

Bren says Irvine Co. merger on

By STEVE MARBLE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Irvine Co. Chairman Donald Bren made a rare appearance Friday to announce the company would go forward with merger plans and face dissident board member Joan Irvine Smith head-on.

"I don't understand Joan's logic or reasoning," said Bren during an afternoon press conference that drew reporters from across the country. "I can't comment further than that."

The board unanimously approved Bren's merger proposal following a noon meeting at the company's Newport Beach headquarters. Smith, granddaughter of the firm's founder, did not attend the meeting but had registered her opposition in a letter.

Smith, who owns 11 percent of the company compared with Bren's 86 percent, has vowed she will file a $1 billion lawsuit next week to block the merger.

Company stockholders will vote on the merger next month. "I don't see anything that can stop it," said Bren when pushed for a prediction.

The board approval sets the stage for merging the Irvine Co. with Newco, a holding firm Bren created last spring as a vehicle for buying up 52 percent of the company's stock. He already owned 34 percent of the stock.

The merger will shift Newco's $560 debt to the Irvine Co. and it's that point that rankles Smith.

But board member Ray Watson, a former Irvine Co. president and now chairman of Walt Disney Productions, said he sees only good in the merger. "It's fair to all the shareholders and best for the company and community," he said.

Bren said one of the lenders on the huge stock purchase called the proposal the fairest merger plan he'd ever seen.

The merger, said Irvine Co. spokesman Gary Hunt, is constructed so that all shareholders' interest in the company will double without direct cost to them. Smith, for instance, will end up with 22 percent of the company.

"All shareholders are treated as if they participated in the (stock) acquisition," said Hunt. "It's a hell of a deal."

Smith, who has not attended a board meeting in five years, has complained that she does not want the company saddled with the huge debt. She is not moved by statements that her ownership will double as will her board seats.

Hunt said the millions will be paid off by next April without affecting Irvine Co. operations or its land holdings.

Bren said he believes the merger is the most equitable way of retiring Newco's debt and said Smith once indicated she did too. He said Smith called off a scheduled meeting with his representatives last month without explanation.

The two multi-millionaires have not talked or met in more than five years. Irvine Co. President Thomas Nielsen has never met or spoken with Smith.

George Vanderman, an attorney with the Irvine Co.'s law firm of Latham and Watkins, said he has not been "unmindful" of Smith's legal threats. Minority stockholders in any company have the right to be treated fairly, he said.

"But I don't see any basis for an injunction," he added.

"I don't think anyone likes a lawsuit," said Bren when asked about Smith's threats. "But I don't know what she plans to do and I certainly can't second guess her."

If the merger were to fail or become snagged in a court battle, Bren has several alternatives for paying off the debt including the liquidation of the Irvine Co., said Hunt.

the home of her parents, Lois and Sonny Crommett of Huntington Beach.

A happy ending fit for a movie

But in this case, a movie made real-life reunion possible for mother and her sons

By STEVE MARBLE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

A tear-jerker television movie brought Mary Ellen Crommett back together with her two kidnapped sons Friday, accomplishing what the FBI and police couldn't in six months.

Crommett, relaxing at her parent's Huntington Beach home, was provided the missing link to her children's whereabouts the day after a television movie detailed the true-life story of a couple's search for their child.

The movie, ironically, was called "Adam" — the name of 28-year-old Crommett's youngest child.

The day after the movie was on television, Crommett received an anonymous tip from Canada that led to her finding her sons.

"I guess it had an impact. Thank God," said Crommett, who had hired a private detective and worked with the national organization Child Find in her half-year effort to track down her estranged husband, and her missing children.

The boys — 5-year-old Morgan and 3-year-old Adam — were located Tuesday in Canada where the father was arrested on felony child stealing charges. He remained in custody late Friday.

"It's been six months of sheer hell — an emotional roller coaster," she said. "I got so angry thinking about my kids roaming around, not knowing where they were."

The two boys vanished last March after a 10-day visitation period with their father came to an end. Crommett, living in Redlands, said she suddenly felt helpless, unsure what to do.

"I had a very scary feeling. There were so many places they could have gone. The country's so big. But no way was I going to sit (See MOTHER, Page A2)

A day for newspaper carriers

By STEVE MITCHELL
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Marion Dieckman wasn't all that impressed to learn that President Ronald Reagan set aside the whole day today just for her.

"No kidding," she said, chuckling.

Well, maybe the day wasn't just for her.

Actually, the 65-year-old Costa Mesa woman shares the honor with hundreds of thousands of newspaper carriers throughout the country — around the world for that matter.

Today, if you haven't guessed, is International Newspaper Carrier Day and for the occasion the veteran carrier agreed to discuss the pros and cons of the paper route business.

Marion tosses newspapers from her five-year-old Mazda hatchback seven days a week. She's got 167 customers, up quite a bit from last year, she said. And she loves her job.

"I wanted some little thing that doesn't take all that much time,"

Man testifies, then arrested for murder

An 18-year-old Laguna Hills man testifying at an Orange County Juvenile Court Friday hearing to determine whether his 16-year-old neighbor should be tried as an adult in the shooting of the youth's adoptive parents was arrested and charged with the murder as well.

David Allan Christianson was charged with murder and attempted murder in the June 2 shooting of John and Ruth Lampasi, reported Sheriff's Department spokesman Lt. Wyatt Hart. Sheriff's deputies arrested Christianson as he concluded his testimony in the case, he said.

Following the arrest, Judge Byron McMillan certified co-defendant Ronald Lampasi as an adult for trial purposes and scheduled a Central Municipal (See MURDER CHARGES, Page A2)

Boats will be racing to speed up a cancer cure

By STEVE MITCHELL
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

One of Ginny Warmington's final wishes was for her family to do something on a large scale to combat cancer, a disease which claimed her life six months ago.

Her husband and four sons took the request seriously, especially her youngest son, Bud.

"I thought about it and thought about it and decided if I'm going to do something, it's going to be big and it's going to be fun. Not just another black tie dinner where you write out a check then sit down and eat."

He wanted to do something that would appeal to a majority of people, "and if there's one thing people like in Newport Beach, it's boating."

Drifter may be linked to 97 murders in 13 states

By The Associated Press

MONROE, La. — Henry Lee Lucas, a 47-year-old drifter who claims he has killed 165 women, may be linked with a companion to as many as 97 murders in 13 states, detectives said Friday after conferring for three days. Monroe police Lt. Joe Cummings said investigators in eight states have brought charges or think they have enough evidence against either Lucas or Ottis Elwood Toole or both men in 28 murders. Police hope to clear up an additional 69 cases in 10 states with information learned at the conference, he said.

Shuttle delayed until Nov. 28

WASHINGTON — Unable to resolve a potential problem with a rocket nozzle, NASA on Friday night postponed the planned Oct. 28 launch of the space shuttle Columbia and its $1-billion European Spacelab. The flight tentatively was rescheduled for Nov. 28. The decision was made during a three-hour meeting of American and European space officials who carefully assessed results of an investigation into why a nozzle lining on an August shuttle flight eroded severely and nearly burned through.

Money supply measure drops

NEW YORK — In a report that sent interest rates tumbling, the Federal Reserve Board said Friday its main measure of the nation's money supply fell $1.1 billion in early October. Economists interpreted the report as a sign that the Federal Reserve, in its role as manager of the nation's monetary policy, was unlikely to push interest rates higher any time soon. One said he expected a drop in the bank prime rate.

Unarmed MX missile launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE — The Air Force successfully test launched an unarmed MX missile Friday, the second of 20 such flights scheduled for the controversial rocket designed to replace the aging Minuteman system. Launch of the MX, dubbed "Peacekeeper" by the Reagan administration, was delayed twice before it shot from an above-ground canister at this West Coast missile base at 9:55 a.m. PDT, said Airman First Class Bob Craig. It flew 4,700 miles down the Pacific Missile Test Range and successfully dropped six dummy warheads over a target site on the Kwajalein Atoll. The exact flight time was classified, but took about 30 minutes to complete, Craig said.

Father can keep his daughter

SAN DIEGO — A California court granted a part-time landscaper temporary custody Friday of the daughter he disappeared with three years ago. But the girl's mother, who found out her daughter's whereabouts because the girl's picture appeared on television after an NBC movie about missing children, says she's going to continue the battle to get her daughter back. The mother was granted custody of the girl in New York following a divorce. Bill Swisher, 33, who had been living in an Escondido motel with a woman friend and his 6-year-old daughter, Jennifer Rae, went to the Hillcrest Receiving Home immediately after the Superior Court hearing Friday and was reunited with his child.

Dolgen named to Columbia post

LOS ANGELES — In a continuing shift of the leadership at Columbia Pictures, senior vice president Jonathan L. Dolgen, 38, was named Friday president of domestic operations, a studio spokesman said. Dolgen, a native of New York who left a Wall Street law firm to join the studio in 1976, takes over duties previously handled by Guy McElwaine, who was named chief executive officer last week. McElwaine replaced Frank Price, who resigned as chairman and chief executive officer.

