they return from a honeymoon trip to Hawaii.

What makes us tick... We like people and we want to serve. Always we decorate our store to make it pleasant. Right now the signal flags are flying from our ceiling to honor our new Yacht Shop.

Our produce is always the first with the finest, crispest fruit and vegetables to be found anywhere. Whenever possible, we buy from local farmers. Our own produce buyer goes to the market in Los Angeles at 3 in the morning to assure you of dewy freshness at 9 when you come in to shop. Salads... always a wondrous variety of crisp pickins... iceberg lettuce, Boston lettuce, romaine, fresh spinach, bronze lettuce, endive, red and green cabbage... Always fresh watercress and parsley. Fresh Hawaiian pineapple. We'll even fix one for you for serving. The top is sliced off, then we have a special cutter that goes down inside to cut six perfect slices, leaving the outside shell intact. The slices are put back in, the top back on, and you're ready for a party. Bottles of sparkling fresh orange juice, lemonade, and grapefruit juice.

Always the first with summer fruits. Right now cherries, apricots, and peaches are making their sparkling entrance... Delicious, fresh and always looks pretty enough to eat. Saunter round our produce department to the tinkle of wind chimes and discover fresh coconuts with the husks on. Ahler's organically grown grapefruit, hanging birdcage baskets and cello packages of chop suey vegetables, chinese peas, bean sprouts, and Belgium endive.

Then saunter to the bakery and marvel to the new 14 Karat Gold Cake... exceptionally moist, nutty tasting and delicious... fresh ground carrots are the secret that go into the sponge-like cake. The icing a dream of cream cheese, coconut, pecans and raisins... all like something you've never eaten before. And our Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce would like to see a Teena Tag on every car radio antenna... A double faced burgie of green with white letters saying "We like Newport Beach, California." Won't rust or tear. Comes in a mailing carton, too, and just everybody who is driving to the fair should have one. Gift Shop, upper level.

Always something extra beautiful... Gretchen, in our flower shop, can switch her mood from French nosegays to Hawaiian hospitality with the flip of a ti leaf. A recent creation accented bright red antherium and the natural dried foliage of cerromia leaves, thatch palm and date palm deglets, all tied together with majenta edged ti leaves looped to look like ribbon... very tropical and bamboo-ee delicious. Select your artificial flowers and our flower shop will make 'em come to life.

Always the unusual... Briteyed Susans... softer transparent jellies... could be orange on the outside to melt to raspberry, or lime to mint, lemon to orange or pineapple melting to chocolate. The different flavored centers shine through. In the Candy Shop.

Always something new... Downeaster frozen Maine lobster Newburg dinners, Bruce cold water cleaner, takes off the grime but leaves the wax on... Always something old... Usingers Yacht-wurst with pistachio nuts... real smokey Bavarian Volkswurst and soft Summer sausage...

Richard's... where people are our pleasantest business.

Westwood Church Scene of Wedding

St. Alban's Episcopal Church in Westwood was the setting for the marriage ceremony of Miss Bonnie Poucher and William Frederickson III, Dr. R. Parker Jones, rector of St. Alban's, and the Rev. John Yamazaki, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, officiated.

The pretty bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Clyde R. Poucher of Ft. Ord, where Col. Poucher is attached to the U.S. Army Medical Service. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Frederickson Jr. of Brentwood and Balboa, and his father is general manager of the Los Angeles City Recreation and Parks Department.

The benedict's sister, Miss Johanna Frederickson, interrupted a tour of Europe to serve as maid of honor at the wedding. John Brown, on leave from the Marine Corps, was best man.

Following the ceremony the newly married couple were feted at a garden reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Zimmerman in Brentwood, then left on a brief wedding trip. They will make their home in the Newport Harbor Area upon their return.

The new Mrs. Frederickson attended St. Mary's College and her husband attended Santa Monica City College.

Double Standard Passe?

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK, April 29

(UPI) — Come June 11, a federal law goes into effect which will affect a number of the 25 million women who hold jobs outside the home.

It's the equal pay for equal work law, compelling employers to boost lower wages to equal higher ones where sex-based differentials exist between men and women doing equal work.

