Drug Bust Nets 3 From Irvine

Heroin Operation 'Cracked'

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin-trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Highcrest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics purchases.

The raid on the Highcrest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant.

The arrested were identified as:

—Tony Gomez, 45, booked at Orange County jail on charges of possession of heroin for sale, and processing of peyote. Bail was $5,000.

—Aurora Noble, 43, booked at Orange County women's jail on charges of processing peyote, possession of heroin and possession of marijuana. Bail was $2,500.

—A 17-year-old male juvenile whose name was withheld, booked into juvenile hall on charges of processing peyote and possession of marijuana. Juvenile hall officials would not release bail information.

All three listed the Highest house as their address.

Arrested after police arranged to meet telephone callers at the house were Richard Brown and Galo Hinojosa, 22, both of Santa Ana.

Both were booked at Newport Beach city jail. Brown on (See HEROIN, Page A2)

Firm Formed Former Envoy Aids Iranians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Helms, former ambassador to Iran, has established a consulting firm to help Iranian companies find business in the United States, the Washington Post reported today.

Helms' downtown Washington firm is called the Safer Co., because Safer means "ambassador" in the Persian language of Farsi, Helms told the Post.

The story quoted the former CIA director as saying, "I might be a go-between or represent Iranian interests who would want to do something in this country."

Helms was fined $2,000 and given a suspended sentence Nov. 4 after he pleaded no contest in federal court to failing to testify fully and accurately before a Senate committee. The testimony involved U.S. operations in Chile.

Wrong Target

Marine Jets Fire On Salvage Ship

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Marine attack jets apparently mistook a salvage ship as a practice target and opened fire with rockets that narrowly missed a diver.

Diver Don DeNairie was only stunned by the concussion from the explosions.

The jets flew out of the Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla., but their home field was not immediately known.

The incident, confirmed Wednesday by the Navy, occurred Nov. 6 as DeNairie, a diver for Treasure Salvors, Inc., was over the side of an 187-foot World War II-vintage buoy tender.

He was working alone on the engineless ship, which serves as a base of operations for salvage being done on a sunken Spanish treasure ship. A crew returned for DeNairie Monday, eight days after the incident.

"You could hear the explosions first," the diver said Wednesday. "Then you could see the aircraft and then hear the jets."

DeNairie said he managed to climb back aboard the ship and raised an American flag in an effort to stop the rocket attack. But the planes made other passes and fired again, he said.

Fortunately their pilots were having an off day. None of the rockets made a direct hit.

Marine Capt. Hal Cutlip in New Orleans said the target ship the two A-4 Sky Hawks were supposed to have fired at was 10 miles to the north.

Cutlip called the attack a mistake and said an investigation was under way.

"I would say the ship and the captain and the crew would be due an apology," he said.

Marine's Torching Recalled

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A University of Colorado midshipman says he saw flames "the size of a shoe box" on the clothing of a Marine recruit allegedly set afire by a drill instructor.

The testimony was given by Stanley Austin, 20, of Grand Junction, Colo., in a pretrial hearing Wednesday. Another former recruit, Marine PFC Richard Hilmer, 18, of Woodbridge, Va., said he never saw the flames.

Hilmer testified, however, that he saw Pvt. V.N. Aldaz of East Chicago, Ind., patting his clothing that day, July 9.

Sgt. John B. Norris, 22, of San Bernardino is charged with hazing Aldaz, referring to him as "torch," maltreating the 21-year-old recruit by spraying lighter fluid on his trousers and igniting it.

A general court-martial was scheduled to begin before a jury and a Marine colonel Wednesday but its start was delayed to allow the defense attorney to question another witness in Boulder, Colo. (See RECRUIT, Page A2)

Bid for Transfer Mulled by Judge

By JOANNE REYNOLDS
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

A bid by two of the suspects in the Bovan murder case to be transferred into the custody of the U.S. Marshal remains undecided today.

A spokesman for Municipal Court Judge Selim Franklin said the judge has not yet made a decision on the motion made before him Tuesday. There have been indications the judge will deny the transfer proposal.

William Sheffield, the attorney representing jailed murder conspiracy suspect Anthony Marone Jr. and Tom Crosby, attorney for Raymond Resco, also jailed in the case, told Judge Franklin their clients are being held in what amounts to solitary confinement in Orange County Jail.

The two men, and the third jailed suspect, Jerry Fiori, are involved in the federal witness program which is used to protect the lives of people who testify in cases involving organized crime.

In an earlier court appearance, Resco's attorney said his client, who has been identified as a relocated federal witness, fears for his life in county jail.

In the Tuesday motion, Crosby and Sheffield argued that the pro-

Israel Visit Firm For Egypt's Sadat

By The Associated Press
President Anwar Sadat of Egypt will visit Jerusalem for 36 hours starting Saturday night and will address the Israeli parliament Sunday, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin announced today.

But Sadat will make the visit, which he has described as a "sacred duty," without the support of Syria and apparently with major opposition within his own country. His foreign minister resigned today.

In Beirut, Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat condemned the planned visit and urged Sadat to cancel it.

In his address to the Israeli parliament, Sadat is expected to call for Israeli evacuation of all lands captured in the 1967 war and establishment of a Palestinian state — standard Arab demands that Israel previously rejected.

But the visit itself will represent unprecedented recognition by an Arab leader of the state of Israel.

Begin announced the visit shortly after Sadat returned from Damascus, where Sadat failed to win President Hafez Assad's support for the visit.

Assad called the visit a source of "deep sorrow." The trip has also come under fire from Iraq and Libya.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said that when Sadat returned to Ismailia, he received the official Begin invitation for the visit through U.S. Ambassador Hermann E. E. It was accompanied by a message from President Carter, the contents of which were not disclosed.

Sadat accepted. The U.S. ambassador to Israel, Samuel Lewis, then called Begin, who made the announcement to visiting U.S. congressmen.

At the same time, Egypt's official Middle East News Agency announced that Sadat's foreign minister and key aide since the 1973 war, Ismail Fahmy, had resigned, a move that could indicate deep opposition within the country to the Jerusalem visit.

The agency said Fahmy's letter of resignation cited "new elements which affected the situation," an apparent reference to Sadat's trip. "I feel that I cannot continue in my post and that I cannot continue to share in shouldering responsibilities in these conditions," Fahmy wrote.

In Jerusalem, Begin told a group of American congressmen in the presence of reporters that Sadat would pray in the Al Aqsa Mosque in on Sunday before addressing the Israeli Parliament.

The announcement came as a surprise to most Israelis who had not expected the Egyptian visitor before Nov. 24.

Begin said he hoped Sadat would also visit Yad Vashem, Israel's national monument to Nazi victims and a regular stop on all visits of foreign dignitaries. The prime minister said he expected to converse with Sadat in English.

In Damascus, Sadat assured Assad that he did not intend to seek a separate peace with the Israelis, with whom the Arabs have fought four wars. But his unprecedented visit to speak before the Israeli parliament would be the closest any Arab government has come to recognizing the state of Israel.

Although Sadat said he had not asked to meet Begin, but only to address the Israeli parliament, the timetable announced in Jerusalem said the two leaders would hold private talks before Sadat addresses the parliament.

Begin said he would personally receive Sadat at the airport. Israeli police prepared one of the largest security operations of Israel's history, canceling vacations and mobilizing thousands of men.

prevailing winds might carry radioactivity into heavily populated areas, the casualties could be up to 1,000 times higher than the Rasmussen estimates, the group said.

It concluded that nuclear accidents could cause some 14,400 fatal cancers by the year 2000.

In a large nuclear program, there may be one chance in 100 of a nuclear power plant accident that would kill up to 100,000 people, the union study said, and under the worst circumstances up to 300,000 could die.

The union said it believes that the hazards, as it estimates them, "will prove unacceptable to the public."

"A single large, but by no means the largest, nuclear accident may well occur within a few decades," the union study said. "Should this occur we judge that the public response would be very great and could well threaten the continued operation of domestic nuclear plants."

The group said the United States should not commit itself heavily to nuclear power until it has more reliable assurances of safety.

The group recommended that the NRC withdraw its Rasmussen study and do its safety analysis over again.

Horsing Around?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some might call it horseplay. Others might say it was rustling. But Michael Afanador, 25, has been charged with theft of city property and criminal mischief for allegedly taking a ride on a police mount.

Officer Leroy Patterson said he tied up his horse, Melba Quazor, outside a restaurant, went in for a cup of coffee and came back out just as Afanador was riding off.

"I couldn't believe my eyes," Patterson said.

Afanador told police he was only feeding peanuts to the horse.

Seized in the search were twelve balloons of heroin, four dozen peyote buttons and a small quantity of marijuana. Police also confiscated 16 hypodermic syringes, empty balloons in which heroin is packed, and a jar of lactose, a powder used to mix with heroin.

One Irvine police officer was injured while storming the house. Elliott Nemerson broke his left elbow when a fence he was climbing collapsed. He was treated at Tustin Community Hospital.

Girl Killed Fleeing Rape

LANCASTER (AP) — A 22-year-old Lancaster man has been booked for investigation of murder following the death early today of a 16-year-old girl.

Police said she was injured Tuesday when she jumped out of a moving pickup truck while allegedly trying to resist the driver's sexual advances.

Los Angeles County Sheriff's deputies said the girl was Liza Kozee of Redondo Beach.

'Thousands May Die'

Scientists Fear Reactor Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of scientists opposing nuclear power plants said today the government's basic safety estimates are far too optimistic and that reactor accidents may kill thousands of people by the year 2000.

The Union of Concerned Scientists, a group frequently involved in challenges of Nuclear Regulatory Commission policy, issued a detailed criticism of the NRC's 1974 "Rasmussen Report," the government's chief safety assessment.

The Rasmussen report concluded that the chances of a serious nuclear power plant accident are almost insignificant — smaller than the chance of a person's being killed by a falling meteorite.

But the Union of Concerned Scientists charged that this much-debated analysis contains serious mistakes that underestimate the danger to the public.

The group said "correction" of the Rasmussen study shows the odds of a nuclear reactor melting and releasing radioactive substances may be 20 times greater than the NRC estimated.

The early injuries and fatalities from such an accident may be 10 times greater than previously estimated and, where

Irvine Man Third Air Crash Victim

An Irvine resident has been identified as the third victim of Tuesday's midair collision off Crystal Cove, Orange County coroner's officials said Wednesday.

Missing and presumed dead is Thomas A. Glass, 34, of 3741 Avenue Sausalito in Irvine.

Coroner's officials said body parts located at the crash scene three and one-half miles south of the Newport Beach harbor entrance belonged to a second victim, James Tibbott, 38, of 9312 Comstock Drive in Huntington Beach.

A third victim, also listed as missing and presumed dead, is Robert Baker, 41, of 22842 Foxborough Way in El Toro.

FAA officials said today Tibbott held commercial instrument and instructor ratings. Baker had received his private pilot's license Aug. 24.

The three victims were co-workers at VTN, an engineering and land planning company located near Orange County Airport.

A VTN spokesman, Judy Haselhof, said the trio was not flying on company business. She said Tibbott gave flying lessons during his off time, which was usually during the noon hour.

A National Transportation and Safety Board investigator said today it was unknown who was piloting the ill-fated Cessna 182 at the time of the collision. He also said it was unknown if Tibbott was giving lessons on the flight.

The Cessna was rented from Newport Air Associates.

A second aircraft, a Piper PA28, limped back to Orange County Airport and landed safely with its two occupants following the midair crash.

Tibbott is survived by his wife, Linda, and three children; Baker is survived by his wife, Janice, and two children; and Glass is survived by his wife, Kathryn, and three children.

State Salary Raise Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California State Employees Association is plugging for a 12.5 percent wage increase next year.

The labor group told the State Personnel Board Wednesday that 10 percent is needed to keep up with costs, and 2.5 percent is needed to make up for cutbacks in the 1977 raises.

The board recommends pay scales to the governor and Legislature. It recommended and the Legislature approved 10.1 percent raises this year, but Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. cut that to 7.5 percent.

After the pretrial hearing, a base spokesman said a decision would be made on whether a court-martial is held and when. Austin and Hilmer are attending college under pre-commission programs.

Austin said Aldaz was not a regular member of the platoon led by Norris. He had been sent from the correctional platoon where problem recruits are put for special training or confinement.

There was no explanation why Aldaz was confined to the correctional unit where Pvt. Lynn McClure was assigned in 1975 before being knocked unconscious in forced pugil stick drills. That recruit from Lufkin, Tex., died without regaining consciousness in a Houston veterans hospital.

Although Hilmer said he never saw Aldaz afire, he said he turned to see what was happening that day after hearing Norris tell Aldaz four or five times to stand at attention. He said Aldaz had refused.

protective measures instituted in county jail amount to solitary confinement and said their clients would be both safer and more comfortable in federal custody.

There have been some indications, however, that if the two men are released to federal officials, that their whereabouts will remain a secret of the Marshal's Service.

In hearing the motion on the transfer, Judge Franklin said he would have to discuss the matter with the Los Angeles Marshal's Office before making his ruling.

Resco, Marone and Fiori are accused of murder conspiracy in the shooting death of Stephen John Bovan who died Oct. 22 outside a Newport Beach restaurant.

Police allege the three men were hired by four local businessmen to kidnap and kill Bovan.

Heroin Traffic Cracked

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Highercrest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics purchases.

The raid on the Highercrest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant.

The arrested were identified as:

—A 17-year-old male juvenile whose name was withheld, booked into juvenile hall on charges of processing peyote and possession of marijuana. Juvenile hall officials would not release bail information.

All three listed the Highercrest house as their address.

Arrested after police arranged to meet telephone callers at the house were Richard Brown and Galo Hinojosa, 22, both of Santa Ana.

Both were booked at Newport Beach city jail, Brown on charges of burglary with intent to possess heroin (police allege he broke into the home), Hinojosa on a charge of being under the influence of an opiate.

Brown was held on $10,000 bail. Bail for Hinojosa was set at $1,000.

Seized in the search were twelve balloons of heroin, four dozen peyote buttons and a small quantity of marijuana.

2 Arrested; Drugs Seized At CM Hotel

Santa Ana police arrested two men and seized cocaine and marijuana worth an estimated $106,000 Wednesday night in the parking lot of a Costa Mesa hotel.

Arrested were Gustavo Diaz Samaniego, 29, of Wilmington, and Albert Valdez, 32, of Carson. Valdez faces charges of selling cocaine and marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon. Samaniego faces charges of conspiracy to sell cocaine and marijuana.

Both men remained in Santa Ana jail today.

Seized were six ounces of cocaine worth about $80,000 and 40 kilos of marijuana worth about $26,000, police said.

Sgt. John Collins said the 8 p.m. arrests were made after two undercover Santa Ana police officers and a police woman allegedly arranged to buy the drugs from the pair.

Santa Ana police, assisted by Costa Mesa police, arrested the two without resistance.

He was alone in the car and no other vehicles were involved, police said.

Candidate to Resign From Advisory Post

In his speech, speaking both as a private citizen and a member of the citizen's advisory committee, Steel said he did not support the committee's recommendation to close Vista School for relocation of McNally Continuation School.

This prompted some members of the committee to claim Steel was backing the Monte Vista parents only to further his chances in the March 7 councilmanic election.

County Campaign Limits Proposed

Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Orange County Supervisor Ralph Clark has proposed a county political campaign ordinance that places a lid on candidate spending and limits the amount individual donors can contribute to a political campaign.

Clark's proposal also provides for the establishment of a county fair campaign practices commission to oversee campaigns for county offices.

The commission suggested by the Anaheim supervisor would have subpoena power and be fortified by a deputy district attorney assigned to the commission staff.

According to Clark, his proposed ordinance can be enacted this year and placed on next year's ballot to be either ratified or rejected by county voters.

If enacted immediately as Clark wants, the ordinance would place a 75-cent a voter limit on campaign spending in next June's primary election.

In comparison, in the same election in 1976, Supervisor Thomas Riley spent more than $2 a voter to win a landslide victory.

Clark's proposed ordinance would also limit the amount individual donors can give to a candidate to $500 annually.

Elected officials who violate the $500 limit would be ineligible "from voting or ruling on matters involving" the donors for an unspecified time.

Other Coverage

In contrast to Clark's proposed $500 limitation, contributions to county supervisor campaigns have run as high as $5,000 and donations of $2,500 are common.

Not covered by the Clark proposal are loans to candidates, a device used by heavy backers to help feed dollars into candidate coffers that are later recovered through cocktail and dinner fund-raisers.

No One Remembers 'UFO Invasion'

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — If this quiet Mississippi River town of 5,300 was sacked by aliens last summer, the invaders covered their tracks well. No one remembers any invasion.

But a headline on an article in a magazine called "Official UFO" tells of the looting and burning of Chester.

Chester's "sheriff," Luke Grisholm, writes in the magazine that he tried in vain to get Chanhute Air Force Base at Randolph to send Strategic Air Command jet fighters to repel the invaders.

The story says that Chester television sets went blank and then registered the image of an alien figure.

As most everyone here knows, Chester has no city sheriff, but there is a chief of police named Harold Howie.

"Believe me, I'm not a writer," says Howie. "I didn't have a thing to do with that story."

The magazine says the story was suppressed by local officials.

"I wondered what the hell I was covering up in Chester," says Mayor Stanley Macieleski, identified as Mayor Uhlan Moulton in the story.

"I think somebody nearby really wrote the story," says the mayor.

"Official UFO" is printed at Spartan Printing in Sparta, a city near Chester. Circulation figures for the magazine, which is distributed throughout the United States, Canada and overseas, were not available.

Editor Jeffrey Goodman said from New York that the story had come from a free-lance writer who asked to remain anonymous. He said the magazine staff tried to "check out" the story as best it could.

An editor's note beginning the article says that in the past several weeks, Goodman's office has been flooded with reports from Chester residents — all relating to the same incident.

Looting and burning of Chester? Says Mayor Macieleski: "The thing that's really funny is that we didn't have a report of a single fire on Aug. 2."

Abercrombie And Fitch Close Shop

NEW YORK (AP) — In velvet-collar Chesterfield coats, khaki flak jackets, elegant pants suits or faded jeans, hundreds of New Yorkers streamed through the doors of Abercrombie & Fitch today for a last fling at elegant spending there.

The 85-year-old store, outfitter of famous big-game hunters and anonymous fishermen, is going out of business.

A $480 ebony shearling full-length coat from the Napa Valley of California, marked down to $360, was the first item rung up in the third-floor woman's clothing department.

The buyer, Jill Schoenbach of Manhattan, said, "I've wanted one a long time." While her sale order was being written up, she hunted up a telephone to call a friend and urge her to the store.

The first few hundred to move through the main doors on Madison Avenue had been in line through most of the rainy early morning for the sale. Even after the 8 a.m. opening, thousands were joining two lines circling the block and converging from 45th and 46th Streets.

The line had already begun to form shortly before midnight when rain began to fall. The five people in line at that point said they were willing to brave the weather and the night for a chance to say goodbye to a part of history — and to buy the store's exclusive goods at 25 percent to 50 percent off.

Rachel Peskin, 14, of Manhattan was first in line. She was looking for "a leather turtle, an archery set, anything unique," but the main reason she was there was because "I feel that before it closes, I wanted to be here."

The lure was sale-priced merchandise throughout a store that became an institution to wealthy sportsmen after a onetime prospector named Abercrombie and a lawyer named Fitch went into business together around the turn of the century.

The $8.5 million inventory included shearling coats, safari jackets, fishing tackle and all manner of luxury items such as a $2,000 beaver suede coat complete with suslik lining. Suslik? It's an Indian temple mouse with skin of notable softness.

Founded here by David Abercrombie as a camp-supply store in 1892, the concern caught the fancy of an eccentric lawyer who was its biggest customer before he joined the enterprise.

He was Ezra Fitch, who parted company with Abercrombie in 1917, opened the store at its present Madison Avenue location and lived in a log cabin on its roof, where he practiced fly-casting in the pool.

The firm provisioned Theodore Roosevelt for his dash up San Juan Hill and Charles Lindbergh for his dash across the Atlantic Ocean.

It supplied Roald Amundsen with warm clothes for his 1911 conquest of the South Pole, provided Roosevelt with snake-proof sleeping bags for an African safari, outfitted Adm. Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition and once sold former Chief Justice Earl Warren two sets of cashmere hunting underwear.

Other customers included presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, William Howard Taft, Warren G. Harding and Herbert H. Hoover as well as Amelia Earhart and Ernest Hemingway, who was wont to browse among the firearms.

There was a 15-month attempt at reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws and a vain search for a buyer for the chain.

Town Advised, 'Boil Water'

VIRGINIA CITY (AP) — State health officials have decided to tell residents of this famed mining town to boil their drinking water — even though nothing indicates the water is bad.

Storey County Commissioners learned the step is being taken because the county failed to turn in reports on a sediment in its water, which comes from the Marietta-Hobart system in the Sierra Nevada.

Commissioners decided to have firemen learn how to use a device for measuring turbidity in the water and make the required reports.

Coastal Reservoir Pushed

South Coast County Water District officials say they will push ahead with early construction of a new seven-million gallon water reservoir, after getting the go-ahead for the project from district voters last week.

Raymond Miller, general manager of the district, said preliminary design work has already been done on the project, and with $2.75 million in bond funds now available, he says work should start early next spring.

The new storage reservoir will be located on a five-acre site which is currently occupied by a $2 million gallon steel water tank. The new reservoir will be constructed just north of Dana Hills High School.

Miller said the structure will be built below ground level, and said the district is looking into construction of tennis courts, a public park or playground atop the reservoir at some future date.

Costly Bike Stolen From Newport Youth

Fourteen-year-old Roger Hanks spent a recent evening at his parents' Newport Beach home polishing and re-assembling the 1940 classic Schwinn Panther bicycle he'd spent six months building from spare parts.

The next morning, he hopped on the Panther, in which he'd invested $500 he'd earned himself, and rode it down to his favorite bike shop to show it to his friends who worked there.

Then Roger parked the bike in back for a few minutes while he helped them with some work.

When he came out, the Panther was gone.

"It was complete. Everything was there," Roger said of the bicycle stolen this week. He said a bike shop owner estimated the Panther's value at between $850 and $1,000.

The only things lacking were some chrome on the fenders and a final paint job in red and cream.

The Newport Harbor High freshman said he became interested in restoring bikes about a year ago when his grandfather gave him a stripped-down 1950 bike. He restored it and a 1955 bike for his parents, Thomas and Joleene Hanks of Bayshores.

Roger said a neighbor, John Anderson, spent hours teaching him how to piece the bikes together and allowed him to use his garage as a workshop.

Babysitting and yard jobs helped provide Roger with the funds for the 1940 Panther, which he and Anderson assembled from scratch after seeing a friend's restored Panther. Roger also sold for $200 a sabot he'd bought with money earned as a Daily Pilot carrier.

Mrs. Hanks said the theft has been reported to police, but that they said Roger has only one chance in 100 of recovering it. They warned it may have already been disassembled for parts.

The family is also circulating pictures of the bike to schools and offering a reward, but has had no luck so far.

Roger is upset about the theft, but he's not giving up. If the family's insurance pays for the Panther, he said he'll use the money to assemble a similar 1940 bike.

He added, "I would never steal anything because I would never want anybody to feel the way I feel about losing that bike."

Girl Admits Slaying Boss

VAN NUYS (AP) — A 16-year-old girl has pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the shooting death of her 78-year-old partially blind boss.

Terri Epperson of Pacoima, who has been charged with murder, entered the plea to the lesser charge Wednesday before Superior Court Judge Joseph DiGiuseppe. He set a Dec. 14 sentencing date.

The body of Day Elmer Varney, a San Valley second-hand-shop owner, was found wrapped in a blanket inside the store June 27. He had been shot in the head twice.

Chicano Preference

Santa Ana to Pay $100,000 in Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city of Santa Ana has agreed to pay $100,000 to 22 Mexican-Americans denied jobs in the police and fire departments and to give them preference in hiring for future openings.

The proposed settlement of a 1974 class-action lawsuit by the League of United Latin American Citizens was filed in District Court Wednesday. Judge Warren J. Ferguson has scheduled a Dec. 16 hearing on whether he should approve the settlement.

The agreement also provides $75,000 in attorney's fees for the Center for Law in the Public Interest, which represented the Mexican-American group.

The city planned to appeal an earlier ruling by Ferguson that the city's written test for job applicants discriminated against Mexican-Americans. But the agreement stipulates that even if the city wins that point, the amount of money paid to the plaintiffs and their attorneys will not be refunded.

Ferguson did not set a quota in ordering the city to increase the number of Mexican-Americans on its police and fire departments, but said preference should be given to Spanish-surnamed applicants.

5 Firefighters Injured

Raging Fire Contained, Expensive Homes Safe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A raging brush fire has been halted three miles from expensive coastal homes near Malibu, ending three days of round the clock fire fighting on two blazes, officials said.

"We have 100 percent containment," Barry Helsel of the county Fire Department said Wednesday night. "The fire is almost dead."

THE SMOLDERING EMBERS of the fire, which charred 1,350 acres in the rugged Santa Monica Mountains 30 miles west of downtown Los Angeles, were expected to be extinguished by today, Helsel said.

"The weather is on our side," he said. "Today was fairly warm, but the humidity came up."

The earlier blaze was contained Tuesday after burning 1,200 acres in Topanga Canyon about 15 miles to the east. That fire burned down six buildings and forced evacuation of hundreds of residents.

THE HUMIDITY HAD been an extremely dry, 18 percent during the latest fire's first day, when 200 acres an hour were blackened by the wall of flames as sparks leaped from ridge to ridge and ignited the tinder-dry brush.

Most of the 700 firefighters who stopped the blaze had gone home by Wednesday night, leaving fewer than 200 manning the fire camp and patrolling the hills to watch for flare-ups.

Six firefighters were injured, including 25-year-old Mike Eubanks, who underwent surgery at Westlake Hospital for multiple injuries suffered when a tractor rolled over him. He was reported in critical condition early today. The other firemen suffered minor injuries.

THE BLAZE — STARTED Tuesday by embers from a smoldering fire in an illegal dump and fanned by dry, gusty desert winds — was halted about three miles from the well-to-do Malibu oceanfront area.

Helsel said the only structures damaged were a studio dwelling and several small hillside sheds. A boat being stored out-of-doors and a car also were destroyed.

He said about 180 youths evacuated from two juvenile detention camps were expected to return today to the facilities, which were unharmed.

Police Chief Cleared of Wrongdoing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Embattled Police Chief Charles R. Gain has been cleared of wrongdoing in connection with a published photograph of the chief at the city's infamous Hookers' Ball.

But in clearing Gain Wednesday, the Police Commission ordered him to answer further charges that he used taxpayer money to track down the photograph and similar ones taken at the Oct. 28 affair.

The picture, published in the San Francisco Examiner, showed Gain happily posing with Hookers' Ball organizer Margo St. James and a woman identified only as "Wonder Where."

Commission President Richard Siggins determined "there's nothing wrong" with the photographs after the commission examined them in a lengthy closed-door meeting.

But commissioners did suggest to Gain that his presence at the affair was "unwise." Gain conceded.

Stock Climbs Disney Merger Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walt Disney Productions and American Express Co. have denied Wall Street rumors that they're planning to merge.

In a joint communique issued before the market opened Wednesday, the two firms declared: "Reports of a possible tender offer are completely untrue."

THE STATEMENT admitted that American Express officers had visited Disney last week and brought up the subject of a merger. But it stressed that no terms were discussed, no further meetings are scheduled, and the two sides have agreed to drop the matter.

A Disney spokesman, James L. Stewart, said that when the American Express representatives brought the merger topic up, "We said we were not interested."

STEWART ADDED that the incident would not have been worthy of any comment if the rumors had not reached Wall Street and triggered a $1.50 rise in the price of Disney stock Tuesday.

Following Wednesday's joint announcement, Disney stock rose another 87½ cents, while American Express stock fell 12½ cents.

North California Temps Cooling

By The Associated Press

A major change in air pattern is expected to whisk a blast of Alaskan cold air over the state's northern half and drop temperatures by as much as 20 degrees, the National Weather Service said today.

The sharpest chill over the region should be felt during the weekend, the weather service said. But temperatures at several locations were forecast to begin skidding downward by today.

10,000 Might Apply For 75 Harbor Jobs

WILMINGTON (AP) — More than 10,000 persons are expected to apply for 75 longshoreman's jobs by the close of the application period Friday, union officials say.

And for the first time, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Pacific Maritime Association opened harbor jobs to women.

Another 75 jobs at Los Angeles Harbor will be given to union members now working in San Diego, Port Hueneme, Stockton and San Francisco, where the workload is less, said John MacEvoy, manager of the shipowners' group.

Tax Session Nixed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Democratic speaker of the Assembly says a special session on taxes, as suggested by 10 Republicans, could cost $300,000 — and probably come to nothing.

Sen. Leo McCarthy of San Francisco told reporters, "even if the Legislature reconvenes tomorrow, no tax relief can possibly reach homeowners or renters till November 1978" under a bill acceptable to the Republicans, McCarthy said.

Both Sides 'Gain'

BERKELEY (AP) — Both sides in the challenge of minority admissions programs at the University of California have told the U.S. Supreme Court the 1964 Civil Rights Act strengthens their case.

In briefs forwarded to the high court Wednesday, UC attorneys said Title VI of the act permits schools to adopt racially oriented admissions programs.

And attorneys for Allan Bakke, the white engineer challenging his denied admission at UC Davis Medical School, claim the same act makes an even more "forceful" argument against "any discrimination."

Ex-governor Honored

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. led about 500 Democrats in honoring his father, former Gov. Pat Brown, at a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner here.

STATE

In a 10-minute impromptu speech, the governor spoke highly of the state of California and the Democratic Party. He concluded with praise for his father.

Lanternman Retires

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Frank Lanternman, a crusty 76-year-old Republican who has been a pioneer in mental health legislation said Wednesday he would retire next year after 28 years in the Assembly.

Lanternman, the state's oldest legislator, said age, health, and frustration with the Brown administration prompted him to decide not to seek re-election in 1978.

Request Delayed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state Highway Commission is delaying for one month a request by South Pasadena to move the route of the northern end of the Long Beach Freeway.

It decided at a meeting Wednesday to wait and see if Los Angeles and South Pasadena can agree on a route.

Council to Rule

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A renewed proposal for commercial oil and gas drilling in the Pacific Palisades has been sent to the full City Council by its Planning Committee.

The committee heard four hours of testimony on the proposal but referred it to the full council on a 2-2 tie vote without recommendation.

Robbery 'Violent'

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A recent rash of bank bandits turned violent when the manager and two employees of a Pacific Coast Bank were pistol whipped during a robbery in which an undisclosed amount of money was taken, police said.

Three men entered the bank Wednesday carrying handguns and a sawed-off shotgun, police said.

Freeway Problems Go Beyond Meters

Orange County's first seven freeway ramp meters survived their initial week of service on the Santa Ana Freeway without creating problems for motorists or law enforcement officials.

The meters really are on-ramp stop-and-go lights that permit only one auto at a time onto the freeway during rush hours. CalTrans officials hope in that way rush hour traffic will flow more smoothly at a pace of at least 35 miles an hour. This seems unduly optimistic, but the ramps may reduce some of the hang-ups.

They also say such meters discourage freeway use by the short-haul traveler, keeping the freeways more clear for the longer-distance traveler freeways were designed to serve.

This is all very well, but it's little more than a gesture when it comes to coping with Orange County's growing freeway traffic congestion.

The county's critical need is for freeway building projects. Ramp meters may discourage the use of freeways by some drivers, but they don't really alleviate the crushing travel burden.

Orange County, with 8 percent of the state's population is slated to receive only 2.4 percent of state highway dollars according to CalTrans' proposed new six-year budget.

Ramp meters may not be a bad idea, but CalTrans officials should be giving closer attention to the county's real freeway needs, among them improving the Newport-Santa Ana Freeway interchange and completion of the Corona del Mar and Newport Freeways, along with a whole list of others.