Nicaraguan oil port attacked

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — Rebel exiles attacked Puerto Sandino, Nicaragua's second Pacific oil port, blowing up newly repaired pipelines and other facilities Friday, a leader of the Nicaraguan junta said. In Tegucigalpa, the Honduran-based Nicaraguan Democratic Force claimed responsibility for the attack. The anti-Sandinista group said in a communique that 20 specially trained guerrillas carried out the attack by sea and air "with precision and efficiency and with support from elements belonging to the Sandinista front." It gave no details. An attack Tuesday on Corinto, the major Pacific fuel-unloading port, caused explosions and fires that destroyed millions of gallons of fuel, crippling the Nicaraguan economy.

Soviets would 'shoot' U.S. ships

SAN FRANCISCO — The Soviets will "shoot" if U.S. ships looking for the black box recorder from downed Korean Air Lines Flight 007 cross into their territorial waters, the commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet said on Friday. Navy Admiral Sylvester R. Foley Jr. told 600 military officials and civilians attending San Francisco's annual Fleet Week luncheon that the search for the recording device was being conducted in 6-foot to 10-foot seas and with some "annoying" interference from the Soviets. He told reporters later that he is "confident that if we make an encroachment into their territorial waters, they are going to shoot us."

Susanville coke bust: 673 pounds

SUSANVILLE (AP) — A deputy sheriff probing a shed fire on a remote alfalfa ranch has uncovered what authorities say is the biggest narcotics haul in the history of the West — 673 pounds of cocaine valued at $200 million.

Since late Wednesday night, when Deputy Cecil Bushong stumbled upon a small amount of white powder which he thought might be cocaine, federal and state investigators have arrested four persons and seized enough duffel bags, sacks and suitcases of cocaine to fill a medium-size truck.

Ranch owner Robert Lee Kelly, 43, of Los Angeles, Joseph Michael Curtis, 29, of the Los Angeles suburb of Marina Del Rey, and Antonio Montefu, 36, and Louis Alberto Bouzon, 26, both of Miami, Fla., were arrested Thursday at the ranch and were being held Friday in lieu of bail of $10 million each.

In Sacramento, U.S. Attorney Donald Ayer said there "is the possibility of further arrests," but declined further details.

"This is the largest seizure of cocaine ever on the West Coast, and one of the largest ever in the nation," Ayer said, putting a value of $34 million wholesale, or up to $200 million retail on the seized cocaine.

All four men were charged with possession of cocaine for sale, a felony carrying up to 15 years in federal prison. Ayer said additional charges are under study.

He said Kelly, Curtis and Bouzon were arrested a short time after the fire, and Montefu was arrested about 12 hours later Thursday afternoon, when deputies spotted him on the ranch walking toward the road.

Appearing with Ayer at a news conference, Peter Fong, resident agent in charge of the regional federal Drug Enforcement Agency office, said there were no suspicions of a cocaine operation on the ranch until the Wednesday fire.

Federal narcotics agents and Lassen County deputies load bags of cocaine into an airplane at the Susanville airport Friday.

U.S. paying deadly price in Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Lebanese official asked President Reagan on Friday to try harder to get Syrian and Israeli troops out of Lebanon and said the latest Marine death in Beirut was part of "the price the U.S. is paying" to defend its values around the globe.

Meeting with reporters after his White House appointment, Wadhi Haddad acknowledged that the cease-fire in his country is not a stable condition, but said "it gives people a chance to work out their differences."

Asked how long U.S. troops would have to die there, the Lebanese national security adviser said:

"I guess this is the price the U.S. is paying for its support and commitment to the values that it has always stood for, and that is freedom and self-determination of people and preservation of the democratic system.

"We are very sorry for what is happening, and we are hoping now with the cease-fire there will be a revitalization of the efforts to have everybody, all the occupying forces, leave Lebanon and we will have a peaceful and tranquil Lebanon and then the Marines will not have to die there."

Haddad said he delivered a message to Reagan from President Amin Gemayel asking the United States to redouble efforts to get Syrian and Israeli forces to withdraw from Lebanon.

The Marine killed by sniper fire in the outskirts of Beirut early Friday was the sixth to die since U.S. peace-keeping forces were sent to Lebanon. He was identified by the White House as Sgt. Allen H. Soifert.

Mideast envoy favored to replace Clark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. McFarlane, President Reagan's special envoy to the Middle East, emerged Friday as the leading candidate to take over William P. Clark's job as assistant to the president for national security affairs.

But conservative allies of the president, both in and out of government, argued strongly that U.N. Ambassador Jeane J. Kirkpatrick should be given the job that Clark is vacating to become interior secretary.

The president's aides were in the midst of consultations about the choice to replace Clark after he takes over as secretary of the interior.

McFarlane, who has kept the office of deputy national security adviser while carrying out his Middle East duties since late July, conferred with Reagan on Friday, taking part in a morning meeting the president held with a Lebanese official.

White House officials refused to say on the record who would get the job, or even when Reagan would decide.

"When the president has a person to announce, he will do so," said deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes.

But one well-placed source, who spoke on the condition that he not be identified by name, said McFarlane, 45, a former Marine lieutenant colonel, was the most likely person to replace Clark.

The source said Clark was pushing for McFarlane to move up.

Costa Mesa hit-and-run arrest

A Costa Mesa motorcyclist was arrested on suspicion of felony hit-and-run driving Friday after he allegedly struck a car at Newport Boulevard and 18th Street and attempted to flee the scene.

A passenger on the motorcycle, James Von Cleve, suffered a badly broken left leg in the accident and was taken to Hoag Memorial Hospital shortly after the early morning crash, said Costa Mesa Police Lt. Rick Johnson.

The driver of the motorcycle,

Larry Burchardt, 36, allegedly hit a car in the intersection and then drove off. He was stopped by police a couple of blocks away.

Johnson said Burchardt was being held at the Orange County Jail so he could receive medical care for an injured foot he suffered in the accident.

If there is one event in Orange County that reflects the growth of the Jewish community here, it's the Israel Fair. When it was held on the quadrangle at Cal State Fullerton 11 years ago, the fair featured 10 booths and only 600 people attended.

This doctor can really operate on an electric guitar

MONTCLAIR (AP) — After a 24-hour shift of battling death and injury in the emergency room, Dr. John Zambetti takes off his hospital scrubs, his rubber gloves and his wire-rim glasses and straps on his electric guitar.

The good doctor is ready to operate on a different level — as the lead singer of the Johnny Z rock'n'roll band.

Zambetti, 34, put together a rock group that plays a middle-of-the-road style like Bruce Springsteen and Tom Petty, and the band has recorded its first album with Fleetwood Mac producer Richard Dashut.

Zambetti, the head of the emergency room at Doctors Hospital, dreams of succeeding not as a surgeon, but as a rocker.

He says he is not a victim of emergency room burn-out, he just likes being a rock musician and a physician.

"I'm pretty much the same person," he said. "A lot of people are trying to get into music and a lot are trying to get into medical school. I've been fortunate to do both."

Zambetti, who has been a staffer at Doctors Hospital for six years, says he tries to keep his vocations separated.

"If I were going to do a music session, I wouldn't tell anybody I was a doctor. They'd just assume I wouldn't be that good," he said.

"As a doctor, I'd never tell anybody I was a musician. They wouldn't think I'd be a good physician."

Although he keeps his music sideline quiet, his emergency room staffers are his biggest fans.

Zambetti works two around-the-clock shifts to allow time for his music.

He first started playing as a teen with a New York City surf band called the Malibooz.

He kept an interest in music while at Georgetown University, but later decided he needed a career so he concentrated on earning his medical degree from New York College of Medicine.

"Music is fun to do, but it can be hard because it's so up and down," he said. "You can make a lot of money in one shot and then none for a long time."

He moved from New York to Claremont seven years ago to work on an album with band partner Walter Egan. A recent showcase performance for three record companies impressed some producers, he said.

Croce's widow singing blues over lost fortune

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A decade after pop singer Jim Croce died in a plane crash, all that remains of his fortune are bitterness and a dozen lawsuits over his music, his widow says.

"There were millions when Jim died, but there aren't even hundreds of thousands now.... There's not much of anything now," Ingrid Croce said in a recent interview.

The Croces' grand estate overlooking San Diego Bay has given way to a rented condominium in Hillcrest which Mrs. Croce, 36, shares with son Adrian James, 11. Legal fees have eaten away most of the money.

Five lawsuits are pending in San Diego Superior Court; others have been filed in Los Angeles. But the biggest is in U.S. District Court in New York, where Mrs. Croce is fighting Lifesong Records for $5 million plus rights to Croce's songs.

Lifesong's managers — producers Tommy West and Terry Cashman — and attorney Phil

Kurnit — won a round in that suit last year, retaining rights to record such hits as "Operator" and "You Don't Mess Around with Jim." The jury awarded Mrs. Croce $500,000 in back royalties, a decision which is being appealed.

Lifesong's executives have "no compassion, none at all," she charged.