What will the law mean to the feminine workers covered by it? Raises in some cases. Promotion opportunities in some instances. But at the same time, it may mean a lessening of job opportunities for women.

These are some of the expected results of the new law as found in a survey of 335 employers in all sections of the United States. Prentice-Hall did the survey.

Many women's jobs and wages are in for a complete re-evaluation and revamping, the researchers found. Companies' estimates of the number of jobs needing review ran anywhere from one to 20 per cent.

In some cases, companies expected as many as half of these jobs will need to be "restructured" in some way to erase existing inequities.

Most companies said they would be hiking women's pay rates — or they'd transfer male employees to other jobs and in the future segregate male and female job classifications. No company reported plans to lower the classification pay structure.

An East Coast printing firm, for instance, said it originally had a five cent (an hour) differential in starting rates, with the men earning more. But the firm now has made the starting wage the same in each job classification, upgrading the female pay rate to match the man's.

The researchers asked about possible bias in job re-evaluation, especially since some companies traditionally give the men the so-called heavy work.

One public utility executive for instance said that women "are assigned as cashiers, clerks, stenographers, receptionists. Key punch-operators, accounting clerks and home economists. We don't let them near the electricity."

But a hospital personnel executive had different ideas; women aren't the weaker sex at all.

"We set up our salaries based on job duties," he said. "We'd be perfectly willing to hire a female plumber, engineer or carpenter if one applied and was qualified. In patient care, a qualified nurse or aide need not call a man to help her with even the heaviest patients. We don't differentiate on the sex basis."

Does job turnover explain the lower average salaries for women? A number of companies said high turnover and resulting high training costs made women bad bets as career employees; therefore, they were "worth less" than men, even though they were performing their jobs adequately.

Said the Prentice-Hall report, "While this type of long-range thinking often influences a company's training and promotional planning, it won't conform with the equal pay law if women's pay is down-graded for this reason alone.

The survey found that in some cases the new law will lessen or limit job opportunities for women. Employers will segregate existing classifications wherever possible.

Cabana Duplicate Bridge Club meets every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Pacific Trailer Park, 80 Huntington Ave., Huntington Beach. Further information is available by contacting Maxine Burgan 536-6773.

MRS. ROBERT RANDOLPH HILL
Former Lidoites Wed

Vows Exchanged In Sierra Madre

Robert Randolph Hill and Jaclyn Lucile Tilley, both former Lido Isle residents, recited nuptial vows in an afternoon ceremony in Church of the Ascension, Sierra Madre, with the Rev. Harley G. Smith Jr. reading the service.

The lovely bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Tilley of Sierra Madre, formerly of Lido Isle and Montebello. Escorted to the altar by her father, she wore a gown of silk organza appliqued with chantilly lace, seed pearls and small crystals. Her dark beauty was accented by an elbow length bouffant veil of silk illusion, held in place by an organza rose trimmed with pearls and crystals. Her bouquet was a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids and lilies of the valley.

Anita F. Tilley of Sierra Madre was her sister's maid of honor while another sister, Betty Jo, and Miss Donna Canfield, of Oakland were junior bridesmaids. Completing the bridal entourage were Pat Hillinger, a cousin, Palos Verdes Estates; Julie Leach Myers, Corona del Mar; Margo Seamans Dutton, Riverside; Marguerite Hite Rohrbach, Boulder, Colo.; Sally Elmquist, Newport Beach and Linda Kennedy, San Diego. All were attired in yellow silk chiffon over taffeta and carried cascade bouquets of daisies and variegated ivy.

Tom Lee Tilley, younger sister of the bride, was flower girl and Craig Pickren of Sierra Madre was ring bearer. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allison Hill of Table Rock Terrace, Laguna Beach, formerly of Lido Isle, chose Michael Myers of Corona del Mar to serve as his best man.

Guests were seated by the bride's brother, William H. Tilley, Los Angeles; Paul Russell, Newport Beach; Larry Werner, Lido Isle; Craig Cadwalder, Lido Isle and Gene Bryant, Balboa.

Following a reception in the home of the bride's parents, the new Mr. and Mrs. Hill went to the family ranch estate in Indian Valley, Northern California for their honeymoon, and plan to make their home in West Hollywood upon their return.