Farmers Find Weapon

Embattled farmers threatened by a law passed in 1902 may find some help in a much newer edict — the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus has announced that the Administration intends to revive long-forgotten enforcement of a 1902 law which limits the size of farms using federally supplied water to 160 acres.

The law, designed to protect family farms from being swallowed up by land speculators, also requires that owners live within a 50-mile radius of the irrigated land. And Andrus' edict would require sale of excess land through a lottery, with prices approved by the Department of Interior.

Enforcement of the outdated law would affect some 12 million acres of farmland in 17 Western states, with the owners of large parcels in California's productive Imperial Valley among the hardest-hit victims.

Now the California Farm Bureau Federation and the American Farm Bureau Federation have found a weapon that may delay the enforcement action until their demand that the law be changed is given a full hearing.

The bureaus have filed a suit against the Secretary charging violation of the 1969 Environmental Policy Act by failure to prepare and circulate the required environmental impact statement.

They contend enforcement of the 160-acre limit and residence requirements would impact the environment by increasing population, thus requiring more homes, roads, sheds and equipment; would increase use of domestic water and create sewage and waste disposal problems; would take fertile croplands out of production; and would result in less efficient production of agricultural products and higher consumer prices.

At latest word, Secretary Andrus is suggesting that perhaps the 1902 law should be made more flexible since the 160-acre figure may not be a "magic number." Indeed it is not.

Helping Themselves

If the gods help them that help themselves, the folks over at Goodwill Industries should be in line for some extra assistance.

At this time of year, donations to the organization that helps disabled men and women to become self-supporting are at their lowest.

Faced with the probability of reduced working hours and loss of pay, the 500 employees of Goodwill of Orange County have initiated their own incentive program. Their goal is to achieve $716,000 in revenue in the last three months of the year in order to maintain the level of employment and rehabilitation services.

The handicapped employees are personally collecting repairable items, speeding up their own production lines and staging sales campaigns in their 13 thrift shops.

For 75 years, Goodwill has taken a load off the county's taxpayers by providing jobs, occupational training and counseling that give the handicapped the pride of self-support.

This is a good time to remember them with donations and patronage of their useful sales outlets.

South Africa: Face the Facts

WASHINGTON — The murder of Steve Biko by his captors in a South African prison on Sept. 12th was the 45th such murder since 1973 which we know about. The killing of this man, who was trying to lead the black people of his country to political power through non-violent means, is especially devastating in a situation in which so many have already died and so many more will die by violence.

To that extent the unusual attention paid Biko's death by the American mass media is explicable. Nevertheless this sudden interest is almost as though someone had turned a spigot on. When the school children were gunned down in Soweto, a worse atrocity, the fact was reported, but scarcely dwelled on.

The determination to soliloquize the murders of courageous Africans is, alas, less out of admiration for their heroism than as a consequence of the Washington foreign policy decision to make a thing out of South Africa.

Henceforth and until the wind swishes from another direction, the inhumanities practiced against black South Africans, which had gone unremarked upon in the United States, will get the full treatment. If he is not already standing on the tarmac in Johannesburg, Gerald Rivera is on his way, and you know that when this Feckless Frisbee takes up a cause it has been certified as safe for ambitious careerists.

THIS IS NOT to say that all the lovers of liberty, who are stepping on each other's Guccis to elbow their way to the forefront of the fight for human rights, don't mean it. But, as they take up every passing fashion, in clothes and in politics, with the same sincere, vapid intensity, we have to ask ourselves why now and what next.

The background fact is that with the collapse of the Portuguese African empire we had our horse shot out from under us. We had supposed that by providing the arms for Portuguese colonialism we were fighting Russian penetration of that continent's center. Then with time running out on Rhodesia and South Africa, the only remaining white hegemonies, it was propitious to lend tactical advantage with principle and help dethrone the last of the pwnas in Pretoria.

It is over now for the white occupants of Rhodesia/Zimbabwe unless the South Africans decide the country has some value as a buffer. Assuming that is not the case, we could close out the white man's account in Salisbury next week to a simple buy out.

IF, TO avoid the killing that's to come, we offered every white Rhodesian family who wants to leave a half-way plausible lump sum payment, they would exit as fast as they could line up for airplane tickets. However, since that could be regarded as rewarding racism and colonialism, it's hard to imagine a Congress agreeing to spend the money.

In South Africa, no buy out, no compromise, no agreement, no gradual movement toward one-man, one-vote or any other formula for a significant sharing of power with the black majority. Some of us in the United States, frustrated at not being able to liberate the slaves in the Gulag Archipelago or just frustrated at our inability to make any sizeable portion of the world resemble the United States, may not appreciate white South Africa's determination and think that this one, at long last, will be a cheap win for Lady Liberty.

Forget it. The South Africans have already shown they can kill and do it as often as they think they need to. When you murder 45 people in your prisons in four years, that's not a temporary aberration; that's policy.

Let's we forget, there are four and a half million whites in that country. They have no place else in the world to go and will not leave their homeland except feet first. Somebody is going to have to kill them. Embargoes or sanctions will have less effect, if that's possible, than they've had on Cuba. Somebody is going to have to kill those white people and somebody is going to have to supply the arms to do it, lots of arms and for a very, very long time. Are we up to that?

MAYBE THE people of the various races living in South Africa will work out a policy acceptable to all of them, but the odds are the present form of race exploitation will go on or there will be a race war.

The president and his top foreign policy people are repeatedly saying things that blacks in South Africa must interpret as a promise of American support in that war. Whatever the claims of justice, we had best ask ourselves if our own race relations are in such good shape that we dare take part, even indirectly, in the sanguinary disaster preparing itself in that land of diamonds, gold and slavery.

"A WEAPONS embargo against us? How frightening!"

Korea Probe Applies Tarbrush Gently

WASHINGTON — The investigation of how congressmen accepted favors and possibly bribes from South Korean agents is like a slow-motion movie which has no value for being slow motion. Stopping the action illustrates nothing except the aversion the Carter Administration and Congress share in pursuing this scandal.

The strategy seems to be for the House Ethics Committee, a group given to dozing, and the Justice Department, a model of restraint when it comes to sinning Democrats, to gently apply the tarbrush to a retired congressman or two and blame everything else on Korea.

One of the graven commandments of this whole episode is: THOU SHALT NOT UTTER THE NAME OF A SITTING CONGRESSMAN.

So President Jimmy Carter announced that the South Korean government has impeded justice and acted like an uncooperative ally in not springing Tongsun Park to testify.

Tongsun Park, a retired and also indicted merchant, was once a great favorite among many congressmen, including his old school chum Democratic House Whip John Brademas. But nowadays a congressman would rather be caught in the company of Richard Nixon than old buddy Tongsun. Such gratitude.

BACK IN South Korea, government officials are perplexed over how their mentor, the United States, from which they learned the American art of winning friends and influencing people with favors and whatnots, has suddenly turned so pure and now even threatens to cut off military aid needed to hold off the barbaric North.

The South Koreans believe they only did what the United States, particularly its CIA, has done, and what other nations have also done — all in the interest of developing friendly relations. After all, Greece, Chile and Israel, to name three nations dependent on U.S. goodwill and goodies, have all learned how to massage Uncle Sam.

Anyway, the South Koreans are supposed to be devising a scheme whereby Tongsun Park, in a manner which will satisfy American investigators, can testify in the U.S. Embassy in Seoul without fear of being prosecuted.

In the meantime, one would conclude that there were only bribers and no bribees, House

Ethics Committee Chairman John J. Flynt Jr. of Georgia has made it clear that in any public hearings committee members and witnesses are not to mention the names of sitting congressmen.

Then the committee made a loud exception to its rule. Chairman Flynt and Rep. Floyd Spence, the panel's senior Republican, wrote Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill Jr. to tell him that he was innocent of charges that he allowed the South Koreans to pay the rent on his Washington apartment.

THERE WAS great bowing and scraping in that letter, and naturally O'Neill issued a press release expressing his gratitude and hoping there would be no more such crackpot accusations.

Well, it's good strategy to off-load guilt onto former congressmen, Koreans with funny-sounding names and rumormongers. But according to sworn testimony, South Korea allocated $10 million to charm congressmen and U.S. officials and compiled lists of congressmen that were intercepted by the U.S. government.

"That $10 million must have gone somewhere," says Rep. Bruce Caputo (R-N.Y.), the committee's exasperated maverick whose investigative ardor caused one senior congressman to spit in his face at a party.

It is obvious that O'Neill, Brademas, McFall (former Democratic Whip), those five "Advance Guard" Republicans (named in testimony) and others on those Korean lists should testify. So should Kissinger and other officials in the Nixon and Ford administrations who knew what happened.

THE RECORD shows that the aforementioned all came in contact with this Korean "situation" in one way or another. The committee's reluctance to push hard caused its former chief investigator, Philip Lacovora (of Watergate fame) to quit, and the committee had to spruce up by hiring Leon Jaworski (of bigger Watergate fame) as his replacement.

But Jaworski drops in here only every so often and usually sighs that without Korea's help he can't get far. His deputy, Peter White, remarks that congressmen involved "have many incentives not to testify."

Of course they have, and that's why Caputo becomes more impatient, and why a small, rather oddly composed group of House Democrats and Republicans may rebel and blow the whistle on their colleagues. The coverup congressman may then run out of spit.

A 'Best Friend' Is Best Kept on a Short Rein

The White House announced the appointment yesterday of Sam Scapple of Peach Corners, Georgia, as President Carter's new Best Friend.

Scapple succeeds Bert Lance, who resigned from the post after revelations of banking irregularities in his past.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said that Scapple, a 53-year-old unemployed fumigator, had been recommended for the $37,500-a-year job by a Blue Ribbon Presidential Best Friend Study Commission. Powell said the commission received more than 2000 applications for the position and personally interviewed 47 Best Friend hopefuls.

The appointment of Scapple, a political unknown, surprised Washington pundits who had unanimously picked Vice President Walter (Fritz) Mondale for the post. The consensus in the Capitol was that the President would name Mondale his new Best Friend in order to appease the liberal wing of the Democratic party, with which he has been at some odds lately.

IT WAS also felt that having a former senator as a Best Friend would help Mr. Carter in his thus-far-disastrous attempts to pass legislation — as he could inform suspicious Congressmen that "one of my Best Friends is an ex-Solon."

But it was not to be. After three week's deliberation, the commission recommended against Mondale's appointment on the grounds that his selection as Best Friend would be attributed solely to political expediency.

A White House source said that Mr. Carter, himself, had independently rejected Mondale following a softball game in Plains. While Mondale battled .343, he committed two errors at short-stop. "What President wants a Best Friend," the source said, "who can't go to his right?"

PRESIDENTIAL Assistant Hamilton Jordan said the time-consuming effort that had gone into the choice of Scapple as Presidential Best Friend "shows how much Jimmy means it when he says, 'Why not the best?'" when it comes to a Best Friend.

"Jimmy really wanted to appoint a woman as his Best Friend," Jordan admitted, "but Rosalynn raised a few objections." He said, however, that Scapple, a mulatto who has converted to Judaism, would substantiate Mr. Carter's claim to be the best friend of all Americans, regardless of race, creed or color.

"Furthermore," said Jordan, "Sam Scapple has never accepted a deep freeze, a vicuna coat, a Persian rug or a payoff from a vending machine company, nor has he ever had a bank account to overdraw."

IN VIEW of the past histories of Presidential Best Friends, Jordan said that once Scapple arrived in Washington to take up his duties, he would be confined incommunicado to the cupola of the White House for the remainder of Mr. Carter's term of office.

"We think Sam Scapple will make the best Best Friend a President ever had," said Jordan confidently, "as long as he doesn't get loose."

Film Ratings Backfire

Some years ago, the motion picture industry established its own rating system in order to alert the public to films that dealt explicitly with sexual themes. Hollywood had been under severe attack from those who felt it had gone beyond the boundaries of good taste. There was considerable concern for the millions of young American moviegoers.

The motion picture industry forestalled government censorship by claiming it was capable of self-policing. A rating system was offered as a labeling device so that people who might be offended by certain kinds of movies would stay away.

For example, the rating "G" meant that a certain film was considered suitable for all ages. "PG" meant that parental guidance was suggested for youngsters who wished to see a specific movie. "R" meant that a film contained scenes that might be considered objectionable in some quarters. And the "X" was supposed to indicate candid treatment of sex as well as the use of four-letter words. After that came "XX" and "XXX" to denote a progression in open pornography.

How has the rating system worked out in actual practice?

WHAT HAS happened is exactly the opposite from what was intended. What was offered as a device for protecting the public against salacious films has actually become the means for promoting those films. Theater owners have little interest in showing films that are labeled as being suitable for all audiences.

They believe that most moviegoers are deterred by a "G" rating, which is generally regarded as being shorthand for "goody-goody." Pictures with "R" and "X" ratings have no difficulty getting theater bookings. "PG" films manage to get exhibited. The "G" films, on the other hand, have a tough time finding movie houses.

In other words, the sexy and violent films come into the market with a natural advantage, while the unobjectionable films wind up with few or no audiences at all.

Contrary to assurances, the general level of film-making has not been raised by the rating system. The average American motion picture today portrays more raw sex and violence than before the rating system went into effect.

WHAT IS worse, perhaps, is the tendency to inject foul language and sexual exchanges into decent films even though the author's original script does not call for them.

The other day I saw the preview of a remarkable film shortly to be released by United Artists, "Three Warriors."

It is the story of an American Indian family in Oregon. The main character in the film is an Indian boy who has been thoroughly Americanized by his upbringing outside the reservation. He is brought back to the reservation by his mother to visit his grandfather. The boy resents anything having to do with Indian tradition and can hardly wait to get back to his non-Indian friends. He hates his grandfather's adherence to the old customs.

The story starts slowly but develops into one of the most exciting and compelling dramatic screen productions I have seen in recent years. A scene dealing with the boy's encounter with horse rustlers has the kick of a wild mustang.

THE FILM is written by Sy Gomberg and produced by Gomberg and Saul Zaentz. But Gomberg has a serious problem. The picture has been given a "G" rating, which is quite accurate. But comparatively few people are likely to see it because too many theater owners are reluctant to show a "G" film.

Gomberg has been advised to put a few inserts in the movie, seasoning it with some four-letter words and an obscene shot or two. This would be easy enough to do, but Gomberg has too much integrity to take the low road. Therefore, if the film is going to be seen, a lot of people are going to have to phone or write to the owners of local theaters and demand that "Three Warriors" be shown.

It is absurd that decent films are limited to such a small market because objectionable material seems to attract larger audiences. Clearly, this is something many American moviegoers will want to do something about.

Orderly Starves To Death

LANSDALE, Pa. (AP) — A hospital orderly whose emaciated body was found at a Montgomery County yoga commune where he lived starved to death, according to state police.

An autopsy performed by the Bucks County coroner, Dr. Stanley Goodwin, indicated Robert Wallace, formerly of Pasadena, Calif., died of malnutrition and dehydration.

WALLACE apparently had been fasting in connection with his practice of yoga, and a photograph taken of Wallace before his death showed his weight had dropped from 180 pounds to about 70 pounds, authorities said.

Wallace was found unconscious Tuesday in his bedroom at the Kripalu Yoga Fellowship house in nearby Marlboro Township. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Quakertown Hospital, in adjacent Bucks County.

SANDRA HEALY, director of the commune, or ashram, said none of the residents go without staple foods, except for an abstinence from meat.

"We don't have extremists here," she said. "We're moderates."

Wallace was an employee at North Penn Hospital here. His hospital supervisor said Wednesday that Wallace had called her Monday and told her he received a physician's approval to return to work after missing three days due to illness.

THE SPIRITUAL leader of the ashram is Yogi Amrit Desai. Known as "Amritji" or "Guruji" to his followers, Desai has taught yoga in the Philadelphia area since 1960. At that time he was studying textile design at the Philadelphia College of Art.

He founded the Yoga Society of Pennsylvania in 1967.

THIEF HITS TOO CLOSE

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Members of the Boone County Grand Jury didn't have to look very far to find criminal activity.

While jurors were returning indictments in open court, someone was going through purses, jackets and briefcases left in the grand jury room. A total of $28 was taken.

Distraught Mom Free Ex-wife Gets Clean Bill of Mental Health

From AP Dispatches
Francine Hughes, who set a fire that killed the ex-husband who beat her and was later acquitted of murder by reason of temporary insanity, was free to build a new life after getting a clean bill of mental health.

It was less than two weeks since the jury acquitted her.

The 30-year-old mother of four was interviewed for about an hour at the Center for Forensic Psychiatry in Ypsilanti, Mich. The examination was required under conditions of the Ingham County Circuit Court verdict.

Her lawyer, Arvon Greydanus, said that after the examination, Mrs. Hughes returned to her mother's home in Jackson, Mich., for a week of "rest and relaxation" before making future plans.

Patricia "Penny" Raven, 34, a real estate broker from Fresno, says she has plans to raise $1 million to campaign for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

She would thus be running in the primary against Lt. Gov. Mervyn Dymally, also a Democrat, who has said he'll seek reelection.

Flying to news conferences in Los Angeles, Sacramento and Fresno, Mrs. Raven said she would work to reduce the housing shortage. She declined to take stands on such issues as farm labor and the breakup of land holdings in the Westlands Water District.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., faced with the chance to take 100 women to lunch, instead offered them a quick lesson in Spartan philosophy.

Claire Phelps, president of the National Order of Women Legislators, asked the group's speaker why the California Legislature had not held a dinner or luncheon for the group's annual meeting. No other state in which the group had met has failed to do so.

"Haven't you heard of the Era of Sparta?" Brown replied.

When former slave Charlie Smith, believed to be the nation's oldest person at 135, left for the hospital he was sitting high on his stretcher, clutching a favorite purse and sporting cowboy hat and boots.

He entered the operating room in style, too. "Smith was in good spirits and wanted a shot of bourbon before he went into the hospital room," a spokesman at Lakeland (Fla.) General Hospital said after Smith's right leg was amputated just below the knee.

A pain in Smith's toe was diagnosed as gangrene, and spreading infection forced physicians to amputate the lower leg, hospital officials said. He was listed in satisfactory condition.

For many years, it was traditional for presidents to accept a live Thanksgiving turkey from representatives of the National Turkey Federation. This week, however, the responsibility fell to Vice President Walter F. Mondale.

As the presentation ceremony ended, the vice president's press secretary, Al Eisele, turned to White House reporters and cracked, "I hope that puts an end to the 'whatever happened to Mondale' stories."

A rash of such stories prompted Carter to telephone two newsmen last month to emphasize the substantive nature of Mondale's assignments.

The lengthy murder trial of millionaire Cullen Davis moved toward a close with prosecutors claiming in their final arguments that Davis invaded his mansion to kill "the source of all his problems — Priscilla Davis."

Mrs. Davis is the millionaire's estranged wife. She survived the midnight shooting at Davis' $8 million Fort Worth mansion Aug. 2, 1976.

But Davis' 12-year-old stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn, was killed, as was Mrs. Davis' lover, Stan Farr, 30.

HEW Secretary Joseph C. Califano Jr. said in London that the biggest obstacle to a national health system in the United States is money and he called U.S. hospitals "incredibly obese and profligate."

The U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare met with reporters after a three-day visit to study Britain's state-run National Health Service.

He said American hospital costs are doubling every five years — increasing 2½ times faster than living costs — and inflation in hospital costs is rising at $1 million an hour.

Mangers To Tour Hospitals

By O. C. HUSTINGS
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Assemblyman Dennis Mangers, D-Huntington Beach, says he plans to visit all of the hospitals and other health care facilities in his district before the legislature reconvenes in January.

The purpose of his visits, the assemblyman explains, is to better understand how they operate.

"As a state legislator, I don't want to impose new laws on the people of the district that show little sensitivity to the local practitioner," he said.

U.S. SENATOR S. I. Hayakawa has protested the Carter Administration's decision to return to Budapest the Crown of St. Stephen, the symbol of Hungarian nationhood.

In a letter to the President, the California Republican said the decision was politically naive and a slap in the face to Hungarians who fled their homeland rather than live under the existing communist regime there.

THE COMMITTEE to elect Gail Hutton as Huntington Beach's city attorney plans a $25 per person cocktail party Friday in Huntington Harbour.

The fundraising effort is scheduled for 6 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jawad Anabtawi.

Russian Lectures

Soviet writer Yuriy Trifonov will speak on "Russian Prose of the 1970s" Friday at UC Irvine. The lecture, sponsored by the UCI Program in Russian, is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Room 220, Social Science Tower. It is open to the public without charge.

'Hot' Grease

Racket Yields Fat Profits

HOUSTON (AP) — Slippery thieves are running a slick new racket stealing used cooking grease from fast-food restaurants and selling it to rendering plants at fat profits, industry officials say.

Vernon Stewart, director of the Texas Renderers Association in Austin, says a big-city grease thief can make $200 a night and as much as $50,000 a year.

A HOUSTON RENDERER SAYS grease thefts cost her company $60,000 a year, and she estimates losses among Texas' 80 rendering firms run to "several million dollars" annually.

These and other tales were spread before law enforcement representatives who attended a seminar on grease theft problems sponsored by the association.

The restaurants put kitchen drippings that have been used in deep-frying into 55-gallon drums stored behind their buildings. The drums are supposed to be purchased and picked up by rendering plant route trucks. The plants then resell the grease to brokers who forward it to refiners for processing into additives for products ranging from soap to plastics to animal food.

BUT INSTEAD, RESTAURANT owners say thieves are carting away the loaded drums, selling the grease for $30 a barrel — often to out-of-state renderers — and selling the empty drums for $20 apiece.

Gary Blum of Womack Grease Service in Fort Worth said thieves have an easy time selling the grease to rendering firms whose managers "are greedy for money." He said those firms undercut the normal per barrel price by about $10, and that hurts the legitimate renderers.

BUT LT. J. D. PEYTON of Houston's Harris County Sheriff's Department said, "We're too short on men to check every truck at every restaurant."

Prosecutor Richard Trevathan of the county district attorney's office said the restaurateurs should build protective sheds for the drums. Then taking grease would become burglary — the act of breaking into a building — instead of simple theft and would be easier to prosecute, he said.

'Too Far?'

Man Hits Search Policy

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Equal treatment for women is going too far when females take part in "skin searches" of male prisoners, according to inmates of the Santa Cruz County jail.

Twenty-three prisoners and two sheriff's deputies signed a letter of protest presented to the county Board of Supervisors, which is looking into the complaint.

SHERIFF AL NOREN said he has no choice in the matter because affirmative action rulings bar discrimination in hiring guards and assigning them to duties.

"I was shocked to experience this," said the letter written by Tim McKenna, 19, jailed on charges of possessing stolen property.

He said on two occasions women jailers were present when he was forced to strip nude for a thorough search of body openings.

RABBI RAPS

GAY LIFE

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of an orthodox Jewish body, the Rabbinical Alliance, has appealed to Americans to return to their "biblical roots" and oppose homosexuality.

Rabbi Abraham B. Hect of Brooklyn said homosexuality is rising in the country, that it threatens the family basis of civilization and that homosexuals need "spiritual and psychiatric help."

Lincoln declared the last Thurs. in Nov.

Thanksgiving Day?

The year was 1863. In 1865 President A. Johnson continued the precedent. Prior to this the 1st official national observance was proclaimed by President Washington in 1789. In 1909 President Roosevelt set the 3rd Thursday in November as Thanksgiving. The public protested so, in 1941 Congress voted that the 4th Thursday in November should always be Thanksgiving day.

16 years later on the site of the present Los Angeles City Hall, the John Bloeser Carpet Co. began selling fine carpets to Southland homes and building a reputation unmatched in the Southland. It's your guarantee of complete satisfaction when you next purchase carpet, draperies or vinyl flooring.

Pilot
LogbookThis Car No
Polish JokeBy JACKIE HYMAN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

I was very glad I didn't live in Poland on Monday.

Not that Poland doesn't have some things to recommend it. Like artists Anna and Waldek Zamorski, whom my mother and I visited there two years ago.

Anna and Waldek live in the city of Wroclaw, formerly Breslau, Germany (the Poles pronounce it Vrotswahv). Unlike many American artists, they are able to earn a middle-class living pursuing their creative talents in ceramics and sculpture, respectively.

HYMAN

THERE'S A LARGE park in the middle of Wroclaw that's grown up around the ruins of World War II, when Wroclaw was directly on the German-Russian front for about a year.

In the midst of the park are large pieces of wood from which Waldek carves his sculptures, right there in the open. And they're still there, day after day, unvarnished, until he finishes and carts them away.

It's the carting that's the problem.

YOU SEE, IN WROCLAW, there aren't very many cars. Anna and Waldek want one, and they've saved up for one. But in Poland, you pay for your car and you get a choice of models: small or medium. Then you wait two years for delivery.

This brings me to my point. On Monday, the old clunker died with histrionics that would make Ethel Barrymore jealous. A symphony of wheezes and clanking. Sighs, moans and then the deep silence of a flat camshaft, broken crankshaft and zonked-out valves. Dead.

And, in the space of one day, I found myself the owner of a brand new mini-car. Paid for, serviced and driven off the lot.

I DON'T WANT TO make my old dead clunker feel any worse. I'll just mention that my new little car gets such great mileage that when I back up the tank overflows.

Back to Poland. Anna and Waldek should be getting their car about now. The one they paid for when I was there two years ago.

Man doth not live by wheels alone, and I guess they're happy with their country as it is. And, especially after Monday, I'm pretty happy with my country as it is, too.

Male Children

Newly Found
Virus Kills

BOSTON (AP) — Researchers say they have discovered a disease inherited by some male children that can turn a common virus into a cause of cancer to make a killer out of mononucleosis.

The disease, identified at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, is a deficiency that leaves the body open to a fatal attack by the Epstein-Barr virus. That germ infects up to 90 percent of the population, usually with mild flu-like symptoms. It also causes mononucleosis, the "kissing disease" of young adults.

THE DOCTORS say that victims of the disease who are infected by the virus can develop cancer of the lymph glands, suffer a fatal form of mononucleosis or have a breakdown of the body's immune defenses. The disease also can cause birth defects, including malformed hearts.

Over five generations in one family in Vermont, researchers found 20 cases of the disease among brothers, cousins and uncles. Of these, all but five died from the disorder.

The disease, reported in today's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, is called "X-linked recessive lymphoproliferative syndrome." The researchers believe it is rare, but they have identified it in 75 boys in 12 families.

MEDICINE

"IT'S A NEW syndrome," Dr. David T. Purtilo, who directed the research, said in an interview. "Like all other diseases, it's been there for a while. It was just a matter of being able to recognize it."

The disease strikes only boys. Purtilo said he believes it is caused by a defective gene on the female sex chromosome.

In the Vermont family, 40 percent of the affected boys died of mononucleosis, a blood disease. Another 40 percent contracted malignant lymphoma, a cancer of the lymph glands. Others got hypogammaglobulinemia, a breakdown of the body's ability to fight infections. Sometimes victims suffer lymphoma and mononucleosis at the same time, the researchers said.

Chemical Use Gets Penalty

SACRAMENTO (AP)

A third Southern California manufacturer has been fined $1,000 for unsafe use of a cancer-causing chemical used in the manufacture of skateboard wheels, the state Health Department said.

Arco, a South Gate producer of liquid urethane rubber, was cited for failure to use a closed system to process the dry pellet form of the chemical 4,4'-methylene bis (2-chloroaniline), known by the trade name MOCA.

IT WAS also accused of failing to post warning signs, failing to establish a medical surveillance program for employees and failing to maintain an employee roster.

MOCA has been found to induce breast cancer in laboratory animals, but no human cases have been reported, the department said.

ARCO produces liquid urethane rubber, which other manufacturers use in making skateboard wheels and other abrasion-resistant products.

Earlier, the state fined firms in Santa Fe Springs and Irwindale for the same offense.

After the state inspectors found unsafe conditions in the Arco plant, the plant was ordered closed.

For Church Funds

Bishops OK Guides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholic bishops have approved strict standards governing fund raising in the church, calling for full accountability to the contributors.

The guidelines, intended for use by all Catholic dioceses and religious orders in the United States, are aimed at achieving greater openness in fund drives and preventing recurrence of some past abuses.

Under the new standards, regular audited reports must set forth amounts collected, costs of the fund raising, and the purposes and specific uses of the funds.

When complaints arise, the guidelines say church authorities "should be prompt to investigate charges and remedy abuses, even to the point when necessary of terminating a fund-raising program."

Approval of the guidelines came at a meeting Wednesday of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Writer Can't Collar Shirt Firm

DEAR PAT: This is the first time a company has not responded when I've written a letter. I contacted the Manhattan Shirt Co. in July regarding a defective shirt, and pinned the letter to the shirt itself. In late July, I received a letter from a Manhattan customer service representative saying that my letter had been received and asking me to send the shirt to the firm for testing. I had already mailed the shirt, and I wrote and told them so. I had hoped for some sort of settlement by now, but I can't seem to get a response of any kind.

P.C., Laguna Beach
Manhattan checked its records, and couldn't locate any information about the returned shirt. The customer service representative who contacted you previously is no longer with the firm. The probable explanation for this mixup is that you may have sent the shirt to Manhattan's Paterson, N.J. address, rather than to Glen Rock. Mrs. Arlene Sturn, Manhattan customer service representative, asks you to repeat the facts involved and describe the shirt (color, size, style) so she can handle a "better late than never" adjustment for you. Mail your letter to her at Manhattan Shirt Co., 25 DeBoer Drive, Glen Rock, N.J. 07452.

Book on Probate

DEAR PAT: I am a senior citizen who wants to find out about inheritance taxes and whether probate court would be necessary for my estate. If it is, where can I find out about the procedure and cost involved?

H.G., Costa Mesa
Your best source of information would be an attorney. Reduced fee consultation can be arranged by phoning the Lawyers Referral Service of Orange County at 835-8811. If you wish to research this yourself, consult "Probate And Taxes, Preserving Your Estate For Your Heirs," by Ian McPhail. This $5.95 book is distributed by Nolo Press, Box 544, Occidental, Calif. 95466. It contains detailed information on state and federal inheritance taxes with hints for saving. It also includes all major revisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

Move Meant Missed Money

DEAR PAT: I know you had a recent AYS item about the long delay in processing the potato chip refunds. I want to find out about the antibiotic refunds that were promised at least two years ago. I never got mine. We lived in Whittier when we filed the claim, but now live in Orange County. Did we get missed or was this refund never issued?

J.A., Newport Beach
The antibiotic refunds were completed in 1975, according to a California Attorney General's Office spokesman. If you didn't get your refund then, you'll never get it. The office which handled refund processing no longer exists. Your change of address probably accounts for the problem.

Washer Won't Serve as Oven

DEAR PAT: I've heard that food can be cooked slowly or thawed in a dishwasher set on the drying cycle. Is this possible?

E.S., Newport Beach
It's possible, but impractical and a waste of energy. A dishwasher is hottest during the drying cycle, and then the temperature only reaches about 185 degrees F., and that's very slow cooking. To maintain this temperature the machine has to be reset again and again, an expensive idea. Quick-thawing can be accomplished just as fast and more economically by immersing a watertight package in warm water.

Tax Offered for Chinaware

DEAR PAT: How can I get in touch with the National Taxpayers Union? I've looked everywhere, but can't find an address.

J.E., Costa Mesa
Write to 652 E. Capital St. S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003. This organization's efforts center on lobbying to cut deficit financing and wasteful spending by the government according to an NTU spokesman.

Rationing?

Price Kept Secret

Famed Racquet Club Sold

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The famed Racquet Club, which has had movie stars as members since it was founded in 1934 by Charles Farrell and Ralph Bellamy, has been sold.

A spokesman said the buyers are M. Larry Lawrence, chairman of Hotel Del Coronado, and Los Angeles investor Stanley Rappaport.

THE SALE WAS announced by Richard Millen, president of the club representing stockholders, and Carleton Lichty, president of Hotel Del Coronado in Coronado. No price was announced.