"A lot of saying, 'We love Jimmy a lot,' but Jim died without a penny in his pocket," Mrs. Croce claimed. "All he owned on the day he died was a pair of Levis and a T-shirt. He was waiting for the check in the mail. And he never knew he made it."

However, Kurnit says Croce was paid $7,500 a night in performance fees before he died in the 1973 plane crash near Natchitoches, La.

"We only paid her $5.5 million" after Croce's death, he said. "How much does the woman want?"

Ingrid was 15 when she met Croce at a Philadelphia radio station. She was singing with a folk group; he was judging a competition.

Stars hail Beverly Hills ban on buses for tourists

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — A judge's decision permitting Beverly Hills to evict tour buses from its residential streets has won rave reviews from celebrities tired of fans picking through their garbage and photographing their dogs.

"I congratulate the judge," actor Glenn Ford said on learning of Superior Court Judge Leon Savitch's ruling Wednesday in a civil suit filed by four tour bus companies.

The judge refused the companies' bid for a preliminary injunction that would have kept Beverly Hills from enforcing decades-old laws barring vehicles over 6,000 pounds from all but certain designated "heavy traffic" thoroughfares.

Most stars' homes are not on the "heavy traffic" streets, and bus company officials said they will have to drop the homes of such luminaries as Lucille Ball and Jimmy Stewart from their itineraries.

However, Tom Campbell, Los Angeles regional manager for Gray Line Tour Co., said the Beverly Hills buses were immediately rerouted to other stars' homes outside Beverly Hills in such wealthy nearby communities as Bel-Air and Westwood.

Creative Spiritual Thinking
with Dr. Eleanor C. Jackson
"PRAYER MAKES A DIFFERENCE"
In the Gospel of Matthew 21 verse 22, Jesus said, "All things whatsoever you shall ask in prayer, believing, you shall receive." Affirmative prayer is a stepping stone we can use to create a new life. Following prayer, every experience comes to us for good is we will but see it in the light. Prayer produces growth which is essential to a fulfilling life, as it provides us with the possibility of greater changes for good. To pray without ceasing is a lifetime assignment because this insures a continuing flow of good to us. Our need is to expect the best from each new experience. When we expect the best we create a form of dynamic energy which provides us with the "TOPS" of life. Again Jesus said, "Ask, and you shall receive." So be realistic, ask the impossible, because with God, ALL things are possible. The Infinite Healing Power of affirmative prayer always works. Try it. There is a right and a wrong way to live life. To know more about the right way through Creative Spiritual Thinking, write to Eleanor C. Jackson, Ministries.

What goes up...

There are only two acceptable descents for climbers atop the jungle gym at Harbor View Park in Huntington Harbour. One is to slide down the support bars as Lisa Grant and Noah and Tobin Micklas are doing. Or there's Joel Micklas' bail out technique. Everyone survived and went back up for another fling from the gym.

High-rise fire meet praised

Clifford Murray has been to a lot of seminars that frustrated him, wasted his time and his company's money.

So when Murray, director of security for South Coast Plaza Town Center, decided to pull together 77 firefighters, high-rise building representatives and engineers this week at the Westin South Coast Plaza Hotel, he wanted to put on a seminar that would be worth his while.

The High-Rise Life Safety Seminar was more than that, participants said at its close.

For three days, participants from all over the state got a chance to not only listen to speakers but also to view new equipment and actually participate in demonstrations targeted at dealing with fires in high-rises.

Particularly appropriate because it was held during Fire Prevention Week, the seminar was funded jointly by the Town Center, the Costa Mesa Fire Department and the Westin South Coast Plaza Hotel, Murray said.

"The interplay between the different segments represented was really refreshing," he said. "The thrust was toward prevention, but when that fails there's a need for reaction."

Costa Mesa officials were interested in putting on the seminar because the number of high rises in the city will nearly double in the next few years.

The seminar included a pressurized stairwell demonstration Tuesday which involved filling one floor of the Great Western Savings building in the Town Center with smoke, Murray said.

Seminar attendees stood in stairwells next to the smoke-filled floor and saw how the pressure keeps smoke out when the stairway doors are opened, providing an escape from a burning high-rise.

During Wednesday's final sessions, psychologist Charles Galbo talked about panic and how it affects people during fires.

Church leader urges Christians to imitate E.T.

By the Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — A church leader suggests Christians might take a lesson from that imaginary movie character from beyond the earth, E.T.

The Rev. Winnifred W. Smith of Cleveland, a former China missionary, told the recent Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) assembly that as servants of God, Christians should be like aliens and not settle down to earth and its obsessions. Smith added:

"It is no wonder that E.T., that grotesque little creature, had such a great appeal for millions of Americans. He was an alien, 3 million light years away from home and lost. We, too, are lost but have misplaced our home address and our telephone number."

NEW YORK — Under a National Council of Churches project, more than 100 ecumenical study groups in 10 U.S. cities this fall are examining conditions in public schools to help the churches shape fresh policies on the system.

"Too many church people have not yet faced the fact that public schools are in trouble," says Margaret Shafer, council staff associate on education.

"In this period of change and with much talk of reform, we feel it is most important for church people to have a voice and speak to what educational policies they think would be best for our country and our communities."

SAN FRANCISCO — A Southern Baptist pastor has been reprimanded by his denomination's home mission board after being arrested last summer at a nuclear protest outside the Livermore Research Laboratory.

The reprimand of the Rev. Jim Lowder, pastor of Delores Street Baptist Church, was made known recently in debate at a state denominational meeting over financial aid to his church.

Lowder was criticized because he and others at their arrest identified themselves as "Southern Baptist Convention." The denomination's home missions board said Lowder's action did not represent the board, as it has taken no position on the nuclear issue.

Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton discuss their appearances in Noel Coward's "Private Lives," now playing in Los Angeles.

'Private Lives'

Coward thought Taylor, Burton suited for play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Noel Coward never suggested that neighbors Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton should appear in his play "Private Lives," but he observed that the quarrelsome couple might be right for it, says Burton.

Although they're no longer married, Taylor and Burton have finally taken a stab at the play at the Wilshire Theater in Los Angeles after a Broadway run.

At a news conference late Tuesday, Burton commented on their connection with Coward, who used to live next-door to them.

"No, he never suggested we should do 'Private Lives,' but he did suggest, after one of our quarrels, we might be suited for the roles. Actually, they are usually played by a homosexual and a transvestite," Burton said.

The actor also said he no longer reads his reviews.

"Not since 1953, when a negative review so badly affected my performance I decided never to read one again," Burton said.

'Little Women' to be on radio

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The actors gathered around three boom microphones, their scripts on music stands, ready to begin Father's homecoming scene.

Television? No. It's radio — a dramatization of "Little Women" for the public radio series, "The Spider's Web." The eight-part play will be broadcast on weekends from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

Most of the 60 half-hour shows are taped at WGBH in Boston, but "Little Women" was done here because Julie Harris, who plays Mother, is busy filming television's "Knots Landing."

"The argument is that there is no audience for radio drama," said series producer Everett Frost. "That's because it hasn't been nurtured."

"It's crazy. Radio is so cheap. I can make a 30 to 60-minute radio drama for $6,000-$8,000, and for $100 I can put it on the satellite that'll bring it down to 21 million people. It costs about $25,000, including marketing and promotion."

Carly Simon... Busy making album, video and a sweater business

By DOLORES BARCLAY
Of the Associated Press

NEW YORK — Carly Simon, patrician tall and Martha's Vineyard tanned, eases open her sweater closet and gently removes a greenish-gray one, trimmed in white. Then she pulls out a softer, more feminine sweater with ruffles.

"I think 'Carly' is OK for the label, don't you?" she asks.

Carly Simon is keeping busy with a new album, a video for television, and making sweaters for sale.

Carly Simon — singer and songwriter — is talking sweaters now, not music.

"I'm in the sweater business," she says. "I love sweaters, but none of them fit. The sleeves aren't long enough, the neckline is wrong, the shoulders aren't padded enough. So I took all of my sweaters and revised them the way I'd want them to be."

A sudden smile seems to devour her face. That smile is her facial pride. It lights up her deep dimples and full lips.

"I really like this one," she says, quietly brushing her hand over the white sweater.

Simon and Lisa Campbell, a neighbor in the fishing village of Menemsha on Martha's Vineyard off the coast of Massachusetts, bought a few knitting machines and started making sweaters. The first ones are ready and are to be sold in boutiques in the beach community.

It's just one project tugging for Simon's attention these days. She also has a new album, "Hey, Big Man," with rave reviews, and a hot video for Music Television. Plus, she's considering film projects and has given some thought to creative writing.

"I think that's the next step — to write a book," she says.

Ten years ago, I felt very much at a beginning period, and strangely enough, I feel that way again," she said. "In 1973, it had to do with being pregnant and being a star, or starlet. I had my first success and it seemed like my life was turning around."

Now, she says: "My marriage is over and it's a beginning. It's a new way of seeing my life."

Her 10-year marriage to singer James Taylor ended in divorce last year. There are no regrets. "I do feel that I was successful in my marriage," she said.

Taylor has not entirely left Simon's life. They are still friendly and his pictures hug the walls of a family photo gallery in her hallway.