The bride was graduated from Anokaia Girls School and attended University of Southern California where she pledged Kappa Alpha Theta. A fourth generation Californian, she was a 1961 Los Angeles Athletic Club debutante. Her husband was graduated from Orange Coast College and attended California State College at Long Beach.

Dramatic Plan Revealed For Capitol Modernizing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A dramatic and monumental face-lifting plan for historic but drab Pennsylvania Avenue between the Capitol and the White House has been presented to President Johnson.

The plan, proposed originally by the late President John F. Kennedy, was the end result of an 18-month study by the President's council on Pennsylvania Avenue. Spokesmen said it probably would cost between $300 million and $350 million and take many years to complete.

Highlights include: — A "Northern triangle" area of new government, private and commercial buildings on the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue, from 6th to 15th sts., and rectangular in shape with the apex at the Treasury Building at 15th and Pennsylvania Avenue. Present buildings in the area, described by the council as "shabby," would be razed.

— A new "national square" at the White House end of the avenue between 13th and 15th sts., 800 by 900 feet or slightly smaller than the Place de la Concorde in Paris. The council said it would be the "first truly national, truly urban square in the United States."

— A "monumental" White House gate a block away from the White House itself at the end of the national square. Approached from the Capitol, it would be flanked by Treasury Building colonnades on the right and a stand of trees sheltering the Sherman Monument on the left.

— Repaving the avenue in a distinctive color "like a welcoming carpet." The avenue would be lined by shade trees two and three deep on both sides of its mile-long length from the Capitol to the White House. Sidewalks would be in three tiers to permit easier viewing of parades and processions.

— A new "Market Square" midway between the Capitol and the White House featuring open space for umbrella-covered tables and chairs and a raised pedestrian deck.

— A large transverse reflecting pool in front of the Capitol at the end of the Great Mall.

— Underground parking for 10,000 cars throughout the area and several underground roadways.

— Completion of the present "federal triangle" of government buildings on the south side of Pennsylvania Avenue.

Legislation for the gigantic project would have to be approved by Congress before construction could begin. The council recommended that the plan be implemented in stages but that it be considered in terms of one big project, not as several projects.

The plan resulted from the first comprehensive study of Pennsylvania Avenue ever undertaken and only the third major analysis of federal architecture and planning in the heart of the nation's capital.

The first was Pierre L'Enfant's basic plan for the city in 1791; the second the McMillan report of 1901 which led to construction of the federal triangle.

COUNCIL

The 10-member council was headed by Nathaniel A. Owings, founding partner of the architectural and engineering firm of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association.

Among the famous buildings that would be torn down to make way for the project are the National Press Building, the Willard and Washington hotels, and the National Theater.

The council developed six underlying principles and premises:

— Pennsylvania Avenue is inseparable from its adjoining area.

— The avenue, as the nation's ceremonial way, should have an expressive character.

— The avenue should do honor to its lofty destinations — the Capitol and the White House — letting them be seen from a considerable distance and giving the appearance of leading firmly toward them.

— The avenue should be pleasant to traverse either on foot or by vehicle; easier to walk on, drive on and park near.

— The avenue and the adjacent northern triangle area should be reclaimed and redeveloped as a whole.

The council urged that one administrator or agency be placed in charge of the entire development and work along with existing agencies.

Here are some other high spots of the plan, working from the Capitol to the White House:

There should be a spacious terminal plaza as well as a reflecting pool in the Capitol Plaza area at the west front of the Capitol. Reconsideration of the presidential inaugural parade route could be made to tie into the general revision of grounds and parking.

Pennsylvania Avenue would cross over an underpass Constitution Avenue rather than splitting it with its present six-way crossing. A new, impressive entrance to the National Gallery of Art would be accomplished by carrying 6th Street across Pennsylvania Avenue and then bridging it across the Constitution Avenue underpass.

The Archives Building, midway between the two ends of Pennsylvania Avenue, would be used as an "anchor" to tie the avenue into the renewed downtown business district. This was a key to the L'Enfant plan.

North across the avenue from the Archives Building would be the new, expanded Market Square. It would be lined on two sides by new government buildings and on the far side by possibly a new group of private enterprise hotels and office buildings. The council said this would make the square a "prime location for rest, lunch, theaters, dining and entertainment."