The club consists of 120 rooms and suites, 12 tennis courts and four swimming pools. Sherman Hull will continue as manager after 30 years, Lichty said.

A group of Racquet Club members had owned the resort since 1967. Farrell bought Bellamy's interest shortly after the club opened and sold his interest in 1958.

AMONG EARLY members were Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Clark Gable, Errol Flynn, Spencer Tracy, Frank Morgan, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Ginger Rogers.

At least three U.S. presidents, Harry Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, visited the club.

Lawrence is a former Southern California chairman of the Democratic party.

BRUSH, Colo. (AP) — The Last Squad has opened its 53-year-old bottle of Canadian whisky, drunk a toast to members now gone and adjourned its last official meeting.

For 41 years, those who were members of the Sagebrush American Legion Post No. 68 in 1936 had waited for this occasion. When it came Tuesday night, they did it up right.

THE RULES HAD been altered a bit, and 10 of the original 111 Last Squad members shared in the fifth set aside in 1936. The original plan was to wait until eight — the number of a World War I squad — were left before the bottle was opened.

Squad Toasts Friends

The timetable was altered, coordinator Harvey Reinert said, because the youngest of the remaining members is 79 and "We just decided to have the party now."

Everyone who belonged to Post 68 in 1936 was automatically a member of the Last Squad. The 12-year-old whisky went into a local bank vault, $15 was put aside for a final feast, and the countdown began.

BEFORE DR. E.P. LAMB filled their shot glasses, Reinert dedicated the evening to the memory of those who couldn't share it. Remembering them, he said, "reminds us of the frailties of life and tenure by which we hold our own place in life."

Remembered one Post 68 member affectionately, "When you're past 80, you've learned everything there is to know. The problem is, you can't remember it."

BID #15-78
CONTRACT #25-78
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS CALLING FOR BIDS
School District: NEWPORT-MESA UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT
Big Deal: 2:00 o'clock p.m., of the 30th day of November, 1977.
Place of Bid Receipt: 1837 Placentia Street, Costa Mesa, California 92627.
Project Identification Name: Air Conditioning System for Information Services.
Place Plans are on file: Maintenance & Operations, 923 Baker Street, Costa Mesa, California 92627.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the above-named School District of Orange County, California, acting by and through its Governing Board, hereinafter referred to as "DISTRICT", will receive up to, but not less than, sealed bids for the construction of the above project.
Bids shall be received in the place identified above, and shall be opened and publicly read at the above-stated time and place.
There will be a N/A deposit required for each set of bid documents to guarantee the bidder's performance within N/A days after the bid opening date.
Each bid must conform and be responsive to the specifications.
Each bid shall be accompanied by the security referred to in the contract documents and by the list of proposed subcontractors.
The DISTRICT reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularities or informality in any bids or in the bidding.
The DISTRICT has obtained from the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contract. These rates are on file at the DISTRICT Office located at 1837 Placentia Street, Costa Mesa, CA 92627. Copies may be obtained on request. A copy of these rates shall be posted at the jobsite.
The foregoing schedule of per diem wages is based upon a working day of eight (8) hours. The rate for solitary and overtime work shall be at least time and one-half.
It shall be mandatory upon the CONTRACTOR to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all workmen employed by them at the execution of the contract.
No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.
A bid is not a contract until it is awarded. The award of a contract shall be subject to the payment of the contract price in full by the contractor to the DISTRICT.

NB Firm To Hike Mining

Amcor Inc., a Newport Beach cement producer, has announced plans to more than double its coal mining capacity in the next two years at a total estimated cost of $12 million.

The capital will be provided from internally generated funds.

William T. Pascoe III, chairman and chief executive officer, said the Amcor mine near Gallup, N. M., with a capacity of 50,000 tons a year, would be more than doubled to 400,000 tons of capacity.

Supplying the fuel needs for the company's Phoenix cement plant in Arizona, the increased New Mexico production will be shipped to the company's Riverside cement Division in Southern California.

Lucas Coal Co., Amcor's coal operation in Grove City, Pa., which supplies coal to nearby utilities, has a current production capacity of 230,000 tons this year. By 1979 the capacity is expected to reach 600,000 tons, or more than 2½ times the present capacity. As a result of expansion, Amcor's Eastern cement plants will use coal from Lucas commencing next year.

Pacesetter Gains

American Pacesetter, Newport Beach, has reported net income of $3,704,415, or 59 cents a common share, on revenues of $32,754,330 for the nine months ended Sept. 30.

This compares with net income of $2,066,779, or 30 cents a share, on revenues of $25,283,044 for the comparable period last year.

American Pacesetter's subsidiary, Pacesetter Homes, Inc., conducts land development and residential home construction, and its subsidiary, Pacesetter Escrow Co., Inc., provides escrow agency service.

American Electronics, Inc., manufactures rotating electromechanical equipment such as precision resolvers, stepper motors, servomotor motors, motor tachometers, frequency converters, and motor generators. It also has precision machines intricate hydraulic fuel and liquid oxygen valves, and lofted aircraft structural components.

Oxoco Revenue Grows

Oxoco, an independent Newport Beach oil and gas producer, has reported net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 of $17,408, compared with $50,957, or 1 cent, for the like 1976 period.

Revenues for the nine months were $1,677,778, compared with $1,326,284 for the 1976 period.

For the three months net income was $56,190, or 1 cent, compared with $33,763, or 1 cent, for the three months of 1976. Revenues were $673,787 for 1977, compared with $358,462.

Colony Increases

Colony Foods Inc., Newport Beach, has announced net sales for its first quarter ended Sept. 30 of $11,048,000, compared with $10,224,000 a year ago.

Colony Foods operates 93 family-style restaurants in eight Western states.

State to Eye Lowering of Milk Prices

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A state hearing may be called to consider lowering minimum milk prices that dairies can charge.

The reason is, hay costs have dropped since last April when the hearing was held that led to the last two-cent-a-gallon increase.

Jerry Scribner, deputy director of the Department of Food and Agriculture, said Wednesday that hay was selling then for $85 to $88 a ton, and is selling now for about $55 a ton.

Scribner said a decision on a hearing will be made next week.

Costa Mesa High School student Leslie Van Scoyok is shown with panel from the 90-by-20 foot mural she designed for the school's front wall. The imaginative work was painted by students. Its completion will be celebrated from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday.

State English Text Gets F in Spelling

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A state-issued booklet designed to help teachers prepare students for English tests is earning an F for spelling and syntax.

The officials who put it out spelled "aerosol" incorrectly at least four times — in two different ways — and flubbed their sentence construction at least twice.

"I CAN'T FOR the life of me explain it," said Arthur J. Mallory, Missouri's commissioner of education. "We feel very sorry it happened."

"Believe me, we do know how to spell 'aerosol,'" said an embarrassed Grace McReynolds, the educational official under whose direction the book was prepared.

Last week, word of the errors began circulating at a convention of educators, to whom it became a mini-scandal. State officials promptly assigned three graduate students to pick the pamphlet apart to find undiscovered mistakes, but soon the St. Louis Post-Dispatch got wind of it and the story was out.

IN WEDNESDAY EDITIONS, the newspaper cited these bloopers:

— "Aerosol" is one spelled "aeresol" and at least three times spelled "aerosal." Both are wrong.

— The authors could not decide in one sentence whether they were talking about one student or many: "Ask students to list ways that the dictionary and index from his book are alike."

— Similarly, in another sentence, they couldn't decide whether they were talking about one item or many: "The student will demonstrate the ability to identify and interpret items labeled with consumer vocabulary in selecting its use for a specific purpose."

"IF A STUDENT presented a handwritten paper with those kinds of mistakes, he'd be in for a lot of trouble," said state testing director Charles Foster.

The booklet is a primer to help teachers prepare students for the English section of the state's new Basic Essential Skills Test.

It has been a minor best seller. Missouri has been gaining a national reputation for preparing students for the basic skills test, and at least 12,000 copies have been mailed across the country and abroad.

New City Plans Defeated by LAFC

MARTINEZ (AP) — A proposal to incorporate a new city in Contra Costa County has been squashed for a second time in six years by the Contra Costa Local Agency Formation Commission. Under the plan, the city of Muir would have been established with a population of 13,000 and an industrial tax base of $164 million.

Planners Study Issue

Newport Restaurant to Lose License?

Newport Beach planning commissioners tonight will consider whether to revoke the license of a small Cannery Village restaurant that has reportedly not met all terms of its use permit.

A use permit was required for the year-and-a-half old restaurant, Paula's Fine Foods at 2813 Villa Way, because it is located in a manufacturing zone.

JIM HEWICKER, Newport's assistant director of planning, said complaints from a neighboring businessman resulted in a check of the facility, which seats between 30 and 40 people.

He said areas of non-compliance with the use permit include exceeding the maximum permitted number of tables and customers, failure to control offsite parking by customers on private property, and providing live entertainment, which is not permitted on the premises.

PAULA SCHOEPE, owner of the restaurant, said she is circulating a petition in favor of her facility.

The planning commission will meet at 7 p.m. in city council chambers.

Rockwell Gets AF Contract

The Electronic Systems Group of Rockwell International has been awarded a $32.08 million contract by the Air Force for airborne and ground terminals to be used in the Air Force's satellite communications system.

The multi-million dollar contract is an option to an initial $74.2 million contract awarded earlier this year for similar equipments.

THE SPACE and Secure Telecommunications division in Newport Beach has begun production of hardware under the original contract awarded by the electronic systems division of the Air Force systems command.

Under the contract, Rockwell will continue to build, test and deliver both airborne and ground terminal equipment for the system, data and aerospace ground equipment and spares. Delivery of the 160 additional equipments will begin late 1978, with completion scheduled for mid-1979.

IN 1973, ROCKWELL became the single contractor to combine development of systems and equipment for the system.

Rockwell's system efforts will be managed by the Space and Secure Telecommunications Division in Newport Beach with additional manufacturing involved at Dallas, Texas and Cedar Rapids, Ia.

10 Face Drug Rap In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Ten people were arrested on a variety of drug-related charges including possession of heroin and receiving stolen property at a Golden Hills apartment that investigators said Tuesday also was being used as a "shooting gallery" for heroin addicts.

Royal Costs Real 'Blow'

LONDON (AP) — The royal family costs the country $4.3 million annually, which works out to seven cents for each Briton, says Chancellor of the Exchequer Denis Healey.

Healey made the statement to the House of Commons a few hours after Princess Anne, daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, gave birth to her first child.

"A cold sausage on a nationalized train costs four times the price of the queen and her family a year," said opposition member Nicholas Fairbairn, noting the accounting was a blow to critics who claim royalty is a burden.

Local Businesses Promote Countians

John Cole, Newport Beach, has joined National Airlines as a marketing representative in Orange County. He will call on travel agencies and commercial accounts in Anaheim, Fullerton, Buena Park, Orange, Garden Grove and Seal Beach.

He has worked as an instructor in both water and snow skiing at resorts in the Caribbean and Colorado respectively.

The Pinskeker Corp., Pacific Grove, has announced the sale of the capital stock of the corporation to Michael Metzgar of Costa Mesa.

Pinskeker manufacturers a line of custom woods, irons and utility clubs.

Bill Junkin has joined Cochran Chase & Co., Newport Beach advertising, public relations and marketing firm, as an accountant executive.

He is a former partner with the Wiener Group, a film production company, in Hollywood.

Michael Arola, has been promoted to senior art director at Basso/Boatman, Inc., Newport Beach advertising and public relations agency.

He will supervise concept, design, layout, photography and related artwork. Before joining the agency in May 1976, he was art director for two agencies in Miami.

Richard L. Koeth has joined the agency as vice president and account manager.

He is former president of the Something Good Is Goin' To Happen advertising agency in Fullerton.

Jeanne Roberts has been promoted to branch manager. She has worked as service and assignment manager, customer service representative and most recently account representative. She will continue to concentrate on market expansion and development.

Peggy Ford has been promoted from office manager in Newport Beach, to branch manager in Fullerton. She will be responsible for sales and service at the new branch, scheduled to open in January.

Ondria Firestone has assumed responsibility in addition to service and assignment managerial duties. She will also handle workers' compensation and unemployment claims, credit and collection. She will be assisted by Anne Brantly, a former temporary field staffer.

Barbara Crumley has joined the agency as administrative assistant. She was formerly with the Tustin Unified School District.

Grubb & Ellis Commercial Brokerage Co. has tripled the size of its office marketing division in the Newport Beach office.

Added to the staff were Mike McCullough, Dick Hendrickson, Bob Dalby, Tony Albis, Bob Pettis and Stan Gale.

About 5% of Priests Alcoholics

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

WASHINGTON — About 5 percent of the country's 58,300 Roman Catholic priests are alcoholics, according to the church's first broad statistical survey on the subject.

The alcoholic rate is about half that of the estimate commonly used in the past by the church. The new study cited a previous 10 percent rate among priests but did not give details about who made those estimates.

THE FINDINGS, GATHERED in a study by the Rev. Joseph Fichter of the Sociology Department of Loyola University in New Orleans, were released in conjunction with a meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

The study did not go into causes for alcoholism among priests, how the problem affects their work or how their parishoners feel about it.

The alcoholic rate among the general male population is not discussed, but the study cites findings that 21 percent of American males are heavy drinkers, compared with 16 percent of priests.

MORE PRIESTS, 39 percent, are total abstainers, compared with 23 percent of all American males, the study noted.

Based on responses to questionnaires from most of the church's dioceses and religious orders, the report said that contrary to opinion, the proportion of alcoholism among priests is about the same in small communities as in metropolitan areas.

The data, collected for a bishop's committee on priestly life and ministry to help shape programs to deal with the problem, show 2.8 percent of priests — both in dioceses and in religious orders — have sought treatment for alcoholism.

ANOTHER 2.2 PERCENT of the diocesan priests and 1.9 percent of the religious order of priests have a drinking problem and need treatment but have not sought it, according to information from the church's dioceses and orders.

Combined that makes about 5 percent — or 2,900 members — of the Catholic priesthood with alcoholic problems.

The study found that only one-tenth of the dioceses and religious orders think alcoholism is increasing among priests, while one-fourth think it is decreasing, and the rest feel the trend is about the same as before. But among recovering alcoholic clergy, one-third believe the problem is increasing.

"CLERGY HAVE MORE difficulty than other people in admitting they are alcoholics and they put up greater resistance in going for treatment," said most of the recovering alcoholic priests in the study.

Only one in five said they went voluntarily without pressure on them.

Broken Jaw Testifies to Might

CLEVELAND (AP) — Edward Bruening's jaw has been wired shut for six weeks while the fracture he suffered during a playful match with his son heals. He was struck in the jaw by a punch from James Bruening.

Although sons often grow bigger than their fathers, Jamie hasn't reached that stage yet. He's 17 months old and, at 23 pounds, was outweighed by 124 pounds in the tickling match with his father.

"Every morning he goes to wake his daddy up," Jamie's mother, Mary Ann, explained. "They were on the bed tickling each other. Both of them relaxed on the pillow for a moment, then Eddy tickled him again. Jamie came around with a quick right and hit him on the left side of the jaw. Jamie looks like a little angel, with blond hair and blue eyes. He's just a tiny, little squirt."

Kids Leave Chief Mum

HOUSTON (AP) — Harry Caldwell thought it was tough being chief of the Houston Police Department until he faced 180 kindergarten and first grade pupils at Briargate Elementary School.

Caldwell said he agreed to wear his spiffy chief's uniform — traditionally worn only at ceremonies — and was feeling pretty important when the children began grilling him.

The first few questions were mild. Had he ever shot anyone? Do policemen have to go to school? Then came the zinger.

"How come you ain't found my bicycle?" asked one pupil.

"He just didn't understand my manpower shortage," said Caldwell.

OVERDUE BOOK: JAIL

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Book lovers who hang on to overdue tomes from the Traverse City Public Library can be fined $25 or spend up to 10 days in jail.

The city commission voted to make it a misdemeanor to keep or damage library books.

Robert Olney, city librarian, said the ordinance was necessary because the library lost $2,500 worth of books between January and August.

Auction To Aid Center

An art auction to benefit the Orange County Music Center is scheduled at 2 p.m. Sunday in the multipurpose room of University High School in Irvine.

The proposed music center's south coast chapter is sponsoring the fund raiser, part of the proceeds of which also go to a fund for summer music scholarships for high school students.

Admission to the auction is free. Paintings may be previewed at 1 p.m. There will be 175 to 250 works—lithographs, serigraphs, oils, pastels and water colors.

Mirror May Cut Arrests

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Potential drunk drivers may get a late warning on bathroom mirrors at their watering holes.

In an effort to curb drunk driving, signs saying, "Are you looking at a drunk driver?" are being distributed so bar managers may paste them to bathroom mirrors.

The message closes with the statement: "I'm concerned about your driving safety—I'd like to keep you as a customer. The Management."

City Attorney Burt Pines said he suggested the signs to the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, which has begun a program to identify bars that repeatedly serve customers caught driving under the influence of alcohol.

LIQUOR BAN REJECTED

DELHI, N.Y. (AP) — Prohibition didn't end here until 1972, and the people of Delhi weren't about to bring it back.

Residents of this Delaware County town on the edge of the Catskill Mountains voted against measures that would have outlawed liquor stores and banned liquor in restaurants.

Shah Backs Oil Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Shah of Iran, who earlier this week said his country would "remain silent" on the question of raising oil prices, now says the oil export cartel should "give a break" to consumer countries and forgo any increase for at least a year.

The Shah said President Carter talked him into changing his position from one of neutrality to openly opposing a price increase.

Sullivan File Sought

SUGAR HILL, N.H. (AP) — A man identifying himself as an investigator for the House committee on assassinations has tried unsuccessfully to obtain papers and files of the late William C. Sullivan, former No. 3 man in the FBI, police said today.

Sugar Hill Police Chief Gary Young said a man who identified himself as Clifford A. Fenton Jr., went to Sugar Hill last Friday, two days after Sullivan, 65, was fatally shot in an apparent hunting accident.

In Washington, D.C., a spokesman for the committee on assassinations said it has a staffer by the name of Clifford A. Fenton Jr. But the spokesman would not discuss the nature of Fenton's work nor comment on the report that Fenton had gone to Sugar Hill to get Sullivan's papers and files.

Women Swap Views

HOUSTON (AP) — Women from all over the world are exchanging views on the problems they face in achieving equality on the eve of the U.S. National Women's Conference.

The gathering today brings together women from at least 24 nations. It was sponsored by the State Department's Agency for International Development.

Home Rule Vote Seen

LONDON (AP) — Political commentators predicted today that the home rule bills for Scotland and Wales will be voted on in the two regions by next fall, following the government's victory in the House of Commons to speed up action on the legislation.

The lower house of Parliament voted 313-287 Wednesday night to limit debate on the Scottish bill to 17 days and 314-287 to debate the Welsh bill for 11 days.

3 Men Presumed Dead

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — Three Coast Guardsmen were presumed dead Wednesday as the Guard called off an air and sea search for a missing training boat that had capsized at the mouth of the Columbia River.

Seven of the 10 men on the training mission escaped from the overturned vessel by leaving a trapped bubble of air for a long underwater swim through a narrow passageway full of icy water.

Locals Leading Hobies

Orange County Hobie Cat skippers dominated the first day of racing for the Hobie-16 national championship at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Wednesday.

Leader after the first four races was John Ward of Newport Beach with 24 points. He was followed by Hobie Alter of Capistrano Beach who won one race and had a breakdown in another and will be awarded breakdown points.

In third place was Wayne Schafer, Capistrano Beach; fourth was Russ Edgington, Newport Beach, and fourth was John Hauser, Huntington Beach.

Base scorings:
FIRST RACE — Jack Sammon, Lake Park, Fla.; 2, Bo Roney, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; 3, Steve Schaffer, Upland, Fla.
SECOND RACE — 1, Jeff Canapa, Santa Cruz; 2, John Ward, Newport Beach; 3, Russ Edgington, Newport Beach.
THIRD RACE — Hobie Alter, Capistrano Beach; 2, Bob Gassie, Fort Lauderdale; 3, Cliff McCarty, Brookfield, Conn.

BOARD TOLL: 3,000-PLUS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — At least 3,000 skateboard-related injuries were reported in Los Angeles County in the year ending Oct. 1, says officials of the local National Security Council chapter.

Council president Robert A. Finnegan said many elementary schools reported that at least two pupils in every class have suffered serious skateboard injuries.

Setting Sail

Eighteen legally blind youngsters from Braille Institute's Orange County Community Center got the feel of sailing in Newport Harbor during the annual Lido Regatta, co-sponsored by the Balboa Yacht Club, Balboa. Hoisting sails in preparation of one of the three races are Jerry Scovel, 18 (left), and skipper Roger Fryer of Santa Ana.

Something for Everyone

Coast Guard Offers Boat Safety Courses

The Coast Guard Auxiliary, civilian arm of the United States Coast Guard, has something for everyone interested in boating — whether they are old salts or novices, CGA members or non-members.

Auxiliary members in Southern California and Arizona assist thousands of boat operators in trouble each year, and flotillas of the auxiliary present a wide variety of boating safety courses to the general public, charging only a nominal fee for materials.

For inexperienced boaters and for those who wish to firm up their knowledge of the new federal legal requirements, three different motorboat courses are available.

THE SIX-LESSON (12-hour) Boating Skills and Seamanship course provides practical knowledge in boat handling and safe boating techniques covering rules of the road, aids to navigation, and nautical terminology.

The three-lesson (six hour) Safe Boating course is a more basic, abbreviated form of the above course and includes instruction in knot-tying.

The SOS Skippers Outboard Special course is a one-lesson (two-hour) introduction to the rudiments of safe boating, intended for the novice.

THERE ARE TWO AUXILIARY courses available for those interested in sailing. The one-lesson Introduction to Sailing deals with handling small sailboats in calm and protected waters. It acts as a primer for the seven-lesson Principles of Sailing.

The longer course provides a comprehensive treatment of the subject including basic sail practices, safe handling in both fair and foul weather, sail terminology, knots and lines, sailing safety, and procedures for handling emergency situations.

The CGA also provides instruction for kids. There is a Water and Kids course for kindergarten through third grade employing a special nautical coloring book. There is a one-hour "show and tell" Youth Course for ages 10-15. For Boy and Girl Scouts ages 11-17 Project One Million provides a one-hour action presentation.

AN ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT course for everyone concerned with boating is First Aid for Boatmen, a compact one lesson dealing with emergency treatment of shock, bleeding, burns and artificial respiration.

All of these courses are given on a regular basis by Coast Guard Auxiliary flotillas everywhere. Special arrangements can be made for one-half to two-hour safety programs for clubs, civic organizations, government, industrial and business groups.

The CGA also has a lot to offer the experienced boatman. Active members can get much needed time and expertise in a variety of programs — from teaching the safe boating classes to conducting Courtesy Motorboat Examinations, regatta patrols and assisting boaters in distress.

MEMBERSHIP IS OPEN to all men and women who are U.S. citizens over 17 years of age and who own at least a 25 percent interest in a motorboat, yacht, aircraft or amateur radio station.

Information about membership or boating safety classes may be had by calling or writing: Director of Auxiliary, 11th Coast Guard District, 400 Oceangate, Long Beach, 90822; telephone (213) 590-2217.

Pot Decision Delayed

Medical Treatment Value Weighed Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government advisory panel has voted to postpone a decision on whether to allow marijuana to be prescribed for persons with glaucoma or asthma or undergoing chemotherapy for cancer.

The action by the Food and Drug Administration's Controlled Substances Advisory Committee will delay for at least three months any decision on whether to loosen restrictions on marijuana.

MARIJUANA IS TREATED like LSD and heroin in federal drug-abuse laws. Physicians cannot prescribe it except under tightly controlled experiments.

One committee member, Charles R. Schuster, a professor of psychiatry and pharmacology at the University of Chicago, said Wednesday the federal law is inhibiting research on medical uses of marijuana.

Schuster was in a 4-2 minority when the panel voted to study the issue further.

AMONG THE WITNESSES arguing for medical use of marijuana was Robert Randall, a 29-year-old glaucoma sufferer who gets a weekly supply of pot from the government in a test of its effect on eye pressure.

Also testifying was a representative of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, which petitioned the government five years ago to allow medical use of marijuana.

NORML also favors decriminalization of marijuana for social use, but the FDA panel has no jurisdiction over that issue.

"THIS IS OUR shot. This is the ball game for us," said NORML lawyer Peter Meyers, who won a federal court battle last spring to force the government to consider reclassifying marijuana.

The Justice Department's Drug Enforcement Administration opposed any change in the law, but an appeals court said the secretary of health, education and welfare must decide whether marijuana has medical value.

The panel, composed of experts from outside the government, will make a recommendation for HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr.

Thanks to you it works...

Turkeys To Trot Again

All right your turkeys, get ready to trot and go.

This is what the Westminster Recreation Department has to say for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday season as it prepares for the city's 16th annual Turkey Trot.

Children in grades three through eight are invited to participate in the foot races, which will be held Dec. 10 at Westminster High School, according to Recreation Coordinator Steve Engel.

Contestants must report by 9:30 a.m., bringing along a parent or legal guardian to sign necessary papers to enter the race, which will range from a half-mile to two miles.

Turkey Trot winners will receive frozen holiday dinner turkeys as prizes.

Doomed Kids Recalled

Children in Nazi concentration camps, doomed to death, left behind drawings of their captors. The drawings, on permanent display in Prague, Czechoslovakia, are in San Francisco for a two-week showing at City Hall. The art and some children's poetry has been compiled in a book, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly."

Young Marines Plan Organization Meet

West Orange County youngsters interested in enrollment in the Beach Cities Young Marines program, sponsored by the Huntington Beach detachment of the Marine Corps League, may attend an organizational meeting Saturday.

The session will be at 1:30 p.m. in building 20 at the Armed Forces Reserve Training Center, Los Alamitos, which was formerly known as Los Alamitos Naval Air Station.

Youths aged 10 to 17, boys and girls, are eligible for the Young Marines, which includes a period of boot camp and exposure to USMC life.

Despite the military emphasis, Young Marines encourage scholarship, athletic excellence, patriotism, community service and high moral standards, according to spokesmen Ron Seymour and Norm Scott.

They are available at 968-2463 and 897-6079 for information.

Celtics Pass Fails

UCI Cagers Begin Play

Anteaters Tangle With Australian Team

UC Irvine's young basketball team opens the season tonight, facing Australia's Melbourne Victoria team at 7:30 in Crawford Hall.

The Melbourne team dropped a 94-64 decision to UCLA Monday night and fell to Cal State (Fullerton), 87-70, Wednesday.

Top players for Australia include 7-0 center Peter Walsh and 6-1 guard John Maddock, both members of the 1976 Australian Olympic team.

Also on the roster are two products of California collegiate ball—Brian Goorjian (Pepperdine) and Bruce Palmer (University of Pacific). Both attended Crescenta Valley High.

UCI has its leading scorer back in senior Louis Stephens, but he has been bothered by an ankle injury and may only play on a limited basis tonight.

Seniors Kirk Christ (6-6) and Wayne Smith (6-5), junior Steve McGuire (6-5) and sophomores Steve Rodgers (6-7), Brad Carson (6-0) or Jack Sapp (6-0) figure to be starters.

And freshmen Quentin Brown (6-6) and Rick Jurk (6-4) will see a lot of play, says UCI coach Tim Tift.

Christ, Rodgers and Carson saw a lot of playing time last season with UCI while Smith is a transfer from Portland State. McGuire played at Rio Hondo College last year, Brown is from Roosevelt High in Fresno and Jurk is from Mira Costa High.

"We'll have a more talented team than we did last year (UCI was 10-17 last season), but we've also got a much tougher schedule," says Tift.

"We've been shooting the ball well in practice, which is a major improvement over the last two years. Rebounding will be a major weakness in relation to the people we're playing," adds the UCI coach.

And the defense hasn't come along as well as Tift has hoped it would.

"I'm disappointed with the defense at this point. We're working more with the defense than any other area. But this team has the capability to play good defense."

"We have three general goals we're striving for," says Tift. "One, we want to establish credibility, we want to be able to compete in our conference on a credible level—especially on our own court."

"Two, we have the luxury of a conference where seven of the eight teams will gain the post-season tournament at Anaheim Convention Center. That's our second goal, to get in the tournament."

"And three, we want to shoot for a winning season. And that may be the hardest of our goals," says Tift.

The Anteaters open the collegiate schedule Sunday night, Nov. 27 at Portland U.

Five FV Stars Gain First Team Berths

Willie Gittens, the 175-pound Fountain Valley High tailback who has led the Barons to an undefeated regular season with 25 touchdowns, has been chosen Orange County back of the year by the Orange County Sportswriters Association.

Gittens leads a parade of five first team choices by the Barons as they dominate the All-county selections as they did nine victims during the year.

Also selected on the first team from Fountain Valley are standout linemen Bryan Caldwell, Larry Budgen and Al Koenig, in addition to ace receiver Tim Holmes.

A half dozen other Orange Coast area stars gleaned first team honors—led by three-year, two-way standout Bill Gompf of Laguna Beach. Gompf, a candidate as a quarterback and linebacker, made it as a linebacker.

Mike Camp of Estancia (Costa Mesa) High was picked at receiver, Newport Harbor High defensive end Jeff Bitetti was honored and two Mater Dei (Santa Ana) High stars—running back David Gonzales and defensive guard John Gleason were tabbed.

Greg Karman of Marina (Huntington Beach) was also a first team selection as a running back.

Lineman of the year is George Kenlon of Servite (Anaheim) High, while coach of the year laurels go to Herb Hill of Loara (Anaheim) High, who coached his Saxons to the Empire League title.

WILLIE GITTENS

Griffith's Decision Due Friday

Gene Mauch has one year remaining on his three-year contract as the manager of the Minnesota Twins, and while he admits he's legally obligated, he leaves little doubt that he wants out.

The California Angels are interested in obtaining the services of Mauch to manage them in 1978. His fate rests in the hands of Twins' owner Calvin Griffith.

"My position is no different than it was when the season ended," said Mauch Wednesday from his home in nearby Rancho Mirage. "I told Calvin that while I was legally bound to the Twins for another season, I felt I had fulfilled my moral obligation."

"The premise on which I went to Minnesota was that here was a club ready to win, that everything would be done to ensure that objective," added Mauch. "The club has now been decimated by the loss of good players and in my mind the premise is no longer operable."

Mauch referred to outfielders Lyman Bostock and Larry Hise, who are free agents negotiating with several teams.

Mauch and the Angels will probably learn soon if they can get together in 1978. Griffith informed the Angels Wednesday he would hold a staff meeting today to discuss Mauch's status. He will get back to the Angels by Friday with a final decision on whether Mauch will be allowed out of the final year of his contract so that he can become California's manager.

Mauch earlier told Angels owner Gene Autry he understood that California was considering a managerial change and wanted to discuss that situation if Autry first obtained permission from Griffith.

The Minnesota owner agreed at first, then changed his mind. Perhaps he's about to change his mind again.

The Angels have offered to trade a second-line pitcher and also include some cash in a trade for Mauch.

Korbut, Kim Ill, Won't Make Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Soviet Union's gymnastics team, which has lost Olga Korbut and Nellie Kim because of illness, will make two appearances this weekend in the Los Angeles area, but a third has been cancelled.

The team will perform at the Anaheim Convention Center Saturday and the Forum in Inglewood Sunday.

The performance originally scheduled for the Los Angeles Sports Arena Monday was cancelled, but sponsors said tickets to that show could be exchanged for Sunday's Forum performance.

Sports in Brief

Bashore Returns; Kings in 1-1 Tie

LOS ANGELES — No decision has been made on whether UCLA quarterback Rick Bashore, who suffered a broken rib and a collapsed lung earlier this month, will be able to play for the Bruins against USC Nov. 25.

But the former Edison High (Huntington Beach) star practiced with the Bruins Wednesday for the first time since being injured.

Bashore participated in a non-contact practice and "threw the ball well," said a spokesman.

Bashore won't participate in any contact drills until next week.