"I've stopped trying to define myself," she says. "I accept the contradictions. I am shy and I am an extrovert. I'm a homebody and I love to go out. I really only listen to myself. But I take everyone's advice."

But there was a time in her professional life when labels haunted her.

"I couldn't get my songs heard or my voice heard," she said of her initial stabs to make a record. "The major reason people turned me down was they couldn't figure me out. 'Are you a jazz singer or a rock singer or a folk singer?' They had to have the safety of a category. As a result, I had to categorize myself."

Simon had no formal training as a singer, but she grew up in Riverdale, N.Y., and Stamford, Conn., in an environment brimming with music. Her father, publisher Richard Simon, who co-founded Simon & Schuster, was a pianist. Her mother studied voice and her older sister, Joanna, was an accomplished opera singer.

Carly, and younger sister, Lucy, began singing folk songs as a duo while Carly was a student at Sarah Lawrence College.

"At the end of my freshman year, my sister and I wanted to take a vacation and we didn't have any money, so we hitchhiked ... with our guitars and got a job ... and quickly embellished our guitar playing," Simon said.

Simon's songwriting talents also emerged in her freshman year, when she wrote songs so she could memorize poems in her Italian course.

She spent only two years in college, nodding to the promise of a career in pop music.

"I wanted to go back," she now says. "I needed that structure in my life. I loved those two years. What I miss now is dorm life, sitting around discussing men problems."

But what she frets about today is whether her lyrics will appeal to a younger audience.

"I've been wondering if I'm really mainstream," she said. "I somehow have that awful feeling that I'm out-growing something that I've belonged to for a long time."

Thompson runs wild; Barons escape

Oilers rally to topple Edison, 24-10

By ROGER CARLSON
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Huntington Beach High's Oilers came off age Friday night — they shook away any remaining doubts as they rallied from a 10-7 halftime deficit to post a 24-10 Sunset League victory over Edison High's Chargers before a capacity crowd of 7,600 at Orange Coast College.

And shaking away from the Edison defenders from start to finish in the league opener was the Oilers' brilliant one-man gang, Danny Thompson.

The 6-1, 195-pound halfback showed it all — power, finesse, moves and speed in single-handedly destroying one of the most prestigious defenses in CIF football with touchdown runs of 60 and 82 yards amidst a total of 217 yards on 21 carries in an emotional, nose-to-nose issue.

His 60-yard scoring dash in the first quarter was just a sampler, the best was yet to come as the Oilers stole Edison's trademark and thunder, scoring 17 unanswered points in the final two periods.

"You know with Thompson in there they are going to score 17-24 points," said Edison Coach Bill Workman. "We dropped three touchdown passes and fumbled on the 10. We had the opportunities, but we didn't do it."

Amidst the jubilation in the sea of the Huntington Beach followers afterward, Huntington Beach Coach George Pascoe called it "the greatest victory for Huntington Beach — ever."

The Oilers were a long way from their goal at halftime, faced with a 10-7 deficit.

"We just said 'let's go get something, just run our offense,'" Pascoe said.

And run it they did. Quarterback Eric Lawton completed 8 of 15 in the second half for 128 yards, including a 13-yard strike to Don Fishel to put the Oilers into the lead at 14-10.

Later it was to expand to 17-10 on Darrin Tomasick's 33-yard field goal, to set up the fourth-quarter dramatics.

Edison had marched from its 36 to the Oilers' 18 with a clutch 5-yard run on fourth-and-3 with 3:11 left by Jon Nowotny to near midfield. And, Nowotny went to Brad Hachten for 33 yards to set the ball up on the HB 18.

But the tide finally turned as four incompletions gave the Oilers possession.

Still, with 1:54 left, the Oilers desperately needed at least one first down to keep the Chargers at bay.

Enter Thompson, once again. (See OILERS, Page B3)

FV defeats Lions, 13-3

By JOHN SEVANO
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The Barons of Fountain Valley High got lucky in their Sunset League opener Friday night. Real lucky.

As their coach, Mike Milner, candidly put it: "They came to play and we didn't."

About the only thing the Barons did right was win, by a 13-3 count before an overflow crowd in excess of 5,000 at Westminster High. Granted, the bottom line is winning. But then again, sometimes it isn't enough.

"You can't discredit the job they did," Milner said about the Lions. "They played very well. About the only thing we did was keep them out of the end zone."

"It wasn't very pretty."

For instance:

The Lions (3-3 overall, 0-1 in league) permitted the Barons to cross into their territory only three times the entire game. The Barons, however, used all three occasions to put points on the board.

The Lions allowed a grand total of 38 yards rushing by the Barons, and just three yards on 12 carries to their top tailback Dave Swigart. The Barons, however, used Brett Stevens' arm to get 168 through the air.

Three times in the second half the Lions' offense moved the ball inside the Fountain Valley 25-yard line. The Barons' defense, however, stiffened when it counted and turned Westminster away on each occasion.

Finally, the Lions consumed 27 of the 48 minutes with one sustained drive after another, had more first downs (14 to 9) and ran 65 offensive plays to Fountain Valley's 50. The Barons, however, utilized the big play to get (See BARONS, Page B3)

Marina's Vikings played as advertised in posting a 41-26 opening Sunset League football victory over Ocean View's Seahawks Friday night in action on the Huntington Beach High field.

But the Seahawks held their heads high as they kept coming back at the Vikes after giving up 21 first-quarter points that eventually spelled the difference on the scoreboard.

It was a bruising battle with both sides losing several key players. The Vikes lost three defenders from the secondary, two in the first half and the other shortly after the second half started.

Ocean View lost starting quarterback Jim Mentz with a shoulder injury late in the game but his replacement, Bill Whalen did a creditable job at the end.

"Compared to last week, I felt we played great tonight," Ocean View Coach Steve Colflesh said. "We hit well tonight and played a very good game against a very, very good team. Marina is well coached and they have an outstanding team. But our kids have a lot to be proud of tonight and we'll be ready for our next game."

Marina's Dave Thompson wasn't as pleased with his team's defensive showing but praised the Viking offense.

"I expected for us to play better on defense. We also had a lot of players hurt tonight. It was a tough ball game," said Thompson.

"I was happy with our execution and I thought the offense did a good job. We must have had a lot of yards on offense."

While the coaches talked about their players, neither commented on the officiating that saw Ocean View remaining on the field for five minutes expecting one more play at halftime. Then late in the

Pity for Palmer?

Not from Phillies; Orioles win, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Palmer hadn't won a World Series game in 12 years, and when he finally broke the drought Friday night, it was under the oddest of circumstances.

He pitched only two innings, the fifth and sixth, but that was enough to pick up the win as the Baltimore Orioles edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, and took a 2-1 lead in the World Series.

It was Palmer's ninth Series appearance, coming on the eve of his 38th birthday, but it was his first as a reliever. He hadn't pitched in a game since Sept. 30.

"I don't know if you saw my first pitch, but I nearly fell over," Palmer said. "This is one of the few times I got any runs, but it was one of the few times I pitched. Since I'm going to be 38 tomorrow, maybe my teammates felt sorry for me."

"After 14 days of not being out there, sure I'm happy," he added. "You wind up, throw it as hard as you can, and hope it goes over."

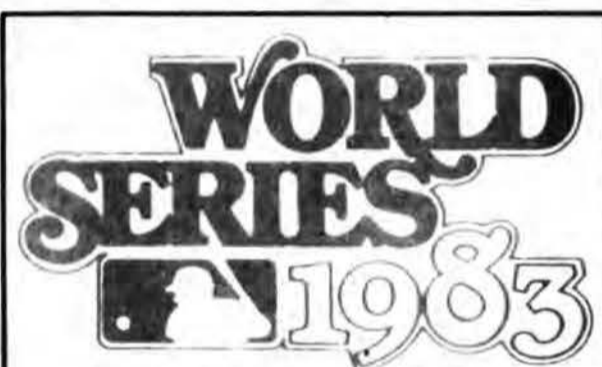

Palmer made only three starts this year before being disabled with neck and back problems on April 30. He came back on June 14, but returned to the disabled list on June 30 with tendinitis in his right arm. He made two starts on a rehabilitation assignment in Class A ball in Hagerstown, Md., before returning to the Orioles at the end of August.

Palmer's support started in the sixth inning, when Dan Ford's homer cut the Philadelphia lead to 2-1. The Orioles scored twice more in the seventh on Benny Ayala's RBI single off Steve Carlton and a run-scoring fielding error by Phillies shortstop Ivan DeJesus.

The three runs offset solo homers by Philadelphia's Gary Matthews and Joe Morgan.

It wasn't supposed to be Palmer's night. He had been replaced by 21-year-old Storm Davis in the Orioles' playoff and World Series rotation and had been assigned to long relief duty. But he wasn't aggravated by his new role.

"The guys pitching in front of me, they deserve to be pitching," Palmer said. "I'm happy I got in there and thrilled the ways things turned out — not that I won, but tonight was a team victory."