The northern triangle area itself would be comprised of four levels and arcades, giving pedestrians all-year weather protection.

The bottom two levels would be for subsurface parking. The third level would run from Pennsylvania Avenue to E Street. The latter would be depressed to be level with the avenue and widened to carry six lanes of traffic. The top level would be an open pedestrian concourse linking all the buildings and leading directly into the present downtown shopping district.

A major purpose of the new National Square is to open the Treasury colonnade to view as an "impressive" end to the avenue. The square is designed to be large enough for marshaling parades, and for celebrations and ceremonies.

Artist's View of Estancia High School

under way this summer. It will cost about $3.4 million, will open in September 1965. Architects are Blum, Eilerbrook and Associates of Corona del Mar.

CofC Member Increase Seen

Plans to increase the membership of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce were discussed at a luncheon meeting Monday. Attending were executive and membership committee members of the chamber.

Included in the Huntington Beach Country Club gathering were Ed A. Hartsook, chamber president; Dave Selersen, membership chairman; Bill Gallienne, chamber manager; Bill Peterson, Art Wolfe, Harold Nissen, Al Eccles, Charles Meade, Robert Jurkovich, Howard Stephens, Darrell Ward and Sherrin Denny.

Plastic Water Pipe Dangers Explained

A warning to Costa Mesa residents of the dangers of plastic water service pipes was issued today by Michael Bingham, city building official.

Pointing out that soil conditions in some areas of the city are the cause of severe damage to improperly installed water pipe, Bingham stated that replacement with materials other than approved metal pipe presents a hazard which could lead to serious injury or even death by accidental electrocution. "Metal pipe is slightly higher in cost, but it is much safer to use it rather than

Ken Frankel Given Degree

Kenneth Frankel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Frankel, 444 Cabrillo Terrace, Corona del Mar, has been awarded a bachelor's degree in fine arts from Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A 1960 graduate of Newport Harbor High School, Frankel plans to pursue a master's degree next year at the University of Hawaii while serving as a teaching assistant in the drama department there.

Money-savers!

(This pair delivers a day's work in minutes)

These machines — Bell System DATAspeed sending and receiving units — can move a mountain of words and statistics from one point to another ten times faster than most people can talk. And all at regular telephone rates, whether local or Long Distance.

But there's more to DATAspeed economy than mere speed. The DATAspeed system can handle the punched tape output (five to eight channels) of a number of widely used business machines, as well as teletypewriters. Thus, the accumulation of an entire day may be wound on a DATAspeed reel and transmitted in minutes.

Improved communications is often the answer to a business problem.

Drawing on our experience, plus the skills of Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric, we can apply any one or a combination of more than 500 basic communications products and services to meet business needs.

We plan, furnish, install and maintain your system. You pay only a monthly charge, after installation.

Perhaps some of your business problems could be solved by better communications. To find out, just call the nearest Pacific Telephone business office. Ask for a Communications Consultant. There's no obligation.

Shuman Speaks Out

American industrialists realize as well as anyone that the wealth of a nation, this or any other, springs from its grass roots. But it does no harm to remind them of the fundamental fact now and then.

This is just what Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, did in his recent address to the National Industrial Conference Board, Inc., among the tall buildings of New York — which is about as far as he could get, psychologically, from a feed lot or a wheat field or a cotton patch.

He charged the present administration of the United States Department of Agriculture with "one mistake after another (that) is costing farmers billions of dollars in lost markets and lower prices." And he said: "It is becoming increasingly difficult to determine which side Secretary Freeman is on in President Johnson's announced war on poverty."

Mr. Shuman blamed "government tampering with markets and prices" for the drop of the parity ration (the indicator of how farmers are doing) to the lowest point in nearly 25 years — lower than under four previous Agriculture secretaries.

Bureaucratic blunders and "tinkering with the price system," he pointed out, have cost the taxpayers $2.5 billion for the first three years of the program to cut feed grain production; have resulted in more production, not less; caused excess feeding that has broken live stock prices — and will continue through 1965.

In 1961, Secretary Freeman boosted cotton price supports so that an 8½ cents per pound export subsidy was required to meet the world price. The Japanese then bought our cotton, shipped it back in finished goods and undersold our producers — requiring another subsidy (at 6½ cents a pound to U.S. mills) to save face at home.