Bashore was replaced by junior Steve Bukich of Newport Beach against Oregon State last Saturday. Bukich completed 10 of 15 passes for 140 yards and one touchdown in a 48-18 victory.

Kings Tied

INGLEWOOD — Mike Fidler's power-play goal with 2:21 remaining and brilliant goal-tending by Cleveland's Gary Edwards helped the Barons earn a 1-1 National Hockey League standoff with the Los Angeles Kings Wednesday night.

Edwards, a former member of the Kings, was called on to make 47 saves while the Barons mustered only 19 shots on Los Angeles goalie Rogie Vachon.

Gottfried Wins

WEMBLEY, England—Brian Gottfried, No. 2 seed in the $135,000 Grand Prix tennis tournament, crushed Brian Teacher, 6-4, 7-6, Wednesday.

Raul Ramirez rallied to beat Buster Mottram, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4; Tom Okker beat San Clemente's

Bob Lutz, 7-5, 6-3; and John Lloyd ousted Mark Cox, 7-5, 6-1.

Also, Eddie Dibbs overcame Jan Kodes, 6-0, 6-3; Billy Martin defeated Roger Taylor, 7-6, 2-6, 6-3; and Vijay Amritraj stopped Keith Richardson, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

Connors Upset

LAS VEGAS — Dick Stockton upset Jimmy Connors for the third time this year, 6-5, 6-5 Wednesday in the WCT Challenge Cup tennis match.

Also Vitas Gerulaitis downed Roscoe Tanner, 5-6, 6-4, 6-4 and Ilie Nastase beat Corona del Mar's Rod Laver, 6-5, 6-4.

Cubans Tumble

MINNEAPOLIS — Guards Osborne Lockhart and James Jackson combined for 34 points to lead the Minnesota Gophers to a 66-53 victory over the touring Cuban National Team Wednesday night.

Fouts Returns

SAN DIEGO — Quarterback Dan Fouts will end his long holdout Thursday and rejoin the San Diego Chargers, his attorney said Wednesday.

U.S. Defeated

TOKYO — Brazil easily beat the United States, 15-8, 15-7 Thursday in the first preliminary match of the third men's World Cup volleyball championship at Fukuoka.

France in Victory

PARIS — France overpowered Bulgaria 3-1 Wednesday night to qualify for the 1978 World Cup soccer finals in Argentina.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — In two more days, the annual Bo against Woody, good guys against bad guys, good against evil showdown will be staged before more than 104,000 persons and a national TV audience.

It will be the University of Michigan against Ohio State at Michigan Stadium Saturday for the Rose Bowl ticket.

Millions of words have been written depicting the strengths and weaknesses of both sides. A hundred times that many words are being used by fans in pregame anticipation. In the end, only the 60 minutes on the field will count.

It is truly amazing, however, what those 60 minutes of football will produce in revenue for both schools.

"This will be the biggest money game ever at Michigan," athletic director Don Canham said proudly.

He should be proud. He personally worked tirelessly to make it that. And the numbers are staggering.

Michigan's Big $ Game Wolverines to Make $515,000 Saturday

Conservatively speaking, from ticket receipts, TV rights, parking, concession and program fees, Michigan will make about $515,000 for banging helmets with the Buckeyes. The merchants of Ann Arbor will make even more.

Ohio State's cut totals approximately $322,000.

"We'll put the bands on the field for this one (normally they sit in the stands)," Canham said. "We're putting some extra seats around the field and we'll use even the bad seats in the stands." Those are the ones directly behind the team benches.

Bo and Woody's game plans can be dissected after Saturday's extravaganza. But the number breakdown goes like this:

—$244,000 for each school through a split of 61,000 tickets at $4 each.

—$44,000 for Michigan and $4,000 for Ohio State for 8,000 faculty tickets at $6 each. Michigan gets $5.50 for each and Ohio State gets $0.50.

—$112,000 for Michigan and $16,000 for Ohio State for 22,000 student tickets at $4 each. Michigan gets $3.50 for each and Ohio State gets $0.50.

—$58,000 each for TV rights. Each of the other Big Ten schools also gets the same cut for the telecast. Michigan gets an extra $15,000 because the game is at Ann Arbor.

—$20,000 in concessions — all for Michigan.

—$12,000 in programs — all for Michigan.

—$10,000 in parking — all for Michigan.

Those are Canham's "conservative" projections. They are based on 104,000 crowd and low concession figures.

Why do so many alumni, fans, friends and students pack into Michigan Stadium for the game when they could watch it on TV?

"It's the pagentry," according to Canham. "And I guess you might say there is a little more spirit and enthusiasm involved with this game."

That's speaking conservatively. Just like the numbers.

CdM's Hubbard Returns

Martin Hubbard has returned to the Corona del Mar backfield, and not a moment too soon.

The talented tailback is sufficiently recovered from his hip-pointer injury to rejoin the starting lineup for Friday night's 7:30 CIF playoff game against El Dorado at Valencia High's stadium.

Since Hubbard was injured in the Laguna Beach game a month ago, he has been replaced by Arata Hamawaki, who took advantage of the opportunity to average 5.1 yards per carry, score two touchdowns and roll up 238 yards on 46 carries.

But Hamawaki injured his knee on the second play of last week's loss to Costa Mesa. He underwent surgery on Tuesday and is lost for the season.

Hubbard returns to the lineup with some of the most impressive statistics in the South Coast League. He has seven touchdowns, a 7.1 average per carry and 539 yards on 76 runs.

Corona del Mar's leading receiver, Clark Hayes, will miss Friday's game with a concussion. He'll be replaced by Craig Johnston, who moves over from his flanker position to split end. Bruce Batcheller will fill the void at flanker.

Defensive safety and backup quarterback Rick Starnes is also out with an injury. A season-long starter on defense and one of coach Dick Morris' stalwarts, Starnes is suffering from a dislocated shoulder.

He'll be replaced by Kurt Brockman, the starting quarterback. Brockman played defense last season, but hasn't seen any action there this year.

Morris' philosophy is not to dwell on injuries and bad fortune, but to concentrate on the athletes who remain healthy.

"We can't fret about it," Morris says. "We just tell our kids we'll take up the slack with who we have in there."

The Sea Kings, 6-3 on the season, are eight-point underdogs against El Dorado, 7-1-1.

"El Dorado is at its best on defense. It's line is big and tough," says Morris. "They shut down everything inside and penetrate well. We think we can get outside on them, though."

ROBIN CHARLES

BRAD PARKER

Parker, Charles

CV's Dynamic Duo Far From Ordinary

Only one senior will be in the starting lineup for Capistrano Valley High Friday night when the Cougars take on Mission Viejo in the opening game of the CIF football playoffs.

But of those underclassmen at least two—quarterback Brad Parker and halfback Robin Charles—would probably be starting for just about any varsity squad.

This dynamic duo has accounted for 18 of the Cougars' 28 touchdowns. Without them, the Capistrano Valley offense looks ordinary.

Friday's playoff skirmish—a cross-town rivalry since many of Capistrano Valley's students live within former Mission Viejo district boundaries—is scheduled for 7:30 at the MV stadium.

A first-year school, Capistrano Valley's varsity lists only 11 seniors and most are reserves.

That means a lot of juniors are playing who might have found it difficult to crack the starting lineup at a school with a full senior class.

But Parker and Charles don't belong to that category.

Charles has scored 10 touchdowns, seven on runs of various distances. His 39-yard and 33-yard scoring jaunts indicate he's capable of breaking a game open.

Charles also has an 82-yard kickoff return to his credit and two pass receptions for touchdowns.

"He's an explosive runner and overall, a fine athlete," says Capistrano Valley coach Bill Cunerty. "He can do a lot of different things for us."

Charles is a transfer from El Toro, where his brother, Bob, was a standout football and basketball player. Bob hasn't played football for Capistrano Valley because he required knee surgery at the outset of the season, but he intends to play basketball for the Cougars.

Robin is a backup quarterback to Parker, in addition to his duties as a running back, wide receiver and defensive back.

But Parker hasn't needed any assistance, except for a brief span during the first game of the season when he was shaken up.

The 6-0, 180-pound transfer from San Clemente has made a smooth transition from the wishbone system of the Tritons to the veer offense of the Cougars.

Parker has rushed for six touchdowns and passed for two others. On the season he has completed 32 of 80 passes for 304 yards, a 4.00 percentage.

On the ground, Parker averages 4.4 yards per carry.

That ranks second on the team behind Charles, who averages 7.5 yards every time he takes the ball. Charles has accumulated 428 yards on 57 carries.

"Mission Viejo has to be favored in this game," Cunerty says. "But if Parker and Charles have good games and we play mistake-free football...well, who knows?"

GWC in Low-scoring Tilt?

We Can't Afford Mistakes--Shackleford

When two good football teams clash, the result is usually a low-scoring game.

And Golden West College coach Ray Shackleford figures that's what will happen Saturday night when his Rustlers battle Santa Monica College for the Southern California Conference title and a trip to next week's Avocado Bowl against Fullerton.

Both teams come into the tilt with 5-0 circuit records. If the game ends in a tie, the bowl representative will be determined by a coin flip.

But Shackleford isn't thinking about a tie, although he does believe it will be a low-scoring affair.

"I think this game will be similar to our game with Fullerton (a 13-3 Fullerton win). But we can't afford to make the mistakes Saturday night like we did against Fullerton because Santa Monica has done a superb job of capitalizing on offensive mistakes," says Shackleford.

"We've got to do two things. We've got to eliminate mistakes and we've got to make a concerted effort to run the ball," adds the GWC coach.

Shackleford says Santa Monica's offense has been very conservative, but he quickly points out the Corsairs have some top skilled athletes.

"Santa Monica really hasn't opened up. They get ahead early and they sit on the ball. But they have a great quarterback, two outstanding running backs and some very good receivers. Their offense is very capable."

But so is Golden West's.

The Rustlers have scored 275 points this season, including 199

(39.8 average) in the last five games.

Golden West have five running backs that have rushed for more than 200 yards—including starters Steve Fogel (748) and Loren Micklin (489).

And lending balance is quarterback Bill Holst, who runs the option and passes equally well. Holst has passed for 1,144 yards (5 TDs), completing 79 of 153 aerials. And he has run for 250 more.

And what's more important, says Shackleford, is the fact that the Rustlers now have stability in the backfield. Injuries have hampered the GWC backs considerably this season, but the return of Micklin (ankle injury) and the emergence of Fogel (a freshman) has upgraded GWC's running attack.

"And Holst has been outstanding. He's completed about 65 percent of his passes and he hasn't thrown an interception in conference play. He loosens up the defense, which has helped our running game."

Pickford Recalls '76 Embarrassment

Top-seeded teams in any playoff system usually find themselves in a position of tangling with a patois in the first round, but Fountain Valley High's undefeated Barons find themselves in a position of meeting the last team to defeat a Fountain Valley varsity.

Coach Bruce Pickford's Barons clash with Fontana High's Steelers Friday night (8) at Orange Coast College and the Steelers boast another tough defensive unit. Fontana eliminated the Barons in the '76 playoffs.

But Pickford says the Barons have no qualms about the draw. "We're glad we drew Fontana," says Pickford. "We might have drawn a Crespi or another team from out of the area that we know little about."

"But we have some knowledge about Fontana and a bit of a rivalry going. They hurt us last year to the point of embarrassment."

"I would have bet you $1,000 to a nickel that we had the game won when we punted out of bounds on the Fontana 4-yard line with three minutes left. But Fontana marched the length of the field on the ground. We had one of the finest defensive teams around, but in that drive we collapsed."

"We had two defensive failures all year long and that was one of them."

Fontana prevailed, 14-10, and Pickford says he expects Fontana to field another defensive-oriented club.

"Fontana is very similar to last year with its wishbone offense, which we haven't seen all year. The secret to winning Friday night is that we have to get three touchdowns on the board. I think we're capable of doing that, but I thought we were capable of doing that last year and Fontana held us to 10 points."

"Fontana doesn't throw much and you have to overplay the run a little bit because they are going to try to shove the ball down your throat. And Dell Cannady is an excellent quarterback for Fontana."

Tim Holmes has been sidelined with a shoulder injury, but the play of Kevin Margerum and Stan Shibata in the Sunset League finale at Westminster took the sting out of Holmes' absence. "We knew we had five excellent receivers at the outset," says Pickford. "But we weren't counting on losing Mike Empting and Holmes."

GWC Gains Polo Playoffs

LOS ANGELES—Golden West College will face San Diego Mesa in the opening round of the Southern California JC water polo playoffs Tuesday at East LA College, here.

GWC's Rustlers, seeded third in the eight-team tourney, will meet Mesa at 10:30 a.m. Mesa is the second place team from the South Coast Conference.

Golden West and Ventura tied for the championship of the Southern Cal circuit.

Metropolitan champion Long Beach CC has been seeded No. 1 with Fullerton seeded second. Fullerton captured the South Coast title.

A second round will be played

Tuesday afternoon with the championship set for Wednesday. Only the top two teams will advance to the state tourney Dec. 2-3 at DeAnza College in Cupertino.

No Changes for Sailors

We'll Do the Same Things--Pizzica

For their first CIF football playoff game in three years, Newport Harbor High's Sailors will rely on the two main ingredients that got them there — a stingy defense and an opportunistic offense.

"We're going to do the things that have won for us so far," head coach Bill Pizzica said. "We won't make any changes because of CIF or anything."

That means the Sailors will be embroiled in a low-scoring battle when they host Del Rey League runner-up St. Francis (La Canada) Friday night at 8.

Newport has allowed less than nine points a game, registering two shutouts, giving up only a field goal in one game and allowing one touchdown in three others.

But while the defense has been the dominant factor in the Tars' 7-2 season and second place finish in the rugged Sunset League, the offense has been coming around lately.

The major weapon appears to be the passing of Craig Lyons to a fleet of swift receivers, headed by flanker Wayne Kasperek and wide receiver Larry Higby.

"I feel if we play our game, which is defensive-oriented, we are explosive enough offensively that we'll score somewhere," Pizzica said.

Newport lost to Seaview (Anaheim) 24-0 in a pre-league game that Lyons sat out due to an injury. The other loss came to Sunset League champion Fountain Valley, 18-7. The Sailors haven't had any breathers to speak of, a factor Pizzica feels will be an advantage in the playoffs.

"You naturally feel more comfortable going against a weak team but we haven't played any of those," he said. "I think we've played as tough of competition as any team around."

Though they are only a second place entry, the Sailors expect to do well in the playoffs.

"We had a team meeting Saturday and we talked about what we did or didn't want to do," Pizzica said. "We decided we wanted to give it our best shot and that's what we're doing."

St. Francis, Pizzica says, will have a definite size advantage over Newport but little else is known about the Knights.

"We saw some films and they look big and fast," he says. "They run a 5-2 defense which is what we've been running against all year, but nobody's done too much scoring on them."

Tritons to Pass?

It May Be Necessary--Schaff

San Clemente High School hasn't done a lot of passing this season but coach Allie Schaff says the Tritons will go to the air if necessary to defeat Esperanza High (Anaheim) in a first round CIF football playoff game Friday night (7:30) on the San Clemente field.

"If they shut down our running game, we'll go to the air," Schaff says. "But they haven't played too many teams using the option and we will try to go with our running game first."

Schaff praised the San Clemente kicking game as an added plus for his troops.

"The kicking game has won three games for us," Schaff says. "We're getting a lot of mileage out of our kids and one of the factors is that we spend a lot of time on the little things such as the kicking game."

Kicking for the Tritons is the son of the coach, John Schaff.

"It's going to be a tough game," Schaff adds. "We are as healthy as we have been all season but we will again be out-horsed as far as size goes. It's been pretty much that way all year, though."

The San Clemente coach wasn't happy with the fact only three officials showed up for his league finale against Dana Hills last week.

"We let down on four big plays defensively and they scored on an illegal sweep play, that has been outlawed for three years, early in the third quarter," he says. "But that's behind us now and we have to play Esperanza this week."

The Tritons will have Mark McElroy at quarterback operating the option play with its many ramifications. And Schaff will have a constant string of running backs shuttling in and out of the game to bring in the plays and otherwise aid with the ball carrying or blocking assignments.

MD's Goal: Stop Foe's Power Play

When the Mater Dei High Monarchs (Santa Ana) face the Redlands High Terriers Friday night (7:30) at the University of Redlands in a first round CIF playoff game, two teams of similar stature will be settling their differences on the football field.

"We concluded the season by playing the way we thought we were capable of playing," Mater Dei coach Wayne Cochran says. "Until the league began, we didn't know for sure what had gone wrong."

"We haven't done anything different but the kids have practiced harder and the coaches have done a lot better."

Mater Dei has had a stingy defense, especially in league games. All four league outings were decided by less than two touchdowns and in none of the games did either team score more than twice.

Redlands has five shutouts and after its opener with Fountain Valley, limited the next eight opponents to 28 points total.

"We were really lucky to get all of our injured players back in time for league play," Cochran says. "We are as healthy as any team around at this time of the season."

The Monarchs will have to stop tailback Rick Tyler, a 165-pounder who has carried 152 times for 933 yards and has scored 72 points.

Gene Larson at quarterback is also an outstanding athlete, according to Cochran. "He's a 9.8 sprinter, a good ball handler and throws well."

Cochran says the Terriers run a lot of power plays at the tackle positions, but also have the fake power with the quarterback going to the outside.

"We will have to commit a lot of people to stop the power and this presents a problem in other areas," Cochran says.

Will the Monarchs try anything new?

"This is a reward for the kids to be able to play in the playoffs," the coach says. "We always try to put in a new wrinkle or two for every game."

Rugged Challenge Edison's Defense on the Spot

St. Paul (Santa Fe Springs) High is a 7½-point favorite to make the 1977 edition of Edison (Huntington Beach) High football the first non-winning team in Chargers history Friday night (8), and considering the facts, maybe the spread should be more.

The Swordsmen of St. Paul are Angelus League champions, boast an 8-1 record including a victory over Hawaii's No. 1 team (St. Louis High) and enter with a history of awesome defense.

HB Girls Win

Seeded Orange Coast area girls volleyball teams Newport Harbor, Corona del Mar and Laguna Beach will have home assignments Saturday evening following CIF first round action that found Camarillo, Huntington Beach and Long Beach Millikan winning at home.

Camarillo took San Gabriel, 15-12, 15-13, thus invades idle Newport Harbor.

Huntington Beach was at home and dealt Saddleback High (Santa Ana) a 15-4, 15-4 setback and invades Corona del Mar.

And Laguna Beach will host Millikan after the latter knocked Mater Dei (Santa Ana) off in three sets, 15-11, 9-15, 15-9.

EDISON'S CHUCK CRAWFORD STARTS AT QUARTERBACK.

21-17 Prediction

Mater Dei Coach Picks St. Paul

Edison (Huntington Beach) High's Chargers enter the CIF (Big Five Conference) playoffs as 7½-point underdogs Friday night (8) when they travel to Santa Fe Springs to duel Angelus League co-champion St. Paul.

Edison, however, has the type of team capable of putting the stops to the Swordsmen. Mater

Dei (Santa Ana) High coach Wayne Cochran sent his team against both of these teams and offers the following views:

"Edison has a good chance to win because of the way it plays defense. To beat St. Paul you have to play aggressively like Edison and you have to keep field position in mind all the time."

"Our game plan was to keep St. Paul away from our territory. We had a goal of making at least two first downs on each possession."

"And you can not let St. Paul intimidate you. The intimidation factor is somewhat of a myth. It is a decent stadium with good turf. The fans are real loud but you're still playing a bunch of 16 and 17-year-olds like anyone else."

"Rick Valenzuela can break the long one, but you can't key on him too much, or they'll kill you with the fullback. St. Paul's defense slants a little more than in the past and St. Paul defenders are hard to knock down, they stay on their feet and keep moving."

"Next to Servite they have the best secondary in the league and it is very aggressive. They like to intimidate the receivers with aggressive hitting."

Is there a weak link in the Swordsmen's armor? "Yes," says Cochran. "St. Paul's kicking game is not too good. But watch out for its punt return team. They are super on punt returns. They returned three against Long Beach Poly and they set up a great picket, usually toward St. Paul's bench. One of the things you don't want to do is punt."

"I think St. Paul will win, 21-17, because Edison's running game is not that good. But if Edison can run the ball, it can win."

Cochran and his Monarchs, who are at Redlands in the first round of the playoffs, lost to Edison (42-21) in non-league action and at St. Paul (14-7).

Eagles Primed for Poly

Estancia (Costa Mesa) High's Eagles are in the CIF football playoffs for the first time since 1970, but the long wait won't hurt the Eagles, says coach Jim Bratten.

The Eagles travel to UC Riverside Friday night (7:30) to duel undefeated Riverside Poly, the No. 2 seed in the Southern Conference and Bratten says the tough schedule his crew has waded through will pay off Friday.

"We feel like we've been in the playoffs all year," says Bratten. "Only now if we lose it's all over. We've played a tougher schedule than Riverside Poly. El Modena (Orange) and Foothill (Tustin) are two fine teams which did not make the playoffs."

"This is icing on a season, but we want more than that—we want to do as well as we can. I promise you, win or lose, Riverside Poly will leave the field with some respect for us."

A question in the starting lineup is in the secondary where All-Century League standout Earl Hewell may be missing with a knee injury.

"We'll replace him with Dave Jeranko," says Bratten, "unless Jeranko is still sick. In that case Jeranko will only play at quarterback and we'll bring in Doug Tymins or Andy Beavor."

Jeranko, All-Orange County receiver Mike Camp and others have been bugged by minor illness.

As for containing Riverside, Bratten says it is comparable to playing Edison (Huntington Beach). "You have to play the same type of sound defense and run the ball right at them and see what you can do," says Bratten.

Dad's Tribute Revived

TV to Air the Immortality of Mary White

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Mary White," a two-hour television special about an effervescent girl who died in a riding accident in 1921, is based on one of the most widely read editorials in U.S. journalism.

Mary White was the daughter of William Allen White, editor of the Emporia, Kan., Gazette for 49 years, from 1895 until his death in 1944.

A TELEVISION SPECIAL about the relationship of father and daughter and about Mary White's 16-year life will be broadcast on the ABC-TV network from 9 to 11 p.m. Friday on Channel 7.

White, known as the Sage of Emporia, was one of the most influential editors of his time. The day after his daughter was killed while riding her horse, he wrote an editorial about her for the Gazette.

The Associated Press picked it up, and it was printed in newspapers across the country. White wrote a friend:

"THE EDITORIAL HAS gone out to papers aggregating a total subscription of 2½ million, probably a wider circulation than anything that has ever been published in the Gazette."

"And I cannot help feeling that someplace along the line, Mary's life has reached out and touched other lives through this article, and I hope it has touched them for good. That immortality is sure. And it helps my sorrow somewhat to know that I helped her to that wider influence."

The editorial became a part of high school and college textbooks, which is how Robert B. Radnitz, producer of such films as "Sommer," first saw it.

"THAT'S TRUE," RADNITZ said in an interview. "It was in a reader we had when I was 12. We all had to read it."

A film buff early on, Radnitz kept the editorial in the back of his mind for years. When he became a story consultant to Buddy Adler at 20th Century-Fox in 1958, he suggested the idea to Adler.

But the studio turned it down as noncommercial, and it wasn't until ABC approached him to do a television program four years ago that he revived it.

LIKE ALL OF Radnitz' film, it was shot on location, in and around Emporia.

White is portrayed by Ed Flanders, winner of Emmy Awards for "Moon for the Misogotten" and "Harry S Truman: Plain Speaking." Kathleen Beller plays Mary White. Now 21, she played for two years in the soap opera, "Search for Tomorrow," had a small role in "Godfather II" and a major role in a TV movie, "Something for Joey."

In preparing for the role, Miss Beller told a reporter, "First I had to learn to ride a horse."

"I CAME AWAY with black and blue marks that big," she said, making a two-inch circle with her hand.

Radnitz said he had the cooperation of the White family, including a daughter-in-law of the editor, in part through the intervention of retired Justice William O. Douglas, and of Palmer Hoyt, former publisher of the Denver Post, a family friend.

White, who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1923 for another editorial, was not always as gentle as he was in the piece about his daughter. He once wrote about a candidate he didn't like:

"WE HAVE RAKED the old ash heap of failure in the state and found an old human hoopskirt who has failed as a businessman, failed as an editor, failed as a preacher, and we are going to run him for congressman at large."

The last paragraph of his editorial about Mary read:

"A rift in the clouds in a gray day threw a shaft of sunlight upon her coffin as her nervous, energetic little body sank to its last sleep. But the soul of her, the glowing gorgeous, fervent soul of her, surely was flaming in eager joy upon some other dawn."

KATHLEEN BELLER, who radiates the same kind of spirit, was asked what would have happened to Mary White if she had lived.

"She would have been president of the United States," she replied. "I guarantee it."

'Godfather' Shaded Cards and Cowboys

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC announced that Monday night's St. Louis-Dallas game was seen in more homes than any game in the seven-year history of "Monday Night Football."

The game drew a 24.4 rating and 40 percent share, meaning almost one-quarter of the TV sets in the country and 40 percent of those in use were tuned to ABC. Both figures are highs for the season.

The record figure comes in the homes delivered per minute category, almost 17.8 million homes. ABC estimates a total audience of about 53 million watched the game.

The game cut significantly into NBC's hopes for giant ratings on "The Godfather." Part three of "The Godfather" on Monday night had higher ratings than the Cardinals-Cowboys game, but just barely, drawing a 28 rating and 42-percent share.

When the original "Godfather" movie appeared on NBC in November 1974 against a Monday night game involving Kansas City and Denver, the movie had a 57 share to 26 for the football game.

NBC Unhappy With Ratings Of Godfather

NEW YORK (AP) — The third installment in "The Godfather," NBC's novel-for-television, had a bigger audience than either of the first two parts, A. C. Nielsen figures show. And there were indications that even more people watched the last chapter Tuesday night.

But NBC apparently was not completely satisfied with ratings for the expensive special, which industry sources said may have cost the network between $9 million and $15 million.

"WE'RE PLEASED WITH the audience for the show," an NBC spokesman said. "The ratings could have been higher, but..."

Monday night's third installment got a rating of 28, which Nielsen says means 28 percent of the homes in the country with TV sets watched "The Godfather." The rating for the first part Saturday night was 22.3, and that increased to 26.1 Sunday night.

The national rating for Tuesday evening was not available, but NBC said overnight ratings in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles were high. Ratings for the program were consistently higher in the big cities than in the country as a whole.

IT WAS 45.1 IN New York, 33.5 in Chicago and 31.3 in Los Angeles, NBC said. That means 45.1 percent of the TV homes in New York City tuned to "The Godfather."

Despite the relatively high ratings, the first part was only the 13th most-watched program during the week ending Nov. 13, and the second installment was No. 5 for the week.

The ratings represent audiences for "The Godfather" of 16.3 million homes Saturday, 19 million Sunday and 20.4 million Monday.

War Coming Closer For Walton Family

By JAY SHARBUTT

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's an odd thing about "The Waltons," that gentle clan of the Virginia hills. If you don't watch the show much, you tend to think they're still in the Depression era.

But last week's episode had them pausing to hear the war news from Europe, had one Walton boy home from National Guard training and another wishing he could become a Royal Air Force fighter pilot.

AND TONIGHT, a family crisis occurs when Grandpa Walton invites Army units on maneuvers to bivouac on his land. (Channel 2, 8 p.m.)

In short, that distant war in Europe is coming closer and closer for members of the durable CBS family series created by Earl Hamner, who grew up in the rural town of Schuyler, Va.

Last season, he says, the series combined the years 1937-38 "because we'd just about used up every aspect of the Depression and we didn't want to start repeating things."

"AND SINCE THE Depression always had been the villain, we felt we needed a new villain in the form of World War II, which would be especially threatening to a family with that many (four) boys."

As most viewers know, Richard Thomas, who played the oldest son, John-Boy, left the series after last season. But he still is mentioned by the family in various episodes this year, Hamner says.

At last report, John-Boy was in New York, working for The Associated Press, of all things, and writing his second novel.

HAMNER, 54, WHOSE hit series is based on his memories of growing up in rural Virginia, says he's keeping this season's shows in a period just before the start of the draft for American men in 1940.

"This is because we don't want to lose any of the remaining boys quite yet," he said. "And when they're drafted, we'll work the stories around them when they're home on leave."

If "The Waltons" is renewed for a seventh season, it would then deal with the Pearl Harbor attack and America's entry into the war.

BUT HAMNER SAYS the focus will remain on the family, on the impact of the war on the Waltons who stay home in Virginia, and won't directly follow the young Walton men through military service.

"No, we won't do that," he said. "I think the reason people like this show is the family unit, the strength they sense in this family in that particular place."

He grinned when it was suggested the series may well keep rolling along until another generation of Waltons faces the Korean war.

"I'M NOT SURE we'll ever get there," Hamner said. "Someone once asked me, 'Could we keep it going to the time John-Boy becomes a writer in Hollywood?'"

Perhaps John-Boy might even write a series about a family called the Hamners?

"Yes, and set it in the hills of Studio City," chuckled the writer, who's lived there with his family since 1961. "But I don't think I'm physically strong enough to keep 'The Waltons' going that long."

'Serious Flaw' In NBC News Documentary

CHICAGO (AP) — The National News Council has ruled that an hour-long NBC News documentary on radioactive waste was "seriously flawed" in reporting two instances of possible radioactive harm to persons and animals.

The council said presentation of the material in question showed "no evidence of cause and effect. . . ." and "would seem to be an indication of scare tactics, beyond the limits of sound journalism."

HOWEVER, THE COUNCIL "applauded the intention of NBC in bringing this substantial controversy to the attention of its television audience" and found unwarranted other complaints that the program lacked balance and perspective and "resorted to emotionalism and show-biz gimmicks."

The program entitled, "Danger! Radioactive Waste" was aired Jan. 26.

The President Of the Pacific Ocean

His title, says Spike Africa, is strictly non-political. 'I'm in charge of sea serpents, mermaids, tides, currents.'

By DENNIS McLELLAN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The ruddy-faced old salt sporting a white goatee and blue North Sea pilot's cap was perched on a stool outside the bayfront restaurant in Newport Beach.

His hands worked expertly, tying the strands of fish net twine that were forming into a macrame belt.

"I'm Spike Africa, the President of the Pacific Ocean," he tells a curious visitor. The title, he explains, has been handed down in his family since 1749.

"It's strictly non-political. I'm in charge of sea serpents, mermaids, tides and currents. If you want to make a good trip to sea you've got to see me and get a permit."

Spike Africa cracked a faint smile, lodged another pinch of Copenhagen snuff behind his lower lip, and continued his work in front of the Rusty Pelican Restaurant.

The Seattle man, who is "enjoying the last quarter of my 72nd year," did all the macrame decorations inside. He also made all the macrame for the other restaurants in the West Coast chain owned by Pete Siracusa of Capistrano Beach.

WHEN NOT DOING odd jobs in Seattle or playing bit parts in movies—"I was a wino in 'Cinderella Liberty'"—he travels to the different restaurants where he works for a week or two.

"A lot of people stop and talk to me," he says, noting he learned to tie knots as a youth working on sailing ships.

He fished an aged black-and-white snapshot of a five-mast schooner out of his wallet.

"There's the first ship I went to sea in in 1924." He spent most of his life at sea and in logging camps, he says. He also fished in Alaska in the early days, was manager of the Seattle Yacht Club, an inspector for the Treasury Department and a naval officer.

"IT HASN'T BEEN dull," he says in summation. "I can't stand that. There's two words we don't allow in our house. One is retirement and the other is senior citizen."

Spike adjusted the pieces of twine, which were nailed to the wooden railing and fastened to a "belly hook," a device attached to his belt. It is, he says, his "third" hand.

"Now we're going to make a little speed run," he says. "We're going to hook it up and tie three knots."

His fingers work quickly, forming knot after knot.

"Yeah, it's an art practiced by seamen—let me see, what's my speech—seamen, prisoners and lunatics. I do it to keep from losing my mind."