Palmer was the second of four Oriole pitchers. After Palmer, Sammy Stewart pitched two hitless innings and Tippy Martinez retired the side in order in the ninth.

"They all did a super job," Baltimore Manager Joe Altobelli said. "Mike gave them two solo home runs, and that was it. Palmer did a good job, Sammy an excellent job and Tippy got them 1-2-3 in the ninth. You can't do much better."

Palmer's last Series victory came in the second game of the 1971 Series when he beat off Pittsburgh Pirates 11-3, going eight innings and giving up three runs on seven hits.

Philadelphia Manager Paul Owens was unhappy that the bottom part of Baltimore's lineup had hurt the Phillies in two straight games.

"We've stopped their big guys, but we've been hurt from down low," Owens said.

With two outs, in the Orioles seventh, catcher Rick Dempsey, the eighth-place hitter, doubled for the second time in the game, then took third on a wild pitch. Ayala came on to hit for winner Palmer and ripped a single past diving third baseman Mike Schmidt, scoring Dempsey.

That chased Carlton and brought in Al Holland. (See ORIOLES, Page B2)

Brazas rolls again, Sailors, too, 42-27

By RICHARD DUNN
Special to the Daily Pilot

Newport Harbor High's football team ruined Estancia's homecoming Friday night, as the Sailors routed the Eagles, 42-27, in Sea View League action at Newport Harbor.

Newport sailed through the first half, taking a commanding 28-0 lead at the intermission, but the Eagles came flying back in the second half, outscoring the Sailors, 27-14.

Newport's Steve Brazas (6-3, 211) rambled for 230 yards, 146 in the second half, on 27 carries, to lead the Sailors' offensive attack. Things didn't look pretty for Estancia from the opening kick-off, as Newport needed only 1:48 and three plays on its first possession to score.

Sailor quarterback Bruce Goodfield fired a 52-yard touchdown pass over the middle of the Estancia defense to Rich Power, starting Newport's offensive snowball.

Estancia had no first downs in the first half, registered a minus 22 yards on the ground and a minus 7 total yards. Newport's defense sacked Eagle quarterback Jeff Graham five times, tallying 51 minus yards for the game.

Newport's second possession in the first quarter lasted a little longer, 3:27, and the result was the same.

It accounted 64 yards on nine plays, keyed by Brazas' 27-yard run and capped by a 7-yard touchdown pass from Goodfield to Power, the second of three (See SAILORS, Page B3)

Betty Cook — 39 and holding

Her latest venture: Sunday's Bud Warmington Grand Prix

By ALMON LOCKABEY
Daily Pilot Boating Writer

At an age when most women are content to baby-sit for their grandchildren, Betty Cook of Newport Beach is still battling the oceans and a horde of macho offshore power boat drivers in one of the world's most demanding sports.

How old is Betty Cook? "I'm 39 and holding," she smiled as she readied her 40-foot Kaama for Sunday's 200-mile offshore boat race in the ocean between Newport Beach — the Bud Warmington International Grand Prix which she helped organize.

And if you were meeting the trim, brown-eyed Cook for the first time, the 39 would be easily believable. The interviewer reminded her that he had first started recording her offshore exploits when she admitted to 57. "Still holding," she replied with a smile.

But battling the often torturous seas is not all Cook is involved in. Since she started messing around with boats seven years ago she has parlayed her hobby into a $3 million corporation of which she is chairman of the board.

She was also the prime mover, along with two other female drivers, in organizing the California Offshore Power Boat Racing Association (COPBRA) for the specific purpose of running the Warmington Grand Prix under the sanction of the American Power Boat Association. Her associates were Paula Akin of Huntington Beach, now retired from offshore racing, and Molly Ballou of Hemet, a circle race driver.

"Bud (Warmington) called me last May and said he wanted to put on a national points of offshore race for the benefit of the American Cancer Society because his mother was dying of cancer. Since Bob Nordskog split with APBA he was unwilling to sponsor a race under the banner of the Pacific Offshore Power Boat Racing Association and his Marathon Boat Racing Association was not eligible to sponsor APBA races."

"I got together with Paula and Molly and we organized COPBRA on the spot with the required 15 members. The organization now has 95 members."

Cook said the plan is to run two national points races in Southern California each year — one of them to be the ongoing Warmington Grand Prix — in the fall. (See BETTY COOK, Page B2) leaves a cloud of dust as he scores the game-winning run Friday night.

Orioles' 'hit man' strikes

Ayala makes the most of his chance to help club

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Benny Ayala, the professional "hit man," came off the bench and delivered in the pinch for the Baltimore Orioles once again.

"All you have to do is wake him up and send him to the plate," said Sammy Stewart, who pitched two innings of hitless relief as the Orioles defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 Friday night and took a 2-1 lead in the World Series.

Ayala batted for reliever Jim Palmer with two outs in the seventh inning and singled to left on a 3-1 pitch from Steve Carlton to drive in Rick Dempsey with the tying run. Ayala later scored the winning run when shortstop Ivan DeJesus bobbled a grounder by Dan Ford.

"I don't get that many chances to contribute on this club," said Ayala who batted only 104 times during the regular season and contributed a sacrifice fly in his only appearance during the American League playoffs.

"I just make my appearances as a pinch hitter, a little DH (designated hitter) and a little outfield," Ayala said. "That's the way the Orioles like to use me, and that's the way I have to make my career here."

Ayala said he was 2-for-6 off Carlton in previous appearances while playing for the New York Mets and the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League.

Ayala said he hit and up-and-in slider, describing it as a "good pitch for me to pull. So now I'm 3-for-7 against Carlton."

Dempsey launched the winning rally with his second double of the game and also threw out Joe Morgan as he attempted to steal in the bottom of the seventh.

"When you have the potential tying run on and (Mike) Schmidt up with the potential winning run, you've got to act fast," Dempsey said of his perfect throw to second base to get Morgan.

As for his success at the plate, Dempsey said, "I'm getting some good pitches to hit. It seems like I'm not thinking up there — just hitting."

The victory went to Palmer, who will be 38 years old today, increasing his record in postseason competition to 8-3.

"I told the guys on the bench I haven't had a (World Series) win since 1971, so let's get some runs," Palmer recalled, and suggested that maybe DeJesus was listening.

ORIOLES WIN . . .

Rookie John Shelby greeted Holland with a single to left that sent Ayala to second. Then Ford's one hopper bounced off the glove of DeJesus, one of the finest fielding shortstops in baseball and rolled into shallow left field as Ayala scored from second.

Game four of the 80th World Series is scheduled for this afternoon, with Storm Davis pitching for the Orioles against the Phillies' ace, John Denny, who won the opener, 2-1, in Baltimore Tuesday night.

The night began in controversy with the Phillies. Owens benched 42-year-old Pete Rose and elected to start 41-year-old Tony Perez at first base. Rose had only one hit in the first two games and the Phillies, who had scored only three runs in the first two games, needed offense.

Rose called it an embarrassment, saying "I was dumbfounded," but it did not reflect in the Phillies' early play.

Rose did get into the game, as a pinch-hitter leading off the bottom of the ninth off reliever Tippy Martinez, the fourth Oriole pitcher. He grounded out to Todd Cruz at third and said afterward he had been told he would start in today's game.

Carlton, pitching with five days' rest, faced the minimum number of batters through three innings, helped by a double play in the third inning started when DeJesus robbed Dempsey of a hit.

In the fourth inning, things got a little hotter for Carlton on this cool, clear night. Rookie John Shelby singled up the middle for the Orioles' first hit and Carlton then walked Ford and Cal Ripken Jr. on nine pitches.

That brought up Eddie Murray with none out and the bases loaded. Murray hit 33 homers and had driven in 111 runs during the regular season, but he was only one for nine in the series and had stranded six baserunners.

His slump would not end this time. Even following the two walks, Murray elected not to wait on Carlton. He swung at the first pitch and popped it to Morgan at second. Gary Roenicke then grounded into an inning-ending double play.

Football coaches receive death threats after team's 1-5 start

From AP dispatches

BAYTOWN, Texas — Coaches who have led Crosby High School's football team to a 1-5 record this season have received telephoned death threats, and one caller said the coaches would be killed at tonight's game, the Baytown Sun reported.

The Sun, quoting a source who requested anonymity, reported Thursday that the coaches began getting telephoned threats three weeks ago after the school in Crosby, a small community about 20 miles northeast of Houston, lost a game to Houston Furr High School.

Harris County Sheriff's Detective Eddie Macaluso, while refusing to disclose the nature of the investigation, said his agency was acting on a complaint filed by Crosby School Superintendent Tom Miksch and football coach Ronnie Davenport.

Davenport reportedly has received some of the calls. One caller, the newspaper said, told Davenport, "I know you were at the grocery store earlier and I know where you are now."

Besides Davenport, assistant coaches Dennis Stewart and James Cross also have been receiving threatening calls indicating they were being stalked, the newspaper said.

The caller warned coaches they would be killed tonight during Crosby's scheduled game at Galena Park, the newspaper quoted the source as saying. Players were informed of the problem on Monday and were told that if they chose, they did not have to play in the Galena Park game, the newspaper said.