In May, 1963, wheat farmers voted for more freedom and less subsidy. But this show of independence apparently terrified the Administration. With 100,000 jobs at stake in the USDA, it would never do to let the wheat farmers succeed on their own and infect other farmers with the freedom virus!

So a quickie wheat-cotton bill was jammed through Congress by the vote of House members from boss-ridden big city districts. It will mean, Mr. Shuman claims, lower income for wheat farmers, higher prices for bread.

Shuman then summed up the basic problem for all of us: "We must find a way to free farmers from an entangling web of government programs that are rooted in political expediency."

Lower Premiums Ahead

Good news is in the offing for parents of unmarried male drivers under 25 years old, or the drivers themselves, who have been paying automobile insurance premiums nearly twice as costly as for adult males.

Computers have satisfied the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association that:

—Young men do "settle down" when they marry, and girls do too.

—High school driver education pays off.

—Most claim-free drivers (no snide remarks, please) are women from 30 through 64 who live alone or are the sole operator in a household.

Next year young male drivers will be rated by exact ages. In many cases the premiums they pay will be very much less than under present groupings.

Betrayal by Castro

Manuel Ray Rivero — the name stirs memory.

In late June of 1959 in Havana he gave me an hour for talk. A window of his office in the Ministry of Public Works building looked out on a court yard. It was a jumble of trucks, carts and men coming and going. The picture was one of confusion.

"So much to do," he said, "and so little to do with. There are bridges burned out, rail and highway. There are buildings damaged. And roads." He grinned. "There is one advantage," he said. "I know where most of the damage is."

MANUEL RAY had been in charge of sabotage against the Batista government in Havana Province. He joined the resistance movement in 1957. It was not easy. He was prosperous, well-known. He was a major Cuban success story. His father had been a small shopkeeper. His mother had taught school. Young Ray worked his way through the university. He became a project engineer. He invented a new bridge-building technique and was awarded a postgraduate year at the University of Utah. He returned. He built the large Havana traffic tunnel. He constructed office buildings, hotels, roads.

But life became intolerable under Batista. There was terror, murder, oppression, business and labor blackmail. The young engineer organized a network of friends into an anti-Batista group. They began sabotage. In 1958 they merged their efforts with Fidel Castro who had become a symbol of opposition to Batista. Ray showed great courage in carrying out dangerous missions. At last Batista was defeated. One of the major factors in his defeat had been Ray's organization.

CASTRO MADE the brilliant young engineer Minister of Public Works. He was in this capacity when I talked with him, and others. Chief among the others was Felipe Pazos, an economist of repute. He had long before fled Batista's secret police. Castro made him head of the National Bank of Cuba. Both he and Ray said they knew of the small group of Communists who had infiltrated into the Castro organization. But they pointed out that the Communists had supported Batista until a few weeks before the Castro victory. Batista had worked with the Communists to corrupt the labor unions.

These two, who had risked their lives to pull down the brutal, sadistic murderer, Batista, were confident, as were others, they could build a decent government under Castro. "Fidel is at once our best asset and our worst liability," they said. "He has no sense of organization or administration. But he provides the inspiration. The people, who suffered so much under Batista, believe in him. He will not betray them." For a time Castro justified their faith.

THERE WERE a number of others interviewed. Many of them had fought in the mountains as guerrillas. Some had seen their families killed, their wives and daughters mistreated by Batista soldiers and police. They all but worshiped Castro. They had faith that he would help them build a free, decent country. By late 1959 or early 1960 they had all been killed, imprisoned or had fled into exile. Castro had betrayed them.

The Vanishing Novel

By WILLIAM HOGAN

The novelist and prize-winning writer of nonfiction, Herbert Kubly, is the umpteenth professional in recent years to complain about "the vanishing novel" in America. He did so in a particularly illuminating Saturday Review piece recently, noting that the demand for factual material has become so great in our society that even the talented novelist hasn't much of an audience.

Less than 12 per cent of all books published in this country last year were novels; then there is the tremendous gap between the novel that sells less than 5000 copies and the usually trashy one that sells a half million.