"I have a spiel: This may look like a modern synthetic. But it's actually shrunken umbilical cords of dancing maidens from the headwaters of the Nile, rafted down river on a raft of golden crowbars that comes to me at great cost in human life and treasure..."

SPIKE AFRICA SHAKES his head. "Only I've got a million of them. That's why I'm hoarse. I've been entertaining for two weeks."

"One guy asked me where I live. I said I live so far out the mailman stays over night..."

Having warmed to his visitor, Spike admits he's not really President of the Pacific Ocean. His brother—"he was a fun lover"—used to send him large letters festooned with seals, ribbons and stamps and addressed to the President of the Pacific Ocean. The name stuck.

"It's a fun thing," he says. "It doesn't hurt anybody and nobody was taking care of the ocean. I've been working on banning oil tankers."

Standing Room Only

OCC President Bob Moore has taken the open office to heart. As a matter of fact, he doesn't have a desk.

By DENNIS McLELLAN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

A visitor entering Orange Coast College President Bob Moore's office once was completely taken aback—even more so than most.

"Where's your office?" he said.

"This," replied Moore, "is it."

Moore smiles at such seemingly rude remarks about his office decor. It is, admittedly, not what one expects in the way of college presidents' offices.

Absent is a massive, ostentatious desk—he has an inconspicuous stand-up desk. There is a couch and chair for when he wants to sit or chat with visitors.

Nearly absent, in fact, are walls—the small office is nestled in a corner of the administration building near the entrance.

ANYONE INTERESTED in knowing what the college president is up to merely has to look into his office through one of two large, ground-level windows.

Bob Moore has really taken the open office idea to heart.

"I like this arrangement," says Moore, seated on the couch. "I don't want a desk. I do think they are a barrier in conversations."

Moore began using a stand-up desk—actually a typewriter demonstration platform—years ago when he was working on his doctorate at Stanford.

When he became OCC president in 1964 his office in the old administration building had "a rather pretentious desk in a very small room. I felt if we just didn't have that desk in there we could have a more relaxed atmosphere."

Re-enter the stand-up desk.

THREE YEARS AGO the new administration building was built.

Off to Dallas

Carole Renick leaves today to compete in the Miss Teenage America contest.

By MARCIA FORSBERG
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Carole Renick, a 17-year-old with a pleasant smile and fine, delicate features, is attractive enough to win a beauty contest. But the competition the El Toro High School senior is currently involved with has little to do with looks.

The Miss Teenage America Youth Recognition Program judges more than poise and appearance, she says. It considers talent, scholastic achievement and individual accomplishments—and Carole Renick excels in all the categories.

She was recently chosen from among 12 finalists to represent Southern California in next week's national finals in Dallas. The pageant will be televised nationally on NBC on Friday, Nov. 25.

Miss Renick won her first title at a preliminary pageant at Laguna Hills Mall. She then went on to final competition at Huntington Center, where she competed against 11 other young winners of local titles from Southern California shopping malls.

THE AREA'S outstanding teenager leaves today for Dallas, where she'll be interviewed by judges, tested and given a chance to perform her special talent, singing.

For the past couple of weeks, she's been practicing her interpretation of Eliza Doolittle's "I Could Have Danced All Night," which she performed at Huntington Center. The accomplished pianist also has practiced a Rachmaninoff prelude "in case my voice gives out," she says.

She's also been studying and reading Time magazine in preparation for the contest's World Book Encyclopedia test on current events, literature, fine arts, history, science and general awareness.

In Dallas, eight semi-finalists will be picked from 43 entrants, and the winner of the competition will receive a $15,000 scholarship.

"Then she gets to travel all year, giving speeches and making appearances," Miss Renick explained.

THE CONTEST, sponsored by World Book and Dr. Pepper, benefits cystic fibrosis, she said.

She became involved two years ago when her mother, Kathryn

Marry, He Says

According to my taxman, there is only one good financial investment I could make. Every year when I see him he says the same thing, "Get married."

And every year I reply, "I like to eat alone." It's really difficult to live on one income these days, particularly when salaries never seem to rise as rapidly as rents, food bills and the price of children's clothing.

Recently my daughter graduated from a girl's size 14 into women's sizes and is raiding my closet for things to wear. (Can you imagine what it feels like to know your child, who is still growing, already fits into your bathing suit? Or to put on your favorite blouse and find it has bubble gum on it?)

My son will only wear O.P. shirts and Britania jeans that cost $20 a piece. And both kids started wearing adult-size shoes years ago. (For some reason they've always had adult feet; if only their minds could catch up.)

Men, too, have financial problems. In fact, I

Computer About to Move In

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Get ready for the era of the friendly computer.

A computer that turns your lights on and off, protects your home, balances your checkbook, takes your pulse and helps prepare your breakfast. A computer you can learn from or play games with. A computer you may not even know is there.

You may own a computer already in your pocket calculator; or you may have one in your microwave oven. Or your sewing machine. Or your automobile.

To many people, computers are huge, multi-million dollar devices used to send men to the moon. The computer is the thing that fouls up your bill. But the recent development of the microprocessor — a tiny low-cost computer with the capability of a room-size machine — has changed that picture. The microprocessor is replacing electronic and mechanical parts of dozens of objects, paving the way for the computerized home.

In less than 10 years, you'll find some limited-use computers costing under $10; more complex systems will cost little more than a good stereo set does today.

Computers will be used in the home in two ways — first, as part of another device and second, as an independent system that can be programmed to do any one of a variety of things.

"You'll find computers in everyday life within two years in that there will be computers in things that you have in your home," says George E. Lindamood of the National Bureau of Standards. "You may not recognize it as such. You may not interact with them in the sense of a computer because they'll be part of another device, but they will affect how you treat that device."

A computer is basically a machine that follows human instructions, making thousands of calculations per second. "It's like an automatic pilot," says Lindamood. "You figure out ahead of time what you want done and you make that up into a sequence of steps. . . That constitutes a program. You feed it into the computer and press the go button and it goes and it does what you told it to do. . ."

Earl C. Joseph, a futurist for Sperry-Univac Computer Systems, says, "What we're looking at is embedding computers into things. . . to make those devices smart."

You may be able to tell the device what to do simply by talking to it. Voice-control of computers already is being tested in some areas such as prison security and Joseph said it could be in the home within the decade.

"You could awaken some morning five or 10 years hence, speak a few simple instructions from your bed to your toaster, coffee pot and frying pan and walk into the kitchen minutes later to a fully prepared breakfast," Joseph wrote in a recent paper.

The same computer that's wired into the walls of your house and built to recognize only your voice will turn on lights when you walk into the kitchen and turn them off when you leave. It also will turn the refrigerator off when you leave for work and turn it back on before anything defrosts. Your furnace and air conditioner will respond to the same computer.

Joseph said that by the early part of the next decade, special-purpose computers, designed to carry out only one function, will cost in the area of $5. A more complicated system to perform several tasks, will run from $100 to $1,000.

The development of voice-control or some other simple method of telling the computer what to do could be a key in determining how fast the computers move into the home. "Until they (the designers and engineers) learn to make the interaction with the computer something people can do without sophisticated knowledge, there's not going to be any revolution," Lindamood said. "That's really the major problem."

Joseph and other experts say the handheld calculator has done a lot to help people get over their fear of computers as "Big Brother" machines. "We've really entered the era of the friendly computer," says Joseph. "People trust them."

Lindamood says children — who have no preconceived opinions about computers — often are more ready to accept them. "Things that are strange to me are commonplace to my kids," he says. "It just takes the culture a while to assimilate. You may not be able to teach an old dog new tricks, so you wait until the new dog comes along."

Richard F. Brown, president of the Computer Store Inc. of Cambridge, Mass., which caters to computer hobbyists, says, "Anybody over 35 is still petrified by computers. It's a foreign technology because people weren't brought up with it. It's a hangover of when we presented the computer as a magic brain."

A growing number of people apparently are overcoming this type of fear, however, and are buying full-fledged computer systems for personal use. Stores like Brown's are multiplying. There are magazines for computer buffs and special exhibitions. A recent "Computermania" show in Boston drew thousands to a three-day display of computer equipment, books and information.

Wayne Green, a Peterborough, N.H., magazine publisher who organized the show, says it was designed to appeal to the general public as well as to the hobbyist. The show was advertised in general circulation newspapers and magazines.

Green predicts that the computer will have "a very profound effect on the home, business and particularly women."

Be Careful Driving in Illinois ... Carole Renick

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Since you live in Illinois you will probably be ashamed to print this letter, but I'm going to give it a try.

According to the National Safety Council, Illinois drivers are very nearly the worst in the United States. Massachusetts gets first place — or last, depending on how you look at it.

A Boston driver has to pay $839 a year to insure a medium sized car with a $200 deductible clause. (That means the owner of the car has to pay for the first $200 in repairs.) A Chicago driver pays about $525 for a policy with a $100 deductible clause.

Wyoming is the most

dangerous state to drive in. New Mexico is second. The reason for this is that people tend to drive faster in rural states because there are more wide-open spaces.

Guess which city has the most accidents? It's Houston, with Detroit second and Chicago third. The most dangerous time of day for driving is between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. The most hazardous months are December and January.

Most accidents occur because a driver refused to yield the right of way. The number two cause — tailgating.

The safest drivers in the country are in Keene, N.H. and Sioux Falls, S.D.

The reason I am writing this letter is because I happen to be a statistics buff and thought maybe others who read you might like to know if they plan on driving through Illinois or Massachusetts. — PHOENIX PHAN

DEAR PHAN: It pays to be careful no matter where you drive.

I called the National Safety Council to check your statistics and they are right on. I was told to add, "Seventy-nine percent of the accidents are what traffic police call 'fender benders' — and only 0.3 involve loss of life." (That's encouraging!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Today is my birthday and as usual, the clod had to run over to the neighborhood drugstore to buy me a card. He forgot. You can imagine how much I'll enjoy the card under such circumstances. This is the fifth year in a row he "forgot."

I hope every husband who reads this will realize that a woman's birthday is important to her. It's the one day in the year that is hers and hers alone.

I know my knucklehead will never change, but maybe I can get the message over to other husbands who do want to please their wives. They may be surprised at the results. — FORGOTTEN WOMAN

DEAR WOMAN: You didn't ask for advice but you're going to get it anyway. Since being remembered on your birthday means so much to you why not give the guy a break and remind him a week in advance? YOU might be surprised at the results. Or would you rather keep quiet and let him forget so you can put him on the defensive and make him sweat? I know I'm going to be called a traitor to my sex for this answer, but it's exactly the way I feel.

Renick, "brought home the application from the mall." Miss Renick was second runner up last year and "had so much fun that I decided to do it again."

She feels that participation in this type of event "helps build self confidence, and it sure looks nice on a college application." She says she likes being challenged, and the competition "makes you be the best person that you are."

Miss Renick carries a 4.0 grade point average and plans to major in music therapy. She has applied at the University of the Pacific, USC and California State University, Long Beach.

"It's a new field over the past 10 years," she says. "The therapist uses music as a medium to help the mentally and physically handicapped and disturbed."

Miss Renick's other interests include playing the guitar and flute, backpacking, racquetball, figure skating and sewing. At El Toro High School, she is president of the Chamber Choir, senior class treasurer and secretary of Girls League. She has worked in community theater, and last year she played Eliza Doolittle for a high school production.

She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Renick, and her sister, Brenda, 14, moved to El Toro a year and a half ago from Raleigh, N.C.

And have you noticed lately, that instead of a man inviting a woman out to dinner on the first date, he asks instead to meet her after work for a drink? Times are tough.

Of course, there are always the guys with the expense accounts who ask you who you want to be when they sign the check. I generally reply, "Cleopatra or Napoleon." Napoleon usually throws them off for a minute while I decide whether they have enough integrity for someone who is used to eating burnt spaghetti and drinking cheap burgundy.

But there are some things that are still free; like walking on the beach, listening to the foghorn, riding a bicycle and reading. I've been visiting the local library a lot lately and the other day I even met another single who was looking for "War and Peace." Anyone looking for "War and Peace" can't be all bad.

So, maybe someday, I'll walk in to see my taxman with someone dangling on my arm and he'll smile at me for taking his advice. . . . But I doubt it.

Ms. Peterson Believes in Future of Consumerism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Esther Peterson says she is convinced that the drive for an independent consumer protection agency will succeed, despite recent setbacks. "I'm not going to say when," she adds, "but I certainly think in this Congress that decisions will be made."

Mrs. Peterson is President Carter's special assistant for consumer affairs. Her mission, she explained in a recent interview, "is . . . to help get this bill (establishing a consumer agency) through Congress."

That job is proving more difficult than most people expected earlier in the year. Both houses of Congress passed similar bills last year, but, in the face of a threatened veto by President Ford, failed to produce compromise legislation.

With Carter's support, backers of the concept predicted victory in 1977. They now concede they would lose if the issue came to a vote today. Mrs. Peterson said the reason for the problem is twofold.

"Number one, it was a very safe vote for people in the other administration because many people who voted for it knew that the president would veto it . . . and a lot of those people changed when it became a reality." They changed, she said, "because of the second reason, which is the extremely strong opposition that has come from part of the business community . . ."

She believes the trend will turn around before the end of 1978. She said there is a growing realization in government that the consumer's voice is important and a growing realization in business that consumerism can be profitable.

Comparing the consumer movement to the drives for organized labor, civil rights and women, Mrs. Peterson said, "My feeling now is the consumer movement is the next of the popular movements . . . People who say that the consumer movement is on its way down, I think, are missing the signs on the wall. I think it's quite the opposite. I think we're just beginning to surface . . . Change takes time. You have to have patience."

Mrs. Peterson, 70, has plenty of experience in change and time. A native of Provo, Utah, she has been in Washington since the late 1930s. She was assistant director of education for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, served as the union's lobbyist, was an assistant secretary of labor under President Kennedy and was vice chairman of the President's Commission on the Status of Women.

When, in 1964, President Johnson created the post of special adviser for consumer affairs, he named Mrs. Peterson to the job. She held the post for three years, later served for seven years as a vice president for consumer affairs of Giant Foods in Washington and, in April, was back in her old job at the appointment of Carter.

Leaning back in a chair in her office in the Old Executive Office Building next to the White House, Mrs. Peterson reflected on the changes that have come in the past 13 years.

The attitude of business has moderated, she said. "You see, at first it was just, 'Get away.' It was, 'That bad woman.' It was always, 'Defeat everything. Deny everything.'"

Acceptance of consumerism did not come "until we began bringing industry in and showing that there was a commonality of problems and it could be helpful for them to understand." Later, she said, her experience at Giant Foods helped show "that consumerism could be good marketing and was compatible with profit making and that's what I wanted to prove."

Consumers also have changed, Mrs. Peterson said. "They're asking much more sophisticated questions. They're asking 'Why?' now, not 'What do I do about it?' It's 'Why is this happening in our marketplace? Why is this?'"

"This whole business of wanting in, of wanting representation, I think is one of the most exciting new developments that I've seen."

Mrs. Peterson said only the problems have remained the same. "You still have the problems of quality deterioration and service and breakdowns."

She said there have been improvements, but said decisions are still being made without consumer representation and contended that an independent agency — outside of the president's office — is needed to provide that representation. She said consumer representatives within existing agencies cannot serve the purpose because they are beholden to another authority.

Mrs. Peterson stressed that her job with the Carter administration is temporary. She said she would not head an independent consumer agency. She wants someday to return to lobbying.

First, however, Mrs. Peterson is determined to win passage of a consumer agency and oversee its establishment. "I want to self-destruct," she said jokingly.

Esther Peterson: The consumer movement is the next of the popular movements.

Putting Everything on the Record

Writing is lonely.

I guess I never realized how much until I found myself saying to my tropical fish yesterday, "Whatya wanta talk about, Lester, the Panama Canal or Liz Taylor's Avon lady?"

When the fish surfaced and blew a couple of bubbles, I said, "If you're going to talk dirty, I'll call Estelle."

The phone rang twice and Estelle said, "Thanks for calling. . . . So, what's happening?" I asked.

"At the tone will you please leave your name and phone number and I'll return your call."

"This is a crisis center," I said angrily.

"Your crisis is ready."

I dialed the number of another friend. "I'm sorry," said the operator, "but that number is no longer in service. If you wish assistance, please remain on the line. . . ."

"Thank you," I said, "but my mother doesn't like me to talk to strange recordings."

I got on a bus and went into town. "Hello there," an elevator where a recording told me to please stand clear of the door and face the front. I said "thank you" and a man moved nervously to the other side of the car.

It was the same all day. If it wasn't a recording telling me what to do it was a person saying something mechanical. It was late when I got home so I climbed into the car and drove through a drive-in where you hang out the window and yell your order into a clown's mouth.

I drove up and waited for Jack to speak to me. Nothing happened. I opened my car door and kicked him, figuring he had a short in his mouth. Nothing. Finally, I threw my arms around his throat and yelled, "You little creep. You think you're better than me. . . ."

That night as my husband dialed the doctor, he got a recording from the medical answering service that said my doctor was not on call, but if we wished to leave our name and number his associate would call us.

I fixed him. I put Lester on the line.

Gasoline May Go Up 1 to 3 Cents

HOUSTON (AP) — The price increase expected to be approved next month by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries will boost the cost of U.S. gasoline and heating oil by 1 to 3 cents a gallon, oil industry officials say.

As OPEC prepares for a Dec. 20 meeting in Caracas, Venezuela, reports from the Middle East indicate that the 13-nation cartel is planning to impose a price increase ranging from 5 percent to 15 percent.

MOST AUTHORITIES believe the increase will be 5 percent, reflecting the recent decline in the worth of the dollar, the currency with which OPEC members are paid.

J. C. Burton, general manager for crude oil supply for Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, said Wednesday that the U.S. price of gasoline and other refined petroleum products would increase by 1 cent a gallon for every 5 percent increase imposed by OPEC.

"The increase should work its way through the supply system in 45 to 60 days," said Burton, here for the annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute.

"BUT THE HEAVY supply situation right now might delay it a bit more," he said.

Inventories of crude oil and refined products are at record levels, resulting in a short-term glut in the midst of the nation's long-term energy problems.

'Make It Water' Unhappy Driller Gets Gas

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) — George and Gayle Chingas discovered a sizable pocket of natural gas beneath their backyard the other day, but "I have a hunch this may make me a poor man," Chingas says.

Chingas, an orthodontist, and his family began digging a water well after growing tired of coping with the 200-gallon-a-day ration here in the drought-weary San Francisco Bay Area.

Not a drop of water was found.

BUT A WORKER WHO LIGHTED a cigarette touched off an explosion that sent flames shooting 40 feet in the air — the gas was discovered and the worker's hair was singed.

Mud cascaded onto the family's yard, home, driveway and sealed the garage shut. The family moved into a neighbors' home for a night and a day for fear that even a spark could ignite another explosion.

The cost of drilling for water was "up in the thousands," but with the discovery of gas, that cost went up even higher, Mrs. Chingas said, because of special precautions that had to be taken — like sticking a 30-foot pipe into the drilled hole so that gas fumes waft over the Chingas home instead of into it.

Brown, Japanese, Russians

Talks 'Stimulate Jobs'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the governor of California meets with Japanese businessmen and Russian officials, what do they talk about?

It was crayfish and raisins this week, part of what Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. said was a continuing effort to "stimulate the state's economy to provide jobs."

BROWN AND A group of Japanese industrialists met here to discuss, among other things, possible ocean farming projects off the California coast.

The governor said he was interested in techniques developed by the Japanese to utilize waste materials in the raising of crayfish and other commercial seafoods.

Secretary of Business and Transportation Richard Silbermann said later there was a "high probability" the Japanese would locate ocean farming projects in the state.

HE SAID THE Japanese were also interested in ocean farming in Baja California and said state officials had discussed such projects with Mexican authorities as a possible means of alleviating job shortages below the border.

Brown also met with Anatoly Dobrynin, Soviet ambassador to the United States, and Russian Foreign Trade Minister Nikolay Patolichev. He said they discussed ways of expanding commerce between California and the Soviet Union, mentioning a recently signed contract for the sale of raisins to the Russians as an example of increasing agricultural trade.

Chukar Meets Deadline

Farmers May Heed Call

Appeal to Strike Appears to Gather Force

By The Associated Press

A call to unite and strike has gone out to the traditionally independent American farmer — and there is evidence he is listening.

The appeal comes from American Agriculture, a group of disgruntled farmers in Colorado who say they are tired of selling their milo, wheat and corn for less than it costs to produce.

"WE'RE WORKING for one common goal — 100 percent of parity for all products that we produce," said Dale Schroder, a spokesman for the fledgling group.

"We ask for no subsidies; we're willing to take our chances with the elements. But we want a contract from the government as to how much any individual farmer is expected to produce," he said.

The movement to unite farmers appears to be spreading. Farmers in Washington, Nebraska, Kansas and Georgia have staged marches and "tractorades" to call attention to their plight.

"WE'RE GETTING really strong in about 30 states," said Schroder.

"And I think we'll have a really good turnout on this thing. I feel we're going to come out of this with support like you wouldn't believe."

American Agriculture has named Dec. 14 as strike day. Farmers have been asked to withhold all produce from the market and to boycott all but essential goods after that date.

"WE'RE NOT GOING to buy a damned thing," Schroder said.

Income Rises

Building Permits Surge in October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction of new houses jumped 5.6 percent in October as the housing industry enjoyed its best month in four years, the Commerce Department has reported.

New houses were started at an annual rate of 2.18 million units, the highest rate since 2.27 million in new homes in May 1973.

Building permits for the month rose 9.3 percent to an annual rate of 1.85 million houses, the most since a 2.05 million rate in June 1973.

THE HOUSING industry said October construction was particularly strong for a month when building usually begins trailing off for the winter. The National Association of Homebuilders previously had forecast a slowdown in housing at the end of the year but revised its predictions for 1977 housing to 1.95 million houses, the biggest year since 1972, when 2.38 million buildings were constructed.

The housing report was one of two economic indicators released Wednesday that showed strong economic activity. The Commerce Department also said personal income of Americans rose 1.3 percent in October, the biggest increase in seven months. A 7 percent federal pay increase and an increase in hourly earnings of manufacturing workers contributed most to the increase.

HOWEVER, government figures continue to give out conflicting economic symbols while retail sales rose a strong 1.8 percent in October. The Federal Reserve Board announced Tuesday that industrial output was up a sluggish 0.3 percent. The administration is counting on a slight upturn in the economy after a disappointing summer.

Homebuilders were particularly encouraged by a record 1.56 million starts in one-family homes, an increase from 1.52 million in September.

Western Gets Discounts OK For 12 Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has given Western Airlines approval to offer discounts of 13 to 33 percent on coach fares on certain flights between Anchorage, Alaska, and 11 cities in western states.

The cities are Seattle; Portland, Ore.; Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Palm Springs and Ontario in California; Reno and Las Vegas in Nevada; Salt Lake City, and Phoenix.

THE FARES ARE being offered under three plans: Discover Alaska, Discover the Northwest and Discover California.

They are effective immediately and will expire next April 30.

They will be offered again from Nov. 15 next year until April 30, 1979.

1929 Epic Movie Star Now Grandma

CORONADO (AP) — Anita Page was a co-star of "Broadway Melody," the first musical of Metro Goldwyn Mayer and in 1929 the first sound movie to win an Academy Award.

The blonde actress appeared in 32 motion pictures in all — one of them made in Coronado in which she fell in love with a young naval officer played by Ramon Navarro. Since 1936, she has lived out that role but never made another movie.

Ronstadt To Appear In Movie

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Ronstadt will make her movie debut in the upcoming film, "FM," a film whose makers promise it will do for rock radio what "Network" did for television.

The film will include live scenes from an upcoming appearance by Miss Ronstadt in Houston, and she will be given several lines in the film.

"FM" stars Martin Mull, Cleavon Little and Alex Karras.

In a vacation in Coronado, she and a young Navy pilot met and were married 19 days later. Herschel A. House, then a lieutenant and later a rear admiral, took his wife on duty assignments around the world.

Today they still live in Coronado and are grandparents.

"We haven't been able to take our eyes off each other from the start," Mrs. House said in an interview.

They're Bad Guys

Women's Prison TV Movie Planned

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Wild and Woolly," a Western about four women who break out of Yuma Prison, will be made for ABC by Aaron Spelling Productions.

The two-hour film follows the women as their adventures lead them to prevent the assassination of President Theodore Roosevelt. No cast has been set for the film, which goes into production next month in Arizona and Southern California.

Viejo Seeks One-act Plays

Local playwrights have been invited to dust off their old, unperformed manuscripts and enter them in a one-act playwriting contest sponsored by the newest community theater group on the Orange Coast.

The Mission Viejo Repertory Theater is so new, in fact, that it hasn't yet presented its first production. This will come in two weeks when "Barefoot in the Park" mounts the El Toro High School stage.

Looking ahead to February, and a projected one-act play festival, the Mission Viejo troupe has announced a contest to select plays for the tourney. "We're looking for a one-act play with a reasonable setting and a moderate-sized cast," says Jay Rayl, co-founder of the theater who's also directing "Barefoot."

HEADING THE SHARKING

Committee is Jack Sharkey, a professional writer for over 25 years whose comedies ("Here Lies Jeremy Troy," "Kiss or Make Up," etc.) have been produced by local theater groups. Sharkey has become a member of the Mission Viejo Repertory.

Entries should be sent to One-Act Playwriting Contest, c/o Mission Viejo Repertory Theater, 25211 N. Stockport Drive #201, Laguna Hills 92653. Entries must be postmarked by midnight, Dec. 1, and include a name, address and phone number where the author may be contacted. Winners will be notified by Jan. 1.

SADDLEBACK COLLEGE'S Theater Department is presenting Mark Medoff's Obie Award-winning drama "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder" at 8 tonight through Saturday night in the Studio Theater of the college's new Fine Arts Complex.

A matinee also will be presented at 5 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are on sale between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. through Friday in the Fine Arts box office. Prices are $2 for the general public and $1.50 for ASB card holders. Admission is free to Gold Card holders.

UC IRVINE'S Drama Workshop will present Harold Pinter's sinister comedy-drama "The Homecoming" tonight through Saturday at 8 o'clock in UCI's Fine Arts Little Theater.

Jon McDonald, a UCI graduate student, is directing the show as his master's thesis project. Ticket information is available at 833-6617.

Intermission Tom Titus

CALLBOARD — Auditions have been called at the Costa Mesa Civic Playhouse for the mystery-comedy "Catch Me If You Can." . . . guest director Fred Owen will hold tryouts Monday at 8 o'clock in the Community Center auditorium on the Orange County Fairgrounds for a cast of five men and two women. . . . the play will open Jan. 20 for a three-weekend run.

BACKSTAGE — With the opening of the musical "She Loves Me" at the Harlequin Dinner playhouse next Tuesday, the theater also will unveil its Celebrity Terrace, which offers private booths for two to eight people. . . . this choice seating is available only on a season ticket basis, and inquiries may be directed to the Harlequin at 979-7550.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Pursuant to order of the California Coastal Commission, notice of public hearing is hereby given. Said public hearing is scheduled on the November 28, 1977 agenda for application for permit number P-103-77-1827 as submitted by South East Regional Reclamation Authority (SERRA).

The subject request is to permit construction of a splitter box at existing treatment site, City of San Clemente, along a new pipeline, a new pipeline approx. 1900' in length would be constructed out of the treatment site, thence along Ave. Pico to a junction box at the intersection of Ave. Pico and Coast Hwy.; from the junction box a new pipeline approx. 19,400' in length would be constructed along the Coast Hwy. to a junction box located at the SERRA ocean outfall; the pipeline would be constructed on the ocean edge of the pavement from San Clemente to Palisades Dr. and thence on the road shoulder from Palisades Dr. to the ocean outfall in at San Juan Creek. The pipeline would not exceed 36 inches in diameter.

Said agenda public hearings will commence at 9:00 a.m. on November 28, 1977, at Huntington Beach City Council Chambers, 2000 Main Street, Huntington Beach, CA.

During which time all persons either favoring or opposing the application will be heard. Testimony should be related to the regional and statewide issues addressed by the California Coastal Act of 1972 and that testimony relating solely to neighborhood and local concerns is not relevant and will not be permitted by the Chairperson. Any written correspondence regarding the application should be directed to this office prior to the hearing date.

All interested individuals who wish additional information may contact this office.

Clark Asks Campaign Spending Curb

Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Orange County Supervisor Ralph Clark has proposed a county political campaign ordinance that places a lid on candidate spending and limits the amount individual donors can contribute to a political campaign.

Clark's proposal also provides for the establishment of a county fair campaign practices commission to oversee campaigns for county offices.

The commission suggested by the Anaheim supervisor would have subpoena power and be fortified by a deputy district attorney assigned to the commission staff.

According to Clark, his proposed ordinance can be enacted this year and placed on next year's ballot to be either ratified or rejected by county voters.

If enacted immediately as Clark wants, the ordinance would place a 75-cent a voter limit on campaign spending in next June's primary election.

In comparison, in the same election in 1976, Supervisor Thomas Riley spent more than $2 a voter to win a landslide victory.

Clark's proposed ordinance would also limit the amount individual donors can give to a candidate to $500 annually.

Elected officials who violate the $500 limit would be ineligible "from voting or ruling on matters involving" the donors for an unspecified time.

In contrast to Clark's proposed $500 limitation, contributions to county supervisor campaigns have run as high as $5,000 and donations of $2,500 are common.

Not covered by the Clark proposal are loans to candidates, a device used by heavy backers to help feed dollars into candidate coffers that are later recovered through cocktail and dinner fund-raisers.

Clark, who will seek re-election in 1978, also looked at the role lobbyists play in political campaigns when he designed his campaign reform proposal.

In an effort to avert duplication of the long list of so-called lobbyists who now register with the county, the two-term supervisor arrived at a new definition for lobbyist.

It shall be those who report spending more than $25 for advocacy in three consecutive years (See LIMITS, Page A2)

Murder Probe Stymied

By ROBERT BARKER
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

A San Bernardino County sheriff's deputy said today that officers are stymied at this point in the investigation of the murder of Huntington Beach resident Robert Myers near Barstow last weekend.

Detective Dennis O'Rourke said that the investigation hangs on the discovery of Myers' missing 1974 gold-colored van that was believed taken by the assailants.

"We have reason to believe the crime took place inside the van and that is where the clues would be," O'Rourke said.

He said police have been alerted throughout the nation and that a search is being made for the van at the international airports in Los Angeles and Ontario.

O'Rourke said that the giant parking lots are a prime place for criminals to unload cars.

"The lots are so big that vehicles can go unnoticed for a long time," he said.

The missing van is a 1974 Ford Econoline with a license number of 38656H. It had a white bubble top over a gold-colored body.

Myers' widow, Rita, said today that she couldn't understand the slaying of her husband.

"It is like he completely disappeared and it's not feasible. There are no reasons."

"Bob was not in the habit of picking up hitchhikers, but he would stop and help if a car was broken down or if someone really needed help," she said.

The 57-year-old Myers, a specialist in the treatment of industrial water and a former longtime resident of Laguna Beach, was shot to death Friday by two different weapons, according to investigators.

The slaying was first noticed by a passing motorist who saw a blond man throwing a body from a van.

The victim was found the next day.

Myers had gone to the desert on a business trip and was slain shortly after having lunch with friends in Victorville.

Westminster Statue Plant Hit by Fire

Flames roared through a Westminster area plaster statue and fountain manufacturing plant early today, causing an estimated $30,000 damage before city and county firemen controlled it.

The fire at the headquarters of Santi's Fountainland, 15212 Beach Blvd., destroyed the business but firemen saved $50,000 worth of boats at an adjacent manufacturing plant.

Orange County Fire Department Capt. Bruce Turbeville said Westminster firemen who first arrived at about 1:10 a.m. pushed the threatened vessels out of danger by hand.

His department entered the case shortly thereafter when it was determined the statutory firm is just 10 feet outside Westminster city limits, in county territory.