Davenport said Wednesday he and his staff were under orders to not discuss the matter.

Quote of the day

Texas outfielder Mickey Rivers, after hearing Paul Mirabella, a former teammate, extol the virtues of being traded to the Orioles' organization: "I've got to get me one of them transactions."

Beck top drag qualifier

Gary Beck, winner of the last two National Hot Rod Association drag races, was the first-day Top Fuel dragster leader as qualifying began Friday for the 19th annual Winston World Finals at Orange County International Raceway in Irvine.

Beck, from El Toro, earned the No. 1 position with a track-record 5.51-second, 253.52 miles-per-hour run.

Beck's car owner, Larry Minor, from San Jacinto, was in second place at 5.54 seconds and 247.25 mph, followed by Joe Amato, from Old Forge, Pa., who qualified at 5.59 seconds and 253.52 mph.

Raymond Beadle of Dallas, Tex., led the Funny Car category. Beadle drove the Blue Max Ford EXP to an elapsed time of 5.81 seconds at 247.25 mph.

Two-time defending world Pro Stock champion Lee Shepherd shattered track records while taking the No. 1 position in that category.

Kings' Murphy retires

INGLEWOOD — Mike Murphy has retired as an active player and will work in the front office of the Los Angeles Kings, the National Hockey League team announced Friday.

Murphy, 33, was named as a special assistant to General Manager George Maguire.

The Kings said Murphy, who played with the Kings for nearly 10 years, will take on a variety of duties in the organization, but will primarily be responsible for the advance scouting of future Los Angeles opponents.

Murphy broke into the NHL in 1970 as a second-round draft pick of the New York Rangers. He was traded to the Kings on Nov. 30, 1973.

Murphy cleared NHL waivers on Friday.

Civic Leader nips favorite

ARCADIA — Civic Leader closed with a rush to nip heavily favored Roving Boy by a head Friday in the Oakmont League of Glendale Purse before a crowd of 17,644 at Santa Anita's Oak Tree meeting.

Civic Leader, ridden by Laffitt Pincay and carrying high weight of 117 pounds, covered 6½ furlongs in 1:15 4-5 and paid $8.60, $3 and $2.20. The victory was the fourth of the day for Pincay.

It's Russell to the rescue

His fourth quarter TD sparks Woodbridge, 14-7

"Bill Russell is a total athlete. He can play anywhere," said Woodbridge High head coach Gene Noji after his Warriors edged Dana Hills, 14-7, Friday night in South Coast League football action at Irvine High.

Russell, who saw action at wide receiver for most of the game, was called upon for the second time in the game to help the Warriors gamble on fourth down.

With 8:39 left in the contest, and Woodbridge facing a fourth-and-two situation on the Dolphin 11, Russell raced up the middle untouched with the tie-breaking touchdown.

"They beat us in the second half," said Dana Hills Coach Don Douglass.

The Warriors held Dana Hills to 16 yards in the second half before going into a prevent defense for the final drive of the game.

Jordan Frank ended the Dolphins' final drive of the game with an interception as the Warriors ran their league record to 2-1 (4-2 overall).

Rudy Figueroa was the Warrior offense on the opening drive of the game picking up 49 yards rushing and 15 yards on a pass reception. He scored on a 35-yard breakaway to give Woodbridge a 7-0 edge with 9:33 left in the opening quarter.

Dana Hills tied the game with 10:15 left in the first half when Chris Oliver caught a Matt Raith pass alone in the end zone for a 7-yard scoring play.

Figueroa finished the contest with 158 yards on 18 carries to lead all players.

Russell, who earlier in the contest picked up three yards on a quarterback sneak on fourth down to keep a drive going, finished up at quarterback, replacing Matt Cornwell who was shaken up in the fourth quarter.

Dana Hills stopped the Warriors twice in the first half on fumble recoveries by Tony Ferguson and Paul Harvey.

Harvey finished the game as the leading rusher for the Dolphins with 56 yards.

The offensive line of Ed Keefe, Pat McGrody, Tim Codde, Mark Russakow and Chris Kamps helped the ground attack for the Warriors, who carried the ball 44 times in the contest.

Dupree 'tired' of OU

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Marcus Dupree slipped back into hiding Friday after surfacing long enough to say he was ending his football career with the Oklahoma Sooners and looking elsewhere to play.

"I just got tired of playing for Oklahoma because it is so far from home," said Dupree, a native of Philadelphia, Miss., who has been mentioned as a candidate for the Heisman Trophy.

"I got all my prerogatives wrong. They said I could win the Heisman Trophy, I could be on a national championship team and I could play on TV. I didn't look at one thing; that's where I was going to be happy at."

GWC, Pirates post victories

Golden West College rebounded from a loss to Orange Coast, while the Pirates eased past Cypress in South Coast Conference volleyball action Friday.

The Rustlers (4-1) swept past Mt. San Antonio, 15-2, 15-4, 15-2, 5-15, 15-11 decision over Cypress.

OCC recovered from a brief lapse in the third game for a 15-5, 15-2, 5-15, 15-11 decision over Cypress.

In a high school confrontation matching the top two teams in the CIF Small Schools Division, No. 2 Linfield Christian upset Newport Christian, 15-13, 11-15, 15-4, 15-9.

It was the first loss in seven outings for Newport Christian.

BARONS ESCAPE WITH 13-3 WIN . . .

the most out of what precious time they had.

Place-kicker Tony Vertti led the Lions to an early 3-0 lead when he connected on a 22-yard field goal early in the second quarter. Fountain Valley's Chris Sperle retaliated with a pair of his own, though, connecting from 20 and 37 yards out to give the Barons a 6-3 halftime advantage.

The only touchdown of the game occurred on Fountain Valley's first possession of the second half when the Barons marched 81 yards in five plays, culminated by a Stevens-to-Carl Harry aerial that covered the final 25 yards. Harry, incidentally, had to come up with a major league catch, diving to his right in the end zone, for the Barons to get even that.

Stevens, when he wasn't backed up deep into his own territory and was afforded time to throw, usually found his mark, as his 8 for 17 passing for 168 yards would attest. But his opportunities were few and far between.

Tim Hanson, on the other hand, the Lions' signal-caller, was simply a victim of bad luck. The senior finished 14 of 25 for 133 yards, but a number of his passes were dropped by his receiving corps.

"We didn't execute some things. But we played a fine football team," noted Lions Coach Jim O'Hara. "We dropped some passes tonight that we caught last week."

O'Hara wasn't the only one bemoaning a lack of execution.

"We really retarded our offense in the first half by letting them drive on us," said Milner of his No. 2-ranked Barons, who are now 5-1 overall, 1-0 in league. "We kept them out of the end zone but we didn't give our offense a chance or real good field position. We just didn't play very well."

And the Lions were the reason for much of that.

OILERS SINK EDISON . . .

He took it around his left side, left a defender at the line in his tracks, then split the defensive backs and was gone on an 82-yard capper.

"Yes," said Thompson, "I knew I was going all the way when I got past the defensive backs."

He fell to his knees in the end zone, then flat on his face, then was mobbed by his teammates.

"I've never beaten Edison," said Thompson.

Well, he has now. And, the Oilers have shaken a jinx dating back to 1969 with their first win over Edison after seven straight losses.

There was another monumental dash by Thompson (who also caught two passes for 40 yards), this on a third-and-39 situation at the outset of the third quarter, which when combined with Lawton's 24-yard pass to Dean Tomasick to the Edison 15, set up the field goal.

They were just two inside traps and a weakside power," said Pascoe. "But we have a lot of plays for him, we know every time he touches the football . . ."

Edison controlled the first half with almost a 2-for-1 advantage in every category (15:15 to 8:45 in time of possession, 26:13 in total pass and run plays, and 160-115 in total yardage, including Thompson's 60-yard dash).

But in the second half the Chargers were bottled up with drives beginning at their 2 (Paul Bryant's 45-yard out-of-bounds punt), then at their 7 and again back to the 7 after starting at the 20.

It was a penalty-plagued contest with 125 yards marched off on the Oilers and 78 on Edison.

Edison struck first with Nowotny going the final four yards of an 11-play, 67-yard march, but before the Chargers could really feel good about it, Thompson had broken over his left side on the Oilers' third play. He broke the grasp of one would-be tackler and was gone, pulling up as he entered the end zone and slammed the ball to the turf with both hands, leaving it there for the officials and the trailing back.

"Naw, I wasn't mad," said the smiling Thompson. "It was just an intensive start."

Monarchs use their strengths, score 18-0 victory over Serra

JOSEPH DUDEVOIR

Special to the Daily Pilot

GARDENA — According to Mater Dei football coach Wayne Cochrun, his Monarchs are "a team with out much speed, offensive firepower or gifted in any particular skill positions. But, we'll wind up and hit with anybody. Our strengths are our defense and hitting. These are the things that will have to carry us this year."

The Monarchs played to their strengths Friday night, grinding out a tough 18-0 win over host Serra High to level their season record at 3-3.