Change in Big Daddy

Our state legislature has just concluded a four-month session marked throughout by a high regard for democratic procedure, a lack of the raw power politics of the past, and a general spirit of fair play. And if there was one cry that echoed through the capitol as our weary legislators plodded homeward it was: "BRING BACK BOSS-ISM!"

Actually, it's all the fault of my friend, Mr. Jesse M. (Big Daddy) Unruh. Last year, he was looking up disidents, knocking heads together, throwing his 300 pounds around and getting things done. But the Republicans raised the grim specter of "Big Daddy, California's political boss." What an issue! Who likes a boss?

SO, AS YOU know Mr. Unruh took up cottage cheese, fruit juice and reading The Collected Works of Frank Merriwell. For when this year's session opened there was an entirely new figure in the Speaker's chair: Mr. Jesse M. (Bones) Unruh. Not only was he 100 pounds lighter, but his stringent diet, I fear, had warped his personality. For he had become soft on fair play.

The results were disastrous. Take the school bill. Mr. Unruh suggested California didn't really need its present 1595 local school districts. It could do, he said, with 108 and a lot of local administrators "might enjoy teaching." Even.

FINE, BUT DID he count the votes first and twist a few arms? No. I shudder to say he democratically tossed the bill in the hopper, democratically assigned it to the proper committee, and democratically sat back to await the decision. So the committee killed it. Did Mr. Unruh take revenge? Did he gouge, bite, kick or cut anyone's campaign off at the funds? No.

With a good loser's smile, he democratically introduced a milder version, democratically sat through hearing after hearing, and democratically accepted amendment after amendment with game grin after game grin.

IN THE END, just like Frank Merriwell, victory was his. Of course, the bill was unrecognizable. Of course, it took 15 weeks to pass it. And of course that was just one of the many, many bills handled much the same way. You never did see so much democracy in action.

But what with all this democracy in action, tempers were very frayed at closing time. Legislators were complaining of "the gigantic leadership void." Observers were labeling this "the dilly-dilly session." And my friend, Mr. Jackson Doyle, the ace newsman, said with a wry grin that he was thinking of forming "The Committee for the Return of Political Bossism."

WELL, THAT'S the trouble with democracy. When it's working well nothing much gets done. For if you want to give everyone an equal voice, you're going to have a hubbub. Personally, that's fine with me. I like everyone shouting out ideas. And I like my government to move slowly, clumsily and safely. When it comes to deciding which way and how fast to go, I don't trust any one man's wisdom. Including my own.

But getting back to politics, I'm afraid Mr. Unruh in his dramatic efforts to rid himself of the image of political bossism, has handed his enemies a new issue on a silver platter. Oh, I can see the billboards now: "Throw Out Wispy-washy Unruh — California Needs Leadership!"

Our Leaky Borders

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

It is almost as easy for a foreign agent or alien to enter the U.S. undetected these days as it is to travel from Washington to New York.

And they don't need private planes or "peedy" cabin cruisers to outfox U.S. authorities — as anti-Castro refugees are doing so regularly in their trips to and from Cuba.

UNDER THE newly relaxed immigration and customs procedures, one can make an illegal entry from Canada or Mexico by boarding one of the hundreds of scheduled daily flights to U.S. cities. Immigration authorities, whose hands are tightly tied by decisions at higher levels, privately admit that U.S. borders are now wide open to any Communist espionage agent, assassin, dope carrier, deported racketeer or undesirable who wants to make the trip.

They are warning their Justice Department superiors that the unpublicized changes made this year in immigration and customs procedures, based on the so-called "Nassau concept," have turned the leaky U.S. borders into funnels for illegal entries.

THE SECURITY situation on the Canadian border is so alarming that one District Immigration Director sent a confidential report to his Washington superiors, warning:

"At Toronto, the new 'Nassau concept' has opened a funnel through which the personnel of Power's Dancing Elephants, Pink's Mules, and a battalion of Russian-trained Cuban infantry, each carrying a bag of heroin, could enter the USA without a chance of being stopped."

This highly critical immigration report, gathering dust in the Justice Department the past three months, flatly charges that the new system has made "U.S. border security a farce, and could serve either as a comic theme for a Verdi opera or a James Bond, Ian Fleming spy story, except it is not fiction."