Causes of the pre-dawn fire still remained under investigation this morning as firemen poked through the charred rubble for clues, Captain Turbeville said.

Investigators said the firm is owned by Valentino Santi. The company has a main retail outlet in Garden Grove.

The fire, Captain Turbeville said, destroyed $20,000 in contents including the statutory and $10,000 to the firm's small building.

Trustees to Approve Improvement Plan?

Trustees of the Ocean View School District are expected to vote about $100,000 worth of improvements Monday in an effort to bring older schools within their district up to a par with newer campuses.

Schools among the 24 operating campuses designated for improvements are primarily those operating on a kindergarten through sixth grade format. Campuses catering to kindergarten through eighth grade enrollments generally have more amenities, because they are somewhat newer.

Trustees agreed at this week's study session that the character of each Ocean View School District campus — many were designed with a special educational emphasis — should be retained.

Improvements under consideration involve such items as the addition of handball courts and asphalt play areas; storage for kindergarten supplies; additional electrical outlets and outside storage facilities.

Trustees are expected to delete a proposed educational television reception system in favor of a modified TV plan to be developed at a later date. (See SCHOOLS, Page A2)

Students Set Swap Meet

The parents of Ocean View High School students involved in girls' cross country, tennis and volleyball will hold a swap meet and pancake breakfast Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon.

The fundraising event will be held in the Ocean View High School parking lot at the corner of Warner Avenue and Gothard Street in Huntington Beach.

About 55 families have cleaned out their garages and donated a variety of items for the swap meet. Pancake breakfasts will be offered to parents for $1.50 and to youngsters for 75 cents.

Wrong Target

Marine Jets Fire On Salvage Vessel

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Marine attack jets apparently mistook a salvage ship as a practice target and opened fire with rockets that narrowly missed a diver.

Diver Don DeNairie was only stunned by the concussion from the explosions.

The jets flew out of the Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla. but their home field was not immediately known.

The incident, confirmed Wednesday by the Navy, occurred Nov. 6 as DeNairie, a diver for Treasure Salvors, Inc., was over the side of an 187-foot World War II-vintage buoy tender.

He was working alone on the engineless ship, which serves as a base of operations for salvage being done on a sunken Spanish treasure ship. A crew returned for DeNairie Monday, eight days after the incident.

"You could hear the explosions first," the diver said Wednesday. "Then you could see the aircraft and then hear the jets."

DeNairie said he managed to climb back aboard the ship and raised an American flag in an effort to stop the rocket attack. But the planes made other passes and fired again, he said.

Fortunately their pilots were having an off day. None of the rockets made a direct hit.

Marine Capt. Hal Cutlip in New Orleans said the target ship the two A-4 Sky Hawks were supposed to have fired at was 10 miles to the north.

Cutlip called the attack a mistake and said an investigation was under way.

"I would say the ship and the captain and the crew would be due an apology," he said.

Healthy Day For Smokers

By The Associated Press

Smokers across the nation were urged today to stop puffing — at least for one day and possibly forever — in support of the "Great American Smoke Out," sponsored by the American Cancer Society and some local government and health organizations.

A spokesman for the society said the group hoped to get 10 million of the country's 54 million smokers to give up their cigarettes for the day.

Local society volunteers have been distributing "I Quit" pledge cards and petitions for people to sign and rallies and special programs were organized in many cities.

Huntington Man Critical After Crash

Clyde Ivan Younkin of Huntington Beach was listed in critical condition at Huntington Intercommunity Hospital today after suffering extensive injuries in a two-car, head-on collision Wednesday night, officials reported.

Younkin, 55, of 16302 Nassau Lane, was rushed by ambulance from the intersection of Heil Avenue and Edwards Street to the hospital's intensive care unit at 6:19 p.m., police said.

Police said a foreign sports car driven by Mark Randall Sexton, 17, of 16302 Maruffa Circle, Huntington Beach, collided with Younkin's auto.

Paramedics treated both accident victims at the scene.

Sexton was also taken to Huntington Intercommunity Hospital where he is reported in good condition today.

Coast Murder Case

Bid for Transfer Mulled by Judge

By JOANNE REYNOLDS
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

A bid by two of the suspects in the Bovan murder case to be transferred into the custody of the U.S. Marshal remains undecided today.

A spokesman for Municipal Court Judge Selim Franklin said the judge has not yet made a decision on the motion made before him Tuesday. There have been indications the judge will deny the transfer proposal.

William Sheffield, the attorney representing jailed murder conspiracy suspect Anthony Marone Jr. and Tom Crosby, attorney for Raymond Resco, also jailed in the case, told Judge Franklin their clients are being held in what amounts to solitary confinement in Orange County Jail.

The two men, and the third jailed suspect, Jerry Fiori, are involved in the federal witness program which is used to protect the lives of people who testify in cases involving organized crime.

In an earlier court appearance, Resco's attorney said his client, who has been identified as a relocated federal witness, fears for his life in county jail.

In the Tuesday motion, Crosby and Sheffield argued that the protective measures instituted in county jail amount to solitary confinement and said their clients would be both safer and more comfortable in federal custody.

There have been some indications, however, that if the two men are released to federal officials, that their whereabouts will remain a secret of the Marshal's Service.

In hearing the motion on the transfer, Judge Franklin said he

Nazi Captive Sets Lecture

A lecture is scheduled tonight at the Huntington Beach Central Library by Mel Mermelstein, a survivor of Nazi Germany's World War II concentration camps.

Mermelstein, a Huntington Beach businessman, also will exhibit concentration camp materials and will show movies.

The free lecture will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Pacific Room of the library, located at the corner of Golden West Street and Talbert Avenue.

Property Tax Limit Pressed

By WILLIAM HODGE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The only way to make certain government spends less is to give it less, a proponent of taxpayer revolt told an audience in El Toro this week.

"Government today is unlimited," Howard Jarvis, chairman of California's United Organization of Taxpayers, told a gathering of concerned residents. "Nowhere is there any limit on what government can spend."

"We're trying to obliterate the idea of government by, for and of the government."

Jarvis was in El Toro Tuesday seeking support for his California constitutional amendment initiative to limit the property tax to one percent of assessed valuation.

"You are not going to get tax reform out of your elected officials in our lifetime," he admonished the disgruntled homeowners. "You the people have no right to say what goes on in this government—that's their attitude."

"We want to make absolutely certain that the government operates on less money than they do now," Jarvis said. "The only way to do that is to give them the money in the first place."

The newspaper columnist and former Los Angeles mayoral candidate lashed out at government officials' salaries and pensions.

"We are creating a very rich and protected society and they're all politicians," Jarvis asserted.

He attacked what he termed "legislative favoritism" toward government employee unions.

"117 out of 120 state legislative candidates got the major part of their election funds from employee unions," he claimed. "I don't think there's a worse cancer on our free system than elected officials being bought by public employees."

Jarvis claimed an allegedly employee-controlled legislature would never approve tax reform because of potential job losses from a dropping of tax funds.

The 15-year veteran of California tax reform fights was (See JARVIS, Page A2)

Irvine Man 3rd Victim

An Irvine resident has been identified as the third victim of Tuesday's midair collision off Crystal Cove, Orange County coroner's officials said Wednesday.

Missing and presumed dead is Thomas A. Glass, 34, of 3741 Avenue Sausalito in Irvine.

Coroner's officials said body parts located at the crash scene three and one-half miles south of the Newport Beach harbor entrance belonged to a second victim, James Tibbott, 38, of 9312 Comstock Drive in Huntington Beach.

A third victim, also listed as missing and presumed dead, is Robert Baker, 41, of 22842 Foxborough Way in El Toro.

FAA officials said today Tibbott held commercial instrument and instructor ratings. Baker had received his private pilot's license Aug. 24.

The three victims were co-workers at VTN, an engineering and land planning company located near Orange County Airport.

A VTN spokesman, Judy Haselhof, said the trio was not flying on-company business. She said Tibbott gave flying lessons during his off time, which was usually during the noon hour.

A National Transportation and Safety Board investigator said today it was unknown who was piloting the ill-fated Cessna 182 at the time of the collision. He also said it was unknown if Tibbott was giving lessons on the flight.

The Cessna was rented from Newport Air Associates.

SCHOOLS. . . 2 Arrested; Drugs Seized At CM Hotel

Construction of additional cabinets and bookshelves at the various schools also will probably be tabled at Monday's regular school board meeting.

One concern regarding the older schools has been lack of multi-purpose room facilities.

But adding them at this point, school officials said, the district would be spending an estimated $2 million at a time when future enrollment trends are in doubt.

Trustees have shut down Rancho View School because of decreasing enrollment. On the other hand, Harbour View School in the Huntington Harbour region is overcrowded.

A just-completed multi-purpose room added to that campus is already being considered for possible conversion to classroom space to handle the influx of students there.

One concerned citizen, Dr. Wayne Thompson of the Star View School area of north Huntington Beach, pointed out that 14 different organizations use the campus for meetings.

Trustees acknowledged the school's lack of a multi-purpose room catering to such uses is a problem, but pointed out the same situation exists at most other schools in the district.

They said they can foresee no immediate solution, because, until the enrollment picture becomes sufficiently clear, the district cannot justify building facilities that might go unused.

Irvine Trio Held In Drug Seizure

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Highest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics purchases.

The raid on the Highest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant. The arrested were identified as:

—Tony Gomez, 45, booked at Orange County jail on charges of possession of heroin for sale, and processing of peyote. Bail was $5,000.

—Aurora Noble, 43, booked at Orange County women's jail on charges of processing peyote, possession of heroin and possession of marijuana. Bail was $2,500.

—A 17-year-old male juvenile whose name was withheld, booked into juvenile hall on charges of processing peyote and possession of marijuana. Juvenile hall officials would not release bail information.

All three listed the Highest Circle house as their address.

Arrested after police arranged to meet telephone callers at the house were Richard Brown and Galo Hinojosa, 22, both of Santa Ana.

Both were booked at Newport Beach city jail, Brown on charges of burglary with intent to possess heroin (police allege he broke into the home), Hinojosa on a charge of being under the influence of an opiate.

Brown was held on $10,000 bail. Bail for Hinojosa was set at $1,000.

Seized in the search were twelve balloons of heroin, four dozen peyote buttons and a small quantity of marijuana. Police also confiscated 16 hypodermic syringes, empty balloons in which heroin is packed, and a jar of lactose, a powder used to mix with heroin.

One Irvine police officer was injured while storming the house. Elliott Nemerson broke his left elbow when a fence he was climbing collapsed. He was treated at Tustin Community Hospital.

Safety Assailed

'Reactors Could Kill Thousands'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of scientists opposing nuclear power plants said today the government's basic safety estimates are far too optimistic and that reactor accidents may kill thousands of people by the year 2000.

The Union of Concerned Scientists, a group frequently involved in challenges of Nuclear Regulatory Commission policy, issued a detailed criticism of the NRC's 1974 "Rasmussen Report," the government's chief safety assessment.

The Rasmussen report concluded that the chances of a serious nuclear power plant accident are almost insignificant — smaller than the chance of a person's being killed by a falling meteorite.

But the Union of Concerned Scientists charged that this much-debated analysis contains serious mistakes that underestimate the danger to the public.

The group said "correction" of the Rasmussen study shows the odds of a nuclear reactor melting and releasing radioactive substances may be 20 times greater than the NRC estimated.

The early injuries and fatalities from such an accident may be 10 times greater than previously estimated and, where prevailing winds might carry radioactivity into heavily populated areas, the casualties could be up to 1,000 times higher than the Rasmussen estimates, the group said.

It concluded that nuclear accidents could cause some 14,400 fatal cancers by the year 2000.

In a large nuclear program, there may be one chance in 100 of a nuclear power plant accident that would kill up to 100,000 people, the union study said, and under the worst circumstances up to 300,000 could die.

The union said it believes that the hazards, as it estimates them, "will prove unacceptable to the public."

"A single large, but by no means the largest, nuclear accident may well occur within a few decades," the union study said. "Should this occur we judge that the public response would be very great and could well threaten the continued operation of domestic nuclear plants."

The group said the United States should not commit itself heavily to nuclear power until it has more reliable assurances of safety.

The group recommended that the NRC withdraw the Rasmussen study and do its safety analysis over again.

Recruit's Flames 'Size of Shoe Box'

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A University of Colorado midshipman says he saw flames "the size of a shoe box" on the clothing of a Marine recruit allegedly set afire by a drill instructor.

The testimony was given by Stanley Austin, 20, of Grand Junction, Colo., in a pretrial hearing Wednesday. Another former recruit, Marine PFC Richard Hilmer, 18, of Woodbridge, Va., said he never saw the flames.

Hilmer testified, however, that he saw Pvt. V.N. Aldaz of East Chicago, Ind., patting his clothing that day, July 9.

Sgt. John B. Norris, 22, of San Bernardino is charged with hazing Aldaz, referring to him as "torch," maltreating the 21-year-old recruit by spraying lighter fluid on his trousers and igniting it.

A general court-martial was scheduled to begin before a jury and a Marine colonel Wednesday but its start was delayed to allow the defense attorney to question another witness in Boulder, Colo.

After the pretrial hearing, a base spokesman said a decision would be made on whether a court-martial is held and when. Austin and Hilmer are attending college under pre-commission programs.

Austin said Aldaz was not a regular member of the platoon led by Norris. He had been sent from the correctional platoon where problem recruits are put for special training or confinement.

There was no explanation why Aldaz was confined to the correctional unit where Pvt. Lynn McClure was assigned in 1975 before being knocked unconscious in forced pugil stick drills. That recruit from Lufkin, Tex., died without regaining consciousness in a Houston veterans hospital.

Although Hilmer said he never saw Aldaz afire, he said he turned to see what was happening that day after hearing Norris tell Aldaz four or five times to stand at attention. He said Aldaz had refused.

RICHARD BROWN IS FLANKED BY ARRESTING IRVINE NARCOTICS OFFICERS WEDNESDAY
Santa Ana Man Was Among Five Captured in Narcotics Bust

Marines Attack Wrong Vessel

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Marine attack jets apparently mistook a salvage ship as a practice target and opened fire with rockets that narrowly missed a diver.

Diver Don DeNairie was only stunned by the concussion from the explosions.

The jets flew out of the Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla., but their home field was not immediately known.

The incident, confirmed Wednesday by the Navy, occurred Nov. 6 as DeNairie, a diver for Treasure Salvors, Inc.,

was over the side of an 187-foot World War II-vintage buoy tender.

He was working alone on the engineless ship, which serves as a base of operations for salvage being done on a sunken Spanish treasure ship. A crew returned for DeNairie Monday, eight days after the incident.

"You could hear the explosions first," the diver said Wednesday. "Then you could see the aircraft and then hear the jets."

DeNairie said he managed to climb back aboard the ship and raised an American flag in an effort to stop the rocket attack. But the planes made other passes and fired again, he said.

Fortunately their pilots were having an off day. None of the rockets made a direct hit.

Marine Capt. Hal Cutlip in New Orleans said the target ship the two A-4 Sky Hawks were supposed to have fired at was 10 miles to the north.

Cutlip called the attack a mistake and said an investigation was under way.

"I would say the ship and the captain and the crew would be due an apology," he said.

Ceramics Super Bowl

South County Pot Makers Square Off

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The world's only known varsity ceramics athletic competition is scheduled for Friday when two rugged south Orange County high school teams square off at University High School in Irvine.

Teams of 10 members each will be fielded by the ceramics classes of University High and Capistrano Valley High School of Mission Viejo.

The first event gets under way, in the ceramics room with the starter's gun scheduled to go off at 3:30 p.m. The public is invited.

CERAMICS IS THE well-known art of making pots and other objects of art from fired clay or porcelain.

What isn't well known is that ceramics also is a demanding, exciting sport, according to Mike Gooch, University's team captain.

Gooch hopes that ceramics eventually will become recognized for its athletic possibilities. One day, he dreams, colleges will compete for the top ceramics players from high schools across the nation.

As for pro ceramics, well...

SEVEN TOUGH EVENTS are planned Friday, with tallest pot, most pots, best pot, best small object under three inches, best hand-built project, mixed doubles and relay competitions.

Gooch explained that the mixed doubles event is the creation of a pot half by hand, half on a potter's wheel. In the relay, he said, teams of three people make a pot, each team member working three minutes, then passing the pot.

Gooch said there will be cheerleaders and proper ceramic fight songs. At half-time, a Mud King and Queen of the Earth will be crowned.

THERE'S NO MARCHING band, Gooch said, but there is a quite nice ensemble from guitar class to strum players toward supreme efforts of ceramic sport history.

Every event is sure to set a world's record.

Sadat Plans Israel Visit; Arabs Grumble

By The Associated Press
President Anwar Sadat of Egypt will visit Jerusalem for 36 hours starting Saturday night and will address the Israeli parliament Sunday, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin announced today.

But Sadat will make the visit, which he has described as a "sacred duty," without the support of Syria and apparently with major opposition within his own country. His foreign minister resigned today and was followed by his deputy.

In Beirut, Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat condemned the planned visit and urged Sadat to cancel it.

In his address to the Israeli parliament, Sadat is expected to call for Israeli evacuation of all lands captured in the 1967 war and establishment of a Palestinian state — standard Arab demands that Israel previously rejected.

But the visit itself will represent unprecedented recognition by an Arab leader of the state of Israel.

Begin announced the visit. (See SADAT, Page A2)

Midair Tragedy

Irvine Man Third Plane Crash Victim

An Irvine resident has been identified as the third victim of Tuesday's midair collision off Crystal Cove, Orange County coroner's officials said Wednesday.

Missing and presumed dead is Thomas A. Glass, 34, of 3741 Avenue Sausalito in Irvine.

Coroner's officials said body parts located at the crash scene three and one-half miles south of the Newport Beach harbor entrance belonged to a second victim, James Tibbott, 38, of 9312 Comstock Drive in Huntington Beach.

A third victim, also listed as missing and presumed dead, is Robert Baker, 41, of 22842 Foxborough Way in El Toro.

FAA officials said today Tibbott held commercial instrument and instructor ratings. Baker had received his private pilot's license Aug. 24.

The three victims were co-workers at VTN, an engineering and land planning company located near Orange County Airport.

A VTN spokesman, Judy Haselhof, said the trio was not flying on company business. She said Tibbott gave flying lessons during his off time, which was usually during the noon hour.

A National Transportation and Safety Board investigator said today it was unknown who was piloting the ill-fated Cessna 182 at the time of the collision. He also said it was unknown if Tibbott was giving lessons on the flight.

The Cessna was rented from Newport Air Associates.

A second aircraft, a Piper PA28, limped back to Orange County Airport and landed safely with its two occupants following the midair crash.

Tibbott is survived by his wife, Linda, and three children; Baker is survived by his wife, Janice, and two children; and Glass is survived by his wife, Kathryn, and three children.

Heroin Ring Cracked

Three Irvine Residents Arrested; Drug Seized

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Higherest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics purchases.

The raid on the Higherest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant.

The arrested were identified as:

Both were booked at Newport Beach city jail. Brown on charges of burglary with intent to possess heroin (police allege he broke into the home), Hinojosa on a charge of being under the influence of an opiate.

Brown was held on $10,000 bail. Bail for Hinojosa was set at $1,000.

Seized in the search were twelve balloons of heroin, four dozen peyote buttons and a small quantity of marijuana. Police also confiscated 16 hypodermic syringes, empty balloons in which heroin is packed, and a jar of lactose, a powder used to mix with heroin.

One Irvine police officer was injured while storming the house. Elliott Nemerson broke his left elbow when a fence he was climbing collapsed. He was treated at Tustin Community Hospital.

County Campaign Limits Proposed

Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Orange County Supervisor Ralph Clark has proposed a county political campaign ordinance that places a lid on candidate spending and limits the amount individual donors can contribute to a political campaign.

Clark's proposal also provides for the establishment of a county fair campaign practices commission to oversee campaigns for county offices.

The commission suggested by the Anaheim supervisor would have subpoena power and be fortified by a deputy district attorney assigned to the commission staff. According to Clark, his proposed ordinance can be enacted this year and placed on next year's ballot to be either ratified or rejected by county voters.

If enacted immediately as Clark wants, the ordinance would place a 75-cent a voter limit on campaign spending in next June's primary election.

In comparison, in the same election in 1976, Supervisor Thomas Riley spent more than $2 a voter to win a landslide victory.

Clark's proposed ordinance would also limit the amount individual donors can give to a candidate to $500 annually.

Cripple to Champ

Former San Diego vice mayor Vince Godfrey shows what he can do with his leg, once crippled by degenerative arthritis in his hip. With a special diet, he is now a national champion runner and defending champion of the Senior Olympics.

Dual Payoff Offered in Irvine 'War'

"Foil a burglar and win a burger" is the latest promotional tactic of the Irvine Police Department's war against housebreaking. Officer Patrick Rodgers, who heads the department's crime prevention unit, said residents who volunteer for home anti-burglary inspections are given certificates good for a free meal at a local eatery. Under the home security inspection, an officer points out weak spots where a burglar can easily get in, and suggests how to correct the problems. Inspections can be arranged by calling 754-3735.

Girl Killed Fleeing Rape

LANCASTER (AP) — A 22-year-old Lancaster man has been booked for investigation of murder following the death early today of a 16-year-old girl. Police said she was injured Tuesday when she jumped out of a moving pickup truck while allegedly trying to resist the driver's sexual advances. Los Angeles County Sheriff's deputies said the girl was Liza Kozee of Redondo Beach.

Teens Threaten Irvine Student

An Irvine High School student riding his bicycle home across the Yale Avenue pedestrian railroad overcrossing Wednesday was intercepted by two other teenagers and threatened with a switchblade knife, police said today.

The youth, 14, was released unharmed after the assailants terrified him by waving the knife at his eyes, and kicking in the front wheel spokes of his bicycle.

North Chief Named

Saddleback's Hart Wins Post

Dr. Edward A. Hart, Saddleback College's assistant superintendent for general development, has been appointed administrator of the district's northern campus now under construction in Irvine.

College trustees appointed the 48-year-old Laguna Niguel resident, who was recommended by Superintendent President Robert Lombardi, after an executive session earlier this week.

While announcing his appointment, college officials gave the first indication that the satellite campus may not be completed by its planned opening in August.

"With Ed Hart and his fine team, we'll have a fine school," Lombardi said, "but the building trades are so busy down here that I'm not sure we can get the crews and pieces together in time."

The district superintendent explained that many construction bids being received on various campus projects have been far out of line with estimated costs. He said this is apparently because the construction industry is so busy.

Lombardi said Hart and his new staff may have to be flexible with respect to the opening date and may even have to change the format of some classes if the first day of school is later than expected.

Hart has been responsible for much of the planning of the north campus and will continue to try and keep the development on schedule.

"I envision an opportunity for a great deal of creativity in a new setting," said Hart, whose salary will remain at $39,500.

"Speaking for the board, we think the people in the vast area comprising the northern site will benefit greatly from his leadership," said Larry Taylor, president of the Board of Trustees.

Hart came to Saddleback in 1975 from a post as associate dean for student personnel services at Chabot College in Hayward.

The Saddleback district purchased the initial 20-acre campus site from the Irvine Company, for $900,000 and holds an option on another 80 acres if the northern campus must be expanded.

Plans for the first phase include facilities for 3,000 students.

County OKs New Factory In Irvine Area

Plans to build an asphalt and concrete plant in an undeveloped area north of Irvine won the unanimous approval of Orange County supervisors Wednesday.

Officials of Blue Diamond Materials of Long Beach believe the new plant will help reduce truck traffic in Santa Ana and Irvine.

The firm now has such facilities near Jamboree and Barranca Roads in Irvine and in south Santa Ana.

Once the new plant is operating, traffic into those locations should decrease, company officials said.

The new plant is to be in Rattlesnake Canyon west of the Hicks Canyon road in the central Irvine Ranch area.

State Salary Raise Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California State Employees Association is plugging for a 12.5 percent wage increase next year.

The labor group told the State Personnel Board Wednesday that 10 percent is needed to keep up with costs, and 2.5 percent is needed to make up for cutbacks in the 1977 raises.

Tax Controls Pushed

Reform Advocate Speaks in El Toro

By WILLIAM HODGE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The only way to make certain government spends less is to give it less, a proponent of taxpayer revolt told an audience in El Toro this week.

"Government today is unlimited," Howard Jarvis, chairman of California's United Organization of Taxpayers, told a gathering of concerned residents. "Nowhere is there any limit on what government can spend."

"We're trying to obliterate the idea of government by, for and of the government."

Jarvis was in El Toro Tuesday seeking support for his California constitutional amendment initiative to limit the property tax to one percent of assessed valuation.

"You are not going to get tax reform out of your elected officials in our lifetime," he admonished the disgruntled homeowners. "You the people have no right to say what goes on in this government—that's their attitude."

"We want to make absolutely certain that the government operates on less money than they do now," Jarvis said. "The only way to do that is not to give them the money in the first place."

The newspaper columnist and former Los Angeles mayoral candidate lashed out at government officials' salaries and pensions.

"We are creating a very rich and protected society and they're all politicians," Jarvis asserted. He attacked what he termed "legislator favoritism" toward government employee unions.

"117 out of 120 state legislative candidates got the major part of their election funds from employee unions," he claimed. "I don't think there's a worse cancer on our free system than elected officials being bought by public employees."

Jarvis claimed an allegedly employee-controlled legislature would never approve tax reform because of potential job losses from a dropping of tax funds.

The 15-year veteran of California tax reform fights was optimistic that his property tax limitation initiative would qualify for the June, 1978, ballot. "We're going to get 750,000 signatures and we're going to put this issue on the ballot," Jarvis promised. "It will come down to a contest between the people and the government, and the people are going to win this time."

SADAT CONFIRMS...

shortly after Sadat returned from Damascus, where Sadat failed to win President Hafez Assad's support for the visit.

Assad called the visit a source of "deep sorrow." The trip has also come under fire from Iraq and Libya.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said that when Sadat returned to Ismailia, he received the official Begin invitation for the visit through U.S. Ambassador Hermann Ilts. It was accompanied by a message from President Carter, the contents of which were not disclosed.

Sadat accepted. The U.S. ambassador to Israel, Samuel Lewis, then called Begin, who made the announcement to visiting U.S. congressmen.

At the same time, Egypt's official Middle East News Agency announced that Sadat's foreign minister and key aide since the 1973 war, Ismail Fahmy, had resigned, a move that could indicate deep opposition within the country to the Jerusalem visit.

The agency said Fahmy's letter of resignation cited "new elements which affected the situation," an apparent reference to Sadat's trip. "I feel that I cannot continue in my post and that I cannot continue to share in shouldering responsibilities in these conditions," Fahmy wrote.

In Jerusalem, Begin told a group of American congressmen in the presence of reporters that Sadat would pray in the Al Aqsa Mosque in on Sunday before addressing the Israeli Parliament.

The announcement came as a surprise to most Israelis who had not expected the Egyptian visitor before Nov. 24.

Begin said he hoped Sadat would also visit Yad Vashem, Israel's national monument to Nazi victims and a regular stop on all visits of foreign dignitaries. The prime minister said he expected to converse with Sadat in English.

In Damascus, Assad assured Assad that he did not intend to seek a separate peace with the Israelis, with whom the Arabs have fought four wars. But his unprecedented visit to speak before the Israeli parliament would be the closest any Arab government has come to recognizing the state of Israel.

Although Sadat said he had not asked to meet Begin, but only to address the Israeli parliament, the timetable announced in Jerusalem said the two leaders would hold private talks before Sadat addresses the parliament.

Begin said he would personally receive Sadat at the airport. Israeli police prepared one of the largest security operations of Israel's history, canceling vacations and mobilizing thousands of men.

Race to Aid 'Toys for Tots'

Irvine apartment residents are being urged to do the turkey trot to benefit the Marine Corps' "Toys for Tots" Christmas program.

Park West Apartments is organizing the three-mile jog, in which contestants donate a toy to the Marine Corps as a fee, and vie for Thanksgiving turkeys awarded to winners in five age categories.

The race starts and ends Sunday at the apartment complex. Participants must register by 8:30 a.m. Races start at 9 by age group: 15 and under, 19 through 25, 26 through 35, 36 through 45, and 46 through over the hill.

Watch Wallet

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

Later reports suggest that this may be an exceedingly spendthrift Christmas. Retail sales for the year are going to top $700 billion, and something like $75 billion of that is likely to be added up in December alone.

INDICATING THE TREND, OCTOBER sales leaped 1.8 percent over the previous month, one of the strongest showings of the year. Unlike in some years, merchants don't have to set a spending mood, but merely prolong it.

Consumers seem to be in an ebullient mood. Credit is the mixer for the holiday cocktail, and consumers have been adding to their instalment borrowing at a rate of $2.5 billion a month, bringing the total to about $200 billion.

Does that figure frighten you? It frightens more than a few retailers, and some bankers too, but the truth is it amounts to just 17 percent of disposable personal income, or 1 percent below the record set in 1973.

Should a sharp economic downturn occur it seems likely that some of those bills might be late in being repaid, but few economists expect such an event to take place. Meanwhile, repayments are said to be satisfactory.

Despite the complications, retailers generally are pleased to assist in the accumulation of consumer credit because, as they are ever aware, they have in the Christmas selling season about 30 of the best sales days of the year.

THE CONSUMER, ON THE OTHER hand, has six times that number of days during the next year in which to work toward repaying the bills. To retailers, this adds up to a good deal, especially since many of them sell the receivable account.

Again using last year as a measure, almost all types of retail outlets except automotive dealers, who have their own special selling season, and building materials and hardware stores will share in the spending spree.

Sales of home furnishings and household appliance stores soared last Christmas season. So did sales in apparel and accessory stores, toy stores, jewelry stores, book stores, grocery stores, variety stores and liquor stores.

FOR SOME MERCHANTS, THE month of December is a make or break period during which they either earn profit for the year or suffer for another 11 months, during which they must dispose of their stock at vast price cuts.

This is especially true of stores specializing in toys and dolls, which to some extent have developed the concept of a fresh model every year, forcing the merchant to restock no matter how large his inventory.

Otherwise, his sales would reflect the old merchandise. Think of it: Would you want your child to find last year's doll under the tree on Christmas morning?

WHILE SUCH MERCHANTS FACE a worrisome, tension-filled season, for one famous merchant, Abercrombie & Fitch Co., there will probably be no Christmas at all. It has been clearing out its merchandise, preparing to close down.

What irony. The exemplification of big spending and expensive gifts as Christmasy as an old fireplace, Abercrombie & Fitch is phasing out during the year's biggest spending spree. It couldn't raise any more credit. (Related story, photo, A3).

Israel Trip Set By Sadat

By The Associated Press President Anwar Sadat of Egypt will visit Jerusalem for 36 hours starting Saturday night and will address the Israeli parliament Sunday, Israeli Prime Minister Menahem Begin announced today.

But Sadat will make the visit, which he has described as a "sacred duty," without the support of Syria and apparently with major opposition within his own country. His foreign minister resigned today and was followed by his deputy.

In Beirut, Palestinian leader Yasir Arafat condemned the planned visit and urged Sadat to cancel it.

In his address to the Israeli parliament, Sadat is expected to call for Israeli evacuation of all lands captured in the 1967 war and establishment of a Palestinian state — standard Arab demands that Israel previously rejected.

But the visit itself will represent unprecedented recognition by an Arab leader of the state of Israel.

Begin announced the visit shortly after Sadat returned from Damascus, where Sadat failed to win President Hafez Assad's support for the visit.

Assad called the visit a source of "deep sorrow." The trip has also come under fire from Iraq and Libya.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said that when Sadat returned to Ismailia, he received the official Begin invitation for the visit through U.S. Ambassador Hermann Ilts. It was accompanied by a message from President Carter, the contents of which were not disclosed. (See SADAT, Page A2)

Police Arrest Pair in Gas Station Heists

San Clemente police had two Los Angeles men behind bars today after a series of service station robberies along the Orange Coast.