The first half was a defensive struggle that ended with the Monarchs on top 3-0 thanks to a 32-yard field goal by Chris Young, who also closed out the scoring with a 48-yarder in the fourth quarter.

With Mater Dei clinging to its 3-0 lead in the third quarter, Monarch running back Gary Ferrel broke loose on a 55-yard scoring jaunt for a 9-0 cushion.

On its next possession, Mater Dei struck again. This time, it was a 27-yard TD pass from Pat Dubar to Jeff De La Cruz. The try for two points failed and the visitors settled for a 15-0 advantage.

"I'm pleased that the team has improved since the beginning of the year," Cochrun said. "We'll have to continue to improve because I see the rest of all our games as dogfights."

"We really struggled in the first half but our defense kept us in it," Cochrun added.

The Monarchs were sparked defensively by Mike Williams, who blocked a Serra punt in the fourth quarter and Mike Gaiter who pounced on the blocked kick on the Serra 19-yard line.

Senior Lonny Reiner rushed for 192 yards on 31 carries and Dave Ward caught a 33-yard pass from quarterback Lee Plemel for the game's only touchdown as Laguna Hills' Hawks edged San Clemente, 10-3, in a South Coast League encounter Friday night.

Place-kicker Brian McCormack staked San Clemente (0-2 in league, 1-4-1 overall) to a 3-0 first-quarter lead by booting a 36-yard field goal. Laguna Hills came right back, though, as Plemel hit Ward on the touchdown pass.

Place-kicker Dean Goolsby completed the Hawks' (2-1, 3-3) scoring with a 30-yard field goal in the second quarter.

More troubles ahead for OCC, GWC today?

By CURT SEEDEN

Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Those who show up today (1:30) for the South Coast Conference football opener between host Orange Coast College and San Diego Mesa are in for a treat — a look at one of California's all-time great quarterbacks.

His name is Trent Annicharico, hardly a household name now, but barring injuries, a legitimate All-American candidate for the next couple of years.

Unfortunately for OCC, a great passing sensation like Annicharico is not exactly what is needed at this stage of the young season. The Pirates are 1-3 and still trying to savor last week's upset victory over Long Beach CC.

After the Pirates and Olympians do battle, it's Golden West hosting Fullerton (7:30) in a much bigger confrontation considering the Hornets are the conference favorites and the Rustlers have shown upset capabilities (28-7 over Bakersfield).

Also tonight at 7:30, it's Saddleback hosting Santa Ana in the Mission Conference opener. Here's how the games shape up:

San Diego Mesa at Orange Coast

Annicharico is averaging 328 yards per game through their air this year. He has hit 86 of 156 passes for 1,312 yards and 12 TDs. Last season, Annicharico threw for 2,229 yards and 21 TDs in nine games. The one game he missed — against Golden West with an injury — the Rustlers won.

"Annicharico is a great passer, there's no doubt about it," says Coast Coach Dick Tucker. "I don't think we're going to be able to contain him. All we can hope to do is try to hold his damage to a minimum — if that's possible."

Tucker, who has seen several community college All-American QBs come out of San Diego Mesa over the years, says the 200-pounder is "a real prospect."

Should Annicharico average 250 yards per game over the last six contests, he will become the all-time top passer in the history of California.

In contrast, OCC will try the wishbone offense against the Olympians with freshman Kevin Bradley handling the ball most of the time. Bradley is the No. 2 rusher in the conference with 293 yards in four games.

Fullerton at Golden West

The Hornets are coming off a 39-0 victory over San Bernardino Valley and own a 4-0 record coming into the opener. Fullerton has not been scored upon in the last seven quarters.

Quarterback Gary Ruhlen runs the offense and has completed 52 of 99 passes for 659 yards. He has also been intercepted nine times. It should be noted the Golden West leads the conference in interceptions with nine.

The Rustlers, 2-2, counter with freshman John Heinle at QB and running backs Tom Fischbeck and Ted Johnson forming a balanced attack.

Golden West will try to rebound after being trampled by Pasadena, 38-0, last week.

"I feel that last week's game will help us. We played an excellent football team and got beat," says Golden West Coach Ray Shackelford. "Now we come against another solid team and hopefully our team will learn by last week's experience and adjust accordingly."

Santa Ana at Saddleback

The undefeated Cauchos are coming off a 23-6 win over Grossmont, while the Dons, 1-3, own a 24-0 win over San Bernardino Valley, a team that owned a 15-game winning streak at the time.

Atascadero overpowers Artists, 41-8

ATASCADERO — Atascadero High, sparked by touchdown runs of 70, 85 and 86 yards by running back Steve Bullard, rolled to a 41-8 victory over Laguna Beach High here Friday night before 2,500 fans on the Greyhounds field.

Atascadero, the defending CIF 1-A champion and Desert Mountain Conference champion, opened a 35-0 lead before the Artists got on the board in the fourth quarter on a Jim O'Donnell-to-Matt Ross pass for 21 yards.

Bullard scored on a 70-yard run from scrimmage and two kickoff returns of 85 and 86 for the Greyhounds. He carried the ball just three times from scrimmage, churning out 73 yards.

The loss dropped the Artists' record to 1-5 overall. They've lost five in a row. Atascadero is now 5-1.

Irvine tests CdM tonight

Corona del Mar High, the top-rated football team in the CIF Central Conference, puts its ranking on the line tonight when the Sea Kings meet Irvine at Newport Harbor High.

Kickoff time is 7:30. CdM (5-0 overall and 2-0 in the Sea View League) enters the game as a heavy choice against the Vaqueros (2-3 and 0-2). Irvine, which hasn't scored a touchdown in 15 of its last 16 quarters, is coming off an embarrassing 52-0 thumping at the hands of Newport Harbor last week.

Hoping to spark an upset for Irvine is junior quarterback Bobby Hatfield, who has been thrown for 559 yards and five touchdowns.

The Sea Kings have outscored their two Sea View foes by a combined 55-7 margin, including last week's 20-0 verdict over El Toro.

Junior quarterback Bobby Hatfield and running back Jeff Brown key the Corona attack.

touchdown passes for Goodfield. Newport opened up matters in the second quarter with a 6-yard touchdown run by Brazas on its first play from scrimmage. Brazas scored four touchdowns on the night, running for three and catching another.

"His (Brazas) job for us is to make the blue-chip plays, and he does it," said Newport Coach Mike Giddings. "There is no question Brazas can play."

"They (Estancia) deserve some credit for coming on strong in the second half," Giddings said. "Their original idea was to stop our running attack, so it opened up chances for us to pass."

And pass they did. Newport, which didn't attempt a pass in the second half, tallied 173 yards in the air, 159 by Goodfield, completing 11 of 13 passes with no interceptions.

"You have to give our kids credit by coming back. We played so bad and so poorly in the first half," said Eagle Coach Ed Blanton. "They (Newport) attack you where you're weak. We just couldn't get out of the gate in the first half."

"They're good...they're so much more physical than us."

Graham, who threw for 146 yards in the second half, completed 13 of his 22 passes, and led the Eagles' attempted comeback.

Graham threw one of his two touchdown passes on the Eagles' first possession in the third quarter, hitting Steve Mikulich for 40 yards, capping a 68-yard drive.

The Vikings appeared to have the game well in hand at this juncture but the pass catching ability of McGlinchey surfaced again on a 37-yard connection from Mentz to set up a 28-yard scoring run by Mike Diehlman. A conversion pass from Mentz to Rob Curry made it 21-14.

Marina scored again before halftime on an 8-yard run by Antoyan. A high center snap forced a run for the conversion point but it was stopped short of its goal and the half-time score stood at 27-14 but not without a bit of confusion.

Each team scored in each of the final two periods. Ocean View drove 80 yards following the kickoff with Mentz sneaking over from the one but the two-point conversion try failed and it was 27-20.

Marina went 75 yards in six plays, capped by a 38-yard scoring strike from Marler to Rish and it was 34-20 after three periods.

Cougars in 20-13 triumph

By DALE LEZON

Special to the Daily Pilot

In the last two years, Mission Viejo and Capistrano Valley have battled to ties in their regular-season meetings and have shared the South Coast League championship each time, but Friday night at Capistrano High, the Cougars broke the pattern, edging Mission Viejo, 20-13, before a crowd of 2,500.

As in the years past, the Cougars and the Diablos were well-matched and the outcome of the game was dictated by just one snap of the ball.

On fourth-and-nine at the Capistrano 36, a bad snap to the punter gave the Cougars the ball at the Mission Viejo 4-yard line and one play later David Bamford, who had 11 carries for 66 yards, trudged over for the score.

Capistrano tallied again on a 17-yard pass from Burt Call (13-for-16 for 141 yards) and place-kicker Chris McClure added a 23-yard field goal to give the Cougars a 17-7 lead at the half.

This was after the Diablos had driven 80 yards in 9 plays to score as quarterback Joe Schulte (25-of-38 for 286 yards) struggled over from the 1.

"Schulte had a great game," Cougar Coach Dick Enright said of the 6-11 173-pound senior quarterback. "He passed us silly all through the game and tore our coverage apart."