IT FRANKLY states that "we do not care whether Customs, the airlines, Justice or State Department investigated this set-up, but whoever in the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service approved it certainly was stupid in the truest sense of the word. If anyone in government service thinks the enemy is not as astute as he is, he is wrong."

According to the Immigration Director's findings, the "Nassau concept" works as follows:

"The traveler arrives at the airport to depart for the U.S. He checks in with the airlines and is referred to the dual inspection of U.S. border authorities.

"CUSTOMS AND Immigration inspectors man movable desks in front of the baggage reception of flight departing. At several periods during the day, two or three, or even four flights are departing at once. The traveling public storms the desk three to four deep. The scene is a duplicate of the confusion on a bargain day at Klein's, a famous Union Square dress store.

"When finally an officer of either service is available the examination is conducted with no privacy. If the traveler has 'hold' baggage, it is placed on the conveyor belt after inspection. If he has hand baggage, a strip seal (which is the same color for every day) is placed on the luggage. If he is found admissible, a stamp is placed by the officer on the envelope containing the traveler's ticket. The stamp used by Customs is undated, and these envelopes are not lifted — they could be used time and time again."

Sacramento Report

Uncertain Legislature

By JOHN A. MURDY, JR.
Orange County's State Senator

They'd have to go back in the history books a long way to find a state legislature in such a state of uncertainty as this one has been in Sacramento this year.

It's beginning to look as if the leadership in the California Legislature is fast being divided from Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh and Gov. Edmund G. Brown on down.

WE FIND THIS interesting in that the leadership rests with the majority party (Democrats) while the minority party (Republicans) appears to be more united than it has been in several years.

We see two major factors causing this uncertainty that plagued the legislature this year.

One is the over-abundance of the leadership (all chiefs but no Indians). The other is the united vote control of the Republicans in the Assembly. Combined, it stalled the legislature into a bind the likes of which we have never seen since taking office way back in 1953.

ADDED TO this is an apparent split in the Assembly Democrats which has added to Gov. Brown's woes. The governor has never had a comfortable leadership position with this session of the legislature.

Speaker Unruh apparently is trying to change his image from the "Big Daddy" power politician to something more palatable the state voters in case he runs for governor in 1966.

And the experts say he will. The Senate is not in as bad a state as the Assembly but even the upper house is stumbling around on some of the major legislation this year. The tide-lands oil revenue bill involving Long Beach is one example.

WHAT SURPRISES us in this legislative stalemate this year is the fact that no one seemed too concerned about getting back home to campaign for the June 2 primary election.

All Assembly seats and half the Senate seats were up for election. True, a few had no primary opposition but several did.

A comment we heard was equally disturbing in that many of them thought they would prefer to campaign from Sacramento than go back and work the district for voter support.

One of these days the voters might up and cast the "rascals" out en masse. The idea is intriguing, to say the least.

Auburn-haired Carol Harwood, a 17-year-old Costa Mesa High School senior, is another beauty in the running for the Lions Club Fish Fry diadem next week. Carol, who lives at 2709 Drake Ave. in Costa Mesa, is a 5-5, 125-pounder whose vital statistics measure out at 37-23-36. Her main ambition is secretarial work.

Councilmen Reject Rezoning Petition

The Costa Mesa City Council Monday night turned down by a narrow 3-2 vote a petition to rezone property on Thurin Avenue from residential to commercial.

The petition, by T. P. Igo of 2076 Thurin Ave., asked the zoning change at that address as well as 2070 Thurin. The property is now zoned for two-family residential use.

"This rezoning would create a problem for property owners to the north," declared Councilman Willard T. Jordan as he moved for denial of the petition. He was joined by Mayor Robert M. Wilson and Councilman A. L. Pinkley, while Councilmen Calvin Bark and Arthur Meyers voted in favor of the rezoning.

Another rezoning petition asking a change from institutional and recreational to commercial on the triangle of land bordered by Newport Boulevard and the twin forks of Victoria Street, was tabled two weeks.

This petition, which would pave the way for a gas station, was opposed by Les Nicholson, owner of an electrical firm at 220 Victoria. "Our only entrance off Newport Boulevard is one way on a cul de sac," Nicholson stated. "A gas station on that property would hide our advertising sign."