Emmet Moore, 28, and James Polk, 29, were being held in San Clemente Jail on $5,000 bail after they were arrested by Oceanside police at about 3:40 a.m.

Police believe the two men were responsible for robberies of service stations in Irvine, San Juan Capistrano and San Clemente early this morning.

The "till taps," in which one suspect distracts the station attendant while the other scoops up cash from the drawer, allegedly netted the pair more than $200 in San Clemente, Lt. Al Elhow said today.

In that incident, an attendant at Moon Chevron, 1729 South El Camino Real, called police after losing the cash and the drawer.

San Clemente officers alerted Oceanside police to be on the lookout for the two men and they were apprehended in that city early today.

By PHILIP ROSMARIN Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Highest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics purchases.

The raid on the Highest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant.

The arrested were identified as:

—Tony Gomez, 45, booked at Orange County Jail on charges of possession of heroin for sale, and processing of peyote. Bail was $5,000.

—Aurora Noble, 43, booked at Orange County women's jail on charges of processing peyote, possession of heroin and possession of marijuana. Bail was $2,500.

—A 17-year-old male juvenile whose name was withheld, booked into juvenile hall on charges of processing peyote and possession of marijuana. Juvenile hall officials would not release bail information.

All three listed the Highest Circle house as their address.

Arrested after police arranged to meet telephone callers at the house were Richard Brown and Galo Hinojosa, 22, both of Santa Ana.

Brown was held on $10,000 bail. Bail for Hinojosa was set at $1,000.

San Juan Girl, 12, Raped; Man Hunted

Orange County Sheriff's deputies are seeking a white man in his early twenties in connection with the rape of a 12-year-old San Juan Capistrano girl Wednesday in a lonely orange grove east of Interstate 5.

Deputies described the suspect as six feet tall, weighing about 180 pounds with shoulder length brown hair and a mustache.

The alleged rape occurred around 1 p.m. when the girl was riding her bicycle through orange groves in the Sun Hollow area. Deputies said the assailant was crouched in the bushes and surprised the girl, knocking her off the bicycle and dragging her deeper into the orange grove.

The girl who was treated at San Clemente General Hospital also suffered minor scrapes as a result of being knocked off the bike. She was released to her parents.

Marines Attack Wrong Vessel

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Marine attack jets apparently mistook a salvage ship as a practice target and opened fire with rockets that narrowly missed a diver.

Diver Don DeNairie was only stunned by the concussion from the explosions.

The jets flew out of the Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla. but their home field was not immediately known.

The incident, confirmed Wednesday by the Navy, occurred Nov. 6 as DeNairie, a diver for Treasure Salvors, Inc.,

was over the side of an 187-foot World War II-vintage buoy tender.

He was working alone on the engineless ship, which serves as a base of operations for salvage being done on a sunken Spanish treasure ship. A crew returned for DeNairie Monday, eight days after the incident.

"You could hear the explosions first," the diver said Wednesday. "Then you could see the aircraft and then hear the jets."

DeNairie said he managed to climb back aboard the ship and raised an American flag in an effort to stop the rocket attack. But the planes made other passes and fired again, he said.

Fortunately their pilots were having an off day. None of the rockets made a direct hit.

Marine Capt. Hal Cutlip in New Orleans said the target ship the two A-4 Sky Hawks were supposed to have fired at was 10 miles to the north.

Cutlip called the attack a mistake and said an investigation was under way.

"I would say the ship and the captain and the crew would be due an apology," he said.

2 Recruits Tell of Fire In DI Trial

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A University of Colorado midshipman says he saw flames "the size of a shoe box" on the clothing of a Marine recruit allegedly set afire by a drill instructor.

The testimony was given by Stanley Austin, 20, of Grand Junction, Colo., in a pretrial hearing Wednesday. Another former recruit, Marine PFC Richard Hilmer, 18, of Woodbridge, Va., said he never saw the flames.

Hilmer testified, however, that he saw Pvt. V.N. Aldaz of East Chicago, Ind., patting his clothing that day, July 9.

Sgt. John B. Norris, 22, of San Bernardino is charged with hazing Aldaz, referring to him as "torch," mistreating the 21-year-old recruit by spraying lighter fluid on his trousers and igniting it.

A general court-martial was scheduled to begin before a jury and a Marine colonel Wednesday but its start was delayed to allow the defense attorney to question another witness in Boulder, Colo.

After the pretrial hearing, a base spokesman said a decision would be made on whether a (See RECRUIT, Page A2)

'Council Ignores Laws' Angered Planner Leak Quits Post

By STEVE MITCHELL Of the Daily Pilot Staff

An angry Laguna Beach planning commissioner stormed out of a crowded meeting hall Wednesday afternoon after telling the surprised City Council he is resigning his city post.

William W. Leak, a planning commissioner for the past three and a half years, told councilmen they were ignoring the laws of the city in allowing a take-out window to remain at a restaurant adjacent to the Main Beach Park.

The window at Jonathan's Restaurant looks out onto the beach area, and Leak contends a city-approved exemption for the window is not listed under environmental guidelines of the California Environmental Quality Act.

He claims customers waiting at the window are standing on public property, thereby affecting the environment of the park area. He also claims a ledge attached to the take-out window infringes into the park's air space a few inches.

Councilmen took the side of the city's environmental evaluator, however, claiming the small window would have little impact on the environment.

Leak accused the council of ignoring the state environmental guidelines, and accused the city manager of issuing an oral permit for the window.

"And when the city manager can hand out oral permits, we are in trouble," Leak said angrily.

Saying he found the situation intolerable, Leak submitted his resignation to the council and hurriedly rushed from the building.

"Fine, we accept your resignation," Mayor Jon Brand shouted after the departing commissioner. "But it's sad when a three-inch window ledge causes you to decide to resign."

Vice Mayor Sally Bellerue turned to Brand and said, "I, for one, am not going to accept the resignation."

But when reached by telephone this morning, Leak said his decision is final.

"I think it was the principle of the thing that prompted me to quit," he said. "We have laws in the city which I feel everyone must obey, the City Council as well as the people."

He said the city attorney even admitted the window use cannot be allowed because commercial sales are not allowed in an R1 (residential) zone.

(Park areas in Laguna Beach are currently designated R1, although Councilwoman Bellerue asked after Leak's resignation that the city look into a Park zone ordinance.)

"I tried to get them (the council) to address the question of (See QUILTS, Page A2)

Three in Running For Council in SC

Three San Clemente residents have announced their candidacy for the March 7 city council election; businessman Al Popik, store manager Roy Hamm and environmental planner Boyd Ames.

Three seats will be open in the March race. Incumbent Patrick Lane has announced he will not run for re-election. Councilman Tony DiGiovanni said this week he is still debating whether he will run for another four-year term. Veteran Councilman Thomas O'Keefe said he has made a decision but isn't ready to announce it.

Candidates can file to run in the March election from Dec. 9 to 29, according to the county registrar's office. If an incumbent does not file by Dec. 29, the filing period would be extended to Jan. 3, she said.

Popik, 35, is part owner and manager of a San Clemente service station. He served for six years in the U.S. Secret Service. He and his wife and two children live at 115 Calle Dominguez.

Ames, 29, works as an environmental planning consultant to government and industry. He and his wife and daughter live at 405 Ave. Vaquero.

Hamm, 40, is manager of the Sears store in San Clemente. He lives with his wife and two children at 136 Ave. Cadiz.

Property Tax Limit Pressed

By WILLIAM HODGE Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The only way to make certain government spends less is to give it less, a proponent of taxpayer revolt told an audience in El Toro this week.

"Government today is unlimited," Howard Jarvis, chairman of California's United Organization of Taxpayers, told a gathering of concerned residents. "Nowhere is there any limit on what government can spend."

"We're trying to obliterate the idea of government by, for and of the government."

Jarvis was in El Toro Tuesday seeking support for his California constitutional amendment initiative to limit the property tax to one percent of assessed valuation.

"You are not going to get tax reform out of your elected officials in our lifetime," he admonished the disgruntled homeowners. "You the people have no right to say what goes on in this government—that's their attitude."

certain that the government operates on less money than they do now," Jarvis said. "The only way to do that is not to give them the money in the first place."

The newspaper columnist and former Los Angeles mayoral candidate lashed out at government officials' salaries and pensions.

"We are creating a very rich and protected society and they're all politicians," Jarvis asserted. He attacked what he termed "legislative favoritism" toward government employee unions.

"117 out of 120 state legislative candidates got the major part of their election funds from employee unions," he claimed. "I don't think there's a worse cancer on our free system than elected officials being bought by public employees."

Jarvis claimed an allegedly employee-controlled legislature would never approve tax reform because of potential job losses from a dropping of tax funds.

The 15-year veteran of California tax reform fights was (See JARVIS, Page A2)

Dr. Hart To Head Campus

Dr. Edward A. Hart, Saddleback College's assistant superintendent for general development, has been appointed administrator of the district's northern campus now under construction in Irvine.

College trustees appointed the 48-year-old Laguna Niguel resident, who was recommended by Superintendent President Robert Lombardi, after an executive session earlier this week.

While announcing his appointment, college officials gave the first indication that the satellite campus may not be completed by its planned opening in August.

"With Ed Hart and his fine team, we'll have a fine school," Lombardi said, "but the building trades are so busy down here that I'm not sure we can get the crews and pieces together in time."

The district superintendent explained that many construction bids being received on various campus projects have been far out of line with estimated costs. He said this is apparently because the construction industry is so busy.

Lombardi said Hart and his new staff may have to be flexible with respect to the opening date and may even have to change the format of some classes if the first day of school is later than expected.

Hart has been responsible for much of the planning of the north campus and will continue to try and keep the development on schedule.

"I envision an opportunity for a great deal of creativity in a new setting," said Hart, whose salary will remain at $39,500.

"Speaking for the board, we think the people in the vast area comprising the northern site will benefit greatly from his leadership," said Larry Taylor, president of the Board of Trustees.

Hart came to Saddleback in 1975 from a post as associate dean for student personnel services at Chabot College in Hayward.

The Saddleback district purchased the initial 20-acre campus site from the Irvine Company for $900,000 and holds an option on another 80 acres if the northern campus must be expanded.

Plans for the first phase include facilities for 3,000 students.

SC Project Approved For Center

An addition to an existing shopping center in San Clemente, valued at $260,000, is scheduled to be built following plan approval by the South Coast Regional Zone Control Commission.

The permit was approved for the project at 360 to 390 Camino de Estrella in a Coastal Commission meeting this week.

Developers Steaven Jones and Associates were granted permission for the project.

The new commercial building which will also offer general office space includes 13,200 square feet.

Hughes Aides To Testify

RENO, Nev. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Bruce Thompson Wednesday denied an attempt by two former Howard Hughes aides to avoid testifying Thursday before federal grand jury probing possible drug abuse by the late recluse.

The judge denied without comment motions by George Francum and John M. Holmes Jr. to quash subpoenas to appear before the jury meeting in Las Vegas.

In the motions, the men said they were approached Oct. 26 by federal drug enforcement agents investigating possible misuse or offenses as a result of drugs allegedly provided Hughes. The motions, filed last week, stated further the agents were forerunners of a grand jury investigation.

Traffic Woes

LB Subdivision Vote Delayed

A request for a 12-lot subdivision in the Portafina area in the hills above Victoria Beach ended in debate over traffic woes on Nyes Place and Summit Way Wednesday night.

Laguna Beach councilmen returned the subdivision proposal for the 2.8 acre site to the planning commission for revisions after a lengthy discussion of hillside congestion.

Councilman Jack McDowell argued that the subdivision request, by owner Mrs. M.E. Lewis of Pasadena, meets with the general plan requirements of the city.

Mrs. Lewis wants to put 12 homes on the site bounded by Gull Circle, Marlin Drive and Kendall Circle. The area is zoned for residential use with a density of from three to eight units per acre. She is seeking four units per acre.

But three other council members objected to the tentative tract map, citing increased traffic along Nyes Place and Summit Way.

City planning director Doug Schmitz told councilmen Nyes Place has a capacity for 2,000 to 3,500 vehicle trips per day and is currently carrying between 1,500 and 1,800.

Summit Way carries 3,000 vehicles per day, which is the maximum shown on land use maps.

"Traffic is a real problem up there," said Councilwoman Phyllis Sweeney. "With construction on the vacant lots alone up there we'd be pushing the maximum capacity on Nyes Place and Summit is already surpassing its limit."

Councilwoman Sally Bellerue agreed with an earlier planning commission decision denying the subdivision because of traffic and density.

But McDowell said that panel "failed to understand the general plan." He also said he was upset that the planning commissioner who made the motion for denial "lives directly across the street from the project. I think that is a conflict of interest."

Minutes of that planning commission meeting show that commissioner Neil Fitzpatrick, who lives on Kendall Drive, moved for denial of the subdivision.

But Mrs. Bellerue countered McDowell's argument, saying, "I think the planning commissioner (Fitzpatrick) should have abstained from voting, but even if he had, there would have still been four votes for denial."

Councilman Carl Johnson said he also found it very difficult to deny a subdivision that meets the requirements for density, lot size and other considerations.

"If you can't approve this one," he said, "then you can't approve any on the hillside. If we're talking about inadequate roads, we should fix those roads, but the idea of just shutting off these subdivided lots, I can't see."

Phyllis Sweeney countered, saying, "With the other tracts coming up there, we have to look carefully at the ones we approve today."

Mayor Jon Brand agreed, saying, "If owners could work out acceptable densities it would be fine. But we're stuck with areas like Arch Beach Heights that are overdeveloped."

"We have to correct the errors of the past and we have to be fairly harsh about it," he said.

"Using that logic," Johnson responded, "we'd have to say one more residence up there is unacceptable."

McDowell agreed, saying, "I don't think we can have two general plans. One published and one we use hypothetically."

The proposal will now go back to the planning commission with changes, after a plea by a spokesman for the owner.

SADAT...

Sadat accepted. The U.S. ambassador to Israel, Samuel Lewis, then called Begin, who made the announcement to visiting U.S. congressmen.

At the same time, Egypt's official Middle East News Agency announced that Sadat's foreign minister and key aide since the 1973 war, Ismail Fahmy, had resigned, a move that could indicate deep opposition within the country to the Jerusalem visit.

The agency said Fahmy's letter of resignation cited "new elements which affected the situation," an apparent reference to Sadat's trip. "I feel that I cannot continue in my post and that I shouldering responsibilities in these conditions," Fahmy wrote.

In Jerusalem, Begin told a group of American congressmen in the presence of reporters that Sadat would pray in the Al Aqsa Mosque in on Sunday before addressing the Israeli Parliament.

The announcement came as a surprise to most Israelis who had not expected the Egyptian visitor before Nov. 24.

Begin said he hoped Sadat would also visit Yad Vashem, Israel's national monument to Nazi victims and a regular stop on all visits of foreign dignitaries. The prime minister said he expected to converse with Sadat in English.

In Damascus, Sadat assured Assad that he did not intend to seek a separate peace with the Israelis, with whom the Arabs have fought four wars.

And as for the council?

"I gave my oral resignation to them at the meeting," he said. "They insultingly filed my letter and ignored the points I brought up at the meeting."

"That's like a slap in the face. Anyone with any gumption doesn't stand there and take a slap in the face. They're thumbing their noses at the citizens of Laguna Beach. Not just me but the entire town," he said.

court-martial is held and when Austin and Hilmer are attending college under pre-commission programs.

Austin said Aldaz was not a regular member of the platoon led by Norris. He had been sent from the correctional platoon where problem recruits are put for special training or confinement.

There was no explanation why Aldaz was confined to the correctional unit where Pvt. Lynn McClure was assigned in 1975 before being knocked unconscious in forced pugil stick drills. That recruit from Lufkin, Tex., died without regaining consciousness in a Houston veterans hospital.

Although Hilmer said he never saw Aldaz after, he said he turned to see what was happening that day after hearing Norris tell Aldaz four or five times to stand at attention. He said Aldaz had refused.

He's Still Walking

Lagunan Says Cops 'Hiding' His Bike

Bearded John Gabriels is certain the Laguna Beach Police Department is hiding his stolen bicycle from him.

The Italian two-wheeler, which has been better days, Gabriels admits, was stolen from the veteran city council and police critic about two weeks ago while parked in front of a popular downtown eatery.

Gabriels dutifully reported the loss to police and has been getting around town on foot ever since.

But Wednesday the puzzled pedestrian was overheard "I was at a meeting the other night in the council chambers and looked out the window to see my bike in the police 'lost and found' cage."

Gabriels told several passersby, "I don't know why they haven't notified me yet," he said, scratching his salt and pepper beard. "I think I'll just wait and see how long it takes them," he grinned conspiratorially.

But police property clerk Carol Eason denies anyone is trying to hide Gabriels' bike.

"I thought it was his when it was brought here last Friday," she said. "But the city sticker checks out to someone else."

Police Lt. John Zelko said a letter was sent to a La Mirada man who is the registered owner of the bike. "Now maybe he sold it or gave it to John (Gabriels) but it looks like John never bothered to re-register the thing," Zelko said.

"If that's the case, it might sit here until hell freezes over."

Property Clerk Eason echoed Zelko's feelings.

"Gee, if Gabriels saw his bike down here, why didn't he come in and claim it?"

"He's down here often enough," she quipped.

The dilapidated bicycle is even in worse shape now, with the front wheel missing and the rear one crushed.

Even if Gabriels does go down and claim the Stella ten-speed, it will be a while before he's pedaling instead of walking.

Arthritis Care Risky

Specialist Says Some Therapy 'Damaging'

By WILLIAM HODGE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

While physical therapy can ease and improve certain arthritic conditions, some treatment forms can cause complications, a physical rehabilitation specialist says.

Inherent in any method of treatment is a certain amount of risk," Dr. Ronald Levin told an Arthritis Auxiliary meeting at Saddleback Community Hospital.

"IT'S IMPORTANT FIRST to have an idea of what kind of arthritis you're treating," Levin explained. "There are several forms of treatment available and all of them can be helping through coordinating with each other."

Levin, who is on the staff at Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach, listed resting, exercises, and hot and cold applications to inflamed joints as potential arthritis treatments.

The physical rehabilitation specialist outlined benefits and drawbacks to several different therapy types.

"THERE'S A FINE line between doing damage and helping yourself with a heating pad," Levin explained. "Sometimes you can burn yourself without doing any good to the inflamed joint."

"There are just as many problems in a physical method such as exercising," he continued. "This is not to say exercise isn't valuable."

Levin said there are forms of arthritis that could be worsened by exercise programs.

And there are some forms of therapy that require a "trade-off" between their drawbacks and benefits, depending on the patient's condition.

"A SPLINT CAN be very beneficial to someone with wrist problems," Levin said. "But with a splint, there is a great risk of stiffness."

"We're fighting pain and stiffness both, so sometimes we have to decide which is the greater factor."

Levin said there are many specially designed home items that can be used by arthritics to overcome handicaps in doing daily house chores.

As an example, there are kitchen utensils with fatter handles so they can be held by a person unable to close his hand.

HOWEVER, HE CAUTIONED against reliance on these special devices too early in a patient's treatment process.

"I don't believe in devices at first hand," he said. "Let's find out why a person can't move their arm and if it can be treated and improved first."

"It may be that the stiffness is permanent and the patient will have to accept that and use the devices."

"If you can't revise the patient," Levin said, "then you have to revise the environment the patient must exist in."

Race to Aid

'Toys for Tots'

Irvine apartment residents are being urged to do the turkey trot to benefit the Marine Corp's "Toys for Tots" Christmas program.

Park West Apartments is organizing the three-mile job, in which contestants donate a toy to the Marine Corps as a fee, and vie for Thanksgiving turkeys awarded to winners in five age categories.

The race starts and ends Sunday at the apartment complex. Participants must register by 8:30 a.m. Races start at 9 by age group: 18 and under, 19 through 25, 26 through 35, 36 through 45, and 46 through over the hill.

LB Trustees Seek Feedback On State Bill

By STEVE MITCHELL
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Laguna Beach school trustees want to get feedback from the City Council on a new state bill that might benefit the troubled district in future years.

Senate Bill 201, which becomes effective Jan. 1, would allow school districts to assess developers a fee or land dedication for new development projects within the district.

THE CATCH IS, THE school district must be found to be overcrowded.

The Laguna Beach Unified School District is far from being overcrowded, with enrollment figures for October showing attendance at the district's five schools down by about 150 students.

District officials suggest it might be a good idea to look into the bill, in the event enrollment ever does reach the overflow level in the district.

SUPERINTENDENT Robert Sanchis said future developments in the Irvine sector might mean increased students in Laguna schools.

But trustee Bill Kentle said he is opposed to penalizing one segment of the society (builders).

Board president Harry Bithel said the effect the bill would have on small builders is what bothers him.

"What about the guy who builds a house for himself, or maybe two or three homes," Bithel said. "If we approve this, I'd like to see it limited to subdivisions—five or more lots."

THE NEW STATE legislation says an ordinance approving the assessment on builders must come from the public agency involved. In the Laguna district, those agencies would be the City Council and the county Board of Supervisors. (Two of the district's schools are in unincorporated areas.)

If approved by the council and supervisors, builders would be required to dedicate land to the district or fees in lieu of land dedication.

District business manager Clyde Lovelady said that even if the district became overcrowded, the impact of the bill on the district would not be that significant.

A PORTION OF the new bill says the land or fees dedicated by the developer are to be used only to provide temporary classroom and related facilities.

District officials said they will approach Laguna Beach council representatives to discuss the ordinance concept.

The first and original something for everybody, out of the ordinary store.

Guess How Many Are Coming to Dine

By JOANNE REYNOLDS
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Grant Howard just can't help chuckling when he talks about the Thanksgiving dinner to be served Sunday at the Newport Beach senior citizens center.

"Right now we've got 263 people coming," he said. "We've only got 200 chairs and I don't know where we'll put them all, but we'll think of something." Then he laughed.

Howard is president of the Friends of the Oasis Center, the group which uses and supports the city senior citizens center at Fifth and Marguerite avenues in Corona del Mar.

OASIS stands for Older Adults Social, Informational and Service Center. The facility has not often been the subject of mirth.

The center opened in the north wing of the buildings on the site at the end of August. The rest of the buildings are still being used by the private school which has leased the site yearly since the city bought it three years ago.

The federal grant money used to buy the site for a senior center and the continued use of the facility by the private school were the subject of a city controversy that lasted more than a year.

Howard and his group vowed to put that acrimony behind them when they moved in and the events leading to the Thanksgiving dinner may be an indication of their success.

The Friends initially planned for a dinner for 75 to 100 seniors who would otherwise be alone on Thanksgiving.

Howard said the Ralphs supermarket at Ford and San Joaquin Hills roads donated three turkeys, but center supporters weren't sure where they'd cook the birds.

The center eventually will have a cafeteria-auditorium where meals like Sunday's can be prepared, but this year the seniors are without such facilities.

Howard said a couple of good things happened about that time. He laughed some more telling about how the students at Andersen Elementary School in Harbor View Homes decided to adopt the seniors from the center as grandparents.

As a result, school principal Scott Paulsen also put Howard's group in contact with the school district's food service. They agreed to prepare as much turkey and fixings as the seniors needed at a charge of $3 a person.

That was an offer the seniors could hardly refuse since their

Irvine Man 3rd Victim

An Irvine resident has been identified as the third victim of Tuesday's midair collision off Crystal Cove, Orange County coroner's officials said Wednesday.

Missing and presumed dead is Thomas A. Glass, 34, of 3741 Avenue Sausalito in Irvine.

Coroner's officials said body parts located at the crash scene three and one-half miles south of the Newport Beach harbor entrance belonged to a second victim, James Tibbott, 38, of 9312 Comstock Drive in Huntington Beach.

A third victim, also listed as missing and presumed dead, is Robert Baker, 41, of 22842 Foxborough Way in El Toro.

FAA officials said today Tibbott held commercial instrument and instructor ratings. Baker had received his private pilot's license Aug. 24.

The three victims were co-workers at VTN, an engineering and land planning company located near Orange County Airport.

A VTN spokesman, Judy Haselhof, said the trio was not flying on company business. She said Tibbott gave flying lessons during his off time, which was usually during the noon hour.

A National Transportation and Safety Board investigator said today it was unknown who was piloting the ill-fated Cessna 182 at the time of the collision. He also said it was unknown if Tibbott was giving lessons on the flight.

The Cessna was rented from Newport Air Associates.

A second aircraft, a Piper PA28, limped back to Orange County Airport and landed safely with its two occupants following the midair crash.

Tibbott is survived by his wife, Linda, and three children; Baker is survived by his wife, Janice, and two children; and Glass is survived by his wife, Kathryn, and three children.

Crash Injures Newport Man

A Newport Beach diamond cutter remained in critical condition today at Costa Mesa Memorial Hospital following a single-car accident in Costa Mesa.

Raymond Joseph Beaudry, 27, of 4703 Hilaria Way, suffered major head injuries when his small foreign car skidded into a signal light pole at Newport Boulevard and Mesa Drive Tuesday night.

He was alone in the car and no other vehicles were involved, police said.

Islanders Back Flicks

Balboa Island residents are pleased that the Balboa Theater across the bay on the Balboa Peninsula no longer shows X-rated movies.

So they plan to attend the movies there tonight in a show of support for the theater's new ownership, which has banned the X-raters, according to Cindy Houston, secretary of the Balboa Island Improvement Association.

Residents will gather at 6:30 p.m. at the Balboa Island Community Center, 115 Agate Ave. Then they'll ride the ferry over to the Peninsula and walk to the theater.

The films screening tonight are "The Graduate" and "Easy Rider."

County Campaign Limits Proposed

Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Orange County Supervisor Ralph Clark has proposed a county political campaign ordinance that places a lid on candidate spending and limits the amount individual donors can contribute to a political campaign.

Clark's proposal also provides for the establishment of a county fair campaign practices commission to oversee campaigns for county offices.

The commission suggested by the Anaheim supervisor would have subpoena power and be fortified by a deputy district attorney assigned to the commission staff.

According to Clark, his proposed ordinance can be enacted this year and placed on next year's ballot to be either ratified or rejected by county voters.

If enacted immediately as Clark wants, the ordinance would place a 75-cent a voter limit on campaign spending in next June's primary election.

In comparison, in the same election in 1976, Supervisor Thomas Riley spent more than $2 a voter to win a landslide victory.

Clark's proposed ordinance would also limit the amount individual donors can give to a candidate to $500 annually.

Elected officials who violate the $500 limit would be ineligible "from voting or ruling on matters involving" the donors for an unspecified time.

Tax Controls Pushed Reform Advocate Speaks in El Toro

By WILLIAM HODGE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The only way to make certain government spends less is to give it less, a proponent of taxpayer revolt told an audience in El Toro this week.

"Government today is unlimited," Howard Jarvis, chairman of California's United Organization of Taxpayers, told a gathering of concerned residents. "Nowhere is there any limit on what government can spend."

"We're trying to obliterate the idea of government by, for and of the government."

Jarvis was in El Toro Tuesday seeking support for his California constitutional amendment initiative to limit the property tax to one percent of assessed valuation.

"You are not going to get tax reform out of your elected officials in our lifetime," he admonished the disgruntled homeowners. "You the people have no right to say what goes on in this government—that's their attitude."

"We want to make absolutely certain that the government operates on less money than they do now," Jarvis said. "The only way to do that is not to give them the money in the first place."

The newspaper columnist and former Los Angeles mayoral candidate lashed out at government officials' salaries and pensions.

"We are creating a very rich and protected society and they're all politicians," Jarvis asserted.

He attacked what he termed "legislative favoritism" toward government employee unions.

"117 out of 120 state legislative candidates got the major part of their election funds from employee unions," he claimed. "I don't think there's a worse cancer on our free system than elected officials being bought by public employees."

Jarvis claimed an allegedly employee-controlled legislature would never approve tax reform

Sadat to Israel Will Spend 36 Hours on Visit

By The Associated Press

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt will visit Jerusalem for 36 hours starting Saturday night and will address the Israeli parliament Sunday, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin announced today.

But Sadat will make the visit, which he has described as a "sacred duty," without the support of Syria and apparently with major opposition within his own country. His foreign minister resigned today and was followed by his deputy.

In Beirut, Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat condemned the planned visit and urged Sadat to cancel it.

In his address to the Israeli parliament, Sadat is expected to call for Israeli evacuation of all lands captured in the 1967 war and establishment of a Palestinian state — standard Arab demands that Israel previously rejected.

But the visit itself will represent unprecedented recognition by an Arab leader of the state of Israel.

Begin announced the visit shortly after Sadat returned from Damascus, where Sadat failed to win President Hafez Assad's support for the visit.

Assad called the visit a source of "deep sorrow." The trip has also come under fire from Iraq and Libya.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said that when Sadat returned to Ismailia, he received the official Begin invitation for the visit through U.S. Ambassador Hermann Eilts. It

Planners To Study Density

A second attempt to change the way Newport Beach calculates building density in single family residential developments will be made tonight when city planning commissioners consider changes in the city's general plan.

Among the proposals to be discussed by commissioners are two related ones which would alter future calculations of building density from a gross acreage system to a net acreage system and then would change density designations for existing neighborhoods.

Both proposals came from Councilman Paul Ryckoff who was unsuccessful in getting the changes approved in September. If approved by the commission they will be forwarded to the city council for final action.

The first of the two proposals to be heard by planning commissioners would change the definition of buildable acreage used when calculating density.

Currently, the city uses the gross acreage of a parcel, but Ryckoff wants to deduct the land to be used for streets, parks and other public facilities before the density is figured.

He says the change will not decrease the number of units developers will be allowed to build, but it will more accurately reflect what the density of a development is.

The second proposal to be considered tonight would reclassify existing neighborhoods based on the net acreage system. Areas that are now listed as medium density would become high density and those listed as low density would become medium density.

The changes apply only to single family residential neighborhoods.

The commission meeting begins at 7 p.m. at city hall.

Wrong Target

Marine Jets Fire On Salvage Ship

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Marine attack jets apparently mistook a salvage ship as a practice target and opened fire with rockets that narrowly missed a diver.

Diver Don DeNairie was only stunned by the concussion from the explosions.

The jets flew out of the Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla., but their home field was not immediately known.

The incident, confirmed Wednesday by the Navy, occurred Nov. 6 as DeNairie, a diver for Treasure Salvors, Inc., was over the side of an 187-foot World War II-vintage buoy tender.

He was working alone on the engineless ship, which serves as a base of operations for salvage being done on a sunken Spanish treasure ship. A crew returned for DeNairie Monday, eight days after the incident.

"You could hear the explosions first," the diver said Wednesday. "Then you could see the aircraft and then hear the jets."

DeNairie said he managed to climb back aboard the ship and raised an American flag in an effort to stop the rocket attack. But the planes made other passes and fired again, he said.

Fortunately their pilots were having an off day. None of the rockets made a direct hit.

Irvine Trio Held In Drug Seizure

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Highest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics

(See HEROIN, Page A2)

2 Arrested; Drugs Seized At CM Hotel

Santa Ana police arrested two men and seized cocaine and marijuana worth an estimated $106,000 Wednesday night in the parking lot of a Costa Mesa hotel.

Arrested were Gustavo Diaz Samaniego, 29, of Wilmington, and Albert Valdez, 22, of Carson. Valdez faces charges of selling cocaine and marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon. Samaniego faces charges of conspiracy to sell cocaine and marijuana.

Both men remained in Santa Ana jail today.

Seized were six ounces of cocaine worth about $80,000 and 40 kilos of marijuana worth about $26,000, police said.

Sgt. John Collins said the 8 p.m. arrests were made after two undercover Santa Ana police officers and a police woman allegedly arranged to buy the drugs from the pair.

Santa Ana police, assisted by Costa Mesa police, arrested the two without resistance.

Ship Sinking Set NB Council to OK Artificial Reef?

By JOANNE REYNOLDS
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Newport Beach city councilmen say they are willing to let the State Department of Fish and Game sink a ship off their beach, provided the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers says the project won't accelerate beach erosion.