In the second half Schulte went to work and drove his team in for a touchdown, but the PAT was blocked and after another field goal by McClure, the Cougars had the win, a 3-0 record and a commanding lead in the South Coast League.

Fountain Valley, Marina outscore Sea View opponents

The Sunset League enjoyed a measure of success Friday in matchups against the Sea View League in high school water polo.

Claiming victories were Fountain Valley over Irvine, 15-8, and Marina against Estancia, 14-8.

Meanwhile, in the Acalanes Tournament in Lafayette, Newport Harbor posted a pair of victories, topping Tokay High, 10-5, and host Acalanes, 9-5.

Marina erupted for seven goals in the first period, then held off a late Estancia charge to post its 13th win in 16 outings.

After building a 7-3 advantage after one quarter, the host Eagles pared the deficit to two goals, 9-7, entering the final stanza.

Jim Zakasky tallied for the Sailors to make it 10-7, but Mark Wicks countered for Estancia.

Zakasky again scored and Steve Spanovich added another for Newport and the Sailors were again comfortably in front, 12-8, all in the first 1½ minutes of the fourth period.

UCI, Golden West romps; OCC rallies in water polo

The water polo squads from UC Irvine and Golden West enjoyed easy victories, but Orange Coast College needed a late rally to claim victories Friday.

UCI poured in nine goals in the first quarter, including six in the first three minutes, to rout visiting Occidental, 20-9.

Glen Awerkamp, who had scored two goals previously this season, led the Anteaters' parade of goal-scorers with four goals.

Regulars Tony Choquehuanca and David Rodda helped UCI to its quick start with two goals apiece in the first quarter before the Anteaters turned to their bench.

It got so lopsided that first-string goalie Mark Maizel played in the hole during the fourth quarter and scored a goal.

The Anteaters improved their overall mark to 9-6-1 and are slated to play UCLA and Stanford today in the PCAA-Pac-10 Tournament at USC today.

On the community college level, Golden West and Orange Coast claimed South Coast Con-

Zakasky and Wicks led their respective squads with four goals apiece.

Fountain Valley's Scott Singer single-handedly outscored Irvine with nine goals — a team high for the Barons this season.

Singer had three of Fountain Valley's four goals in the first period, and three more in the third when the Barons outscored Irvine, 6-1.

Matt Wetzel answered with four goals for the Vaqueros.

Fountain Valley improved its overall mark to 16-3 with the success.

Newport Harbor, loser of only one match in 17 outings this season, swept into the semifinals at Acalanes.

Matt Tingler supplied much of the Sailors' scoring punch in the double-win, pumping in seven goals.

Newport needs a pair of wins today to claim the tourney crown.

ference triumphs, and Saddleback romped past Grossmont, 18-8, in a Pacific Coast Conference matchup in El Cajon.

The Rustlers' defense held Mt. San Antonio to just three goals in winning, 13-3, despite using three different goaltenders.

Tom Hermstad accounted for five goals, while Blake Wilson added three, as GWC improved to 4-1 in South Coast action.

Orange Coast overcame a 9-7 deficit with three straight goals in the final stanza to pull out a 10-9 decision.

Doug Shoaf pumped in the game-winner with 1:57 remaining after Doug Plitt had tallied the equalizer with 2:41 left. Shoaf's goal earlier in the period had cut the deficit to one.

Saddleback surged to a 9-3 halftime advantage and was never seriously threatened at Grossmont.

Terry Cronin, a freshman from Laguna Hills High, led the way for the Gauchos with four goals and Saddleback (2-0 in conference, 8-2 overall) was able to play everyone.

10 steps to a successful garage sale

1. Decide on dates.

Look at a calendar and set the dates and times of your sale. Weekends are usually good, but many successful sales have been held in the evening, just after work. Check the weather forecast in the paper, and watch for any other large event that may attract potential buyers away, such as fairs or community events. Have your sale run at least two days — some people may not be able to come on any single day.

2. What to sell.

Everything! That is, everything you haven't used in the last year. If an item has antique value, or is brand new, or has unusual value, be sure to ask a healthy price for it. Get a pad of paper and search your whole house. Look everywhere and list everything.

3. Write your ad.

Here is a suggested ad. Garage Sale — desks, Bentwood rocking chair, toys, infants clothing, 1922 Victrola in original cabinet, many gadgets, lots of unusual items, rock collection plants, Refreshments 3 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday 1234 South Anywhere, Yourtown. Just west of Main and 2nd. Use this sample ad as a guide. Be sure to list unusual items. Be as specific as possible. Give directions if needed. Don't use abbreviations — many people won't bother to decipher them. CAUTION: Don't advertise anything you don't really have. Every item in the ad must be on hand at the start of the sale.

4. Where to advertise.

Place your ad where it will be seen by people who live in the area — most people shop close to home. The Daily Pilot is read by 88,000 adults in Costa Mesa, Newport Beach, Laguna Beach, Huntington Beach and Fountain Valley — guaranteeing you wide exposure. And with the Pilot, you're not paying for waste circulation in Los Angeles or Anaheim. Plan to run your ad 3 times or more, and start it a few days before the sale so bargain hunters can have plenty of notice.

5. Make a sign.

To help make your sale successful, make a few signs from cardboard and letter with a magic marker. A good sign size is 14" x 22".

6. Placing your sign.

The morning of the sale, but not before, place your signs. Be sure and add your address and any directional arrows. This should be done about a half hour before the sale starts. Place your sign where it can be seen from both sides of the street by passing cars and pedestrians. CAUTION: Some towns have laws that restrict the placement and duration of garage sale signs. Please check with your town's planning department or clerk.

7. Marking prices.

Mark prices where they can be seen clearly. Office supply stores have various sizes and colors of stickers that work well, or you can use masking tape. However, you mark them, make prices low. Garage sales are for bargain hunters. Remember, whatever you can't sell you'll have to drag back in the house and store again for another year.

8. Serving refreshments.

This doesn't have to cost much, and creates a friendly atmosphere. It also encourages people to stay longer and perhaps buy more. You could even charge for expensive items like donuts, or the kids could go in business for the day, with a lemonade stand.

9. Display.

Make sure everything can be seen. Have card tables or boards used as shelves between two chairs. Don't cause people to bend over unless you can't help it. Use one table as a desk where you can see everything and take money. Use only one cash box (in cans or boxes work fine) and make sure someone is appointed cashier at all times. Arrange beforehand for a friend who can help answer questions, relief for lunch, etc.

10. Check your neighbors and friends.

See if any want to join your sale. This will give you someone to share expenses with and increase interest in your sale. If others join you, be sure to include this in your ad (example: "three-family sale," "neighborhood sale," "Group sales are a lot more fun, too").

HOROSCOPE

BY SIDNEY OMARR

Sunday, October 16

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Burden is removed — you'll have reason to celebrate. Lunar, numeric cycles highlight communication, popularity, fulfillment of hopes, aspirations. Self-esteem moves up, you look and feel better, more fit. Gemini, Sagittarius persons play significant roles.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You are stronger than many might judge — you'll win by utilizing element of surprise. Loved one confides problem, draws closer to you. Individuals in position of authority makes conciliatory gesture, promotes in position of promotion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be ready for "special notice" relating to change, travel, inquiries. Scenario is highlighted by contacts which could lead to participation in exciting, creative endeavors. Virgo and another Gemini figure prominently.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Money discussion centers on domestic adjustment, consideration of home repairs. Focus on investments, corrections, repairs, possible remodeling or decoration. Surprise accolade or gift represents token of affection. Libran plays key role.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Sense of perception is heightened; much that occurs is hidden, obscured, related to "small print" and aura of deception. Protect self in emotional clinches — define terms, be in touch with groups, organizations which share your basic concerns.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Study source material, be ready for questions, realize that you will be asked to accept added responsibility. Focus on employment, health, dependents, care of pets. Older individual is willing to lend benefit of experience and, perhaps, cash.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Finish rather than initiate project. Many promises are based on speculation, romantic inclinations. Imprint your own style, take advantage of sudden surge of popularity. Member of opposite sex plays major role. Aries figures prominently.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Breakthrough indicated — some restrictions are removed, some rules, regulations are "bent" in your favor. You'll get to heart of matters by taking independent course, by asserting views in positive, dynamic manner. Leo plays prominent role.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Avoid becoming involved in squabble among relatives. You'll be pulled in two directions — choose course leading to greater security and to family loyalty. Answers are likely to come through intuitive intellect. Go with feelings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Elements of timing, luck ride with you — money comes from surprise source. You'll locate needed material, accent on payments, collections, ability to recoup recent loss. Short trip could be on agenda, relative in transit makes special effort to "get in touch."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): What appeared to be a trap turns out to be a stepping-stone towards progress. Circumstances take sudden turn in your favor — judgment is on target, intuition rings bell of accuracy and you'll be at right place at crucial moment.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Be ready for change, travel, variety, encounters with glamorous individuals who could have ulterior motives. Be perceptive, determine motives, take nothing for granted. You'll be given backstage view, member of opposite sex reveals true feelings and you'll benefit as result.