City Manager Robert L. Unger added that a study is under way on the feasibility of opening the Victoria cul de sac. Council voted to postpone action on the rezoning petition until this study is completed.

Two other rezones, adopted on second reading Monday night, create two new single-family residential areas on property previously zoned agricultural and two family residential.

One of these areas is between Gisler and Paulina avenues and between Babh and Bear streets. The other involves property at 3012, 3016 and 3020 Royal Palm Drive.

In other action Monday night the council approved:

A variance for Maurice J. Fitzmaurice of Los Angeles to construct eight units at 287 Avocado St. This was cut from nine proposed units by the Planning Commission.

A conditional use permit for the Union Oil Company, Los Angeles, to construct and operate a service station on the northeast corner of W. 15th Street and Anaheim Avenue.

Hoot Set To Aid Fairview

A Hootenanny to raise money for a therapeutic pool at Fairview State Hospital will be held at Newport Harbor High School, 8 p.m. on June 26, sponsored by the Rehabilitation Service Association of Fairview.

Talents of the Chamber Brothers, who do traditional folk music; Stu Jamieson, playing his five-string banjo with folk music in the traditional manner; and Bill Cunningham, entertaining in Dixieland fashion, have been enlisted.

The therapeutic pool is a series of "special use" pools combined into one facility—for training, progress, kiddies and "water experience." Costs are upwards of $50,000 and $22,000 has been raised through donations.

Mrs. Gloria Jamieson, coordinator of volunteers at Fairview, says tickets are available through Connie Bailey at the hospital, 545-9331, Ext. 481, or through Junior Auxiliary members of Newport Harbor High and Junior Ebell Club members of Newport Beach.

According to police, Hansen came to the home of his estranged wife where he encountered William Klassen, 40, 2218 Puente Ave. He then struck Klassen several times with a lead pipe, police said.

Klassen, was treated for lacerations of elbow and head at Hoag Presbyterian Hospital and released.

Vinsons to Close Old Mesa Market

By TOM TITUS

In 1925 the S.B. Vinson family came to the sleepy town of Costa Mesa (population 3,000) and set up a grocery store in one of the community's three city blocks on Newport Boulevard.

Today, nearly 40 years and 60,000 more people later, the Vinsons' Market is ready to close, ending one of Orange County's oldest continuing family small business operations.

Have things changed much over the years? Well, back in 1935 they moved their business about 50 feet to the north to its present location at 2214 Newport.

Aside from that, things have been pretty much the same for the store's present proprietors, Lance Vinson of 112 E. 22nd St. and his mother, Mrs. Mae Vinson who lives in the store building. Mrs. Vinson's husband, who brought the family here from Kansas in 1924, died 12 years ago.

"We were on the outskirts of town when we first came here," Lance Vinson explains. "There were only about three blocks of business places and they were farther down on Newport Boulevard."

With the exception of the years between 1938 and 1940 when he operated a store in Santa Ana, Vinson has spent the past 40 years with his mother in the Newport Boulevard store.

He has two children, Mrs. James Walters of 2207 Rutgers Drive, and a son, Loren, a student at San Diego State College.

The Vinsons' future plans? "We never had time to do too much traveling," Lance says, "so we're going to see a little of the country. But we'll still make our home here in Costa Mesa."

ENDING 40 YEARS — Lance Vinson and his mother, Mae, prepare to close their grocery store at 2214 Newport Blvd. after 40 years in Costa Mesa. The store is believed to be the longest family-owned business of its kind in the city.

Southland News Service
ANAHEIM — Max Cory, Orange County farm advisor, who was assigned here in 1922, is hanging up his hay fork July 1 after 43 years in the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. During that time he has seen the county's farm output climb from a yearly value of $30 million in 1922 to its present $102 million despite a reduction in acreage. The swing to a high-value crops like strawberries, celery and ornamentals is the answer.

Cory pioneered in studies of underground water, rural fire protection, cowtesting which improved production of butterfat from 351 pounds per cow per year to 545 pounds. As county extension director J. J. Coony put it: "Max had a hand in virtually every phase of this county's development as one of California's leading agricultural producers."