Councilman Don McInnis, who has led opposition to the project, says he wants that statement in writing before he votes approval of the project.

McInnis, who lives on the West Newport oceanfront which was hard hit by beach erosion from 1965 to 1969, says he wants "someone in authority" from the Corps to write the city a letter which not only declares there will be no future beach erosion problems if the ship is sunk offshore, but that if there are problems, the Corps is responsible for it.

Corps spokesman Winn Collins, who repeatedly assured McInnis and the other councilmen that the beaches would not be altered by the project, said he would be willing to write such a letter if the city writes the Corps first to formally request such a document.

Hughes Aides To Testify

RENO, Nev. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Bruce Thompson Wednesday denied an attempt by two former Howard Hughes aides to avoid testifying Thursday before federal grand jury probing possible drug abuse by the late recluse.

The judge denied without comment motions by George Franc and John M. Holmes Jr. to quash subpoenas to appear before the jury meeting in Las Vegas.

In the motions, the men said they were approached Oct. 26 by federal drug enforcement agents investigating possible misuse or offenses as a result of drugs allegedly provided Hughes. The motions, filed last week, stated further the agents were forerunners of a grand jury investigation.

There has already been an extensive exchange of letters among the city, the Corps and Fish and Game since this spring when councilmen first found out about the proposal.

Fish and Game officials bought three old Liberty ships to sink at three locations off Southern California to create artificial fishing reefs.

The Orange County site will be about two miles off West Newport.

City officials balked at granting permission for the sinking on city tidelands because no environmental impact report was prepared for the project.

Monday, spokesmen from the state and federal agency came to Newport Beach to assure councilmen, the project would not affect the beaches in West Newport.

Collins, described as an expert in sand transport, said that at the 120-foot depth where the ship will be sunk, it would take a much larger vessel to have any effect on wave action on the beach.

"Either that or it would take a wave in excess of 100 feet in height to refract from the reef. And if there's a wave that big off Newport, we've all got lots of problems," Collins said.

purchases.
The raid on the Highestest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant.

The arrested were identified as:

— Tony Gomez, 45, booked at Orange County jail on charges of possession of heroin for sale, and processing of peyote. Bail was $5,000.

— Aurora Noble, 43, booked at Orange County women's jail on charges of processing peyote, possession of heroin and possession of marijuana. Bail was $2,500.

— A 17-year-old male juvenile whose name was withheld, booked into juvenile hall on charges of processing peyote and possession of marijuana. Juvenile hall officials would not release bail information.

All three listed the Highestest house as their address.

Arrested after police arranged to meet telephone callers at the house were Richard Brown and Galo Hinojosa, 22, both of Santa Ana.

Both were booked at Newport Beach city jail. Brown on charges of burglary with intent to possess heroin (police allege he broke into the home), Hinojosa on a charge of being under the influence of an opiate.

Brown was held on $10,000 bail. Bail for Hinojosa was set at $1,000.

Seized in the search were twelve balloons of heroin, four dozen peyote buttons and a small quantity of marijuana. Police also confiscated 16 hypodermic syringes, empty balloons in which heroin is packed, and a jar of lactose, a powder used to mix with heroin.

One Irvine police officer was injured while storming the house. Elliott Nemerson broke his left elbow when a fence he was climbing collapsed. He was treated at Tustin Community Hospital.

Candidate Quits Post

Mesan Denies 'Political Motivation'

By MICHAEL PASKEVICH
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Chris Steel, a Costa Mesa city council candidate, said today he would submit his resignation from a school district advisory committee following a request Tuesday from fellow committee members.

"Some of the members felt I should step down and I didn't want to create any misunderstanding since I am running for council," said Steel.

The 36-year-old bachelor said "a few of the girls (on the committee) were very up tight" about his recent speech before the Newport-Mesa Board of Education.

In his speech, speaking both as a private citizen and a member of the citizen's advisory committee, Steel said he did not support the committee's recommendation to close Vista School for relocation of McNally Continuation School.

This prompted some members of the committee to claim Steel was backing the Monte Vista parents only to further his chances in the March 7 councilmanic election.

Steel denied that his speech was politically motivated, adding that he was already on record as opposing the shifting of McNally to the Monte Vista campus.

Steel noted that there are a lot of "special interests" among other committee members.

Committee member Evelyn

Hart is considering a run for the Newport Beach City Council and another committee member, Ann Beaupre, has said she will be a candidate in the next school board election.

Admitting he would prefer that the potential closure of Monte Vista be placed in the background, Steel said he has devised his own timetable for school closures.

Ceramics Super Bowl

South County Pot Makers Square Off

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The world's only known varsity ceramics athletic competition is scheduled for Friday when two rugged south Orange County high school teams square off at University High School in Irvine.

Teams of 10 members each will be fielded by the ceramics classes of University High and Capistrano Valley High School of Mission Viejo.

The first event gets under way in the ceramics room with the starter's gun scheduled to go off at 3:30 p.m. The public is invited.

CERAMICS IS THE well-known art of making pots and other objects of art from fired clay or porcelain.

What isn't well known is that ceramics also is a demanding, exciting sport, according to Mike Gooch, University's team captain.

Gooch hopes that ceramics eventually will become recognized for its athletic possibilities. One day, he dreams, colleges will compete for the top ceramics players from high schools across the nation.

As for pro ceramics, well...

SEVEN TOUGH EVENTS are planned Friday, with tallest pot, most pots, best pot, best small object under three inches, best hand-built project, mixed doubles and relay competitions.

Gooch explained that the mixed doubles event is the creation of a pot half by hand, half on a potter's wheel. In the relay, he said, teams of three people make a pot, each team member working three minutes, then passing the pot.

Gooch said there will be cheerleaders and proper ceramic fight songs. At half-time, a Mud King and Queen of the Earth will be crowned.

THERE'S NO MARCHING band, Gooch said, but there is a quite nice ensemble from guitar class to strum players toward supreme efforts of ceramic sport history.

Every event is sure to set a world's record.

Coast Murder Case

Bid for Transfer Mulled by Judge

A bid by two of the suspects in the Bovan murder case to be transferred into the custody of the U.S. Marshal remains undecided today.

A spokesman for Municipal Court Judge Selma Franklin said the judge has not yet made a decision on the motion made before him Tuesday. There have been indications the judge will deny the transfer proposal.

William Sheffield, the attorney representing jailed murder conspiracy suspect Anthony Marone Jr. and Tom Crosby, attorney for Raymond Besco, also jailed in the case, told Judge Franklin their clients are being held in what amounts to solitary confinement in Orange County Jail.

The two men, and the third jailed suspect, Jerry Flori, are involved in the federal witness program which is used to protect the lives of people who testify in cases involving organized crime.

Jarvis: Keep Money From Government

Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The only way to make certain government spends less is to give it less, a proponent of taxpayer revolt told an audience in El Toro. "Government today is unlimited," Howard Jarvis, chairman of California's United Organization of Taxpayers, told a gathering of concerned residents. "Nowhere is there any limit on what government can spend.

"We're trying to obliterate the idea of government by, for and of the government."

Jarvis was in El Toro Tuesday seeking support for his California constitutional amendment initiative to limit the property tax to one percent of assessed valuation.

"You are not going to get tax reform out of your elected officials in our lifetime," he admonished the disgruntled homeowners. "You the people have no right to say what goes on in this government—that's their attitude."

"We want to make absolutely certain that the government operates on less money than they do now," Jarvis said. "The only way to do that is not to give them the money in the first place."

The newspaper columnist and former Los Angeles mayoral candidate lashed out at government officials' salaries and pensions.

"We are creating a very rich and protected society and they're all politicians," Jarvis asserted.

He attacked what he termed "legislator favoritism" toward government employee unions.

"117 out of 120 state legislative candidates got the major part of their election funds from employee unions," he claimed. "I don't think there's a worse cancer on our free system than elected officials being bought by public employees."

Jarvis claimed an allegedly employee-controlled legislature would never approve tax reform because of potential job losses from a dropping of tax funds.

The 15-year veteran of California tax reform fights was optimistic that his property tax limitation initiative would qualify for the June, 1978, ballot.

"We're going to get 750,000 signatures and we're going to put this issue on the ballot," Jarvis promised. "It will come down to a contest between the people and the government, and the people are going to win this time."

Lake Forest Home Project Gets Approval

Plans for a 106-unit condominium project on 4.7 lakeside acres in Lake Forest won the unanimous approval of Orange County supervisors Wednesday despite objections from some waterfront neighbors.

Lee Widrig of 22732 Waterside Lane had appealed a planning commission permit for the project, saying he objected to plans for three-story condominium units.

The homes would be built at the Northeast corner of Murlands Boulevard and Murin Isle Lane.

Widrig came to Wednesday's meeting carrying petitions containing 50 signatures from residents he said also oppose the project.

Supervisor Ralph Diedrich, in recommending Widrig's appeal be denied, noted the builder already had made many concessions in working with the Lake Forest Community Association.

Association General Manager Dan Buckner said his board of directors supports the project.

Healthy Day For Smokers

Smokers across the nation were urged today to stop puffing—at least for one day and possibly forever—in support of the "Great American Smoke Out," sponsored by the American Cancer Society and some local government and health organizations.

A spokesman for the society said the group hoped to get 10 million of the country's 54 million smokers to give up their cigarettes for the day.

Local society volunteers have been distributing "I Quit" pledge cards and petitions for people to sign and rallies and special programs were organized in many cities.

'Smokeout' Gets Smoke, Little Action

Smokers who somehow agreed to participate in the Great American Smokeout Day today may find some comfort in the discovery of one Saddleback Valley Unified School District trustee.

"God is a non-smoker," announced Trustee Carole Neustadt just after the school board—which includes a majority of smokers—unanimously proclaimed today the day to stop smoking.

"He brought me the flu when I have to abstain for a whole day," explained the trustee who has been trying to stop smoking for the past year.

The American Cancer Society's proclamation was something Lea Young, the board's president and only non-smoker, had been looking forward to. "I could hardly wait until we got to this item," she admitted.

Trustees George Henry and William Kohler apparently couldn't wait either. They lit up and puffed right through the reading of the proclamation.

But Trustee Mary Phillips deferred smoking until after she announced that she does intend to quit.

Although the proclamation is only effective today, trustees will again discuss the issue. Mrs. Neustadt asked that they review their past decision to ban smoking on the high school campus at another meeting.

Explosion Blows Bunker; No Injuries

EL SEGUNDO (AP) — A welder's torch sparked an explosion and fire today at a Chevron USA oil-water separation facility, blowing the covers off the 50-by-100-foot concrete bunker but apparently causing no injuries.

Firemen from Inglewood, Hawthorne, Manhattan Beach and Redondo Beach joined forces to battle the fire which broke out in the underground tank, said Capt. Robert Marsh of the El Segundo Fire Department.

Chevron USA spokesman Al Swanson said welders had been doing maintenance work in another part of the refinery when the spark traveled through the refinery's drainage system.

"Somehow — we don't know how — that hot work ignited some vapor in the drainage system," he said. "It blew the covers off and started a little fire."

The separation unit was used to remove oil from waste water being discharged into the sewer, he said.

Swanson had no immediate estimate of damage, but said, "It'll be in the thousands of dollars."

Marines Attack Wrong Vessel

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Marine attack jets apparently mistook a salvage ship as a practice target and opened fire with rockets that narrowly missed a diver.

Diver Don DeNairie was only stunned by the concussion from the explosions.

The jets flew out of the Naval Air Station at Key West, Fla., but their home field was not immediately known.

The incident, confirmed Wednesday by the Navy, occurred Nov. 6 as DeNairie, a diver for Treasure Salvors, Inc.,

was over the side of an 187-foot World War II-vintage buoy tender.

He was working alone on the engineless ship, which serves as a base of operations for salvage being done on a sunken Spanish treasure ship. A crew returned for DeNairie Monday, eight days after the incident.

"You could hear the explosions first," the diver said Wednesday. "Then you could see the aircraft and then hear the jets."

DeNairie said he managed to climb back aboard the ship and raised an American flag in an effort to stop the rocket attack. But the planes made other passes and fired again, he said.

Fortunately their pilots were having an off day. None of the rockets made a direct hit.

Marine Capt. Hal Cutlip in New Orleans said the target ship the two A-4 Sky Hawks were supposed to have fired at was 10 miles to the north.

Cutlip called the attack a mistake and said an investigation was under way.

"I would say the ship and the captain and the crew would be due an apology," he said.

Peace Visit Confirmed

Sadat Gets No Syria Backing for Israel Trip

By The Associated Press

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt will visit Jerusalem for 36 hours starting Saturday night and will address the Israeli parliament Sunday, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin announced today.

But Sadat will make the visit, which he has described as a "sacred duty," without the support of Syria and apparently with major opposition within his own country. His foreign minister resigned today and was followed by his deputy.

In Beirut, Palestinian leader Yasir Arafat condemned the planned visit and urged Sadat to cancel it.

In his address to the Israeli parliament, Sadat is expected to call for Israeli evacuation of all lands captured in the 1967 war and establishment of a Palestinian state — standard Arab demands that Israel previously rejected.

But the visit itself will represent unprecedented recognition by an Arab leader of the state of Israel.

Begin announced the visit shortly after Sadat returned from Damascus, where Sadat failed to win President Hafez Assad's support for the visit.

Assad called the visit a source of "deep sorrow." The trip has also come under fire from Iraq and Libya.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said that when Sadat returned to Ismailia, he received the official Begin invitation for the visit through U.S. Ambassador Hermann Hilt. It was accompanied by a message from President Carter, the contents of which were not disclosed.

Sadat accepted. The U.S. ambassador to Israel, Samuel

Trustees Divided On School Funds

If the state allows them to spend more building money, Saddleback Valley Unified School District trustees will award a $1.6 million contract for the construction of their 18th elementary school.

Trustees cast a split vote Wednesday to award the contract to Steed Brothers Construction Company of Los Angeles on the condition that the bid be approved by the state's Office of Local Assistance.

The move was opposed by Trustees Mary Phillips and George Henry.

Although Steed Brothers' bid was the lowest of four submitted for the Aegean Hills school, it is almost $33,000 above the state allowance.

But two district administrators and the school's architect are going to Sacramento Monday with the hope of getting state approval of the bid.

Robert Ferguson, the district's director of planning and development, said about 15 items in the contract can be negotiated with the state because they were based only on the architect's estimates.

Mrs. Phillips and Henry said they were concerned that the bid was so much higher than the state allowance. "I really favor a rebid myself," Henry said.

But Ferguson argued a rebid would accomplish nothing other than delaying the project and having to spend additional money from the district's general fund.

"We think we have a case for getting the allowance to the low bid amount," the administrator said. He assured the trustees, "They're not going to let us jack up those prices indiscriminately."

If it is approved, the school, including 12 classrooms and one kindergarten room, will be built at Arcadian and Lindley streets. It is scheduled to open in September and house about 400 students.

An 18-year-old Mission Viejo youth, arrested early Tuesday for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, will be arraigned in south Orange County Municipal Court Friday.

Orange County Sheriff's deputies believe Michael Anthony Bennett, 24771 Acropolis Drive in Mission Viejo, was forcing younger children to steal for him.

Deputies said they surprised three youths — Bennett and two 11 and 12-year-old boys — while they were allegedly attempting an auto burglary in Mission Viejo.

The two younger boys were returned to the custody of their parents after leading officers to two allegedly stolen stereo systems.

Bennett is being held in Orange County Jail on a $5,000 bond.

Irvine Trio Held In Drug Seizure

By PHILIP ROSMARIN
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine and Santa Ana police claim to have cracked a major heroin trafficking operation with the arrest Wednesday of three Irvine residents and the seizure of a small quantity of heroin and peyote.

Police said they arrested two other persons after officers intercepted telephone calls to the Irvine home, at 14611 Highcrest Circle, while making the first arrests.

Police said more than a dozen callers were trying to purchase heroin. Narcotics investigators answered the calls and arranged to meet as many as they could. More arrests may stem from the telephone traffic, police said.

The arrests culminated a months-long investigation, police said, headed by the Irvine department, with Santa Ana police assisting in setting up narcotics purchases.

The raid on the Highcrest Circle house was made on the strength of a search warrant.

2 Arrested; Drugs Seized At CM Hotel

Santa Ana police arrested two men and seized cocaine and marijuana worth an estimated $106,000 Wednesday night in the parking lot of a Costa Mesa hotel.

Arrested were Gustavo Diaz Samaniego, 29, of Wilmington, and Albert Valdez, 32, of Carson. Valdez faces charges of selling cocaine and marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon. Samaniego faces charges of conspiracy to sell cocaine and marijuana.

Both men remained in Santa Ana jail today.

Seized were six ounces of cocaine worth about $90,000 and 40 kilos of marijuana worth about $26,000, police said.

Sgt. John Collins said the 8 p.m. arrests were made after two undercover Santa Ana police officers and a police woman allegedly arranged to buy the drugs from the pair.

Santa Ana police, assisted by Costa Mesa police, arrested the two without resistance.

Reform Move Eyed

Clark Urges Campaign Fund Curbs

By GARY GRANVILLE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Orange County Supervisor Ralph Clark has proposed a county political campaign ordinance that places a lid on candidate spending and limits the amount individual donors can contribute to a political campaign.

Clark's proposal also provides for the establishment of a county fair campaign practices commission to oversee campaigns for county offices.

The commission suggested by the Anaheim supervisor would have subpoena power and be fortified by a deputy district attorney assigned to the commission staff.

According to Clark, his proposed ordinance can be enacted this year and placed on next year's ballot to be either ratified or rejected by county voters.

If enacted immediately as Clark wants, the ordinance would place a 75-cent a voter limit on campaign spending in next June's primary election.

In comparison, in the same election in 1976, Supervisor Thomas Riley spent more than $2 a voter to win a landslide victory.

Clark's proposed ordinance would also limit the amount individual donors can give to a candidate to $500 annually.

Elected officials who violate the $500 limit would be ineligible "from voting or ruling on matters involving" the donors for an unspecified time.

In contrast to Clark's proposed $500 limitation, contributions to county supervisor campaigns have run as high as $5,000 and donations of $2,500 are common.

Not covered by the Clark proposal are loans to candidates, a device used by heavy backers to help feed dollars into candidate coffers that are later recovered through cocktail and dinner fundraisers.

& S Construction, for some time to obtain the concessions.

S & S spokesman George Putnam said, for example, the developer agreed to eliminate boat docks from the project, to shield tennis court lights and to eliminate one swimming pool, at the association's request.

In addition, he said, S & S officials agreed to limit the height of units beside the lake to two stories rather than three.

Until a zone change was approved by supervisors last year, the property could have been developed for nearly twice as many units as the 109 proposed.

Current zoning would permit up to 25 units an acre, Putnam said, but the developer plans to build 22.5 per acre.

Administrator Set For North Campus

Dr. Edward A. Hart, Saddleback College's assistant superintendent for general development, has been appointed administrator of the district's northern campus now under construction in Irvine.

College trustees appointed the 48-year-old Laguna Niguel resident, who was recommended by Superintendent President Robert Lombardi, after an executive session earlier this week.

While announcing his appointment, college officials gave the first indication that the satellite campus may not be completed by its planned opening in August.

"With Ed Hart and his fine team, we'll have a fine school," Lombardi said, "but the building trades are so busy down here that I'm not sure we can get the crews and pieces together in time."

The district superintendent explained that many construction bids being received on various campus projects have been far out of line with estimated costs. He said this is apparently because the construction industry is so busy.

Lombardi said Hart and his new staff may have to be flexible with respect to the opening date and may even have to change the format of some classes if the first day of school is later than expected.

Hart has been responsible for much of the planning of the north campus and will continue to try and keep the development on schedule.

"I envision an opportunity for a great deal of creativity in a new setting," said Hart, whose salary will remain at $39,500.

"Speaking for the board, we think the people in the vast area comprising the northern site will benefit greatly from his leadership," said Larry Taylor, president of the Board of Trustees.

Hart came to Saddleback in 1975 from a post as associate dean for student-personnel services at Chabot College in Hayward.

$4,950 Fee Assessed for Late Park Job

Orange County supervisors will withhold $4,950 of a $197,000 Lake Forest park project contract that was completed one year behind schedule.

Supervisors this week agreed to assess damages at the rate of $50-a-day for a 99-day delay in completing Mountain View Park, off Lake Forest Drive on Aspan Lane.

Supervisors excused the contractor and his bonding company for another 240 days of delay which were caused by inclement weather, administrative processing and unexpected construction difficulties.

The park contract originally was awarded Negev Developers in May 1976 and was to have been completed last November.

Carl Nelson, an assistant director of the county Environmental Management Agency, said the contractor was granted time extensions for various reasons.

But last March, county officials reported progress on the project was unsatisfactory and Negev defaulted on the contract shortly afterward.

Nelson said the county experiences very few contract defaults, probably no more than one every five years or one in every 500 various county building projects.

Negev's bonding company later hired another contractor who satisfactorily completed the park project, Nelson said.

The park, which was dedicated by county officials last week, includes two lighted tennis courts, two handball courts, a basketball court, play areas, two sand volleyball courts, a softball field and picnic areas.

Nelson said it is not so unusual for the county to withhold payments from contractors for time delays.

Provisions assessing damages per day of delay are built into county contracts, he said.

HEADS NEW CAMPUS Saddleback's Hart

The Saddleback district purchased the initial 20-acre campus site from the Irvine Company for $900,000 and holds an option on another 80 acres if the northern campus must be expanded.

Plans for the first phase include facilities for 3,000 students.

SADAT...

minister and key aide since the 1973 war, Ismail Fahmy, had resigned, a move that could indicate deep opposition within the country to the Jerusalem visit.

The agency said Fahmy's letter of resignation cited "new elements which affected the situation," an apparent reference to Sadat's trip. "I feel that I cannot continue in my post and that I cannot continue to share in shouldering responsibilities in these conditions," Fahmy wrote.

In Jerusalem, Begin told a group of American congressmen in the presence of reporters that Sadat would pray in the Al Aqsa Mosque in on Sunday before addressing the Israeli Parliament.

The announcement came as a surprise to most Israelis who had not expected the Egyptian visitor before Nov. 24.

Begin said he hoped Sadat would also visit Yad Vashem, Israel's national monument to Nazi victims and a regular stop on all visits of foreign dignitaries. The prime minister said he expected to converse with Sadat in English.

In Damascus, Sadat assured Assad that he did not intend to seek a separate peace with the Israelis, with whom the Arabs have fought four wars.

Lawsuit Filed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A suit has been filed in federal court here seeking to overturn the California Supreme Court decision which ordered Los Angeles schools desegregated.

Irvine Man 3rd Victim

An Irvine resident has been identified as the third victim of Tuesday's midair collision off Crystal Cove, Orange County coroner's officials said Wednesday.

Missing and presumed dead is Thomas A. Glass, 34, of 3741 Avenue Sausalito in Irvine.

Coroner's officials said body parts located at the crash scene three and one-half miles south of the Newport Beach harbor entrance belonged to a second victim, James Tibbott, 38, of 9312 Comstock Drive in Huntington Beach.

A third victim, also listed as missing and presumed dead, is Robert Baker, 41, of 22842 Foxborough Way in El Toro.

FAA officials said today Tibbott held commercial instrument and instructor ratings. Baker had received his private pilot's license Aug. 24.

The three victims were co-workers at VTN, an engineering and land planning company located near Orange County Airport.

A VTN spokesman, Judy Haselhof, said the trio was not flying on company business. She said Tibbott gave flying lessons during his off time, which was usually during the noon hour.

A National Transportation and Safety Board investigator said today it was unknown who was piloting the ill-fated Cessna 182 at the time of the collision. He also said it was unknown if Tibbott was giving lessons on the flight.

The Cessna was rented from Newport Air Associates.

A second aircraft, a Piper PA28, limped back to Orange County Airport and landed safely with its two occupants following the midair crash.

Tibbott is survived by his wife, Linda, and three children; Baker is survived by his wife, Janice, and two children; and Glass is survived by his wife, Kathryn, and three children.

Season Heads For New Boom

By JOHN CUNNIFF
A Business Analyst

Hold onto your wallet. 'Tis the season to be merry in the stores and all the ingenuity of the merchandising fraternity is designed to make you and your dollar welcome.

Late reports suggest that this may be an exceedingly spendthrift Christmas. Retail sales for the year are going to top $700 billion, and something like $75 billion of that is likely to be added up in December alone.

INDICATING THE TREND, OCTOBER sales leaped 1.8 percent over the previous month, one of the strongest showings of the year. Unlike in some years, merchants don't have to set a spending mood, but merely prolong it.

Consumers seem to be in an ebullient mood. Credit is the mixer for the holiday cocktail, and consumers have been adding to their instalment borrowing at a rate of $2.5 billion a month, bringing the total to about $200 billion.

Does that figure frighten you? It frightens more than a few retailers, and some bankers too, but the truth is it amounts to just 17 percent of disposable personal income, or 1 percent below the record set in 1973.

Should a sharp economic downturn occur it seems likely that some of those bills might be late in being repaid, but few economists expect such an event to take place. Meanwhile, repayments are said to be satisfactory.

Despite the complications, retailers generally are pleased to assist in the accumulation of consumer credit because, as they are ever aware, they have in the Christmas selling season about 30 of the best sales days of the year.

THE CONSUMER, ON THE OTHER hand, has six times that number of days during the next year in which to work toward repaying the bills. To retailers, this adds up to a good deal, especially since many of them sell the receivable account.

Again using last year as a measure, almost all types of retail outlets except automotive dealers, who have their own special selling season, and building materials and hardware stores will share in the spending spree.

Sales of home furnishings and household appliance stores soared last Christmas season. So did sales in apparel and accessory stores, toy stores, jewelry stores, book stores, grocery stores, variety stores and liquor stores.

FOR SOME MERCHANTS, THE month of December is a make or break period during which they either earn profit for the year or suffer for another 11 months, during which they must dispose of their stock at vast price cuts.

This is especially true of stores specializing in toys and dolls, which to some extent have developed the concept of a fresh model every year, forcing the merchant to restock no matter how large his inventory.

Otherwise, his sales would reflect the old merchandise. Think of it: Would you want your child to find last year's doll under the tree on Christmas morning?

WHILE SUCH MERCHANTS FACE a worrisome, tension-filled season, for one famous merchant, Abercrombie & Fitch Co., there will probably be no Christmas at all. It has been clearing out its merchandise, preparing to close down.

What irony. The exemplification of big spending and expensive gifts as Christmasy as an old fireplace, Abercrombie & Fitch is phasing out during the year's biggest spending spree. It couldn't raise any more credit. (Related story, photo A3)

Normalcy Viewed In Home Markets

A return to normalcy for Southern California's fevered new housing market, a tightening of the money market, continued population growth and an increasing shortage of rental housing are conditions that should mark 1978.

That is the consensus of 11 experts in government, housing, finance, redevelopment and business during this week's "Perspective 1978" conference.

THE CONFERENCE, A SEMINAR examining economic, legislative and industry trends expected to affect San Diego County, the state of California and the nation, is presented each year by the Del Mar-based Sanford R. Goodkin Research Corp., an international firm specializing in research, marketing and analysis related to real estate, finance, housing, community development and urban redevelopment.

Sanford R. Goodkin, founder of the sponsoring firm, told seminar participants that the "cooling off" of the California housing industry is comparative — a return to a more normal state in which consumer selectivity will be manifest and such factors as location, plan-

HOUSING

Goldman Corp. of California, attributed the expected tightening of the money market and rise in short-term interest rates both to the sluggishness of the national economy and to "self-fulfilling prophecy" — the fact that many economists have warned of worsening money market conditions and are thus eliciting the responses that will lead to such conditions.

Population growth will be dynamic in sunbelt states such as California, the Southwest and the South, although employment opportunities cannot be counted on to keep pace with the growing population, Goodkin said.

HE FORECAST A NATIONAL 1978 housing picture of 1.1 to 1.2 million single-family housing starts; between 800,000 and 700,000 multifamily and condominium starts; and a 10 percent increase, to about 300,000 units, in manufactured housing.

Conversion of desirable, luxury-class apartments to sale condominiums will predominate in high-growth areas, removing rental housing stock at a time when demands for rent controls or roll-backs are discouraging new apartment development, Goodkin said.

A near dearth of reasonably priced developable land in most major markets will continue the spiral of housing costs, he said, although he foresees a continuing oversupply of high-end ($100,000 or over) single-family houses and an undersupply of moderate and medium priced housing (under $65,000) throughout much of coastal Southern California.

OTHER SPEAKERS DURING the conference included Merrill Butler, president of Irvine-based Butler Housing Corp., who called on developers to elect officials more cooperative with the industry; Robert Lavenstein, president of Kaufman & Broad Inc., who described a strong but changing California housing market that will foreshadow changes throughout the nation; and Brian Langston, vice president of Southwest Energy Management Inc., who president of Southwest Energy Management Inc., who called on homebuilders to take the initiative in providing cost-effective solar energy water heating systems in subdivision housing.

Movie Star Now Grandma

The blonde actress appeared in 32 motion pictures in all — one of them made in Coronado in which she fell in love with a young naval officer played by Ramon Navarro. Since 1936, she has lived out that role but never made another movie.

The film will include five scenes from an upcoming appearance by Miss Ronstadt in Houston, and she will be given several lines in the film.

Today they still live in Coronado and are grandparents.

"We haven't been able

"FM" stars Martin Mull, Cleavon Little and Alex Karras.

Actors Gregory Peck, left, and James Mason pose near Lisbon, Portugal, where they are on location for the filming of "The Boys from Brazil." The film provides Peck with his first role as a movie bad guy.

Women's Prison TV Movie Planned

The two-hour film follows the women as their adventures lead them to prevent the assassination of President Theodore Roosevelt. No cast has been set for the film, which goes into production next month in Arizona and Southern California.

Viejo Seeks One-act Plays

Looking ahead to February, and a projected one-act play festival, the Mission Viejo troupe has announced a contest to select plays for the tourney. "We're looking for a one-act play with a reasonable setting and a moderate-sized cast," says Jay Bayl, co-founder of the theater who's also directing "Ragfoot."

HEADING THE JUDGING
committee is Jack Sharkey, a professional writer for over 25 years whose comedies ("Here Lies Jeremy Troy," "Kiss or Make Up,") have been produced by local theater groups. Sharkey has become a member of the Mission Viejo Repertory.

Entries should be sent to One-Act Playwriting Contest, c/o Mission Viejo Repertory Theater, 25211 N. Stockport Drive #201, Laguna Hills 92653. Entries must be postmarked by midnight, Dec. 1, and include a name, address and phone number where the author may be contacted. Winners will be notified by Jan. 1.

SADDEBACK COLLEGE'S Theater Department is presenting Mark Medoff's Obie Award winning drama "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder" at 8 tonight through Saturday night in the Studio Theater of the college's new Fine Arts Complex.

A matinee also will be presented at 5 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are on sale between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. through Friday in the Fine Arts box office. Prices are $2 for the general public and $1.50 for ASB card holders. Admission is free to Gold Card holders.

UC IRVINE'S DRAMA Workshop will present Harold Pinter's sinister comedy-drama "The Homecoming" tonight through Saturday at 8 o'clock in UCI's Fine Arts Little Theater.

Jon McDonald, a UCI graduate student, is directing the show as his master's thesis project. Ticket information is available at 833-6617.

CALLBOARD — Auditions have been called at the Costa Mesa Civic Playhouse for the mystery-comedy "Catch Me If You Can" . . . guest director Fred Owen will hold tryouts Monday at 8 o'clock in the Community Center auditorium on the Orange County Fairgrounds for a cast of five men and two women. . . the play will open Jan. 20 for a three-weekend run. . . .

BACKSTAGE — With the opening of the musical "She Loves Me" at the Harlequin Dinner playhouse next Tuesday, the theater also will unveil its Celebrity Terrace, which offers private booths for two to eight people. . . . this choice seating is available only on a season ticket basis, and inquiries may be directed to the Harlequin at 979-7550. . . .
